OUR WESTERN TOWNS

CLIMAX, Sask.

—Celebrates Silver Anniversary
—Becoming Noted For High Grade Cattle

THE town of Climax is twenty-five years old. It was founded in 1923 and, according to old timers, was named after "Climax", a town in Minnesota. Of course, settlers had been coming into the district from 1909 on and were compelled to freight their supplies from the mainline towns of Swift Current and Gull Lake. Many of these settlers came from Minnesota and the Dakotas. Those from Minnesota are blamed, or commended, according to your point of view, for the name given to the place. By-the-way, its silver anniversary was fittingly celebrated on July 1st.

The house of The Weekly Climax founded in 1926 and is published by W. A. Lukes.

The south line C.P.R. came through in 1923. As might be expected the railway company laid out the present townsite half a mile north of where business buildings had already been erected. The whole town moved down to the new site. The general location is good, at junction of highways 37 and 46 and the central point on the southline railway, just 12 miles from the U.S. boundary. Not that it adds anything much to the picture, but we're not far from the point where Sitting Bull crossed into Canada after his little affair with General Custer at the Little Big Horn. They do say that the horde of embattled red men were met by one lone mounted policeman. He told them to be good boys or they would be kicked out.

WAS TYPICAL FRONTIER TOWN OF THE WEST

It was evidently a typical western frontier town in the early days, boasting a roadhouse called "The Bucket of Blood", "Silver Dollar" saloon, etc. Why, they even used to pull the old "Badger Game" on the unsuspecting. But enough of the background. Climax, having survived the "hungry thirties" in good shape is now one of the lively and fast-growing towns of the province.

Main street of Climax looking from the south.

The Climax Hotel is well equipped for the traveller and the touring neighbors from across the border.

Population is 100 per cent. English speaking. Town owns and operates its own 3-unit power plant and has 24-hour service. Banking centre for the south line; unexcelled hospital and medical service. New, modern 25-bed hospital opened last year. There are two department stores, two wholesale and retail oil depots, five service stations, theatre, variety, furniture and hardware stores and two restaurants. Electrical goods store, cleaning and pressing establishment, drug store, as well as other lesser business places. Fine hotel, licensed premises. High school to 12th grade, United and Anglican churches.

And of course there's the newspaper. The Weekly Climax is published every Thursday by Climax Publishing Company and enjoys splendid public support. It was founded in 1926 and is now owned by W. A. Lukes, late of Victoria, B.C.

Surrounding country, formerly largely grain growing, shows now more mixed farming although grain crops this season promise good yields. Country is becoming noted for producing high grade cattle. As a matter of fact, the annual spring fat stock show has become an event to attract buyers from all over the country. Farmers are now experimenting with, indeed successfully growing winter wheat. Winter wheat culture is expected to evolve this southwest section into what is known as a "sure crop district".

NOTE: Other publishers of small town papers are invited to contribute to this column by sending copy and pictures to the Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 1610 Scarth Street, Regina, Sask.

FRUIT ORCHARD WITHOUT IRRIGATION

Within an enclosure of trees and hedges, which provide an efficient windbreak, a nice fruit orchard has been landscaped, cultivated and nurtured by George Kneech, a farmer south of Climax. The hardy caragana forms the backbone of this windbreak but there is a liberal sprinkling of ash and elm trees.

The land area enclosed, four or five acres in extent, slopes gently to the eastward, and would seem well suited to the purpose. Surprisingly enough, the whole project was started only about eight years ago and while producing more or less during the past three or four years, reached its peak of production this season.

There are long rows of two or three different varieties of gooseberries, red, white and black currants, ground cherries and strawberries. Then comes ordinary cherries and plums. The trees are of good size, six, eight and ten feet high and well branched. That description also applies to rows of apple trees, several varieties of crabs and cooking and eating apples. The latter strongly resembles the "Yellow Harvest" apple of the east.

Teamed up with a bunch of luxuriant lilac bushes, the fruit orchard is a delight to the eye when in bloom. The more practical-minded person might find it more of a delight later in the season this year, when all these trees and bushes, almost without exception, were loaded down with ripening fruit. The Kneeches have marketed a considerable quantity and, of course, have "put down" plenty for the use of their own family during the winter.

It is to be noted that this fruit orchard has been developed entirely without irrigation, has withstood the rigors of winter and the blistering heat of dry summers with marked success. All of which would seem to prove that many varieties of fruit can be produced on these plains.

Organized 'Harvest Bee' For Injured Farmer

WOLSELEY, Sask. Allan Bourne, a farmer of the Wolseley district, fractured his leg recently and his crop became ripe but he was unable to harvest it.

Then Archie Watson, a neighbor, organized a harvest bee. Nearby farmers pooled their efforts and resources to harvest Mr. Bourne's crop. When operations were in full swing there were five binders in his land, two binders cutting oats, three men stooking, three trucks hauling grain, two tractors ... wagons, four women cooking for the workers.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

"OLD MAN"

"Not Hindering Folks As Is Some Use In The World"

By E. R. WILSON

I'VE painted a good many houses in my time—an' that there's pretty close to bottle-green," said old Avery anxiously.

"Not exactly my idea of bottle-green," Dr. Smith said, starting across the lawn. "Get your ladder placed. I'll be back after my next patient."

"Is he tur'ble ailin'? Sulphur an' molasses took in spring is powerful medicine," came timidly from old Avery.

"That's right," laughed Dr. Smith. "Just what this fellow needs."

Old Avery tugged at a heavy extension ladder. By exerting all the strength in his tall lean body, he got the ladder's end under the edge of the roof, then turned at the sound of footsteps.

"Know where's the janitor?" inquired a capable-looking young man, pointing to the apartment building next door.

Avery's watery blue eyes peered curiously over his spectacles. "What say?" squeaked his thin treble.

"I'd like to get work in this here apartment, I—"

"Work, eh? They got a regular man. Where you from?"

"Alabama."

"Don't that beat all! I preached down there when I was younger—preached so hard, wore out my voice. Ever paint much?"

"Little," said the stranger.

"You look willin' an' honest—step over to Judge Haight's across the street. He needs a man to putter round some."

The young man swung away on. "Thanks." The village postman came up. Shifting his heavy leather bag to a new position on his shoulders, he asked, "What's doing here? Doc freshening up?"

"Plenty green, ain't it?" Old Avery's humped shoulders tried to straighten under his faded blue shirt. "Reminds me of my university days—when they called me greenhorn. Ever paint much?"

"Not to speak of—feet bother me a lot."

"Ever bathe 'em in cold water and salt? That'll toughen 'em."

"Sounds like a sensible treatment. Thanks—I'll try it tonight." The postman walked toward the Smith mailbox.

Dr. Smith now reappeared. He peered down into the paint-pail. Scowled. "The missis insists on bottle-green. There's none in town."

"I could mix in a mite of lamp-black," suggested Avery.

"Just the ticket! Why didn't I think of that?"

"Ever paint much, Doc?"

"By spells. Garden furniture, cellar stairs — here comes that man from the employment agency." He greeted the workman with, "I want those loose shingles on the cupola nailed down."

"That's a tricky place to get to," complained the young man.

"That drattled office-bell again!" exclaimed the doctor, making for the house.

Old Avery appraised the stranger. "Guess you never steered one of them new-fangled air-wagons. Afraid to climb?"

"No, it just makes me dizzy," acknowledged the young man.

"Unhealthy for a fellow in your business, ain't it? Lend me your hammer—an' that sheet of tin."

The young man handed them over without protest. Laboriously, old Avery ... man was vigorously pounding the cupola roof. When he stood beside the young workman again, he inquired, "Ever paint much?"

"None."

"I'll be eighty come Christmas—so my advice is seasoned. You'd better hire out to paint—practice climbin'. Them that tries, prospers. Got folks?"

"No. I just hit town. I'm lookin' for jobs and—"

"You run 'long up Maple Street—number two. You set on the steps of that two-room shack till I come. I back there—an' you're welcome."

"Thanks," flung out the young man, wheeling quickly away.

Old Avery squinted up at the black cloud hanging ominously low. He stooped, picked a sprig of catnip, tucked it carefully into his coverall pocket. His tabby-cat doted on catnip.

Suddenly, the rain pelted down. Old Avery limped to the rear of the house, stuck his white head in the kitchen door. "Tell Doc I'll be round first thing in the mornin'—weather permittin'. There's no charge for today—I ain't done nothin' much."

"Okay—when I finish washing this window," grumbled Nellie, the maid. "Why they build high windows like this, beats me!"

"Let's have that cloth, Miss," said old Avery taking the chamois out of her hand.

Painfully, he mounted the kitchen stool, wiped black soot from top window-panes.

"Thanks a million!" said Nellie, hearing his knee-joints crack at each downward step. "You're sure spry!"

"Yes—developed muscle years ago whipping brussels carpets for stylish ladies—to pay my way through the university. Ever paint much?"

Before Nellie could reply, Mrs. Smith called from the living room, "Nellie—don't start the ice cream! I've phoned the groceries—strawberries are sold out!"

"Louis's fruit-stand had a nice batch of 'em when I come past a while back," offered Avery.

"I'll go tell her!" gasped Nellie, rushing away.

"I'd best be gettin' on—not hindering folks as is some use in the world," mumbled old Avery, picking his way down the rain-soaked steps.

Pump Guns Must Be Plugged for Duck Shooting Season

Confusion in the public mind as result of a recent release from Ottawa has prompted the Hon N. E. Tanner, Minister of Lands and Mines, to remind hunters that the [illegible] shotgun still is an "illegal weapon" in Alberta for shooting migratory game birds.

Migratory Bird Regulations released recently contained a clause requiring that shotguns be plugged so that not more than three shells could be held in the magazine and chamber combined. The regulations did not legalize use of automatic shotguns which is prohibited under Section 45 of the Alberta Game Act. What they did was provide for the plugging of pump shotguns which are legal in Alberta.

While it is the intention of the Game Branch, Dept. of Lands and Mines, to enforce plugging of pump guns for shooting migratory birds it is brought to public attention that shooting of upland game birds with an unplugged pump gun still is permitted.

HIGH GRADES IN BARLEY ENTRIES

High grades and small dockage in early carload shipments in this year's National Barley Contest indicate that in the third year of the competition the objectives for which it was organized may eventually be reached.

The contest, sponsored by the Brewing and Malting industry, was aimed to improve quality barley and establish standards for Canadian barley in world markets equal or better than those enjoyed by Canadian wheat.

This year there are two competitions, one for commercial barley which requires a minimum carload entry of 1,667 bushels, the other for seed barley requiring a minimum entry of at least 500 bushels.

Up to Sept. 15 there had been shipped 40 carloads in the commercial competition, 22 from points in Manitoba, 14 in Saskatchewan and 3 in Alberta.

At least 95% have graded 3 C.W. and only 3 Manitoba shipments graded below this. Only one carload graded low enough to automatically put it out of the contest. The 3 Alberta shipments were unloaded at Calgary and at Sept. 15 samples for grading had not yet been received by the Barley Improvement Institute at Winnipeg.

Shipments so far this year have been of unusually high standard. One reason, Prof. Harrison said, is that 1948 has been a good year for barley. Part of the improvement is probably because the contest has stimulated growers to improve quality of their barley production.

TWO DOLLARS FOR WHEAT

Canadian wheat is now being sold by the Government at $2.00 a bushel but the Government is paying farmers only at the rate of $1.35. This, we believe, is wrong. Farmers, we suggest, should write to the Government and protest against this withholding of the farmers' own money.

HELP THE BLIND TO HELP THEMSELVES

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS THIS MONTH

During September The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will be conducting its annual campaign for funds throughout Northern Alberta. This important appeal has special significance this year and is of interest to every citizen. It has special significance because it has a double purpose. It is of interest to everyone not only because of a natural desire to assist those who are blind but because he never knows when he, himself, might need the services he is now being asked to support.

This 1948 campaign has a double purpose because its object is not only to obtain funds to help with the maintenance of existing services for the present year but, as well to secure urgently needed support to assist with the completion of the Northern Alberta Service Centre and Residence for the blind now under construction in Edmonton. The special nature of the need merits special consideration and support.

The existing services of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind are many and varied and have been developed after many years of experience with the problems and needs of our sightless citizens. They include special training in Braille reading and writing, in typing and in suitable handicrafts; the finding and creating of suitable employment for those able to work; the maintaining of a special library of Braille books for blind readers; special discount privileges to help offset some of the financial hardships occasioned by blindness; and a prevention of blindness program designed to assist those who cannot afford it for themselves to obtain proper medical attention to conserve precious eyesight.

The Northern Alberta Service Centre and Residence for the blind is being constructed in Edmonton to serve the blind of all Northern Alberta and the citizens of this community are being asked to buy a share in this important enterprise. Such an investment will pay rich dividends in human happiness. This is an opportunity to help the blind to help themselves and, at the same time to express gratitude for good sight.

Volunteer canvassers are at work throughout Northern Alberta. Their job is a big one. They are giving their time as well as their money. Help lighten their task by mailing your donation to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Court house Bldg., Edmonton. BE GENEROUS.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mr and Mrs Guy Whitlock of Wildmere enjoyed visits on Sunday from Mr and Mrs. Wm. Steele and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitlock and family and little Doreen Martin.

We are sorry that one of our good friends in the person of Mrs. Rendell is not feeling very well and has to go to the hospital for awhile. May the rest and care make a big improvement to her health.

Even with crops not so good as they might be we have much to be thankful for here in this country. Mrs. Ruud of Triangle had a sister return to Norway last fall and in a letter from her she said she had seen no meat since she went there, only fish, fish and more fish! Everyone is very tired of it and everything is rationed to the limit.

Local Unit Part of Famous Regiment

OLD FIGHTING UNIT

Everyone knows about the Edmonton Regiment which served with honor and distinction in two wars. For their fine battle record the regiment was honored by being allied with the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment and privileged to add the word "Loyal" to the regiment's name. There is only one "Loyal" regiment in the British Army and there is only one in Canada and "A" Company of this famous regiment is located in Vermilion.

FIRST WAR RECORD

During the war 1914-18 the 49th Battalion, as it was called at that time, fought at Amiens, Cambrai, Arras, Passchendaele, Ypres, Vimy, Mt. Sorrel, Courcelett, and pursuit-to-Mons. Few regiments on the Western Front had as good a record for pushing back the enemy and capturing both men and guns.

SECOND WAR RECORD

In 1939 the 49th Edmonton Regiment was one of the first units in Canada to be called up for service. The first Commanding Officer was Lt. Col. W. G. Stillman who took the regiment to England where battle training was intensive. Other COs during the course of the war were Wilson, Kitching, Jefferson, Coleman, Bay, Bell-Irving, Stone and Cromb. Not until 1943 did the regiment face the enemy but from the landing at Sicily until V-E Day it was one long continuous fight. Men of the regiment will ever remember such names as Ortona, Moro River, Agira, Hitler Line, Gothic Line, Naviglio Canal and Senio River.

RESERVE FORCE UNITS

Following the war the Regiment became part of Canada's Reserve Force. "A" Company is located in Vermilion, "B" Company at Vegreville; "C" Company at Grande Prairie and "D" Company at Edmonton. The present CO is Lt. Col. W. T. Cromb, D.S.O. Col Cromb commanded the regiment during the latter part of the war.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S GUARD

It is unusual for a Reserve Force unit to supply a Governor-General's Guard but "A" Coy with some men from "B" and "D" Companies did the job. The Governor-General, Field Marshall the Viscount Alexander of Tunis, complimented the men on an excellent performance.

ANNUAL TRAINING

Reserve Force training consists of weekly parades. "A" Coy. parades every Wednesday night for two hours. Instruction is given in rifles, Bren gun, Sten gun, mortars and pistols. As can be expected in a fighting unit, weapon training and shooting are stressed.

NEW FEATURES PLANNED

Instruction in skis, snowshoes and jiu-jitsu will be part of the winter's program. Social activities will not be neglected. It is hoped to form a Unit hockey team also.

"LOCAL BEAT"

By C. GOUGH

A great threat to our freedom today is intolerance. The white man has developed a very bad habit over the centuries: that of thinking himself a superior being to all other peoples in thought, word and deed as well as in physical structure. In fact much of the white race have apparently inherited the ancient Jewish belief that they are God's chosen race. There is absolutely no basis for for such a line of thinking. If we appeal to the greatest authority on this subject, the Scriptures, we find that there is neither "Jew or Greek, bond or free . . ." All people that on earth do dwell are children of God.

It is with this in mind that we should face one of the most serious problems of today; the rising tide of racial and class prejudice and intolerance. In a Christian Democracy there is no sound reason, although there may be excuses, for racial and class discrimination. The exploitation of a weaker group by a stronger one is a base denial of democracy and the very opposite of Christian teaching. Many these days are talking about "the unchristian Communism" that is on the rampage, but little is being said about a brand of unchristian Democracy that is masquerading as true and enlightened democracy. Can Satan cast out Satan? We may likewise ask, can unchristian democracy cast out unchristian communism? If we want to remove the threat of communism we can best do it by showing a better brand of democracy. This means that we must remove fear, unbearable want, and inhuman intolerance, for these are the things that drive people to try something new (probably communism) even though that 'something new' which offers them a halo around the head, gives them a noose around the neck.

Many will say and rightly so, that tolerance is not enough—that there must be appreciation. True, we tolerate cats and dogs. Yes, some people love them. Surely the least that one Christian can do for another is to tolerate him. The story is told of a Jew in one of the southern states of America in whose honor a banquet was being held for being the most outstanding citizen of the year, that after previous speakers had eulogized him and called for greater tolerance towards other races and groups, the Jew himself arose and with his feelings made manifest by the sigh in his voice, said, "Gentlemen, I don't want to be tolerated. I desire only to be appreciated." May it not be that appreciation instead of tolerance will lead us from the dangers that confront our freedom. However tolerance is the first step to genuine appreciation. The spirit of tolerance is the spirit of freedom and liberty. It is the spirit of Him who nearly two thousand years ago taught people that great lesson which they have never quite learned, but they have never quite forgotten, that there may be a kingdom where the least shall be heard and considered side by side with the greatest.

This is the last opportunity I shall have of writing this column as the time of "student migration" is here. However, I would like to express through the medium of this esteemed weekly paper my sincere appreciation and heartfelt gratitude to all who in any way have helped to make my days in the West a pleasant memory. I wish you one and all the very best, both now and always.

Elk Point Hopes for Natural Gas

ELK POINT.—Drilling for natural gas at Elk Point was begun this week by C. H. Withers well known contractor. The site chosen for drilling is just outside and east of the village limits on the farm owned by Wm. A. Irishak which constitutes part of the 2000 acre lease held by the recently formed syndicate. The surface casing has already been cemented.

If gas is obtained in commercial quantities, it is expected that part of the town will be piped for gas before winter and that the rest of the town will be serviced by spring.

Officers in charge of the syndicate are: President, Dr. A. G. Ross; Vice-President, Mike Bartosyk; Secretary, Paul Stepa.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

WOODVALE

(too late for last week)

Threshing was in full swing around here last week but weather permitting a lot of farmers will be back with the binder cutting the remainder of the crop. Results so far that we have heard are wheat anywhere from 5 to 25 bus. to the acre and rye 9. A lot of fields are barely high enough to cut, some others will have no grain in them and will in the end bring the average yield down quite low.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney on the birth of a baby daughter. That makes three girls on the old Wainwright highway in the month of August.

Camille and Maurice Goutier were still at home helping with the harvest as the college in Edmonton did not open until the 15th.

A few weeks ago we mentioned the surprise party for Mr. Hills our student minister, but not only in the Canton district was his 21st birthday celebrated. Mrs. Watson baked him a lovely birthday cake and so did Mrs. Teasdale of Union. We wish Mr. Hills success in his studies for B.A. degree at the University of Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Green paid a visit to the latter's brother and family at Linbergh. They found the Philips family well and happy and they brought home blueberries and cranberries to can.

The good colony of bees we mentioned a while back have brought production up to 190 pounds for their owner Mr. Ross. But as with honey as with grain production per hive varies considerably. Two other hives of Mr. Ross were brought for the and just [illegible].

Mrs. Roger Watt returned after a lengthy stay with her parents near Mundare where she helped nurse her father who died a few weeks ago at the age of [illegible]. Our sympathy goes to the bereaved family.

Mrs. [illegible] brought to our attention Saturday evening around 9 o'clock an unusual sight in the sky. A rainbow in the north-east against the dark clouds hanging there caused by the moon low in the S.W. We wonder if anyone else noticed it? It was a perfect and very big arch but the colors were blended and not too distinct giving it an orange-yellowish hue.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

Would you like to experience one of the happiest, most interesting days in your life — tomorrow?

You will if you make it a "Double Day" — a day during which you try to practice certain principles with twice your normal effort.

For instance, with people — everyone you meet during the day — make a double effort to be kind and helpful. Try to be twice as interested in each one, twice as appreciative of their good qualities.

On the job too, there are many things you can profitably try to double: your concentration; your self-confidence; your efficiency; your ability to visualize improvements that can be made in your field of work.

Even spare time recreation will bring more fun and relaxation if entered into with doubled enthusiasm.

The end of such a day will be so enjoyable that you will want to continue such practice in the future.

Here's another secret of happier living: Provide a background of peace of mind for yourself and your loved ones through life insurance. It offers dependable protection against emergencies and provides income for retirement.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS . . .

No man can enjoy a true life and true liberty, or pursue a genuine happiness, without first conceding the right of his fellow man to do the same. The extent of our enjoyment of these rights depends entirely on our unselfish willingness to keep our own pursuit of happiness from interfering with that of others. The moment the use of our own liberty restricts that of another . . . we are abusing the ideals our forefathers fought to maintain.

The House of Seagram believes that moderation is the key to the successful pursuit of happiness . . . moderation in our thinking, in our actions, and in our personal habits . . . moderation in all things.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

Progress In Science

THE PLACE OF RESEARCH IN THE national economy has become increasingly important. During the war, the value of research work was recognized in all countries and it was shown that well trained scientists, given adequate facilities and financial support, were able to make great contributions toward solving many of the most complex problems of the times. A notable example of this was the opening up of the great new field of atomic energy, a development which might not have taken place for many years yet had not scientists been given the resources and support to carry on intensive research work with the object of producing the atomic bomb.

More Money Is Being Spent

In Canada the need for research work in furthering the development of our peacetime economy has been recognized, and the amounts spent to provide for scientific research have been substantially increased. The Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, recently announced that the Canadian government now spends more than $40,000,000 annually on research and scientific activity. In 1946, the amount allocated to this work was $30,000,000 and in 1945 it was $38,000,000. In 1938 only $6 [illegible] was allowed for this purpose, showing the expansion which has taken place since that time. Of the $40,000,000 spent this year it is estimated that $34,000,000 will be used for research and development work, of which $6,000,000 [illegible] spent on construction and purchase of equipment.

• • • • •

Indications Of More Interest

In his report Mr. Howe drew attention to the fact that during the last years of the war, research and other scientific work for military purposes was three or four times greater than that done for civilian purposes. Now however, it is expected that two-thirds of the annual expenditures will be devoted to problems related to the country's peacetime economy. In addition to the work which is being done under the auspices of the Dominion government, $1,000,000 is being spent by the governments of eight provinces for scientific work on matters which are within their own jurisdiction. The per capita expenditure for each province for this work is: Ontario 42 cents, Nova Scotia 43 cents, British Columbia 42 cents, Prince Edward Island 37 cents, New Brunswick 34 cents, Alberta 33 cents, Saskatchewan 27 cents and Manitoba 26 cents. Quebec's expenditure was not announced. These reports indicate that support for scientific research and development in Canada is increasing and this will undoubtedly mean that there will be progress in agriculture, medicine, industry and other matters essential to the welfare of the nation.

Honest Man Works Years To Pay Debt

HARROW, England. — A white haired man of 73 went back to his counter job in a London store recently, clear at last of a £42 [illegible] debt. It had taken him 37 years to pay.

In 1911 William Walton's outfitter's shop in Liverpool went bankrupt and Walton owed a firm of shirt manufacturers £42. He decided he would pay the debt with interest no matter how long it took. He got a job as store assistant and put aside part of his wages every week.

HOUSE OF LOGS—Eugene Barillot, P.O. Grosmont, Alta., is shown in this building a log house for a neighbor. He says as follows: "A well built log house is superior when built with expensive lumber — is warmer in winter and cooler in summer when built on a good foundation like this one (cement and rocks). I am just planing boards for future work." Mr. Barillot lives on a homestead of 115 acres. There are large farms around but most of the land is still in poplar bush.

Irrigation Dam To Be Built Near Medicine Hat

MEDICINE HAT. — E. L. Gray of Regina, superintendent of water development for the Prairie Farmers Rehabilitation Act, confirmed reports that an irrigation dam will be built across Gros Vente Creek, 40 miles southeast to provide a greater water reserve for irrigation between Irvine, Alta., and Medicine Hat.

He said an appropriation has been set aside and the project will be started as soon as the provincial water resources board gives its approval.

The dam, estimated to cost between $20,000 and $25,000, will provide additional storage for 6,000 acre feet of water. The flow will augment supplies in dry years through the Gros Vente and Ross Creek course which join near Irvine.

High Prices Force Vegetarians To Become Meat Eaters

VICTORIA. — Even vegetarians are having a hard time with the high cost of living.

They have joined the ranks of the meat eaters in high-price protests.

Fruit and vegetables today are three times higher than they were 10 years ago.

"As an example," said one grocer, "We used to sell carrots at five cents a bunch. Now we sell a similar sized bunch at 15 cents. The same thing is pretty well true of all fruits and vegetables."

So there isn't much use of gaining vegetarianism if you plan to get away from the high cost of meats.

German Girl Would Like To Come To Canada

VANCOUVER. — Gertrude Schewring, a pretty German girl now living at Varel in the British zone, would like to come to Canada and start life anew.

She finds life in Germany too grim, and in a letter to friends here she said:

"Germany is like a poultry yard. One person plucks the other. I am sorry for saying so, but it is true.

"The new Deutsche-Mark money is not enough to live on. Most of the people here have no work because the factories have no money to pay them and the storehouses are full, but we have no money to buy anything."

Gertrude, 25 years old, is a good cook and a willing worker.

"I know only one dream," she wrote, "to go to another part of the world where I can buy the bread to live on."

Manitoba Drilling Sets Record Pace

WINNIPEG. — The most extensive oil drilling tests ever undertaken in Manitoba have been in progress this year.

Drilling crews from Alberta are now operating for the Standard Oil of California in the Brandon area. The test borings are up to 3,000 ft. and are being made at corners of each township. Tests were started early in the year at a point 100 [illegible] southeast of Brandon and before the end of the year, will have been extended to areas about 40 miles northeast.

SOMETHING NEW! "JUNK YARD" PLAY LOTS

VICTORIA. — Something new in play lots for youngsters is advocated by George E. Knight. He suggested the city have "junk yard" playgrounds to give the younger generation a whack at automobiles, street cars and even airplanes instead of a sandpile. Denmark and Norway, he said, have found the "junk yard" play lots safe and popular.

The passing of the late Mr. John Curtis, retired farmer of the Greenlawn district, is greatly mourned by a very large number of friends who have so many kind thoughts of the deceased.

Mr. Curtis was born in Kent County, England in the year 1867. He came to Canada at the age of twenty years. At Wetaskiwin in the year 1896 he married Miss Jennie Wemarks who lives to mourn his passing. From Wetaskiwin he came to Greenlawn where he took up a homestead in 1907. Funeral services were conducted at the Dewberry hall by the Rev. T. W. Teape of Vermilion, Rector of the Church of England. Interment took place in the Dewberry cemetery.

He was carried to his last resting place by six of his old neighbors, John Grant, Frank Grey, J. Bauman, Jim Jones, Walter Jones and A. Stone.

WILDMERE WINKS

Autumn starts today Sept. 21st; here's hoping we have a nice long spell of fine open weather so harvesting and threshing can be all cleaned up. Several have late grain to cut yet. Most of the early ripe crop is all threshed. While none yielded very heavy it's a wonder it did as well as it did with no rain at all until 12th of July. Practically everyone will at least get their seed back but one cannot get ahead very fast on crops like that.

While in town Saturday evening we had such a nice chat with Mrs. Woodruff of Cummings, and met her niece from England who is visiting her. We also had a cheery cup of tea with our cousin Mrs. McGinnis. Her sister Mrs. Harde of Miami, Man. is coming for a visit. Mrs. Abe Dicke of Windermere district is a daughter of Mrs. Harde's.

Sunday was our last church service of this year. Mr. Musto will return to Edmonton to his studies. He plans on coming back to our field another year so we'll all see him again.

A wedding of much interest to our community was solemnized by Rev. Dobson of Wainwright on Sunday afternoon when Dora Fremoyne became the bride of Laurence E. Graham of Wildmere. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin attended the happy couple. After the wedding they journeyed to the groom's sister's home (Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallington) where a wedding supper awaited them. Besides the bridal party Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers, Bill and Adam Smith attended the supper. As his bride was not raised in the district Mrs. Wilson had a very amusing book on Laurence's life, past, present and future made up which caused a good many laughs. Later the couple left amid shouts of good wishes, for their home on the groom's farm in Wildmere.

First Aid Hints for SPRAINS and STRAINS

SPRAINS:

When by sudden wrench or twist the ligaments and the parts around a joint are stretched or torn the joint is said to be sprained.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

1. Pain at the joint.
2. Inability to use the joint without increasing the pain.
3. Swelling and later discoloration.

TREATMENT

1. Place the limb in the most comfortable position and prevent any movement.
2. Expose the joint and apply a firm bandage.
3. Wet the bandage with cold water and keep it wet.
4. When this ceases to give relief take the bandage off and reapply it.

In all doubtful cases treat as a fracture.

STRAINS and RUPTURED MUSCLES:

When during severe exertion muscles or tendons are over-stretched they are said to be strained or, if they are actually torn, they are described as ruptured. A so-called strain in the groin (hernia) is an injury of a totally different nature.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

1. A sudden sharp pain at the seat of the injury.
2. When the muscles of a limb are strained they may swell and cause severe cramp.
3. Further exertion is difficult or impossible. For example, if the strain has occurred in the back the patient may be unable to stand upright.

TREATMENT

1. Place the patient in the most comfortable position and afford support to the injured part.
2. Apply a hot compress.

RECIPES

CORN FLAKE POTATOES

6 hot boiled potatoes
4 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 cupful of corn flakes rolled fine

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and roll in mayonnaise, then in corn flakes crumbs. Place in a greased pan and bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) or put under the broiler flame, turning frequently, until well browned [illegible].

BAKED SQUASH WITH SAUSAGES

Cut squash in half, remove seeds and place squash in baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and ½ teaspoon molasses for each portion.

Put a little water in bottom of baking dish. Cover and bake one hour in moderate oven.

At the end of the first 30 minutes place in each piece a few small link sausages which have been put into cold water and heated to the boiling point. Finish baking uncovered.

For youngsters, the squash may be baked without the addition of sausages, and served instead with slices of crisp bacon.

COLOR TREND CHANGING

A trend towards the choice of lighter and more colorful paint shades for automobiles is reported by manufacturers. Black and dark blues which used to account for practically half of the volume of automobile finishing still range highest in color preference but their margin has been considerably cut. In modern car finishing, some 60 per cent. of the preference goes to such colors as light green, beige, grey and marine blue.

Recommends Insurance To Farmers For Crop Damage By Feeding Ducks

CALGARY.—Insurance against damage to crops by feeding ducks may become a federal responsibility if a report being prepared by Dr. Oliver Hewitt, Ottawa Dominion Wild Life Service inspector, is accepted.

After inspecting crop districts in the Calgary area, Dr. Hewitt reported that extensive damage has been done by ducks feeding off crops in the Blackie and Brant district and lighter damage around Brooks where a heavy yield is anticipated this year.

Dr. Hewitt said in Calgary, following his inspection, that he would recommend that some form of federal insurance be available to recompense farmers against crop damage by feeding ducks.

A similar recommendation was passed at the annual meeting of the Alberta Fish and Game association early this year. It urged that some form of insurance, similar to hail insurance, be paid farmers.

Dr. Hewitt said that if colder weather started freezing ponds in the north, the birds would be driven south earlier than usual and farmers could then expect heavy losses unless their crops were harvested.

Winter wheat and rye crops in the district east of High River were bearing the brunt of the attack. Crops lying in swath on the ground were providing feeding grounds for the ducks and farmers do not have the men to spare to go after the birds in an all out attack.

Honey Crop Up By 13 Per Cent.

OTTAWA.—The honey crop this year is estimated at 41,653,000 pounds, 13 per cent. more than last year's and 17 per cent. greater than the average for the five years prior to the war.

A preliminary honey crop report says although the number of colonies has dropped this year from 588,700 to 561,700, the average yield is up from 63 pounds to 74½.

Estimated 1948 production, with last year's comparative figures in brackets:

Prince Edward Island 70,000 (67,000) pounds; Nova Scotia, 115,000 (112,000); New Brunswick, 162,000 (142,000); Quebec, 4,225,000 (5,300,000); Ontario, 13,781,000 (12,290,000); Manitoba, 7,496,000 (5,180,000); Saskatchewan, 5,030,000 (6,232,000); Alberta, 7,980,000 (6,507,000); British Columbia, 945,000 (1,180,000).

MORE STRAW BALED FOR FODDER

SWIFT CURRENT.—There was more baled straw between Swift Current and Prince Albert this year than he had ever seen in his life before, L. M. Ogilvie, agriculture supervisor said after returning from a two weeks tour of the northern part of the province.

Mr. Ogilvie attributed this fact to the shortage of feed in many points in the province this year. In many cases he said the baling operation was completed the same day that the combining was done.

Mr. Ogilvie said that this indicated to him that farmers all the way north were aware of the fodder shortage, and were taking this means of putting up straw in as small a space as possible for the winter months. In this form it is easily shipped to other points in the province when additional straw is required.

Successful Transfer Of Moose From Elk Island Park

The successful transfer of 10 moose, five male and five female, from Elk Island National Park, Alberta, to Cape Breton Highlands National Park, Nova Scotia, by the National Parks Service of the Department of Mines and Resources, was announced.

The 2,800-mile trip, which lasted nine days, was made over Canadian National Railways lines. The animals were taken by special truck from Little Bras d'Or, near Sydney, N.S., to the Roper's Brook area in the Cape Breton Park, where they were released. Officials of the National Parks Service and the Dominion Wildlife Service had charge of the moose during the entire trip.

At one time moose were abundant on Cape Breton Island, but excessive exploitation resulted in their extermination. In winter, when deep snow made the animals helpless, hunters often slaughtered them in their winter "yards".

Under sanctuary conditions, however, wild animals that were virtually extinct at the turn of the century are once again thriving. The buffalo is a classic example.

The re-establishment of moose in Cape Breton Highlands National Park is regarded as an important project. A recent investigation of wildlife conditions there revealed that the area is excellent moose range. Under these favourable conditions the moose should increase rapidly.

Storing Vegetables For Winter

NOW is the time to think of storing away those surplus vegetables for the winter, or at least beginning to make preparation for their storage. It is useless to wait until the cold weather is on you, then find no place ready to receive them. Seeing vegetables are cheap now, it would not be a bad idea to buy some and put them away, providing the conditions in the cellar are favorable.

Select a suitable portion of the cellar. Board it off from the rest of the cellar. Cover the boards with felt paper. Do so on both sides of the partition and do a thorough job. Your object is to exclude the artificial heat from the furnace. Provide a false floor for part of this room. Nail a few slats on one of the walls. Build a few bins on one side of the room. Provide a few hooks in the ceiling. Order a load of builders' sand and store it in one of the bins. Provide a few slat boxes and old bags.

The reasons for this advice are given in what follows:

CAUTIONS ABOUT STORING

Don't let the frost injure the crops before you take them into the cellar.

Don't bring them in while they are in a moist condition.

Don't cover roots with damp sand if the cellar is hot. They will start to grow if you do. Eat them quickly, can, dry or give away in preference.

Don't let cold winds dry out your potatoes. If you do a bitter taste is the result.

Don't try to store onions, squash or pumpkins in a cool cellar. They will keep better in the attic.

Don't forget to watch your storage room and sort out decayed specimens before the trouble spreads.

Don't forget that a thermometer is a good friend in a storage room. If it is impossible to provide a special storage place as suggested, select that part of the cellar farthest removed from the furnace where the greatest amount of air circulation takes place.

Oversize Eggs Causing Shippers Lot Of Trouble

WINNIPEG.—Canadian hens are causing a lot of trouble by laying oversize eggs.

A. F. Darnell, district inspector of poultry products for the Federal Department of Agriculture, said matters have reached the stage where poultry men are asked to see what they can do about raising hens that produce smaller eggs.

Thirty years ago eggs averaged 18 to 19 ounces a dozen. Breeding programs produced strains capable of laying eggs weighing anywhere from 26 to 28 ounces a dozen. Now, approximately seven per cent. of the eggs on the market weigh more than 28 ounces to a dozen.

Crates simply weren't able to cope with the expanded barnyard fruit. Mr. Darnell said that of every case sent overseas during the war, an average of one dozen eggs arrived cracked or broken because egg slots weren't large enough.

Manitoba producers got together and asked the federal government if the size of crates could be increased. "Go ahead"—the producers were told. They did—and the railways started beefing since it affected space allotments.

Mr. Darnell said that through a new breeding policy it was hoped to reduce somewhat the number of oversize eggs on the market. Raisers also are being discouraged from shipping big eggs overseas. The jumbo eggs mostly are being absorbed by the home market. However, since an overseas quota must be met at least some of the big fellows get on the boat.

WORLD TRADE WEEK TO BE HELD ANNUALLY

MONTREAL.—World Trade Week will be observed annually in Canada, it was decided at a meeting of the national committee following the first observance across the Dominion this year. The week is sponsored by The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Exporters' Association, Canadian Section of International Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Importers and Traders Association and Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

The timing of the week in 1949, the committee decided, should take into consideration the similar week in the United States and should be held prior to the Canadian International Trade Fair.

NEW FARM SPREADER

LONDON.—A new farm spreader that distributes a two-ton load of either artificial or natural fertilizer in 10 minutes was designed here recently. Officials say that the machine, which loads in eight minutes, can be used for bulk transport of grain or other commodities. 2736

CAUTION URGED IN FALL SEEDING

REGINA.—For the protection of crops, seeding of fall rye and winter wheat this year should be delayed until grasshoppers have practically disappeared, Field Crops Commissioner W. H. Horner said recently in pointing out that even a small number of 'hoppers could do much damage when grain starts coming up.

Mr. Horner added that stubble fields in infested areas should not be seeded, since such fields were likely to be heavily infested with grasshopper eggs. Widespread damage when hatching begins next spring would be "almost inevitable" because of the difficulty in controlling this type of infestation.

Not only were crops sown on stubble-infested fields likely to be lost but there was also a danger of 'hoppers moving to nearby summerfallow crops and destroying them, Mr. Horner concluded.

Neighborly Act by Canadian Legion

RESULTS IN HOUSE ADDITION

As the result of a very kindly act Mrs. Nancy Beatty and three children are enjoying greatly increased and much more comfortable living accommodation. A volunteer corps, under the direction of Alex Manyluk have erected a 12 by 24 foot addition to Mrs. Beatty's small house. This provides an additional bedroom and a new kitchen.

It all came about by Mrs. Beatty mentioning at a Canadian Legion W.A. meeting that she intended to have an addition built to her small home. One of the ladies present made a mental note of this and passed it along to the Canadian Legion. It resulted in Alex Manyluk taking charge of the endeavor, and with volunteer help from the Legion members and immediate neighbors of Mrs. Beatty, the addition is now completed. The neighbors were not asked until Alex, but as soon as they saw what was planned they simply came over and started to work, and they stayed with it, evening after evening, and any spare time they had. By observation, the editor can add that Alex was certainly on the job all the time providing the incentive for the kindly undertaking.

Vermilion Students Register at University

NURSING AIM OF MANY PRESENT V. H. S. GIRLS

The opening of the University of Alberta this fall has seen many young people from Vermilion and district register. Some have registered for their freshman year, and several for second and third years. More than usual are taking the one year teacher training course at the Faculty of Education.

The following V.H.S. graduates are enrolled in the Faculty of Education planning to teach. Ellen Snelgrove, Laura Hilton and Ruth Purser. The latter two were winners of teacher training scholarships valued at $200 each. Graduates of the Kitscoty high school also taking the teacher training course are Lillian Watson of Lindville, Hugh Leighton of Kitscoty, Evelyn Shirreff of Kohnee, also a scholarship winner, and Eunice Wasylichon. Other students well known here and registered in this course are Sophia Haan and Margaret Wolters, both of whom moved away from the [illegible] south of Vermilion during the past year or so.

Fred Krause, brilliant V.H.S. graduate of June, who took his full grade 12 in one year, obtaining marks ranging from 77 to 90, enters first year [illegible].

SECOND YEAR STUDENTS

Georgia Macnab is back to Varsity for her second year Pharmacy. Jean Robson who made a clean sweep of all the scholarships and awards possible for a first year commerce student last spring is taking second year Commerce. Marion McQuid of the Vanesti district is also taking her second year in Commerce.

Win Wheat Pool Scholarships

Allan Wells and Alex Morrison are back at Varsity taking second year Agriculture. Both these boys won scholarships awarded by the Alberta Wheat Pool as a result of outstanding first year University work.

Harold Glidden is taking third year in Agriculture with Jack Herricks of Mannville taking the same course.

AT NURSING SCHOOL

Shirley Davidson, grade 12 graduate of June, has commenced her three-year nurse-in-training course at the Royal Alexandra hospital. A survey of girls in grades 10, 11 and 12 indicates that nursing is the aim of many of them, proving the popular vocation at the present time.

Vermilion has quite a quota of girls training for nursing in the city hospitals at present. These include Dorothy Ryben, Jean Corley, Frankie Reid, Josephine Chesnick, Norma Williams and Cynthia Rogan.

Hotly Contested Election Elk Point High School Students Union

JOHN YACYNA IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

After a hotly contested election campaign characterized by witty campaign speeches and placards advertising the respective merits of the prospective candidates election results for the Elk Point High School Students' Union were announced this week by Returning Officer Lillian Miller. Candidates successful in being elected to the Students' Council for the first term are: President — John Yacyna, Vice-President — Jean Sumpter, Secretary — Doreen Lindquist; Treasurer — Grace Miller; Sports Committee — Geo Golech, Barry Keck, Stella Witowich and Carl Holt; Social Committee — Jean Morwyh, Doris Wiegerinck, Evelyn Bartling and Donald Ross. The students have ordered a daylight screen for their projector as well as volley ball equipment. A year with plenty of extra curricular work has been planned by the students.

New Town Assessment Is Being Made

1936 BASIS IS INCREASED BY TEN PER CENT.

A new general assessment for taxation purposes is being made in Vermilion by Sidney J. Gee and his two assistants Harold Aldordice and Jack Warner. All are authorized assessors. Mr. Gee made the assessment here 5 years ago.

Basis of these assessments since 1940 has been on a 1936 cost, because 1936 was considered by appraisers as a normal year for building. However in 1941 a raise of 10% was allowed over the 1936 costs and this is the basis of today's new assessment. This means that there will be an increase of 10% over the assessment of 5 years ago. Five years' depreciation is allowed approximating 5%, leaving a 5% increase over your assessment of 1943.

Every building in Vermilion will be appraised and some three weeks to a month will be required to complete the work.

Mr. Gee has recently come from Lethbridge where he was in charge of a completely new assessment for that city. This work, with a staff of 9 men, required just about a year to complete.

I.O.D.E. Resume Regular Meetings

The Frog Lake Chapter, I.O.D.E. held their first meeting of the season on Sept. 20th at the home of Mrs. Miller. A report was given of the articles shipped to England in the summer. On the recommendation of the executive the meeting voted that the treasurer pay various pledges and dues. Mrs. Smith read correspondence from the Canadian Association of Consumers. She reported that the efforts of the C.A.C. had resulted in the ban on sewing machines being partially lifted. Previously they had been regarded as a luxury!

Beaton River sent thanks for the parcel of books and magazines. The Frog Lake Chapter tagged for the Blind in the Canada-wide campaign on Sept. 25th.

This Chapter together with all Alberta, contributes towards educational scholarships and prizes. Two of these prizes came to Vermilion this year. It was decided to send letters of congratulation to Mrs. Day for her efforts and interest, and to the two successful contestants.

Mrs. Arton, a member of the Lady Willingdon Chapter in Drumheller spoke to the members bringing greetings from her Chapter and speaking kindly of our efforts in Vermilion.

A Toy Land sale will be held in the Nelson Hill store on Nov. 20th.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Lundell and Mrs. Davidson.

Dept. Exam. Results Are Highly Satisfactory

77% PASS IN GRADE 12 AND 100% IN GRADE 9

Departmental exam results in the Vermilion high school were quite satisfactory this year, maintaining the high average set for several years past.

Grade 12 students passed 77% of the subjects written with B standing or better. The provincial average is usually around 65%. The complete grade 12 course, usually regarded as two years' work, was successfully completed by 2 of last year's students, Laura Hilton and Fred Krause, in one year. In many schools the complete grade 12 is not available in one year.

8 Honor Students in Grade 9

Results of high school entrance or grade 9 exams, while reported better than usual from the province generally, were really outstanding here. Thirty-six students wrote and all passed. Five students obtained honors standing, 21 had A standing, 6 had B standing and 4 C standing. B or better is required for normal entrance to University. C or better gives credit towards the high school diploma.

Members of the school board have expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the results, feeling that the policy of engaging well qualified teachers plus the very fine facilities at the local high school for academic and commercial education, is paying dividends in sound training for our young people. Examination results for the past several years have been much above the provincial average.

RED CROSS NOTES

W. P. Pilkie, campaign manager for the Vermilion Red Cross has now completed the returns for 1948, has had the statement audited and remitted the total amount of $3045.31 to the head office of the Red Cross for Alberta in Calgary.

Previously it has been the practise to withhold sufficient funds to meet expenses incurred locally. This system has been changed and everything necessary is secured from the head office by means of requisitions.

Ronnie B. Smith, national film board official formerly stationed at Vermilion and then transferred to Edmonton, has again been moved, this time to Prince Albert. His territory will reach from Saskatoon to all points north. Ronnie passed through town on Tuesday this week.

11 New Houses Under Way

TO BE COMPLETED THIS FALL —ALL IN HIGHER PRICE CLASS

Starts have been made on no less than 11 new residences within the town limits, and the owners expect to have them completed this fall. The houses are all in the higher price bracket and include three which are being moved into town.

A group of three basements have been excavated on the east end of First Street South, immediately to the east of the Neil and George Webb residences. Of these Milton Lee intends to move the practically new two-storied house from his farm in the Allandale district to the east lot of these three. On the other two, Darrel Currah and Rand Calvert will build fine new homes.

Two basements have appeared on 2nd Street North east of the public school where W. B. Mix intends to build two houses for rental or sale purposes.

Lawrence Webb is having a new home built immediately north of Charlie Heckbert's property. Back in the central part of town W. A. Moore is well along with the erection of a house on First Street South on the corner lot next to the former Mrs. James Hay residence.

In the west end of town Dr. King is having a large residence of new design built in the newly opened subdivision west of the high school. Eddie Pilkie has made a start on another large house, which he plans to occupy himself, on the lot immediately east of the tennis courts and next to his father's home.

Another group of two houses will make their appearance on the west end of Main street. Maurice Watt has already moved in a very fine two-storied residence for which he had a full basement and foundation waiting while right next door west Bill Fooks is moving in a house, the basement and foundation being in readiness for its arrival.

Other building projects underway or recently completed, running the total to well over the $300,000 mark are the $55,000 primary school, the Vermilion Beverage Bottling Works, the Canadian Utilities Power plant, the cold storage locker plant and butcher shop, the Isley implement warehouse, the improvement of the United church, the practically rebuilding of the Brimacombe block, the erection of the water tower and a multitude of minor projects. This does not pretend to include the many homes already completed or moved into town this year. Unless the Standard miscalculates, 1948 will see total of building permits issued the largest in the history of the town.

"GREEN ACRES"

DEHORNING DANGERS

There is a pair of dehorners for loan at my office. Precautions should be taken however to prevent excessive bleeding. Stop-blood can be bought at every drug store. It may save an animal. Cattle feeding on sweet clover are likely to bleed very freely so extra care must be taken to prevent loss.

FEED SUPPLIES

It is my information that a lot of prairie hay and greenfeed is being allowed to go to waste. Once again I appeal to farmers to put up every pound of feed because it will be all needed before spring.

FARM LABOR

Over 100 eastern harvesters as well as a lot of drifters from Saskatchewan are now working in this district. There is hardly enough help to satisfy everyone but generally the harvest work seems to be going on satisfactorily.

TOUGH GRAIN

When harvest has been delayed by bad weather there is always the temptation to thresh grain before it is dry. It is much easier to deal with damp or tough grain in the stook or swath than it is to keep it from spoiling in the bin. The damage the cut in price is considerable.

ICE WELLS

Ice wells or ice houses on the farm serve the same purpose as an electric refrigerator does in town. Spoiling of fruit meat and vegetables can be prevented by the use of ice which has been stored up during the winter for use in the summer. There is little actual expense connected with the construction of ice wells or ice houses. Pamphlets are available on application to this office.

PLANTING PERENNIALS

Now is the time to plant or transplant perennials. Peonies, iris, tulips, bleeding heart, lilies, columbines and phlox do best when planted in the fall. Roots and bulbs can be bought now from Nurseries. Peonies and iris after two or three years in one place can be divided and three or more plants obtained. Roots of both these plants must not be planted deeper than 2 inches or they will not bloom.

Army Week Dance Is Popular Event

On Friday night 'A' Company was host to the people of Vermilion and district. About 200 young people and some older ones too attended the entertainment which consisted of a picture show and dance held in the Armory.

About [illegible] a display of military flares was put on from the armory grounds. Many citizens who had already retired were aroused by the explosions and viewed the brilliant sky where the multi-colored flares were bursting out. These flares made a pretty sight indeed!

The guests were welcomed on behalf of 'A' Company, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment by Capt. E. H. Buckingham, O.C.

Display Albino Mouse

CAPTURED AT GRIZZLY BEAR RANCH

A pure white field mouse was on display around town Monday and Tuesday. [illegible] a freak of nature was captured by harvesters in a field at the Grizzly Bear ranch and turned over to Jack Wright as something of a curiosity. No, it certainly wasn't of the tame variety and gave the harvesters a merry chase when unearthed under a green [illegible].

It's one world—or no world.

Weed Seeds Cut Grade of Coarse Grains

About 30% of the threshing remains in this area but a large percentage of this is grain waiting for the combine. Wheat is averaging a grade of No. 2 Northern and a yield of 12 bushels to the acre.

WEEDS CUT GRADE

Oats are averaging out at 25 bus. to the acre but much of the coarse grains are grading feed due to heavy dockage caused by weed seeds. The weeds are mostly wild oats. Some loads contain fully half wild oats.

Fellowship Program Broadcast Monday

The Fellowship program which originated at the Alliance chapel here at the regular Fellowship Hour on Sunday evening Sept. 19 when recordings were made by radio station CJCA, and broadcast over that station Monday evening this week from 10.30 to 11 p.m. The program was very interesting, impressing one with the fact that the people of the three churches, Gospel hall, Alliance chapel and Salvation Army have been drawn together in mutual tolerance and understanding by the excellence of the various numbers rendered and by the interesting story told of the town of Vermilion, its development and achievements which the announcer recounted.

Included by the announcer in his talk was the fact that the town was just completing the installation of a water and sewer system costing $216,000, a new primary school at a cost of $55,000 and that the Canadian Utilities had underway a $750,000 power plant project.

Adjutant Stewart gave a brief talk telling the history and growth of the Fellowship hour. The congregation sang a number of favorite hymns while others taking part in the program were the Misses Muriel and Mildred Mix, Mr. Ray Hutchinson, Elaine Hutchinson, Marjorie Mix, Ruth Hillcox, Leta Mix and the Rev. Eric Berg.

70 Bushels from Two Is Farmer's Record

Alberta Listener Thanks C.B.C. Farm Dept. for Valuable Tip

Three ripe, large, and fully developed heads of wheat were enclosed with a letter written on Aug. 19th by Alf Logan, farmer, of Vermilion, Alberta, to the CBC Farm Dept.

"I am sending you these heads of Saunders wheat because it was on your broadcast that I first heard about it a year ago last spring. I wrote Lacombe farm and they let me have some this spring. I planted 2 bushels on new land, and expect to thresh 60 or 70 bushels", Mr. Logan wrote.

"It was planted on May 18th and harvested on Aug. 18th. It was at least a week ahead of Thatcher on the same land.

"You will notice that there are as much as five kernels in a row, which is something I never noticed in any wheat in the 30 years I've been farming here."

The CBC Farm Broadcast Department spreads knowledge of new varieties, new agricultural methods, and new ideas in farming more widely than any other medium in the rural areas. Once in awhile it gets direct evidence, as in the case of Mr. Logan's letter, that its efforts are proving of real value to individual farmers.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CROP YEAR

These prairies have experienced an extraordinary crop year, details of which, I suggest, are worth pasting in anyone's scrap book for future reference. The crop started out with moisture reserves that were 21% above normal showing the promise of a 450,000,000 bushel wheat crop. But then over the westerly two-thirds of Saskatchewan and the easterly one-third of Alberta the usual good May and June rains did not occur, indeed a condition of drought existed up until July 12th. Manitoba and the eastern one-third of Saskatchewan and the western two-thirds of Alberta did, however, enjoy those fine May and June rains and so have fine crops. On July 11th I forecasted that if these drought conditions continued, our wheat crop might be 200,000,000 bushels only. On July 12th however abundant rains came and a remarkable change in prospects took place so that the Searle in a preliminary estimate of Aug. 10th, estimated the prairie wheat crop at 325,000,000 bus. and the Government on July 17th a crop of 340,000,000 bushels. The fear of frost however is still a factor particularly in some westerly parts of Alberta where still green wheat crops of 40 bushels to the acre are quite common.

All this would seem to illustrate that on these prairies almost anything can happen to rainfall and crop production; and that it is never safe to make definite prophecies too far ahead.

SAVING PLAYS IT SAFE —

A familiar October activity is brewing once again and when that Thanksgiving month rolls around we will all be hearing and reading a lot about Canada Savings Bonds. The government has just announced its plan to issue a Third Series of this popular savings instrument, keynoting its campaign with the slogan: "Play Safe—Save Now."

Saving money is one activity which contradicts the old adage about anticipation being better than realization. A good many of us have found in the past, that while investing in bonds didn't sound like the most exciting pastime in the world at the beginning, there was quite a kick a few months later in the realization that our little nest egg had grown to interesting proportions. The most reluctant of us had to be practically dragooned into buying bonds as a patriotic gesture seven or eight years ago but now it would seem that most of us are very glad we were. Because now we have the habit and it is not nearly so hard to keep that habit going as it is to acquire it in the first place.

The world will probably keep on spinning on its axis whether we save money or whether we don't. But it doesn't require a chartered accountant to tell us that we're playing it safe when we save our money, particularly in these days of high prices. A good thing to remember is that, as the margin of money available for saving decreases, the need for saving increases.

Canada Savings Bonds have been issued as a convenient means of establishing that safety margin. Plan to Save the Canada Savings Bond way.

Honesty Must Be Its Own Reward

A small boy picked up a $20 bill in a local store recently and promptly turned it over to the proprietor, thinking that the owner would probably come there inquiring for it — he did — retrieved the $20 spot, and left 25c as a reward for the finder.

Fine Crop of Plums on South Farm

A very fine crop of red plums has been gathered on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L.R.L. Brown, south of town. The plums ripened right on the trees for the first time since the trees commenced bearing fruit. 56 pounds of the plums were picked and the bulk of the crop made into jam. The plums made very fine eating. This is the first occasion that the trees have borne so much fruit.

Tree Planting Time

The period from the middle of September to the middle of October is an excellent time to plant new trees and shrubs, or replant old ones, providing there is enough moisture available. The winters in the south are often dry and unless the newly planted trees are well watered and go into the winter that way they may dry out and die before spring. Evergreens, when moved with a large ball of earth around the roots and given lots of water until freeze-up, are moved successfuly and easily in the fall. Fall plant often gets work done that if left until spring would be left undone.

The National Film Board

THE WORK OF THE NATIONAL FILM BOARD is known to most Canadians, who have seen documentary and educational films produced by this organization. These pictures have contributed extensively toward the spreading of education and culture in Canada and have played an important part in familiarizing people with the beauties of the country as well as with its cultural and industrial progress. While such pictures are seen by many Canadians each year, it is perhaps not generally known that pictures made by the National Film Board also reach large audiences outside of Canada and do much not only to acquaint people of other countries with the Dominion, but play an important part in advertising Canadian products abroad and increasing foreign trade.

• • • • •

Show Products Canada Sells It is estimated that 70,000,000 people in 60 countries each year see films made by the National Film Board, showing products which Canada has to sell. These films are made in co-operation with various government departments and with industries, and have proved to be of great value in advertising Canadian products abroad. Such films as "The Canadian Wheat Story", "Tomorrow's Timber" and "The Fur Trade" have advertised the products of these primary Canadian industries to people of many countries, as have "Red Runs the River" which tells of salmon fishing in British Columbia and "Fashions by Canada" which brought many orders for clothes made in Canada. These films not only help to sell Canadian goods, but they attract people from other countries to come here as tourists and as permanent settlers.

• • • • •

Great Progress Made in Britain The documentary film is a branch of motion picture production which has wide appeal and which has assumed importance in recording the cultural, social and industrial progress of a nation for the benefit of its own people as well as those of other countries. Reality and honesty are essential features of such films and a high degree of skill and experience are required to make them successfully. Since the war, Britain has made notable progress in this field and credit is given to producers there for contributing a great deal to this branch of film production. The work of Canada's National Film Board likewise conforms to high standards and is instrumental in building up a broader and more authentic knowledge of Canada and the Canadian way of life both here and in the many foreign countries to which Canadian films are sent.

Farmers' Cash Income Advance

OTTAWA.—Farmers' cash income from the sale of their produce advanced steadily to a total of $974,212,000 in the first half of 1948 from $732,704,000 in the corresponding period last year and $630,103,000 in 1946, the Bureau of Statistics reports.

Adding in the supplementary cash payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act and the Prairie Farm Income Act, the total cash receipts for the first half of this year were $980,572,000 against $742,636,000 in 1947 and [illegible] in 1946.

A large share of the increase was attributed to substantial sums paid out in western Canada by the Canadian Wheat Board in connection with adjusting, participation and final equalization payments on wheat, flaxseed and oats.

HUMAN BEINGS COULD USE THIS HANDY EYE

According to the Calgary Albertan a museum expedition has brought back from Africa a fly whose eyes are placed at the ends of long stalks that flare sharply to the right and left. They permit the insect to stand [illegible].

Life on our planet might be a good deal safer and happier if nature had seen fit to graft stalk eyes on homo sapiens instead of a member of the muscidae family. Think what a boon such an optical arrangement would have been for pedestrians, motorists and diplomats.

Forecast 1948 Wheat Crop At 391,000,000 Bu.

OTTAWA.—A 1948 wheat crop of 391,000,000 bushels—more than 50,000,000 bushels over the harvest of 1947—has been forecast by the Bureau of Statistics.

The forecast was made in the bureau's second estimate of Canada's field crops. The first estimate, made Aug. 17, placed the wheat crop at 372,000,000 and the bureau attributed the larger prospects to exceptionally good maturing and harvest weather during August.

The wheat estimate includes 362,661,000 bushels of spring wheat, produced mainly on the three prairie provinces, and 28,331,000 bushels of winter wheat which comes mostly from Ontario.

The enhanced crop prospects, which mean more money in the pockets of Canadian farmers, included estimates that the oats crop would total 361,728,000 bushels compared with 282,714,000 last year, barley 157,123,000 bushels against 141,461,000, rye 26,000,000 against 13,217,000 and flaxseed 17,749,000 against 12,240,000.

The estimate rye crop included 20,651,000 bushels of fall rye and 5,957,000 from spring production.

Production of the five leading grains on the prairies follows, with 1947 totals in brackets:

Three provinces—wheat 364,000,000 (319,000,000); oats 225,000,000 (194,000,000); barley 144,000,000 (131,000,000); rye 23,800,000 (11,620,000); flaxseed 17,000,000 (11,580,000).

Average yields per acre, in bushels, are estimated as follows with the 1947 figures in brackets:

Wheat 16.2 (14.0); oats 32.3 (25.2); barley 24.2 (18.9); rye 12.7 (11.4); dry peas 19.9 (14.0); dry beans 18.7 (15.0); soy beans 21.0 (18.2); buckwheat 23.1 (17.9); mixed grains 40.6 (30.4); flaxseed 9.2 (7.8); shelled corn 51.0 (37.9).

BEAVER NOT IMPRESSED WITH MANITOBA CAPITAL

RATHWELL, Man.—A distinguished visitor from southern Manitoba has paid a visit to the capital of the province—and as far as can be ascertained he was not impressed.

He wore a brown coat, a tired expression, and took a jaundiced view of Winnipeg. He was "A1064", one of the largest beaver ever caught in [illegible].

The beaver is about five feet long, weighs 70 pounds and is as powerful as a man. "A1064" is about 10 years old, a respectable age in any beaver colony.

He was caught south of here on the Boyne River by Douglas Ferris, a game guardian. Beaver are becoming a nuisance in the south of the province. The game and fisheries branch is caging them and shipping them north, where they will increase [illegible]

CIGARETTE SMOKING ON THE INCREASE IN CANADA

OTTAWA.—Despite high costs, cigarette smoking appears to be increasing in Canada.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that in the first seven months of the year 8,763,000,000 cigarettes were released, compared with 8,321,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

Two-Mile-Long Tunnel Completed

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—A two-mile-long tunnel under a Kootenay mountain—an important step in the ore-transport system of Sullivan Mine—has been completed after two years of work.

The new tunnel allows ore cars to load in the mine and travel direct to the Sullivan concentrator. It eliminates an expensive trans-shipping procedure through Kimberley city in Canadian Pacific cars.

The tunnel was built by Northern Construction Company, and is a major part of the $2,500,000 low-level haulage project of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Ltd.

PIGS AND MORE PIGS

WASHINGTON.—The United States government has asked farmers to produce the largest peacetime spring pig crop on record.

The 1949 spring goal was set by the agriculture department at 60,000,000 pigs—an increase of 17 per cent or nearly 9,000,000 more than the 1948 crop.

About 20 per cent of the population of the Republic of Salvador, Central America is Indian.

Notes For Mothers Packing Lunches For School Children

MANY school children find it impossible to get home in the daily luncheon period and, therefore, must take their lunch to school. And, for uncounted years school lunches have been a problem to many mothers.

Once a year Health News Magazine offers mothers advice about school lunches and we with them present the ideas of the Nutrition Division of the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health on the subject.

The Saskatchewan department deals with the subject in an attractive four-page pamphlet—"Notes for Lunch-Packing Mothers". Here they are:

The Lunch Pail

What kind?—Metal is the best because it must be washed and scalded regularly. There should be air holes for ventilation. And, don't forget a handle! It makes it much easier to carry.

How To Pack

Line with wax paper or serviette. Wrap each food separately. Put heavier foods on the bottom—foods easily crushed on the top.

A Good Lunch

What's that? One that contains enough food and the right kind. Milk—for bones and teeth. A vegetable or a fruit—both if possible. Bread—whole grain or Canada Approved. Protein—such as meat, fish, cheese, eggs or peanut butter. Hot food—cocoa, soups, scalloped dishes.

The Jar Method

Each child carries a jar of food from home in his lunch kit. These jars can be reheated at school in a large kettle of hot water—a canner serves the purpose very well. It is necessary to have a rack in the bottom to keep the jars off the direct heat. This may be made of wire, or it may be just a piece of board about three-quarters of an inch thick. Holes bored in it will allow the water, as it heats, to come up around the jars. If put on the stove to heat at recess the food will be piping hot by noon. Then each child eats his food from his jar and takes it home to be washed, and refilled for tomorrow.

Equipment

A large kettle, canner, or a boiler with a rack.

Oven mitts or potholders for lifting out hot jars.

(Ed's Note: The above method probably applies to schools in rural areas and not to city schools where stoves—other than in cafeterias—are not available because of central heating systems. However, many thousands of rural children take lunches to school and this method is certainly applicable to them.)

What Foods For The Jar?

Here's the answer—Baked beans, milk pudding, shepherd's pie, vegetable stew, creamed chicken, vegetable chowder, spaghetti and meat with tomatoes, macaroni and cheese or tomatoes, creamed carrots or other vegetables, scalloped potatoes or other vegetables, liver or salmon loaf, creamed eggs, soup, cocoa with milk.

Luscious Lunches

Vegetable milk soup, crackers, peanut butter on whole wheat bread, oatmeal cookie, apple. Recess snack—bran muffin.

Meat loaf sandwich on rye bread, carrot strips, rice and raisin pudding, bran muffin, milk. Recess snack—apple.

Macaroni and cheese, brown bread and butter, turnip strips, raisin biscuit, banana, milk. Recess snack—cookie.

Tomato soup, cheese on whole wheat bread, cabbage salad, cup cake, orange. Recess snack—cinnamon bun.

Sandwich Suggestions

Peanut butter and crisp bacon.
Minced meat and grated carrot.
Ground liver and pickle.
Cheese and tomato.
Lettuce and cucumber.
Cheese and chopped nuts.
Peanut butter and celery.
Scrambled eggs with bacon.
Cottage cheese and marmalade.
Flaked fish and salad dressing.
Grated cheese, raw carrots and salad dressing.

YOUR CROP OF THE FUTURE

DEVELOPING hardier strains of earlier-maturing grains . . . overcoming the ravages of rust . . . waging unceasing warfare against insect pests . . . battling to eradicate or control weeds . . . there has been no respite through the past half century for the scientific agriculturist, the forward looking farmer, or the wide-awake firm whose business is integrated with the production and marketing of grain in Western Canada.

One of the most important phases of this never-ending striving for better crops is the present day development of weed control. A pioneer in this field, and proud of it, is the National Grain Company Limited, which through its Agricultural Department, working with Governments and Universities, has carried on innumerable tests of chemicals, their methods of application, their effects upon weeds and crops.

In a recent issue of Life Magazine (August 30th, 1948), a full page illustration in color pictures a remarkable demonstration of the effectiveness of chemical weed control by spraying growing crops with 2,4-D in Minnesota and the Dakotas. The National Grain Co. Ltd. has carried out in Canada the identical program of chemical weed control that Life Magazine has so well recognized in the United States. The same chemicals and methods were used in both programs.

Crop yields have been materially increased through this method of chemical weed control, but much work remains to be done in the field of research and field testing of equipment, before the planners of today can rest from their labors to improve the crop of tomorrow. The Agricultural Department of National Grain will continue its activities in every development phase of chemical weed control.

Keep in touch with your local National Grain Agent for latest information on the battle against crop-destroying farm weeds.

DEATH OF WM. EBDON

Word was just received here that Mr Ebdon has passed away at Vernon, B.C. Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Ebdon and family.

Threshing weather has been grand until today. Around equinox time we can expect some disturbance. Fall work is being completed and soon again we hope to hear the hum of the threshing machine with everyone getting their work finished. It does or should, give everyone great satisfaction to prepare for winter. No matter how small, we have so many blessings to be thankful for. The trouble with this old world is that too many take things for granted.

Mr and Mrs Earl Silver (nee Florence Johnson) are happily married and settled at Port Alberni B.C.

Grandma Nelson has been home visiting her family in Allandale. Recently she fell and had the misfortune of injuring her shoulder. She was in the city hospital a few days.

Mrs Paddy Stewart and daughter Pamelora are holidaying with her parents Mr and Mrs. O'Tee. Johnny came home recently from the hospital. We wish him the best.

Bee Baldock and Jimmy Armstrong have returned home from Regina where they had been helping harvest. Now they are able to help at home.

Allandale folk really appreciate the high road two miles west of the school. We're hoping it will be continued.

Mr Dale Green is supervisor at Allandale staying with Mr and Mrs [illegible]

S. A. Home League Adopts Missionary Worker In Africa

Though many miles divide the lands the Salvation Army Home League in Vermilion stop and remember our missionary workers, with the result that they adopted on their own responsibility, Lieut. Lillian Goldsmith, away in South Africa. At the Sept. 8th meeting the ladies generously donated a nice 17-pound parcel which would be pleasing indeed to any young lady. The parcel was made up by donations from the members of the Home League. Congratulations League, keep up the good work.

SEE SLIDES

The Home League meeting of Sept. 15th consisted of slides shown by Adjutant Stewart, which proved very interesting indeed, especially the Crystal Palace, London, England slide picture as the Salvation Army band played there when the writer and her husband were soldiers of that corps in 1922. It brought back many memories. These slides were enjoyed very much by members and visitors, the interest was so keen throughout that one could have heard a pin drop. Many thanks Adjutant Stewart.

The evening was topped off by a Bible reading and lesson for the week. A call for special choruses saw everyone singing lustily. So closed another Home League meeting Wednesday evening with the serving of a dainty lunch by our hostess Mrs. Lorne Dow.

A cheery welcome awaits you at these Home League meetings held each Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. Drop in and spend a friendly hour and enjoy a chat with your friends.

QUALITY JEWELLER

Attend Home League Rally in Edmonton

On Sept. 22nd several Home League members took a trip to Edmonton to attend the Home League rally and exhibition being held there. Several ladies had displays of embroidery, knitting, etc. The displays from other Alberta points were interesting to see.

Adjutant Stewart kindly drove the local Home League ladies to Edmonton. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Coulter and family for the use of their car. The ladies had a very enjoyable day.

The usual Home League meeting the same evening proved interesting even though there were only 9 members left to carry on. Again a hearty invitation is extended to anyone interested to attend these meetings. Mrs. Tuey was hostess for the evening.

WILDMERE WINKS

The community joins with the writer and family in extending heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing husband and son, also to the sisters and brothers of the late Mrs. Fred Church of Wainwright who passed away last Thursday. Two of her brothers reside in Battleview, Walter and Louis Alexander. Mrs. Church had suffered with a heart and stomach ailment for some time.

Here is an item we unintentionally overlooked in last week's news. Sunday Sept. 19th we had a very nice but short visit from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rouse of Vermilion. After a short chat it was discovered that Mr. Rouse is a distant relative of Jimmie's and knows a number of the same folks in the east as Jimmie does. We hope they again come to see us when we are not preparing a wedding supper and have more time to talk.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Graham's wedding dance and shower were well attended. Such a huge crowd on such short notice. The numerous and lovely gifts they received are surely a big help to a young couple starting housekeeping. Mr. and Mrs. Graham take this opportunity to again thank everyone for the useful gifts and to especially thank Mr. Albert Smith and Walter Maughan for supplying the music. Johnny Wilson planned to help [illegible] was sick in bed with flu that night. Oh yes Lindy not forgetting to thank you too. Jimmie was M.C. Laurence can now settle down to the life of a married man.

On Wednesday evening a crowd of about 20 people charivaried Laurence [illegible]. When nearing their house a dog barked, everyone squatted flat on the ground. Mr. Clark who was at Laurence's tried to set the dog on the bunch but the dog thought there were too many [illegible] to tackle alone. [illegible] all sat around and chatted for awhile.

KAMLOOPS, B.C.—Students who must live away from home to attend school will receive a "boarding allowance" of $7 a month from Kamloops district school board. Policy was laid down following application of a Hedley Creek student. Authority to pay such allowance was given by the Legislature early this year.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

A Letter From You

By JANE DALE

A letter from you, though you live miles away,
Is just like a handclasp, vivid and gay;
A hand which brings your heart closer to mine;
A smile which makes the sun brighter shine.
No [illegible] misery the pages you write,
But friendship and love shines forth like a star.
Just a glimpse of your presence each letter it seems
To add to the memories of you in my dreams.

Hints On How To Remove — Spots From Clothes —

Some of us occasionally leave the dining table with a slight reminder of the menu splattered over our sartorial facade. Others have the unhappy facility of squatting on large wads of sticky chewing gum. Most of these unfortunates can testify to the fact that there are any number of well-intentioned characters on the loose, each with a sure fire panacea for removing spots from clothing.

Some of these prescribed methods are completely ineffective, others are moderately successful, and there are some that will remove the fabric along with the spot.

Staining is but one method of ruining good clothes. Another and equally efficient system is to neglect them. It is surprising to discover how few men know the correct way to care for their clothes. And not knowing, they are often heard complaining about the rapidity with which their suits become shabby and lose their shape.

As the result of considerable research on the subject, Men's Wear magazine has come up with some rather pertinent facts on the cleaning and care of clothes. We pass them along for what use you can make of them, but remember not to smoke near the benzine can.

Grease or Oil. Wet soiled part of fabric; place blotting paper under stained portion, rub with sponge or cloth dipped in benzine or turpentine. When stain is removed, cover with blotter and press with hot iron. Then sponge with warm soapy water containing a little ammonia.

Paint or Varnish. First clean with turpentine or ether and then follow directions for removing grease or oil stains.

Coffee or Tea. Remove with a mixture of 20% glycerine and 80% water, or a 5% solution of acetic acid. Be sure stain is completely removed before pressing or heat of iron may "set" it.

Milk Stains. Wash, if cotton. Woolen fabric may require treatment with carbon tetrachloride, followed by ammonia or soap and water.

Fruit Stains. Remove from cotton fabrics by washing, and from wool by sponging with equal parts of hydrogen peroxide and water after testing for color fastness on some unexposed part of garment.

Scorch. Apply a mixture of hydrogen peroxide and water, equal parts, and expose to sunlight, if color is fast.

Ink Smudges, found at the knot, may be removed with benzine or one of the patented cleaning fluids.

Hat Ribbons. Remove and wash in soapy luke warm water, then rinse and press. Any spots remaining may be removed with benzine.

Remember that in removing stains from clothing it is necessary to use not only an effective chemical but also one that will not damage the fabric. The prompter the treatment the easier the task. When in doubt about the best method, take the garment to a professional dry cleaner. Every wool garment should be cleaned and spotted (that is, checked to see if all spots are removed) by an expert before storing at the end of a season. When moths attack, they attack soiled spots first.

SAVES 2,121 DIMES FOR COLLEGE EDUCATION

GLENVILLE, W. Va.—Eighteen-year-old Nellie Ross came to Glenville State College certain she wanted an education.

The college financial secretary pitched in to help count the 2,121 dimes Nellie planked down to pay for board, room, books and tuition.

She said she'd been collecting them for years with her parents' help.

The original Monitor, the ship that changed warship design and construction, was built in 100 days.

Predicts Total Of 100,000 Immigrants

OTTAWA.—An optimistic forecast that by this time next year Canada will have taken in a total of 100,000 European refugees as immigrants was made here by Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, who has jurisdiction over the immigration branch.

Commenting on a report from Geneva that it would take "the next few years" to reach this figure, the Deputy Minister said that it would not take that long and that he thought the 100,000 mark would be reached "by this time next year".

Dr. Keenleyside pointed out that Canada's expanding immigration policy was producing highly satisfactory results as the shipping situation steadily improved, and that already, during the first eight months of this year up to the end of August, over 80,000 new settlers had arrived, including refugees.

This is well ahead of any other year since 1930, when 100,000 immigrants came into the country, and it is expected that this figure will be well passed by the end of December.

NEW PROCESS

HARDBOARD MADE FROM WASTE CHIPS

VANCOUVER. — A new building material, made from waste wood-chips and selling cheaper than plywood, is in quantity production at the Canadian Forest Products plant at New Westminster.

Called "hardboard", this new product will be turned out at the rate of 60,000 square feet a day.

It will be shipped throughout B.C., to eastern Canada, and all over the world by the Pacific Veneer and Plywood Division.

The hardboard process, which makes waste chips into a high-quality building material, is something new in Canada. It was first developed by an Oregon lumber company, and adopted by Canadian Forest Products to make use of the large volume of waste material resulting from its main operations.

SUITABLY GARBED for the job, John Kelly of Stettler, Alta., sets about capturing a swarm of bees in the bush. The undertaking wasn't any too profitable because there was very little honey; just four pounds of wax.

B.C. Lumber Production Up

VICTORIA.—Lumber production in British Columbia during 1947 showed an increase in value of more than $98,000,000 from $87,013,502 in 1946 to $185,761,222 in 1947, according to the annual report of the British Columbia Forest Service.

Total value of all products was $282,288,286 as compared with $173,471,270 in 1946.

The average stumpage price bid on timber sales was $2.80 per thousand, an increase of 41 cents per thousand or 17 per cent. over 1946.

Total timber cut, including all species, was 4,187,816,190 foot board measure, an increase of one billion feet, an all-time record and an increase of more than 30 per cent. over the cut in 1946.

The world's surface is 71 per cent. oceans, 29 per cent. land.

SEAL WILL NEVER BE USED AGAIN

TORONTO.—Exhibited for the first time out of Britain, the Great Seal of England was on display at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The historical curio was used by King George VI from the time of his accession to the throne until Earl Mountbatten left India as Britain's last viceroy. The seal is the last on which the words "Ind. Imp"—signifying that The King was Indian emperor—appear.

The first winner of the Grand National in 1839 was named Lottery.

Kaknee P.O., Sept. 24, 1948.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir:

Two weeks ago a Wildmere lady said in the Standard it would be nice if we could have a better rest room.

Could all the local organizations get together in some way and approach the town council on the matter we might possibly do some good.

We were in town last Friday and one of my neighbors said she must take her little girl to the rest room but she just hated to go there. Not much of an advertisement for a growing town.

Your banker works For You

As a depositor or borrower, you value privacy in money matters. Your banker protects that privacy. Your banking transactions are not open to the eyes and ears of your competitor, your neighbor, your community.

In other words, the manager of your branch bank and his whole staff are working for you.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

"Good day Madam! we're making a nation-wide SURVEY of FAMILY EXPENSES"
HERE'S WHY YOU SHOULD CO-OPERATE

Every month the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issues the cost-of-living index. Consumer groups, trade unions, employers, the government and many others know the importance of accurate figures on the cost of living.

To keep the basis of the index up-to-date the Bureau is doing a survey across Canada to find out what percentage of income the average family spent on food, clothing, shelter, recreation, and other items in the past year.

We don't call at all homes. We can get a good picture by questioning a fraction of all families, chosen "out of a hat". If yours is chosen it will represent many other families like it in size, composition or income.

Don't worry if you don't know exactly how much you spent on everything. You will know some of your expenses accurately, but we realize you will have to estimate others. The Bureau representative will gladly help you fill out the questionnaire.

All Bureau representatives carry identification cards. Information you give to the Bureau is strictly confidential. No other source, public or private, can gain access to the information you give about yourself or your family.

If you happen to be in the sample of Canadian families, please give the Bureau representative full co-operation. You will be performing a worthwhile service as a citizen.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Lady and the Mouse

By Lila Lennon

Words Were Different From The Dream, But Scene The Same.

TESS had a problem. And when you take to discussing your problems with a small, friendly grey mouse . . it's time for action.

The mouse's name was Roger, and he was a nightly visitor in the Blair kitchen. The first time he and Tess met, they stared at each other a moment, and when Tess said "Hi!" and handed him a nibble of cheese, he decided it was safe to stay. Each night thereafter, but only when Tess was alone, he came out for his cheese.

Tess sat dejectedly on a tall kitchen stool, polishing off a sandwich and a glass of cold milk. "You see, Roger," she addressed the mouse in the corner. "It's this way. I'm in love with Jeff. I have been ever since we were kids."

Her tone was wistful and it was no trouble at all to picture Jeff Davis. Tall and clean-limbed, eyes that crinkled at the corners when he laughed . . a shock of unruly red hair . . . Tess continued plaintively, and Roger twitched his nose under[illegible].

"The trouble is, Jeff just doesn't see me as a desirable woman. I'm the hey-hey kid, and a swell pal. I can swim and sail a boat. I can ride horse-back and ski. I can bowl . . . I can do all the things he does, and just as well, because he's spent years teaching me how."

"Pal," she said disgustedly. "If he calls me that just once more, I'll bark like a dog!"

Roger made a tiny squeaking sound. "What's that? Oh, yes, he'd give me the shirt off his back, but I don't want it . . . [illegible] are in it, and around me."

Roger made a careful circuit of [illegible].

Tess sighed. "What can I do, Roger? I've tried. The night I wore that seductive hostess gown, he asked me if I was sick. The time I did my hair up on my head, he told me to stop playing grown-up. And when I tried that new perfume, he wrinkled his nose and said, 'What's that, bilge water?'"

She waved the empty glass dramatically. "See what I mean? It's very discouraging, being in love with a guy who used to watch your mother change your diapers."

Tess continued mournfully. "Here I am, twenty, and developing a neat frustration complex. I'm positively haunted by a dream . . . I've had it for years and years."

Tess hugged her knees. The same old dream, with variations, of course. But, the moment always came when Jeff held her close and whispered, "Darling . . I adore you!" Or Jeff, his voice rough with demanding desire . . .

"You're mine . . . mine!"

Cold fingers tapped her spine, and Tess shivered. Roger twitched his tail sympathetically, but went right on eating. Tess eyed him. "You don't care at all do you?" she accused.

Roger trembled with dignity.

"I'm really worried," she continued slowly. "Especially since that chic five-foot piece of fluff, Ivy, came to town. She's little and cute and clings. She bats her eyes at Jeff and makes he's so-o-o big and strong! And Jeff, the goon, positively drools!"

Tess snorted, and Roger jumped. "I'll bet she'd even be afraid of you, Roger. She'd scream and fling herself into Jeff's arms!"

Roger stared at her unwinkingly, and Tess stared back. "Roger!" she [illegible].

The idea held her entranced and Roger nodded his head gravely.

"You'll have to help," she admonished. "You never come out when anyone's here, but tomorrow night I'll have Jeff in for a late snack." She shook her finger at Roger. "See that you put in an appearance, hear?"

Roger flicked his tail and stalked to his hole. Tess clicked off the kitchen light and went to bed, but her dreams were persistent. Jeff, holding her tenderly in his arms . . . Jeff, murmuring, "Darling . . I adore you!"

Luring Jeff to the kitchen was a simple matter. It merely meant dangling a baked ham sandwich under his nose. Jeff agreed it was a good night for baked ham. Tess put on a beguiling be-ruffled apron and puttered slowly, keeping an eye out for Roger. He was late, the ungrateful wretch!

"Hurry up, woman, I'm starved!" Jeff pounded the table and Tess groaned inwardly. Roger would never show up with all this noise!

At that moment Roger bravely exhibited a twitching nose. Tess let [illegible] a screech and clambered to a [illegible].

Jeff stared. "What's eating you?" he demanded.

Tess pointed at the quivering Roger. "A mouse!" she wailed. "Oh, Jeff, get him!"

Jeff's mouth fell open and he followed her finger. It was a brilliant lunge, but Roger whisked into the pantry.

"Missed him," Jeff muttered and turned to Tess. She stood high above him, holding her skirt around her.

"Are you going to stand up there all night?" he demanded.

"Do you think he'll be back?"

Jeff grunted. "After that screech of yours!" He looked up at her. "Imagine, you're afraid of mice! Here, get down."

He held out his arms and Tess climbed straight into them. She flung both her arms around his neck and hung on. Jeff slowly closed his arms around her.

Tess looked at him a long moment, and her lips were very close. Jeff [illegible] a hypnotized expression on his face. He couldn't help it, he kissed [illegible]. For several seconds, the world whirled delightfully.

"Well," Jeff said at last.

"Little Tessie all grown up! I've been waiting for this day, dope. It's about time!"

Tess grinned. The words were different from the dream, but the scene was the same. That's all that counted.

"Roger," she said softly.

Prairie Farmers Use Latest Machines To Bring In Their Crops

• • • • • •

Last word in harvesting efficiency is the "pusher" or self-propelled combine, capable of covering 30 acres in an ordinary working day. Equipped with powerful headlights, these monsters are roaring around prairie fields day and night on the Regina, Sask., plains area, to take off a crop that will yield, in some places, 30 bushels to the acre. The combine has ended the need for harvest excursions from Eastern Canada, since one man on a combine is able to replace a whole threshing crew. The machine shown at bottom was one of the earlier types of harvester combines, tractor-drawn, and capable of doing almost as much work in a day as a threshing crew of ten men. The outfit is straight combining a crop of oats. Unevenly-ripened fields are usually "swathed" and the swath picked up after a week or more of curing and ripening.—Central Press Canadian.

Plump, Better Turkeys Aim Of Inspectors

WINNIPEG.—The main course of your Christmas dinner is about to get a careful scrutiny out in these parts.

Several thousand turkeys scattered around the prairie provinces—their life expectancy only a couple of months—are to undergo government inspection. The object: To provide plump birds with straight drumsticks and well-shaped wishbones for Canadian tables come Dec. 25.

Manitoba, along with Saskatchewan and Alberta, this month will commence its annual inspection of turkey flocks—a voluntary procedure designed to improve the province's methods of breeding, feeding, disease control and management.

Birds to be government-approved—and what bird would want to be otherwise—must be purebred stock. The flock must be free from evidence of disease or parasites and must show "a strong constitutional vigor."

The gobbler you'll eye with relish on Christmas Day lived in "a well-designed and constructed house." A home which had to be kept clean and disinfected.

Even the turkey's love-life had to be up to government standards. Approved females were mated only with "AAA", "AA", or "A" grade males.

The inspections last for about a month. Last year 5,000 birds were inspected in Manitoba alone.

The government supervision has made for a better type of bird, agriculture officials say.

"A few years ago turkeys were thin and rangy. Now it's a heavier, more plump and thoroughly improved bird."

Pass the gravey, please.

GOOD BULB COUNTRY

VANCOUVER.—The soil and climate of British Columbia appear to offer exceptional possibilities for an expanding bulb industry, Baron van Heeckeren said here. He said many young Dutch farmers would like to come over to Canada to farm. The baron is a director of the Nautical and Aeronautical Institute and Museum, Rotterdam.

INDIANS UNDERGO CHANGE OF HEART

CHURCHILL, Man. — Indians of the North River Reservation may have undergone a change of heart.

In July, they would have nothing to do with a visiting Treaty Party, complaining that they wanted the Government to provide a new uniform for their chief. The Indians would not accept their annual treaty money and shunned the party.

But a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer who visited the reservation recently to bring out a sick Indian reported he received a friendly reception. The Chief shook his hand and expressed the hope of seeing him next summer.

Officials hope it means the tribe will soon be ready to smoke the peace pipe over the treaty money.

Natural Gas Wells Located In Peace River District

VANCOUVER.—Natural gas wells in the Peace River block on both the British Columbia and Alberta side of the boundary have been located by a Vancouver firm which is contemplating construction of a gas pipe line to the coast.

Latest find is on the Alberta side, where a well which was drilled by Pacific Petroleum Company of Vancouver about 20 miles northeast of Dawson Creek, is reported to have returned a flow of nearly 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Norman R. Whittall, a member of the group which formed the Peace River Natural Gas Co. Ltd., and a director of Pacific Petroleum, reports that his firm has found gas in several wells in B.C.

One of the wells, near Rolla, B.C., shows very favorable results, he said.

Drillers are following a trend in the district and although showings are good it might be some time yet before a field large enough to supply Vancouver with natural gas might be found.

Gas from Alberta wells is still under control of that province and no indication has been given yet if export will be allowed.

The Peace River company intends to build a line through B.C. to the coast to bring gas here.

Farewell Party Honors Miss Laura Hilton

A farewell surprise party was held in honor of Miss Laura Hilton at her home on Sept. 17th just prior to her departure to take the teacher training course at the University of Alberta. There were about 50 guests present and Mr. H. Wear, on behalf of the gathering, presented Laura with a lovely pen and pencil set.

It will be recalled that Laura was awarded one of the $200 teacher training scholarships this summer, obtained by the high standing of her grade 12 examinations. She has spent the past three years at the Vermilion High school taking her grades 10, 11 and 12. She took the entire grade 12 course and senior matriculation in 1 year with excellent results.

Among those attending the Salvation Army Young Peoples' Councils in Edmonton were Walter Coulter, Vera Bellingham, Marjorie Smith, Helen Coombe. Col. Gilbert Best, the Territorial Field secretary conducted the Councils, supported by Brig. R. Raymer and Divisional headquarters staff. The Councils were held in the Macdonald hotel with delegates from all over central and northern Alberta in attendance. The Vermilion young people returned early Tuesday morning, and report an enjoyable and inspirational series of Councils.

Railways' Part in Canada's Growth

The [illegible] role played by railways [illegible] the growth of Canada's wealth was stressed by J. [illegible] Gauthier, general superintendent, Canadian National Railways, [illegible].

Rail transportation [illegible] applied to a [illegible] consisting of a [illegible] stretch of land, coupled with [illegible] resources which are useless unless the products [illegible] from them can be brought to market. Communities [illegible] in remote localities are [illegible] less without the means to transport them cheaply, said Mr. Gauthier.

"Were it not for railway service the national income would [illegible] to small proportions indeed. Yet of the current dollar of national income the share which goes to the railways is a mere 7½ cents. Nowhere in the world can one get so much for so little," said Mr. Gauthier.

The rain of last Wednesday evening and Thursday halted all harvesting operations. Some cutting was resumed on Friday, and it was hoped that threshing could be continued about Tuesday. There remains about two weeks of harvesting to be done. Let's hope the weatherman will see fit to grant us good weather. Days are very noticeably shortening, at both ends.

A news item we missed last week—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mistal and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bielech were visitors to Edmonton recently.

Miss V. Fulton, teacher at Chatsworth, spent the week end at her home at Minburn.

Miss Margaret Tovell of Edmonton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Tovell.

Geese have been flying over in huge flocks lately. We hope they do not presage an early fall.

Fire Prevention Week Observed at Elk Point

FORM FIRE BRIGADE — PURCHASE CHEMICAL TRUCK

In conjunction with Fire Prevention week, the Elk Point village council has called residents out for the formation of a volunteer fire brigade for the town. It is expected to have a large enough brigade to take care of all emergencies. A survey is being made of the village with the view of eliminating any fire hazards that may be present. A new fire truck with a capacity of 1000 gallons was purchased this summer, and the new fire hall being built on Main street is nearing completion. During the past year two garages have been destroyed by fire, and it is hoped that the new equipment will prevent any further disasters of this kind.

WALLY GUY NEEDS A STUDIO

POPULAR BUSINESS TO CLOSE DUE TO LACK OF PREMISES

Need for additional business premises in the town of Vermilion became more evident than ever this week with the announcement that Wally Guy would be forced to close his photo studio at the end of the year because of the lack of a building to carry on the business. The building the studio is now using is required for other purposes. Wally has investigated every possibility in the town and cannot find available premises of any kind. It is still hoped that something will transpire to provide the accommodation that will keep this very worthwhile enterprise in Vermilion.

At any rate the studio will continue to operate at the present location until the end of the year, so get your photos taken early.

Riverton Boy Wins Trip to Chicago

TOPS SALESMEN FOR ALBERTA — THIRD IN CANADA

(By our Riverton Correspondent)

A boy from the Riverton district recently won a trip to Chicago, namely Warren Hansen, an employee of the "Snap-On-Tool Co.", Edmonton. This company featured a contest for their salesmen across Canada. The one who sold the most tools won. Warren came first for the province of Alberta and third for the whole of Canada.

The trip to Chicago was for two weeks with all expenses paid even to spending money. One of the highlights of the trip was travelling at 110 miles an hour on an electric train entering Chicago. Warren also attended two big league baseball games and said that all in all it was a wonderful trip.

Fire Prevention Week October 3rd to 9th; Check Fire Hazards

This week, Oct. 3 to 9, is Fire Prevention Week in Canada. Every year millions of dollars damage is caused by fires, many started by carelessness. Lives have been lost in these fires. A little time and thought spent in checking personally any fire hazards, may well prevent a serious fire later, the office of the Dominion Fire Commissioner advises.

One of the worst causes of fires is smokers' carelessness. In 1947 losses from this alone amounted to $5,244,747, an increase of over two million dollars from the previous year. This is 10% of the total loss by fire in 1947. Other [illegible] overheated stoves, defective electrical wiring and appliances.

The time to look over chimneys, wiring and other fire hazards is now before winter sets in. Do not take chances. Do everything possible to make your home and place of business safe from fire, advises the Dominion Fire Commissioner.

Ruth Hillcox Wins First Award

Ruth Hillcox was the first student to qualify for an award in the 1948-49 school year. By attaining a typing speed of 52 words a minute she was the first student to earn a typing certificate to be issued to this school by the Gregg Writer. We hope to hear more about her work during the school year.

There is in operation at present a complete program of awards in the Commercial Department of the High School. It is too early in the school year to report any awards in bookkeeping and shorthand but they will be reported as soon as they become available.

Teacher Salary Negotiations Completed

Negotiations have been completed between Vermilion School Division Board and the Teachers' Salary Schedule committee. The basic salary has now been set at $1450 to a maximum of $2300 for teachers with one year's training. Generous allowances have been made for additional qualifications, and in the case of principals for supervision.

WHOA, THAR, OLD TIMER!

The Vermilion Old Timers' Association are asking all their members to slow down a little and take note that the annual round-up, banquet and dance will be held in the Elks hall on Friday, Oct. 22nd. The banquet will commence at 6:30 p.m. with the ladies of the United church catering.

Charles W. Robinson is president of the Old Timers and Mrs. A. M. West is the secretary. Anyone west of the Great Lakes since 1910, is eligible to join and the membership is only $1 per year.

Board of Trade Talks Reduction Of Fire Insurance Rates

Possibility of a reduction in fire insurance premium rates was discussed at the board of trade meeting Wednesday. The matter was broached by Ashley Cooper on the assumption that now we have hydrants all over the town, fire protection should be even better and fire risk lowered. Reg Mitchell stated that at the present time Vermilion was placed as a 3rd class town in insurance classification but now that hydrants have been installed our classification is entitled to be raised to 2nd class. This would mean a lowering of fire insurance premium rate of from 5 to 10%, which would be quite a saving to the towns people as a whole. Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Heckbert are enquiring further into the matter.

The president Melvin Hill was in the chair with 27 present. Guests introduced were M. Maddock by E. Katz, Mr. Massie by Tom Watts and the Rev. Arthur Harding by Albert West.

A committee of Melvin Hill, Tom Conboy and Geo. Webb was appointed to assist the fire brigade in publicizing fire prevention week Oct. 3 to 9.

In regard to gravelling of streets Ken Urquhart stated that but a very thin coating of clay was covering the original gravel surface of the roads in the business section and that arrangements had been made to have the streets thoroughly scarified in the hope that the gravel could be brought to the surface. This would be done as soon as the machine is available.

Gerald Stephens reported that the building of 11 new houses by private parties had commenced in town and all probably would be occupied before winter. Three of the houses were being moved in and the rest built.

AIR CADETS

Tom Watts chairman of the Air Cadets civilian committee stated that a reorganization of air cadets would be held Wednesday evening. He paid tribute to F.Os. Jack Ridington and Frank Walker for the splendid work they had done in carrying on the cadets and was pleased to report that considerable help had been secured, several new men having offered their services.

Rev. Arthur Harding who was here for a year in 1911 when he was a soccer teammate of Albert West was introduced by the latter and gave a short interesting talk of old times in Vermilion. He was in Vermilion again for a short time in 1917 but since then has been in England coming from the [illegible] he stated that he already had [illegible] Canada as a land of plenty and no waste.

He stated that he had listened to the discussion at the meeting with interest and paid a tribute to the board for activity in advancement of the interests of the town.

Final discount date for town taxes is Oct. 15th. 17-19c

"GREEN ACRES"

WHO'S LUCKY NOW!

"That guy is sure lucky" is often heard around the district. The fact is that the so-called lucky boys have used better judgment and very likely worked harder than the common herd.

TREES FOR PLANTING

Trees can be transplanted successfully in the fall providing the soil is kept quite moist until freeze-up. If it is not convenient to water fall plantings often it would be better to pack all the purchased trees and small fruit bushes in one hole. The roots can be well covered and watered. They are ready to plant out early in the spring.

[illegible]

When judging Mawayne Alfalfa Club recently I noticed that the best stands were on hard firm soil. Whether you seed on stubble or fallow prepare the soil by shallow cultivation then pack. Never cultivate deeply before seeding grasses or alfalfa.

STEPS IN CARVING

Most men refuse to carve poultry with the guests looking on. "Steps in Carving" is the heading of a government [illegible] Guide. Other [illegible] publication are [illegible] freezing, [illegible] etc. [illegible] are available at this office.

THE ROYAL SHOW

The Royal Winter Fair at Toronto runs from Nov. 16 to 24. Can we make up enough from this district for a sleeping car? It takes [illegible] and the fares are reduced. If interested please let me know. Also are we going to get any exhibits of wheat, oats, barley etc. for Toronto? Send me a small sample and I will let you know if it is suitable for showing.

BALANCED RATIONS

Pigs cannot be brought up to market weight economically on grain alone. Feed rich in protein, minerals and vitamins must be added to farm grains to make pig feeding profitable. This can be done best by purchasing a commercial concentrate. The same is true in feeding poultry and dairy cows.

Air Cadets Re-Organize For the Year

NEW OFFICERS TO TAKE CHARGE —TRIBUTE PAID TO FO. RIDINGTON AND FO. WALKER

An organization meeting was held at George's Lower Deck on Wednesday evening to make plans for the operation of the local squadron of the Air Cadets. Three officers were present from North West Air Command, Edmonton, S. L. Christmas, F. L. Fergusson and F.O. Weir, to assist and explain the various points that might arise.

The Vermilion squadron has operated very actively and successfully for the past number of years due to the very able and continuous work done by FO. John Ridington and FO. Frank Walker. Due to Mr. Ridington being moved to Maidstone his retirement has been recommended, and Mr. Walker has requested that he be relieved of the commanding officer position as he has extensive studies for university degree work to carry out this coming year. The unit is very fortunate in having available and being able to appoint two newcomers to Vermilion, both former R.C.A.F. men, Mr. Clarence Killeen of the high school staff and Mr. Ray Nelson of Craig Bros. staff, as CO and adjutant. Mr. Nelson is practically a local product hailing from Minburn while Mr. Killeen comes from Edmonton.

Mr. Killeen and Mr. Nelson will be assisted by the local men who have been formed into a civilian committee with Thos. Watts as chairman, F. H. Walker as acting secretary, L. H. Pockett, Wm. Sutherland, Wally Guy, Chas. Heckbert and Harold Bushell. These last five are active instructors. Mr. James Smith was present representing Kitscoty sub-flight which is a very fine part of the squadron. Plans are that the Kitscoty section will be given their full status as a separate flight when they so desire.

Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Walker and Mr. Ridington for their devotion to this movement — youth training of high order. Mr. Ridington's retirement deserves special mention insofar as he carried on the heavy part of the work when there was no remuneration of any kind for a long period giving service far beyond the line of duty. For a considerable length of time too excellent work was also done in the operation of the flight by Mr. Don Taylor and Mr. Ken MacDonald.

Vermilion Elks will again hold their big fall Carnival this year and the dates are Friday, Saturday and Monday, Oct. 29, 30 and Nov. 1st. This enjoyable event, proceeds of which enable the Elks to support all charitable and community projects, is being held in their spacious hall. This year every penny earned is going to help pay for the completion of the Scout hall built by the Brother Bills last year for the younger peoples organizations of the town and district.

Advance tickets for the Carnival will be on sale next week at the various stores by members of the Elks, and will also be offered to the public by the Boy Scouts themselves at the usual low price of 25c for all three nights.

With merchandise being in greater supply and many new games the annual Elks Carnival promises this year to be better and bigger than for the past several years. Don't miss it!

There can be no relaxation of effort until tuberculosis has been completely and permanently eradicated, a goal that at present appears possible only through continuous application of discoveries and advances already attained. Consolidation of the gains made and progress of eventual eradication depend on a conscious campaign of case-finding, rehabilitation and, most important of all, health education. —American Medical Journal

High School Graduates in Variety of Vocations

Following the article in last week's Standard regarding the many Grade 12 graduates who were continuing their education at Varsity, the Standard followed up by inquiring the activities of many of the other students who left the local high school last June.

It was learned that Betty Amos and Wilamine Bell were at Alberta College in Edmonton continuing their commercial courses begun at the V.H.S. Wilamine is also furthering her musical education. Louise Buddeck is working with the Hudson's Bay Co. at Calgary. Dorothy Hannon is training for a nurse at Lamont. Violet Klachka is taking a secretarial course at McTavish's, Edmonton. WILDMERE WINKS

We must extend congratulations to Mr and Mrs Arthur Ganton and to Mr and Mrs Going for long and happily married lives. Sorry folks that this is a bit late but sincerely meant just the same.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Webb on the birth of twin daughters, and to Mr and Mrs. A. Coburn on the birth of a daughter.

Mrs. A. Smith went to Calgary last Thursday to visit her daughter Mrs. Chas Morand and family. She returned home Monday evening and on the same bus from Edmonton was Mrs. Nash from Vancouver coming to Vermilion for a visit.

On Sunday Mr and Mrs. Albert Smith and family of Rosewood and Lloyd Knowles and lady friend from Lloydminster were all visitors to the Clif Cruthers home in Wildmere.

Mr and Mrs J Bathe of Rosewood had the former's sister Mrs. Schlegel and hubby and a brother Albert Bathe and wife for a few days visit. Then on Sunday their son Bud and wife from Lloydminster and Dorothy Bathe from town were visitors. Mr. and Mrs. John Isley of Vermilion spent Sunday evening of Sept 26th at their daughter's Mrs. J Bathe.

Don't forget church by Rev. Mr. Teape in Wildmere school on Sunday Oct. 10th at 3 o'clock.

Here is an in memoriam we are very sorry to have missed out:

In loving memory of John Thomas Riley
—of Wildmere, who gave his life on the battlefield of Italy, Sept. 24, 1944.

"Four years have passed and we still miss you.
Never shall your memory fade;
Loving thoughts will always linger
Around the grave, Tommy, where you are laid."

—Ever remembered by your many friends and neighbors of Wildmere.

We had a nice chat on Saturday in town with Mrs. Borton Seale of Battleview, also with Mrs. Alex Stone of [illegible].

Thanks Kehoe for standing up with us in our effort for a cleaner rest room. It helps to know others are thinking along the same lines.

Open Door to French Immigration

The Minister of Mines and Resources, the Hon. J A. MacKinnon, recently made the following announcement:

On Sept 9th at a meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Immigration Policy it was decided to recommend to the Government that citizens of France should be admitted to Canada on the same conditions as now apply in the case of citizens of the U S and British subjects from the United Kingdom, Australia, Ireland, New Zealand and South Africa.

This recommendation was accepted by the Cabinet and the new policy was brought into immediate effect by Order-in-Council.

As a result of this action French citizens who wish to enter Canada as immigrants from France will be granted admission if they are in good health, of good character, and satisfy the immigration authorities that they are not likely to become a public charge.

Weeklies — Strength for the Nation

Of all the publications which go into the homes of Canada, says The Financial Post editorially, few get read more thoroughly than local weekly newspapers. The responsibility of the weekly editor to his community and readers is clearly stated by R. A. Giles, 1948 president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Assoc., in a message to their convention at Niagara Falls recently. "It is the aim of the local weekly to boost and build up its local people and community, which in turn spreads to larger spheres, for a sound public opinion on national affairs is impossible without a sound public opinion on local affairs."

The excellence of the weekly papers published in towns and villages is conclusive proof that they reflect the basic strength and soundness of their communities. For these papers are well supported by local and national advertisers and well read by everyone in the community.

Threshing Is 95% Completed

Threshing is now estimated at being 95% completed with all grain cut except a little left for combining. Officials find that their forecast of 12 bushels of wheat, 22 to 26 of oats on an average has been borne out. Barley is averaging 17 bus., rye 10 and flax 4½ bushels to the acre.

It is expected that more pigs will be raised but that there will be less winter beef feeding than last winter.

P.F.A.A. Payments

The Prairie Farm Assistance Act will pay some 60,000 prairie farmers a total of $14,000,000 for crop failures this year. Losses this year were mainly due to drouth, although grasshoppers caused considerable damage in some areas, according to R F McGregor, P.F.A.A. director.

This amount will be divided among the prairie provinces as follows:

Prov.	No. Tps.	Total
Alberta	300	$1,500,000
Saskatchewan	1300	12,000,000
Manitoba	300	500,000

He Stuck To His Resolution Like She Stuck To Him.

"YES, Sergeant", Flypaper Haley was saying, "this job was pulled by Joe Tabor, all right. There hasn't been another cracksman in town for a year. Seems like birds like him would have more sense after getting their wings clipped once. He's back, you know, to marry that girl."

"Yes. And it's too bad for her," the old sergeant said. "She's certainly stuck by him, I'll say that. And he repays her by getting in deeper than ever within a week after he gets out."

"I'll say he's in deeper'n ever. I don't guess he figured on killing old Hagan. Just thought he'd crack the safe and have a lot of money to get married on. He no doubt knew the store'd had a big sale that day."

"Well, I'm sorry for her," commented the other. "After all the disgrace and her sticking by him the two years he was in stir. It kinda looks like he'd get it for good this time."

He and Flypaper—who had gained his nickname by his persistency on the trail of a criminal—went down to Tabor's cell. The young fellow was sitting disconsolately on his bunk. He seemed a decent appearing, average looking fellow. The face he turned to the men was not at all furtive or sly. The girl was there with him, standing outside the cell. Traces of tears were on her face. She looked at the sergeant half in fear, half in appeal, twisting a limp handkerchief between her fingers.

"Well Tabor, you certainly got yourself in good this time, didn't you?" asked the sergeant.

Tabor didn't answer at first. Two years in prison had taught him taciturnity and caution. Then finally he answered. "Sergeant, I admit I had it coming to me two years ago, even if I wasn't in on the actual safe blowing. I got in with that gang before I met this girl, and before I knew it I was doing time for the whole bunch. They deserted me, just let me ride. But when I saw how she stuck to me, I'd avoid even the appearance of evil after I got out."

"Too bad you couldn't have stuck to your resolution like she stuck to you."

Tabor had nothing more to say, and in a minute more Flypaper and the sergeant left. The last thing the latter saw was the girl's trying to hold back more tears. "It's a shame, a shame," he muttered. "An attractive girl. She oughta get more out of life than this."

The safe in The Central Clothing Store had been blown late Saturday night. Old Hagan, the merchant policeman, hearing the explosion, had opened the door with his skeleton key and rushed in. A bullet had ended his life. Earlier in the evening Flypaper Haley had seen Tabor swing off a freight, and that was evidence enough for him who did it. And to add what further proof was necessary, Andrews, manager of the clothing store, had quickly identified Tabor as the man who had peered into the window late that night when all but he had left the place.

The sergeant walked down to The Central just as Andrews was unlocking the door. "Hard luck," he greeted the slender, pleasant, young man. "But we might still be able to get that money back for you."

"I hope so!" Andrews replied fervently. "Else it'll probably be the gate for me as manager. I had no business to leave that much money in the safe. But we were so busy with the sale about three o'clock that I forgot to go to the bank."

"About what time did it happen?"

"Oh—well, it was after midnight, anyhow."

"That would have given Tabor plenty of time to have done it after he hit town."

"Yes. It wasn't done any earlier than that. And Tabor's the man I saw peering into the window. I recognized him again the minute Haley took me to see him."

"I take it that you were here until about twelve, then?"

"Yes. And the lateness was why Tabor took so little pains to conceal himself when he looked in, I guess. Probably thought everyone was gone." He paused. "But I happened to have quite a bit of work to do, getting ready for Monday's trade, taking the sale tags off of everything left from the sale, and all that."

They went over to the shattered safe. The sergeant examined some of the charred pieces of clothing that had been piled over and in front of the safe to muffle the explosion. "Set smoldering when the soup went off, I see." He paused. "It was bad enough for him to do this without killing Old Hagan."

He straightened up. "Let's go over to the jail. Maybe two of us can make him talk. I've got something here that may throw some light on the affair."

In a few minutes they were in his office. Flypaper had his feet cocked on the desk, and the sergeant sat down, putting his up on the other side. Rolling a cigar around in his mouth he regarded his fellow officer with a triumphant eye. Andrews took the one extra chair.

"Andrews," the sergeant asked, "You say you stayed in the store until after quitting time to take the sale tags off the left-overs, so's no one could claim them at the sale price Monday morning?"

"Exactly. If I hadn't—"

"Well," the officer broke in irrelevantly, "I lied to you just a little. I wanted to get you to jail, peaceful like."

"What do you mean!" Andrews rose in anger from his chair.

"Careful now! Next time you try to shift robbery and murder onto an innocent man, be sure you don't tell a false story why you hung around the scene of crime. You hadn't meant to say anything about that. But you had to when I asked how you happened to be there late enough to see Tabor. But listen! You yourself blew the safe so's the robbery would look like an outside job. And all those pieces of clothing you piled around it still had sale tags on 'em!"

Report New Breed Of "Giant" Cattle

LONDON.—Moscow radio reported that a new breed of "giant" cattle has been developed in the Ukraine.

Quoting a Tass news agency despatch from Kharkov, the radio said that two Ukrainian experts had spent years in crossing local breeds with "Schwyz" (possibly Swiss) cattle. The result has been a breed notable for high milk yield, rich fat content of milk, and great weight.

Some cows of the new breed are yielding 2,420 to 2,640 gallons of milk a year, equivalent to 1,323 pounds of high-grade butter, the radio said. It said ordinary cows of local breeds yield only about one-tenth as much.

PLASTICS INDUSTRY GROWING AT FAST RATE IN CANADA

OTTAWA. — The manufacture of plastics in Canada is climbing into position as a prominent and fast-growing industry, according to the latest figures released here by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The Bureau states that the gross factory value of plastics and plastic products turned out by the Dominion in 1946 showed an increase of 36 per cent. over the previous year's total. Plastic manufactures in 1946 were valued at $21,240,000 as compared with $15,604,000 in 1945.

The agency said the number of plants engaged in this industry rose from 46 in 1945 to 78 in 1946.

Donate Apples To Hospitals

KENTVILLE, N.S.—The Dominion Government is going to donate $2 million worth of processed apples, now in Annapolis Valley storage plants, to Canadian hospitals and charitable institutions.

The government owns the apples, part of last year's surplus crop.

With the loss of the United Kingdom fresh and processed apple markets, the marketing agreement between the government and the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association contained a government guarantee for processing.

A new improved highway now links Paraguay and Argentina.

Farmers To Get $14,000,000 Aid

REGINA.—The Federally-operated Prairie Farm Assistance Act will pay 60,000 farmers in the three Prairie provinces $14,000,000 for the crop season 1948-49.

R. F. McGregor, P.F.A.A. director, in making the announcement, said cheques covering 60 per cent. of the total will be mailed in December. The balance will be mailed in March, 1949.

Some 2,000 townships in the three provinces will benefit under the act.

Mr. McGregor said crop loss this year was due mainly to drought, although grasshoppers caused damage in some areas.

Saskatchewan's slice of the total will be $12,000,000 to be distributed to 1,300 townships. Alberta draws $1,500,000 for 300 townships and Manitoba the remaining $500,000 for 300 townships.

Europe's Harvest Reported Good

LONDON.—Most of Europe's harvest is in, and it's the biggest since before the war.

In almost every country reporting in an Associated Press survey, there were heavy yields of grains and vegetables — heavy enough, probably to permit relaxation of at least some food rationing orders.

Last year, when Europe was in direst need, drouth ruined many crops. This year rainfall has been ample and increased acreages were under cultivation.

In the opinion of some experts, the big crops came in the nick of time and should help to ease political and social tensions.

No over-all statistics on the Russian harvest are available, but everything indicates it is good.

Claim Staking In Saskatchewan New High Record

REGINA. — A record 731 quartz mining claims have been recorded in the Precambrian areas of Saskatchewan so far this year, according to a statement by Resources Minister J. H. Brocklebank. Saskatchewan's most active staking year before was 1936 when the Lake Athabasca gold rush was on when 681 claims were staked.

MANITOBA CROPS AVERAGE $4,000

WINNIPEG. Average net return for each Manitoba farm during the 1948 crop year likely will approximate a record $4,000, the provincial department of agriculture reported. The 1947 figure, on the basis of 52,500 farms in the province, recorded up to that time.

The department added that in no year in the province's history has so big a percentage of the crop gone into storage with so little loss by weather deterioration.

Threshing is still going on here and there but cutting is done. Quite a bit is left for the cattle to graze on as it was too short to binder this year. Farmers are now returning to the fields to prepare it for next year's crop. A heavy frost on the 29th put an end to all the treats out of the garden. We know the hunting season is on as guns can be heard going off in all directions and duck for dinner is becoming ordinary fare.

Mable Lysons has left for Vermilion where she has taken a position as cook at the V.S.A. We hear that Ann Garnet of Bosswood is also employed there as head-cook.

Mr H Kroeger left for Chicago on Saturday morning. We hope he'll be back again for a visit next year.

Child Sta. Has Chest X-Ray

RESULTS IN TWO DISCOVERIES

When Margaret O'Brien went with her mother and uncle to have a chest X-ray during the recent survey in Washington, D.C., she had two unusual experiences, according to the child star's guest column in the Washington Daily News.

First, (she reported, "I found I was the 600,000th person to have my chest X-rayed." The second discovery made Margaret very sad. This is the way she told about it:

"We found out that Uncle Marty had tuberculosis and we never even knew it and he didn't know it either and now he is in the sanatorium and will have to stay there for a whole year.

We would never have found it out if it hadn't been for the chest X-ray survey. We are very thankful to Mr [illegible] for taking us to the Clinic, because now Uncle Marty can be cured. We are thankful, too, to the Tuberculosis Association and to all the people who buy Christmas Seals, because Xmas Seals fight tuberculosis all year and every year."

Do you know why the setting sun is red? What language is spoken in Brazil? How political candidates are chosen?

No, this is not a quiz! It is a way of suggesting that there are countless subjects which most of us never explore.

Yet there are very satisfying rewards waiting those who acquire general knowledge on any subject. The mere act of learning facts has a beneficial effect on one's personality, apart altogether from the usefulness of the information itself.

Where to start? Perhaps the most useful subjects are those related to your work. Next, you might study economics, psychology, history, or whatever else appeals to you and build an interest in it.

Such a program helps make you a more effective worker, a better developed personality and a more interesting conversationalist!

Basement Living Quarters

Here are a few suggestions from Miss Caroline Judson, Home Designing Specialist, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture, to those seeking information on reconverting basements into sleeping and extra living quarters.

The chief problem in reconverting a basement is to overcome dampness and moisture condensation. Be sure your foundation has all the cracks and crevices cemented in. During the actual construction of the home insist that the outside walls are thoroughly coated with creosote or other vapour proof coating. If the surrounding earth has permanent excess soil moisture lay tile at the foundation bed to ensure water run off.

The interior wall of the basement can be made waterproof and quite attractive with several coats of cement paint. This paint may be used on the floor, but better materials are linoleum (which must have a dry base), and asphalt tile which may be used on a damp floor without damage.

Another problem is solving the question of lighting. Some people, who have built homes close to the ground level to avoid outside steps have remedied the window situation by digging areaways. These areaways have been lined with galvanized iron painted white so as to reflect light into the basement.

If proper precautions are taken against dampness, and proper heating methods followed the basement can be made into a very pleasant extra living area.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

It is my sincere wish that before this column reaches its many readers, all of the threshing and combining will be completed and that all farmers will have had a pleasant surprise in the form of much better yields than they expected up to the time they commenced harvesting. A better than average grade this season is also some cause for optimism.

In my two previous articles in these columns I attempted to bring to the attention of our people some of the injustices that have been and are being borne by our farmers in the [illegible] that some concerted action will be taken at an early date by town and country people alike to bring pressure to bear on the Dominion Government to repay to the farmers the losses they have been compelled to suffer by reason of the Government's generosity in giving away the products of the prairie farms at prices far below market levels—a policy that no other occupational group has been subjected to. On the contrary, manufacturers of war goods were given cost plus contracts—the 'plus' on the average being 10% with special depreciation privileges for income tax purposes being granted in many cases. This matter, I believe, is of sufficient importance to our prairie provinces, to warrant the earnest attention and support of Provincial Governments, Municipal Governments, ALL farmer organizations, Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and all other public bodies that exist for the benefit of our communities at large, BECAUSE the residents of our towns and cities are deprived of a good percentage of every dollar that the farmers lose in the sale of their grain, livestock and other farm produce, to say nothing of the hundreds of millions of dollars that are lost annually to the farmers, money that should rightfully be used to pay off farm debts, build better homes with modern conveniences installed, build machine sheds to house the scarce and expensive power and other farm machinery, better barns to house more and better livestock and generally to do those things that would make farm life more attractive to our young people who have been vacating the farms and finding employment in towns and cities where hours of work are much shorter and ways of living more attractive.

Commencing August 1st last, the price of wheat to the British Government was increased to $2 per bushel under the British Wheat Agreement and the initial price paid to the farmers still remains at $1.55 per bushel. This means that the farmer is again deprived of 45c per bushel of cash received by the Government for his wheat until the end of the contract period unless the powers that be decide in the meantime to increase the initial payment, which can now be done without further amending legislation. Many farmers are still in debt and paying substantial sums in interest on debt that should be paid off with the monies that are being held back in the Wheat Board funds to see that the Government does not have to stand any loss on the so-called Farm Stabilization Policy.

As we are coming to the close of another year, the annual chore or headache of making up income tax forms will soon have to be taken care of. The question of establishing 'basic herds' for income tax purposes has been discussed for many months and during the summer a news item in the press stated that a final decision in the matter had been arrived at by the Income Tax officials. On Aug. 16th I wrote for a copy of the directive that dealt with this and on the 30th was advised that the final approval had not been given the proposed directive.

The reply also stated, and I quote: "We realize that this is a matter of great interest to many farmers in Alberta and it has been our wish to be as sure as possible that the provisions of the proposed new directive be thoroughly worked out so it will be equitable to all.

Even though there has been somewhat of a delay in making public the provisions of the new directive there will be ample time allowed to those who are presently selling or are anticipating the selling off of part or all of their herds. Anyone who thinks he may be [illegible] in establishing a basic herd, should write to their District Income Tax office requesting that they be forwarded complete instructions and application forms for the establishment of a basic herd just as soon as same are available."

Having been asked about the establishment of "Basic Herds" on several occasions I hope the above information may be of value to those interested.

It would seem that we are condemned to continue payment of income and many other forms of taxes as long as the people are content to put up with our present monetary system. The following is taken from The Western Producer of Sept. 30:

"The International Monetary Fund, meeting at Washington Tuesday, issued a statement calling upon the nations to seek greater efficiency in production and to speed up exports.

It suggested member nations seek to balance budgets by cutting Government spending, maintenance of high taxation rates and encouragement of saving."

Most people are acquainted with Russia's form of dictatorship. We, the FREE, CHRISTIAN AND CIVILIZED people are laboring under a Financial Dictatorship of which the above, a child of the Canadian and other Parliaments forms a part. This would not be tolerated or necessary under a Social [illegible] set-up. [illegible] not investigate?

Ethelwyn News

Due to the rush of fall work some of this news will be a little aged. First of all a welcome to the new babies and congratulations to the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Marquis Tober, a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Elliott, a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rock Burns, a daughter.

The children are now well back at school although most of them are still waiting for their books. It does seem as if the government could do something to ease the school book problem. The mails are full of circulars but never enough school books are available. Mrs. Law of Drayton Valley is teaching Rye school. She has her two little boys and daughter Jean with her.

The writer is wondering if there will be any whist drives and dances this winter. So many are going away for that season. Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Burns and family have gone to Leduc, Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacDonald and family are going to Haney, B.C. while several other of the young people are considering going away to work.

Mr. Jack Grant is making a trip to Windsor, Ont.

Mrs. O'Rourke who has spent the summer with her son's family, is returning to Calgary to her daughter's home.

Weather permitting, threshing will be all completed next week. The returns this year are very small in most places. A lot of the grain is also of poor quality.

The writer wonders if anyone else has received a Xmas box yet. Joy Cooper received a box of lovely gifts last week from her pen pal in England. As packing boxes are scarce the same box was used that Joy had sent some gifts over in two years ago. The box was still in good shape too. Joy's parcel to her friend last year was lost in the train wreck in the east. Here is hoping the parcel this year gets through safely.

More Blood Donors Are Needed

FOR CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY BLOOD TRANSFUSION SERVICE — LOCAL CANVASS WILL BE UNDERTAKEN.

The week of Oct. 18th has been chosen by the Canadian Red Cross Society as Blood Donor enrolment week in Northern Alberta it was announced recently. During this week a campaign will be conducted to increase the present registration of voluntary blood donors.

Local Red Cross Branches in each district will be in charge of the registration campaign, which is expected to take place in the form of a house-to-house canvass. Registration booths will also be opened in the business district for the convenience of persons wishing to enrol. Citizens will only be requested to give their name at the time of the canvass. This will signify their willingness to donate blood to the Red Cross at a later date when a mobile clinic of the Blood Transfusion Service visits their district.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, organized in Alberta a little over a year ago, now supplies all whole blood, plasma and sterile transfusion equipment used in hospitals throughout the province. The Canadian Red Cross is dependent upon the support of voluntary donors for all blood collected. The blood in turn is supplied to hospital patients entirely free of any charge. In co-operation with the Red Cross, hospitals administer the transfusions without cost to the patients they serve.

During the first 12 months this free service was operating in Alberta, over 15,000 transfusions of whole blood and plasma were administered to nearly 5000 patients. Blood banks are maintained at strategic points throughout the province. These ever present supplies of whole blood and plasma are credited by the hospital and medical authorities with the saving of countless lives.

In Alberta 700 to 900 voluntary donors are needed each week to supply the needs of hospital patients. Red Cross officials point out that to meet this demand the support of every citizen between the ages of 18 to 65, enjoying normal health, is constantly needed.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

We are sorry to miss our weekly reports to you and our friends all over who take the paper. We have been very busy but hope to give you our local news more regularly now.

Harvesting is nearly completed — Crops have been poor in places and normal in others.

The Dewberry elevators are nearly filled to capacity.

Two farmers, Bobby Braithwaite and Peter Martin were lucky in saving grain when fire broke out. Bob's strawstack was completely burned but the granary of wheat was saved. Peter Martin was fortunate in being able to put out a fire caused by friction from a belt alongside a wire granary.

Peter, Peter smelled a smoke
When the flame showed up it was no joke.
He grabbed a pail and with a jump
Away he went to the nearest pump.
His teeth were masked in a ghastly smile
And the record was smashed for the distant mile
Now the fire is out in the old straw stack
But Peter's still training for the Olympian track!

The 4th of July opened up in Dewberry again Saturday night. The usual picture show failed to appear. This gave the young boys of the town and district a chance to fire firecrackers which they threw deliberately [illegible] people's faces, one exploding in the eye of an Indian girl. We wonder why we parents have not taught our children the danger of explosives.

Albert Denoll has sold his farm to Mr. Young of Clandonald and will soon be holding a clearing out auction sale before leaving for the city of Edmonton where he will reside.

Duck hunters seem to be bagging our feathered friends quite handily this year. We only hope that the game regulations will be observed as they are made for our own benefit.

Mrs. Anderson is visiting at the farm of her son in the Dewberry district. She has just returned from a motor trip to Vancouver motoring there through Montana, Idaho, Washington. She reports that all Dewberry people at the coast are fine with the exception of Pete Adams who is suffering from a slight stroke. Mrs. Ernest Keast is much improved in health.

Mrs. Herbert Iaert formerly of Hazeldine suffered a badly smashed leg in a car accident at the coast.

Frank Allen formerly of Dewberry also had the misfortune to break a leg and is now back at his home in Edmonton from Peace River.

Dr. Robert Koch, discoverer in 1882 of the tuberculosis germ, said that medical men should study, not the number of deaths from T.B. but the spread of the disease among the living.

Agriculture is the most important single industry in Canada, about one-quarter of all Canadians are engaged in farming. —Quick Canadian Facts

The Deems Taylor Concert

Perhaps more than any other living man, Deems Taylor can be credited with opening the portals to a whole new, exciting world of music to millions of people.

His greatest and most enduring fame rests on his rare ability to make the world's great music understandable. Because he can translate the most lofty musical concepts into the idioms of listeners, Deems Taylor's talks have rivalled in popularity the music on which he comments.

For seven years he was intermission commentator on the New York Philharmonic Symphony broadcasts — the most popular talks of their kind. As a composer his fame rests largely upon three major works — his two produced operas, The King's Henchman and Peter Ibbetson, and the sparkling orchestral suite, Through the Looking Glass.

In movies Deems Taylor appeared as the narrator for Walt Disney's film Fantasia and as narrator in the new film The Barber of Seville.

It is this background of musical knowledge and experience that radio station CFRN presents to its listeners in the new Deems Taylor Concert — to be heard each week day from 1 to 1.15 p.m. starting Monday, Oct. 18. The greatest music, the biggest names in music will be heard on the Deems Taylor Concert interpretated by the man whose grace and wit have made him America's foremost music commentator.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

The Musician

By JANE DALE

The wind played the music and set the leaves a-dancing
To and fro around the yard.
As the beats grew faster the leaves skipped higher
Out across the boulevard.

The wind played the music and the [illegible] swung together
Upon their long dry stalks.
The notes were enticing and the flowers swayed so gaily,
They shed their petals on the garden walk.

The wind was the piper and the birds heard the music
As they flew from tree to tree.
The notes were a farewell; the birds headed southward
With the wind as company.

The wind played wild music; the children thrilled to hear it
[illegible] promise of ice and snow.
The [illegible] were so stirring they set
[illegible] feet to dancing
With eyes and cheeks aglow.

Woman Operating Fur Trading Post Scorns Dictates Of Fashion

WINNIPEG. — The "new look" neither appeals to Mrs. Emma Johnson nor is she obliged by the dictates of fashion to wear it. Virtually the year-round she wears slacks or ski pants, sweaters and a parka.

Mrs. Johnson, widow of a year who has two children, runs a fur trading post at Lost Bay on Uchi Lake about 25 miles from the mining town of Red Lake, Ont. She likes the life so much that she hasn't the slightest intention of "returning to civilization".

"I think I'm the only woman in the fur-buying business in northern Ontario," she said. "I certainly don't claim to be the only one in Canada because I've read about others in the northwest and in Quebec. But I was the only one at the traders' [illegible] in Sioux Lookout recently.

Born in Brussels, she came to Winnipeg with her parents as a child. Eight years ago she went to Uchi Lake and shortly after she married the trading post manager.

"I learned a lot about fur from my husband but when he died a year ago I felt I was plunging into something quite new. However, I'm learning."

Mrs. Johnson is also learning Cree because she feels it is necessary to speak the language of the great majority of the trappers in her area.

About clothes, she says:

"New look! No, I don't like it. It's clumsy. But then, up there I wear slack or ski pants, sweaters, parka, when I'm not handling furs or supplies in the store I'm getting wood or water or doing housework. There's really not much time to worry about clothes."

Mrs. Johnson brought her two children, George, six and Linda, three, to Winnipeg. George is to start school while Linda will have her tonsils removed.

Of the future, she says:

"I'll stay there and keep the business going. As long as I can make a living for my children and [illegible] I'm not worried. In fact, I [illegible] of like it."

Romanian Prince To Farm In Alberta

EDMONTON. — Prince Constantin Soutzo, 36-year-old former landowner in Romania, arrived in Edmonton recently after escaping from his Communist-dominated homeland.

The prince said he could not tell how his escape was engineered because "others may use it" but he said it involved 20 hours of "terrible suspense".

Prince Soutzo, an Oxford graduate, said he was forced to flee when the Communists took over the Government of Romania and confiscated all land holdings of more than 100 acres.

Prince Soutzo, his wife, a 19-year-old step-daughter, Lena, and a son, Alexander, four, escaped to Switzerland in August and flew to Canada as immigrants. His mother and a second step-daughter, Irene, 18, are expected to come to Canada soon.

He plans to take up farming in this district.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "Tall Oak"

The world is divided into two camps. Democratic peoples, who hold allegiance to God, and Totalitarian peoples who leave God out of their calculations.

Ideologies rise to prominence on the strength of young people. Leaders of these ideologies rise to fame the same way. A brief look at history will substantiate this fact.

Hitler and Nazism got into power through capturing the support of youth. Mussolini and Fascism got to the top by the support of young Italy. Stalin and Communism rules because of the support of youth. The enthusiasm of youth can do mighty things.

Even Christianity is a youth movement. More than 80% of those who have a vital Christian experience got it before the age of 25.

It seems almost certain that Christ was born of a very young mother, and it is known that he completed the work of redemption while still a young man. His disciples seem to have been young men.

Youth is the lever by which the world can be lifted out of its present condition. But a lever shaped to do the job is an absolute necessity, and the older, more matured people are the ones to do the molding.

Could our young people of today come through a great trial, such as another economic depression like the "Black '30s", and still believe in the "Democratic way of life and God"? I am very much afraid they would be an easy mark for false ideology; they would be an easy mark for error because they have not been taught the fine points of the Democratic way — they do not value or see no value, our freedom as it should be. They get the impression from grown up people, that this freedom we enjoy is not important; that the free vote we have is of no consequence, and therefore it does not matter whether we vote or not.

They get the impression that freedom of religion means very little because many, many parents do not seem to value it. They rarely, if ever, present themselves in the House of God for worship, unless of course, someone dies, or wants to get married, or has a baby to christen. They see so many parents and others living their lives liked dyed-in-the-wool communists without God that they feel that God, and what He stands for really isn't necessary.

We must guard against giving the impression that our freedom is only freedom to do nothing.

Our young people do not seem impressed with the everyday liberties and comforts that democracy affords. They go unnoticed while the other way of life is pouring invectives upon our Democratic way, turning the searchlights of propaganda on the faults of Democracy. Already too many of our young people in high and public schools have been 'conditioned' for error this in many cases with the help of good Democratic taxes.

It is high time we awoke and started to teach our young people more about the eternal principles of life, and how desirable the God-guided way is. We should teach them not so much by instruction as by example. Teach them by using our Democratic rights sensibly, dealing with them in an honest way. Show them that we believe in God, and Democracy by being worthwhile active Christians and showing more interest and devotion to the great Democratic God.

If you want to save the world from a desperate fate — save the young people from false ideology.

It's up to each of us, let us get busy before the great test comes. For come it surely will — Let's advance with Christ, and be prepared!

HERE'S WHERE WE STAND ON NEW-CAR SELLING

General Motors Dealers' "Foursquare Selling Policy" assures you a Fair Deal when you buy a new car

Let's bring this subject right out in the open.

Many conditions still exist which encourage the "gray marketing" of automobiles.

You don't like this — and neither do we.

There's no law against "under the counter" deals — demanding a bonus for early delivery.

There's no law against loading cars with accessories the customer doesn't want or need.

There's no law against selling to buyers who make it their business to resell new cars at inflated prices.

But we don't do it because it's not good business.

All dealers buy cars at clearly established factory prices which with the exception of transportation, are the same, model for model, all over the country. All start on a fair and equal basis — and should therefore sell at these fair and reasonable delivered prices.

So we're making public announcement of our code of fair dealing.

Our foursquare selling policy, simply stated, is this:

1 NO PADDING OF PRICES

We guarantee our delivered prices to conform with the manufacturer's recommendation and to contain nothing but standard charges which, of course, include Sales and Excise Taxes. You receive an itemized bill of sale. All prices are an "Open Book" — they are available to you and we sell at these listed figures.

2 NO LOADING OF UNWANTED ACCESSORIES

All cars are offered with factory-installed accessories only and prices are figured to cover these. We pledge ourselves to add no "extras" except those each customer orders — and to avoid using "extras" to increase the delivered price.

3 TRADE-INS DESIRED— BUT NOT COMPULSORY

We will take your order for future delivery without requiring a trade-in. However, we have many good used car customers who also depend upon us to supply them with automobiles. For this reason we would like to have your trade in, and we'll give you a fair and reasonable allowance for it.

4 NO COLLUSION

While we cannot prevent our customers from reselling new cars we will not knowingly be a party to such transactions. Our only interest is to deliver new cars to bona fide customers.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our loyal customers and friends for their patience in awaiting their turn for delivery of new General Motors cars.

Although the popularity of General Motors cars is unprecedented, and the supply is lagging far behind the demand, we are doing our utmost to be fair and equitable in their distribution.

We present this platform because we believe it's good business to keep our customers informed.

It's a platform that gives you a fair deal when you buy a new car — exactly the same kind of a deal and treatment you got before the war.

If you wish additional information, it will gladly be supplied by any dealer whose name is signed to this announcement.

Havens For The Displaced

ONE OF THE GREATEST and most grave of the human problems arising from the war is that of the hundreds of thousands of displaced persons left in the areas of Germany, Austria and Italy now occupied by the Western powers. Accommodated in camps, these people have awaited the fulfilment of the promise that they would some day be given the opportunity of finding new homes and making their living in lands where their freedom and independence would be assured. Although this intention has not been altered in any way, and havens have been found for many, a great many more are still waiting to be placed, after more than forty months in "D.P." camps.

• • • • •

Some Returned To Native Land

In spite of the fact that the International Refugee Organization reduced the number of people in its care by 344,000 during the first year it was in operation, 600,000 remained to be placed at the first of May of this year. Of the 344,000 removed from the camps, 77,000 were repatriated and 167,000 emigrated overseas and to various parts of Europe. It was intended that homes should be found for all displaced persons in the Western occupied areas inside of three years, and it is apparent that the work will have to be considerably accelerated if this time limit is to be met. Lack of shipping space and the fact that many of the 21 countries which had participated in the formation of the Refugee Organization were willing to accept, for the most part, only able-bodied workers for specific tasks, have made the problem more difficult.

• • • • •

More Progess Now Expected

It is now expected that there will be greater progress in this undertaking as shipping space becomes less scarce and more countries show willingness to accept displaced persons and it is now hoped that 300,000 will be placed during the next year. Twenty per cent. of these are expected to go to Western Europe, where the need for additional labor is urgent. An equal number are expected to go to Latin America, while the United States will admit 205,000 during the next two years. Australia plans to accept the same number eventually, and has provided for the arrival of 20,000 next year. Canada has expressed the intention of opening her doors to 60,000 next year and to 40,000 in succeeding years as long as the need remains. Canada has already admitted 40,000 displaced persons and Canadians have reason to be proud of the part their country is playing in solving this great world problem.

Saskatchewan Men Buy Alberta Coal Mine

EDMONTON. — A group of businessmen headed by B. J. Kern of Regina have bought the Lakeside Coals Ltd. mine at Robb, Alta., 35 miles south of Edson, Alta., for about $35,000, it was learned here.

A disastrous fire closed the mine four years ago and it is estimated it will cost about $250,000 to put it in operation again. The mine produced a hard type of coal.

Other Saskatchewan men concerned in the purchase are Roy D. Trumble, James Mortenson, both of Swift Current, Alvin Booker, Lorne Kerr and J. A. Matheson, all of Gull Lake.

[illegible] CHILD'S DEATH — A marauding chicken hawk was blamed by provincial police for the death of five-months-old Jeanne Neault, as she played in her carriage on the front veranda of her parents' home at Grande Mere, Quebec. While the child's mother, Mrs. Jean Neault, was busy with her housework, police believe the hawk, which already has carried off a number of chickens in the district, landed on the baby's forehead and tore its face to ribbons. Mrs. Neault found her child dead when she went to bring it in. Part of the baby's nose had been torn away and the chin partially clawed. —S.N.S. photo.

Church In Need Of Ministers

VANCOUVER.—United Church of Canada is 466 ministers short and finds it hard to find men for its expanding work.

Low pay causes the public shortage, some commissioners suggested at the church's general council here.

Rev. Allan H. Perry of Toronto said the meagre pension is "preventing the young men from joining the ministry."

Said another Toronto minister, Rev. H. G. Tuttle: "Too many of our ministers, particularly younger men, are leaving the ranks, some for other fields of service and others to ministries in our sister church across the international boundary."

Butter Supply Assured For Winter Months

OTTAWA. — Assuring Canadian consumers of an adequate butter supply throughout the winter months, the Canadian Government has completed arrangements for the purchase from Denmark and Australia of an additional 6,000,000 pounds of butter, bringing the total amount to be imported to approximately 15,000,000 pounds, it was announced here.

In making the announcement, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said he thought this [illegible] of butter would take care of the minimum requirements during the seasonal shortage in this country.

Canadian Press Survey

Most Farmers Across Canada Harvested Better Crops This Year

CANADIAN farmers have just about finished the harvest of a bumper crop. A Canadian Press survey showed that all provinces except British Columbia and Nova Scotia reaped more valuable yields than in 1947. Despite late planting due to a rainy spring and an exceptionally dry period in late summer, most crops are above average.

The farm labor supply remains scarce in all provinces. National employment offices reported that in most instances they were unable to provide enough harvest workers through transfers from one province to another. Displaced persons have helped to alleviate shortages.

Wages to farm laborers increased all across the Dominion. On the prairies workers got $6-$8 daily. In New Brunswick a fast potato-picker can earn $20 a day.

The Nova Scotia apple crop, estimated at 1,000,000 barrels, is about half normal. Other crops grew well after a slow start. The apple crop may be worth $4,000,000.

New Brunswick may have one of the best crop years in history. Potatoes, the biggest cash crop, are expected to equal or surpass the 1947 yield of more than $16,000,000.

East Good

Quebec farmers will harvest one of their best yields. Estimates place the value at more than last year's $162,000,000.

The estimated value of Ontario field crops is $[illegible],000 compared with $[illegible],000 last year. The fruit and vegetable yield is down from $[illegible],415,000 in 1947 to about $85,442,000.

Good Quality

Saskatchewan crops are better in both yield and quality. About half the marketed wheat is grading at No. 1 Northern. Only 11 per cent. received this grade last season. Wheat is averaging 13 bushels to the acre, compared with 13.2 last year.

Alberta crops are reported better than in 1947 when they brought in $320,000,000. About 117,000,000 bushels of wheat will be harvested at an average yield of 18.5 bushels to the acre—better than expected after a wet spring and late planting.

In British Columbia's Okanagan Valley there is a big crop of good-quality apples. Other fruit crops were adversely affected by a wet summer, and reduced quality is reported in some cases. It is expected that the total crop value will fall far below last year's peak.

HIGHER RENTS ? . . .

Government thinking generally has been that controls should remain as long as housing shortage remains acute, reports The Financial Post's Ottawa correspondent. The date generally in mind for relaxing controls has so far been the fall of 1949.

Any immediate move likely will be in the form of some slight increase in present ceiling, by way of pacifying owners who base their case on the fact that whereas rental ceilings have advanced but 20% over 1939, general costs are up 60%. So far no decision has been taken although the whole question is under study with the property owners.

Fire Prevention Measures Please Inspector

DRILLS CARRIED OUT AT THE SCHOOLS AND HOSPITAL — BRIGADE MAKES FAST RUN

Fire Inspector Bedard of the Fire [illegible] Department for the province spent last Friday morning in Vermilion on an official inspection in keeping with fire prevention week and was very pleased with conditions found here. He spent the morning with Fire Chief Conboy, Secretary of the Brigade Russell Carroll and Ashley Cooper of the Standard. Expressing his pleasure at the precautions in Vermilion Mr Bedard stated "I was told at the office that everything would be the best in Vermilion and it is. You have a wonderful volunteer brigade here, all the men are extremely interested and well trained."

Only one bit of trouble was encountered and this was the position of the fire hydrant at the hospital. It is well off any beaten path and the main connection for the pumping engine is on the side away from the hospital. In winter time a road will have to be kept specially plowed out to reach it unless it can be changed.

Fire drills were carried out at the public school where the three floors were evacuated in the almost unbelievable time of 1 minute and 10 seconds [illegible] as a complete surprise to teachers and pupils alike and the timing was by Mr Bedard. There was no rushing, no pushing, just a swift continuous line moving smoothly through the halls and out to the two exits. At the high school the same procedure was carried out and the time was 1.06.

Fire drills were then carried out at the hospital where good co-operation was again encountered. Full instructions regarding proper procedures were asked by the matron and supplied in written form by the Fire Inspector.

An alarm was put in from the hospital for a practise run and in 2 min. 10 sec. from the time of the phone call the brigade was on the grounds. The alarm was a surprise and the time made was just as good as a full time brigade could make with the men right in the firehall waiting for an alarm, according to Mr Bedard. He also pointed out that each man had his job, the pumper pulled up to the hydrant, the ladder truck came to a halt right in position at the building all without a word. One minute from arrival they had water running from the hose nozzles.

On leaving Inspector Bedard again spoke highly of the efficiency of the Vermilion Fire Department and complimented Chief Conboy and all members of the brigade for the manner in which they handled this very important department of the town.

The Vermilion Agricultural society has set the date for the Fall Pure Bred Live Stock sale for Dec. 4th. Breeders in the Vermilion and Lloydminster district are asked to list their entries immediately with the Secretary. The sale will be mostly for outstanding female stock but bulls also can be entered. Farmers interested in good Shorthorns should attend the C. H. Wilkinson sale to be held at Clover Bar on Oct. 20th.

Golightly of Streamstown.

LIVESTOCK PRICES

The letter [illegible] ton Journal [illegible] Vermilion [illegible] thinking by livestock [illegible] that [illegible] that there [illegible] pound at the [illegible] top and the bottom of the market [illegible] farmers [illegible] cattle to sell at [illegible] when choice cattle are selling [illegible] cents.

HONEY PRODUCTION

Many local beekeepers are reporting over 140 pounds of honey per hive. The average for Alberta is estimated at 12[illegible] pounds while the yield for all Canada in 1948 is [illegible] pounds. It would appear that this district is one of the best in all Canada for honey production. Every farmer should have one or more hives. The bees [illegible] all summer for you.

FARM LABOR

Harvesting is about over and most of the [illegible] harvesters [illegible] working in this district have gone home. I might just remind readers that it is part of my job to locate farm help but I have nothing to do with finding jobs for [illegible] [illegible] workers.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION IS FORMED HERE

UNIQUE MOVE BY LOCAL MINISTERS

An interesting instance of co-operation between the religious denominations in Vermilion took place on Tuesday, Oct. 12th at 10.30 a.m. in the Anglican rectory. Those present were the minister of the Salvation Army Mr Stewart, the Alliance chapel, Mr Berg, the United church, Mr. Reikie, and the Anglican church, Mr Teape. Mr Hutchinson had been invited but could not be present. It was decided to form a Ministerial Association and Mr Stewart was elected as president of this association. This was very fitting, as Mr Stewart had suggested the formation of such a body in the first place. Mr Teape was elected secretary treasurer.

Visit of Mr. Heuer Arranged

The forthcoming visit of Mr Heuer representative of the British and Foreign Bible society was discussed. It was arranged that Mr Heuer should speak at the beginning of evensong at the Anglican church. He would then proceed to the United church and preach there. At 9 p.m. he will address those gathered at the Fellowship Hour at the Alliance chapel. Mr Heuer preached seven times on a recent Sunday, so it was felt that the Vermilion schedule would not be too hard on him.

Bible Society Canvass

For the purpose of canvassing the town on behalf of the British and Foreign Bible Society the roads at the Post Office corner were taken as markers dividing the town into quarters. Mr. Berg was assigned the N.W. portion, Mr Reikie the N.E. Mr Stewart the S.E. and Mr Teape the S.W. Everyone agreed that the best time to conduct the canvass was as soon as possible after the 17th of October.

Blood Transfusion Clinic

Mr Teape told of plans the Red Cross were making for holding a Blood Transfusion clinic in the near future and asked for the co-operation of the members present in notifying their congregations.

Next Meeting Nov. 9th

The next meeting was arranged for Nov. 9th in the morning at the home of Mr Berg and Mr Reikie acceded to a general request that he read a paper at that meeting. The meeting then adjourned and was closed with prayer.

It is hoped that the Ministerial Association will fill a definite need in the community. It should act as a focal point where the clergy meet and have fellowship together. It should also be a sort of clearing house where many opinions are sifted and sorted out, and to change the metaphor it should be a sounding-board whereby the spiritual community can voice its mind on vital issues.

Agricultural Society Sponsors Cattle Sale

AT V. S. A. PAVILION ON SATURDAY, DEC. 4th

The Vermilion Agricultural Society is sponsoring a fall sale of purebred beef cattle which will be held at the V.S.A. pavilion on Saturday Dec. 4th. Entries close on Oct. 30th following which the sale catalog will be issued and distributed.

Livestock breeders throughout a wide area will doubtless take advantage of the opportunity of offering their cattle with the assistance of an outstanding auctioneer. The splendid facilities available at the college will have an important bearing on the success of the sale.

Breeders are urged to make their entries as soon as possible and to have in mind the following rules and regulations which have been found necessary as safeguards for all concerned.

An entry fee of $3 per head will be charged and commission of 2% will be charged on all sales. All animals to be sold should be brought to the school the day prior to the sale and stabling will be made available. All animals are required to be halter broken and sellers are permitted one attendant [illegible] during the sale.

It is stressed that only animals of quality are desired and that all cattle offered are subject to culling before the actual date of the sale. The order [illegible] Aberdeen Angus first, Herefords second and Shorthorns 3rd [illegible] the order of the 1947 sale.

The efforts of the Vermilion Society [illegible] towards the establishment of an annual event which should bring buyers from long distances thus giving district breeders an excellent opportunity of disposing of good quality stock at substantial prices.

Film Made at Jasper Featured at Columbia Theatre This Week-end

"THE EMPEROR WALTZ" RUNNING FOUR DAYS

The "Emperor Waltz" featuring Bing Crosby will run at the Columbia theatre from Wednesday to Saturday inclusive this week.

This truly great picture was made entirely in and around the town of Jasper and any who have visited that town and park will readily recognize the scenic spots portrayed in the film.

While at Jasper during the filming of the Emperor Waltz Bing Crosby completely won the hearts of the people there by his comradely manner and genuine interest in everything in and about the town.

Depicted in this film too will be many views along the Yellowhead Pass route which Vermilion and most of Alberta favor for the Dominion's first Trans-Canada highway.

An Odoriferous Story: Skunk in Gopher Trap

Several young boys indulging in youthful flights of fancy, set 2 gopher traps to protect a hide-out on the south side of town. Approaching the spot on Wednesday afternoon anticipation gave way to consternation when Bob Acheson, Bill Knight and Stewart Cooper perceived a skunk with one foreleg firmly caught in the trap. What to do was the next question and this was solved by Bob volunteering to go all the way home to get brother Tom's .22 rifle. When he returned he had the gun all right but Dad Acheson was along too and the animal was despatched forthwith. None of the boys were casualties and they couldn't resist exhibiting the trophy of the hunt to their pals.

Jimmy Part Piling Up A Record

Jimmy Part, 11-year-old son of Mr and Mrs James Part is piling up some sort of a record but it's a cinch that his parents hope that his string of broken arms, which he has run up to three, won't go any higher. Jim complained of a sore arm for several days but examination failed to show anything the matter with it. The arm was strapped up with Elastoplast but continued sore. An X-ray then revealed a clean fracture of the smaller bone in the forearm but the bones had remained in perfect alignment. This was Jim's 3rd broken arm, 2 of the left and one of the right. According to the Doctor, his bones are quite normal but very fine so the only trouble seems to be that Jim is built like a race horse but plays with the reckless abandon of a young bull.

MANNA FROM HEAVEN

East Enders must live right as it seems that ever since a prairie chicken flew into C. L. Whitby's bedroom window and roosted on Whit's feet one morning about 17 years ago, just simply inviting himself to be the main component of a stew with dumplings, that east enders have game birds literally falling over themselves as offerings to the citizens in that section of town. It will be recalled that one evening Mrs. H. P. Long heard a rustling in the fire place chimney, fearing mice she did nothing about it for awhile. finally she opened the draft in the chimney and out dropped a fine specimen of the duck family. Mr Duck surveyed the room and even looked for the roasting pan but Mrs. Long finally persuaded him out the door to freedom.

The latest episode ended differently from the first two, the game bird being the entree course for Hugh Evans' dinner. Hugh was out in his garden Sunday morning, thinking what a bountiful harvest of vegetables he had just completed gathering in, and what a fine Thanksgiving dinner he could have had if he only had raised some fowl as well, no sooner had the thought taken shape when he beheld a plump prairie chicken whiz through the air and drop right at his feet. Reaching over, Hugh gently wrung the bird's neck, examined it closely to note that it was a fine specimen but was suffering from a very recent gunshot wound so was in perfect edible condition. Thanksgiving dinner on the morrow was thus complete.

Howell Bulletin

Sorry folks, no news for the past few weeks as the writer was busy with threshers, also gathering in a grand crop of vegetables.

Threshing is completed in the district and many farmers are busy doing fall work on the land.

Ken Kay from the Mewburn hospital in Edmonton is visiting his sister Mrs Robinson and family. While here his father from Onion Lake and sister Joyce from Edmonton came to see him. Ken gets around in his wheel chair.

Mrs Hardie, Mrs. Repp and Miss Earle were recent visitors at the Knutson home.

The writer enjoyed a day with Mrs. Gow and Mrs Gagnon. The latter is feeling much better since her operation in a Calgary hospital.

Mr and Mrs. Weller are noticed driving a nice new car.

It certainly appears that Mr and Mrs Lindsay will have their house well fixed up and ready to move into before the cold weather comes. They will notice quite a change when they begin living close to the highway.

The Weller family were visitors on Sunday at the home of Mr and Mrs Jones.

Since our last Bulletin the writer was sorry to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Moses' sister in Saskatchewan.

Miss Maybelle Knutson is visiting her home this week.

Yes Widmore, we agree, we certainly do need a rest room in Vermilion—the present one is a disgrace to our growing town.

ELKS CARNIVAL TO AID SCOUT HALL

OCT. 29th, 30th, AND NOV. 1st

Vermilion Elks will again hold their big fall Carnival this year and the dates are Friday, Saturday and Monday, Oct. 29, 30 and Nov. 1st. This enjoyable event, proceeds of which enable the Elks to support all charitable and community projects, is being held in their spacious hall. This year every penny earned is going to help pay for the completion of the Scout hall, built by the Brother Elks last year for the younger peoples organizations of the town and district.

Advance tickets for the Carnival will be on sale next week at the various stores, by members of the Elks and will also be offered to the public by the Boy Scouts themselves, at the usual low price of 25c for all three nights.

With merchandise being in greater supply and many new games, the annual Elks Carnival promises this year to be better and bigger than for the past several years. Don't miss it!

Winter Sports Agenda At V.A.A.A. Meeting

Winter sports will be discussed at a special meeting of the V. A. A. A. called for that purpose Friday evening Oct. 15th at 8 p.m. in the library room of the town hall basement. The discussion will probably centre around organized hockey for the children of the town. Everyone interested in seeing organized winter sports is asked to attend. Your help is needed. 19-20x

When requisitioning blood from the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service hospitals submit a specimen of the patient's blood. To find blood that is completely compatible, blood from the bank of the same grouping is cross-matched with the patient's specimen. ABOVE a trained laboratory technician of the Blood Transfusion service staff is shown carrying out part of the test. A complete cross match from the time a specimen is received at the depot until the time the blood is ready to be dispatched to the hospital takes approximately 2½ hours. In time of emergency when a patient's life depends on immediate transfusion, universal group 'O' blood is used. A campaign to register blood donors is to be conducted by the Red Cross throughout northern Alberta during the week of Oct. 18th.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. Howard who spent the month of September with her son Lloyd on the farm in Wildmere, has returned to her home in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller who are visiting at the Smith home here, spent the week end of Oct. 2nd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hutchinson of Vermilion.

On Sunday Oct. 3rd the writer and family visited and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Graham. They are getting nicely settled and we saw all their wedding gifts which surely are nice.

Many will remember Mrs. John Patterson formerly of Battleview where they homesteaded and lived for many years before moving to Okotoks, Alberta. In a recent letter from her daughter Mrs. Eddie Bradshaw she said her mother had passed away on Sept. 10th and was laid to rest on Sept. 13th in the Okotoks cemetery beside her husband who pre-deceased her several years ago. She was 81 years of age. Besides her daughter Victoria of Okotoks one son Hugh of Black Diamond, 5 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren survive her. In the early days her home was a great place for friends and neighbors to gather and many good times were enjoyed under her roof. She was a splendid dancer and even when in her 71st year she could still step-dance. We, along with the community extend our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing daughter and son left to mourn her loss. Another old timer who helped to open up our country has won her well earned rest.

The Wildmere W.I. held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Weisenburger with 9 members present and two visitors, Mrs. Rendell and Mrs. L. Graham. Meeting was called to order by the Vice-president Mrs. Garnett owing to Mrs. Wilson not being there (she came later when school was out). Roll call was answered by what we have to be thankful for — most everyone said they were thankful to be a Canadian and for good homes, health, babies etc. Food for another overseas parcel was donated and besides our food parcel next month we are sending a soap parcel to an English W.I. as soap is one thing that is very scarce in the war-torn countries. A donation was made to the building fund of the home for the blind in Edmonton. Mrs. Weisenburger gave such an interesting account of her trip to B.C. and during the few weeks out there picked over a ton and a quarter of raspberries. She told how the B.C. fruit men have troubles too. Their 1947 berries are still in big vats to be made into jam and now the 1948 crop on top of them to sell, so the prairie wheat farmer isn't the only one to have troubles. She saw the vast devastation made by the floods, also saw big hop vine orchards and many things interesting to we prairie people. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. Whitlock. After the meeting our hostess served a very enjoyable and tasty lunch. Next meeting will be at Mrs. Whitlock's on Nov. 3rd. Roll call—How I invested my quarter.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith of Basswood on the birth of a big 8lb. 2 oz. baby boy on Oct. 8th. Father feeling fine.

A nice crowd attended church on Sunday and Rev. Mr. Teape gave a very interesting sermon. He also paid such a nice tribute to Canon Leversedge whom we nearly all know so well. We were sorry to hear he is not at all well. We hope Mr. Teape can hold church again this fall as the winters are long when no service is held. We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham to come again too. If weather holds good Mr. Teape may hold church again early in November.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Geo. Wilson has not been very well this past month but hope ere winter sets in that he will be fully restored to health.

Billie Steele of Basswood was taken to the hospital on Saturday by Mr. Leo Haines. Speedy recovery Bill!

Anne [illegible] of the [illegible] spent Thanksgiving week-end at her home

While Canadian cotton mills are still experiencing difficulty in maintaining production due to absenteeism and a high labor turnover, cotton bale openings in the first 6 months of 1948 totalled 193,279 bales of 500 lbs. each, slightly higher than in the same period of 1947 and the largest figure for the first half of any year since 1944.

Keep that Sub right up to date!

Dear Mrs. Smith:

This will gratefully acknowledge your letter of Sept. 27th, with enclosed cheque for $261.85 representing the proceeds of the campaign held in your community in aid of our work. Please find attached our official receipt for the campaign proceeds.

On behalf of our Northern Alberta Board, I would like to express sincere appreciation to your organization for its kindness and courtesy in undertaking this sponsorship for us. Please convey our appreciation to all those who assisted with the actual work and who contributed to making the drive successful. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith left Tuesday on the bus for their home in Vancouver. A jolly couple, they will be missed by their many friends but it's nice they can reside where the winter is not so severe. Mr. and Mrs. T. Miller are staying until Billie and Adam Smith, who intend spending the winter at the coast, leave.

Mrs. Rendell is feeling much better since her stay in the hospital. She is now home again.

Here is our oddity for the week — Albert Smith bought New Hampshire pullets last spring and on Saturday one of them came home with a bunch of baby chicks — Can any one top that?

HUSBANDS LOVE wives to serve extra-rich Maxwell House Coffee. It has extra flavor because its blend contains choice Latin-American coffees — carefully selected from the best the world produces.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN WINTER SPORTS?

—Then Attend the Meeting of the Amateur Athletic Association on FRIDAY, OCT. 15th

In the Library of the Town Hall - 8 p.m.

Plans for organized Winter Sport, particularly for young people, will be discussed.

Do Not Crowd A New Hedge

Soil should always be carefully prepared for a new hedge by digging out a trench about 18 inches deep and at least twice as wide as the spread of the roots of the young plants, says R. W. Oliver, Assistant, Ornamental Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. A liberal dressing of well rotted manure should be dug into the bottom of this trench and covered with a few inches of well pulverized sandy or clay loam top soil. When the plants are put in place more of this good top soil should be put around the roots and firmly tramped down before being watered liberally.

The plants should be placed in a single row rather than in a double row with the plants staggered. This latter method uses more space and more space is harder to trim into a good shape and always leaves a gaunt end at a gate or path where any unevenness is noticed.

The distance apart at which the plants should be placed will vary with the material used and the height to which it is desired to have the hedge grow. Erect growing shrubs like privet and the true-hedge columnberry used in a low hedge should be placed 9 inches to one foot apart. More bushy plants which make a taller hedge should be placed about 18 inches apart.

Deciduous hedges should be planted in the autumn as the leaves are about to fall or in the early spring before the leaf bud bursts. Evergreens are planted in September or just before new growth starts in the spring.

Showers Foretell Weddings at Islay

The chicken supper will be held on Wednesday Oct 27th at 6 p.m. in the hall. Tell your neighbors, or better still, bring your neighbor with you. Come and visit with those you haven't seen for weeks. We are hoping for fine weather as on the 19th we want to go to the Bean supper in Morrison school put on by the Pleasant Valley church W.A. It's not only beans they are having, we heard the ladies planning pies, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, and more goodies.

Isn't this month just the busiest ever besides threshing, it's showers and weddings. No less than three of our charming young ladies are about to establish new homes. On Friday last a double shower was given in the church by the community ladies for Patsy Torrance and Flossie Tessman. As we entered the church we saw at the front two large prettily decorated boxes, with large letters Patsy on one and Floss on the other. It's quite an ordeal to stand in front of a crowd and make a bit of a speech but both young ladies did well. And were there parcels! Very lovely and useful gifts. Both Pat and Floss replied nicely after and invited the ladies to visit [illegible].

On Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the whole community gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles Robertson in honor of Miss Margaret Martin, a bride-to-be. A musical contest led by Mrs. Bothwell and Miss Lila Bowser drew all into the tangle. The names of the songs made a story fitting the occasion. Then Mrs. R. Toohey made the presentation of a Chenille bedspread and a reversible wool bedthrow carried in by Katherine and Mima, to Margaret. Margaret replied very nicely and invited all to attend her wedding in the church Saturday afternoon, also to drop in to see her if ever in North Battleford. Then we had tea and a lovely lunch was served.

Anybody excited around Islay? Ask "Shorty" a question and he will likely say Oct. 30th and never know he said it!

Glad to report Mr. Jim Allan at home from the hospital where he was for a few weeks.

Also glad to report Mrs. Bill Shaw home to stay, after being a year in hospital in Edmonton.

A very worthwhile Thanksgiving service was enjoyed Sunday. Rev. Driver took as his text in Psalm 103 "Bless the Lord, Oh My Soul and forget not all his benefits." The church was very fittingly decorated.

Letters to the Editor

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed

R.R. 3, Vermilion, Oct. 11, 1948.

Editor, Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

With your permission, I would like to pass on a few comments that occurred to me in reading The Report to the People by Robert Fair, M.P.

It is very evident that the farmers produce, especially wheat, was sold by the Dominion Government below market prices, we cannot I presume collect any more from the parties to whom the wheat was sold.

Mr Fair says he has brought up this matter in the hope that some action may be taken to bring pressure on the Government to repay to the farmers these losses. The question may be asked, how do you apply this pressure? Would you suggest a farmers holding strike? We tried that, you know, and our provincial government friends were very lukewarm in the matter to say the least, one M.L.A. suggesting routing the picketers with machine guns so it was said. So I say nix to that. Go ahead Mr. Fair and if you know any nice safe way of applying the pressure, I don't mind collecting another $1 for my wheat from the Dominion Government.

Speaking of the Income Tax and taxes in general nobody likes paying them and I don't suppose would do so if they could get out of it, but we have to pay them, even in Alberta where we have had a Social Credit government for 13 years. Yes, I am paying more than double the taxes I did in 1935 and have had to pay a special tax of $55 this year to pay for gravelling.

Mr. Fair suggests that we do some investigating re Social Credit. Why? To find out how come we have a Conservative Government in Edmonton?

Perhaps your readers would like to hear what one investigator thought of S.C., Professor Stephen Leacock says: "I can't understand a word of it. I first read it years ago. Have read it again and again since, I have prayed for light. I have never got any. I don't know, never shall know what it means".

Yours truly,
Hardy Wear

Clean Up Gardens Now — for Spring

Now is the time of year to clean up the garden, for it is the time when many insects are looking around for suitable spots in which to spend the winter.

Many of the most injurious species of insects pass the winter adhering to plants on which they were feeding when cold weather arrived, others crawl beneath piles of plant refuse and hibernate there throughout the winter. A few work their way down into the layer of dead organic matter. All such insects should be looked upon as a menace to next year's garden, for a large proportion will survive the winter and attack the growing plants in the spring.

A general fall clean-up will mean a better garden next year. All standing crop remnants should be pulled and burned. Crop refuse lying on the ground should be raked up and destroyed. It is advisable where practicable to burn over waste land surrounding the garden to kill any eggs of hibernating insects.

Insect egg masses or cocoons are often found in shrubs and low trees, or even on fences, garden furniture, out-buildings or houses. Cleaning these up in the autumn will prevent them causing trouble next spring.

Digging or plowing the garden in the fall will expose many of the insects in the soil, which will be killed by the severe cold in the winter.

Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service

Next week will be known as Donor Enrolment Week in Northern Alberta when the Canadian Red Cross campaign for more blood donors gets under way. The purpose of the campaign is to increase the present registration in those centres where blood donor clinics have already been held. It is also expected by the Red Cross officials that increased registration in other areas will enable mobile blood donor clinics to visit new centres.

Red Cross branches will be in charge of the campaign in each district. It is expected the drive for blood donors will take place in the form of a house to house canvass.

During registration week prospective donors will only be asked to give their names. They will be notified at a later date when a blood donor clinic will be held in their district. The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was organized in Alberta last year and since that time over 9000 people in Alberta have received over 25000 transfusions of blood and plasma. The Red Cross is now the sole source of supply for whole blood and plasma to all Alberta hospitals. Patients receive the transfusion entirely free of charge. Blood collected at clinics by the Red Cross is shipped to blood banks located throughout the Province. When supplies of blood or plasma are required, hospital authorities contact the Red Cross and blood of the required group is immediately despatched to the hospital. The ever present supply of whole blood and plasma maintained by the Blood Transfusion Service is credited by hospital and medical authorities with the saving of countless lives since the service was organized by the Canadian Red Cross.

Red Cross officials point out that the present donation of blood taken is smaller than the wartime donation. They also stated that dieting prior to the giving of blood is no longer necessary. When attending the clinic prospective donors are first tested to determine whether they are physically fit to give blood. There is no pain or discomfort in giving a donation and it only takes a few minutes of the donor's time.

The age limit for blood donors is 18 to 65 years. Anyone not registered is urged to contact their local Red Cross.

Standards Of Health

IT IS ENCOURAGING TO LEARN of the progress which has been made by medical science in conquering disease and prolonging life. While we hear a great deal about this battle against disease, concrete facts concerning the results which are achieved are not always so well known. Recent statistics published in Canada, show that the average life span here has been increased since the beginning of the century from 44 years to 66 years. In the United States, life expectancy is at present 67 years, almost a year more than the figure for 1945, and nearly two years longer than in 1939. One of the reasons for the rise in the average life span in both countries is believed to be the decrease in infant and maternal mortality rates which have taken place during the past few years.

• • • • •

Still Take High Toll

While the normal life expectancy has been lengthened considerably, there are still a number of diseases which take a high toll of people in later life and there is still much to be done to improve present standards of health. In a recent article on this subject, published by the Royal Bank of Canada, it was pointed out that there should be no complacency over our present records, but that unremitting efforts should be made to further decrease mortality rates and lengthen the number of years which the average person may expect to live. It suggests that what is now needed is a general realization of "the possibilities of healthful living rather than complacency over reduction of death rates," and that the schools are the best places in which to introduce programmes of healthful living to our people.

• • • • •

Much Is Done In Schools

A survey commenced in 1945 by the Canadian Education Association and the Canadian Public Health Association resulted in the conclusion that greater interest should be shown by the school and the community in the physical welfare of the school children as well as in their mental and emotional problems. It is now agreed that good physical health is necessary to a child if he is to progress satisfactorily at school and it is apparent that attention to the health of our children will undoubtedly have far reaching results in laying the foundations for a generation of healthier and more mentally alert adults. In recent years more interest has been taken by the schools in the welfare of the pupils in matters of nutrition, dental care, mental and emotional problems and physical defects. While there are a great many other aspects to the question of improving national health standards, it is apparent that the school is one place in which much can be accomplished in building healthier communities and eventually further reducing mortality rates and increasing the average life span of the people.

HONEY CROP

The Canadian honey crop in 1948 is currently estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at 43,000,000 pounds or 14.8 per cent. more than was harvested in 1947. This is a preliminary figure as the crop was not all harvested at the time the estimate was made. A revised estimate will be released in December.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

Judge. "And you shot your husband with a bow and arrow?"

Widow. "Yes—I didn't want to wake the children."

"Was it not disgraceful the way Smiggs snored in church today?"

"I should think it was. Why, he woke us all up!"

A young farmer interested in the principles of mechanization advertised for a wife.

In due course a young woman replied, indicating that being a farmer's daughter she was well qualified for the position, adding as a further inducement that her father had promised her a tractor as a dowry.

Back came a telegram from the young farmer: "Please send me photograph of tractor."

Junior: "I have only one friend and I hate him."

A beggar knocked unsuspectingly at the door of the village policeman. The door opened and, with bent head, the beggar started telling the tale.

"I didn't eat yesterday," he whined, "and I haven't eaten today." He raised his eyes and noticed blue-uniformed legs. "And," he ended, "I don't care a hang if I don't eat tomorrow either!"

The fiery tempered business man had been bested in a real estate deal by a neighbor. He strove to control his anger as he dictated the following letter to his secretary:

"Why is it that the [illegible] women can hold on to the best servants?" asked the lady of the house of her cook in a moment of confidence.

"Ah, there you go with your compliments, ma'am," replied the cook, "but I'm sure I don't know." 2798

How To Get Quick Relief From Sore, Painful Piles

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you too if you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles.

My Hem-Roid treatment is different. Hem-Roid is no internal medicine — a small tablet taken with a glass of water. It corrects the conditions INSIDE your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you. Hem-Roid seems to help some pile sufferers more than others so I want to protect those who are not satisfied. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them as much as they expect it to. If Hem-Roid helps you, surely it is worth the small cost. Otherwise I want you to have your money back. I'll take your word. I find people are honest about such things.

All I ask is you use Hem-Roid as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied return what you did not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid is an unusual medicine. It has been sold on a refund promise for over 60 years. I am not asked to make many refunds so it must help most folks who use it. At all drug stores.

Fire Losses In Canada Show Increase

Although five of Canada's nine provinces showed lower per capita fire losses in 1947 than in 1946, the Dominion as a whole recorded an increase from $4.01 to $4.53 per capita.

The four provinces where increases occurred were British Columbia from $3.21 to $8.61, Manitoba from $2.68 to $3.13, Nova Scotia from $4.11 to $5.46, Ontario from $3.96 to $4.53.

The number of fires generally was lower than in the previous year, but a substantial proportion of the larger monetary loss was due to the increased number of large fires where the loss exceeded $50,000.

These large fires numbered 155 with an aggregate financial loss of over $20.2 millions. In 1946 there were 138 such fires with a total loss of $15 millions.

Lowest per capita loss as usual was shown by Saskatchewan at $1.78.

Second to Saskatchewan came Alberta with a per capita loss of $2.20, conditions in Alberta being somewhat similar to those in Saskatchewan, although Alberta is more highly industrialized.

Highest per capita loss was shown by British Columbia at $8.61, against $3.41 in 1946. Total losses in British Columbia at over $9.3 millions were swollen substantially by a number of large fires, one at Port Alberni amounting to $2.1 millions, another in Yale County to $380,000 and one in Victoria County of $272,000. In addition there were a number of other fires with losses of over $100,000.

Prevention Of Future Floods To Be Costly

WINNIPEG.—Prevention of future floods along low-lying areas surrounding the Red River—which sweeps up through the Dakotas to its Lake Winnipeg basin in mid-central Manitoba—will cost approximately $17,000,000.

City Engineer W. D. Hurst made this report following an extended survey of the river in company with engineers from the Provincial, Dominion and United States governments.

The survey was prompted by flood conditions last spring, when millions of dollars worth of damage was caused when the river went on its wildest rampage within the memory of old-timers.

Approximately $1,800,000 already has been spent on flood control work by the United States Government in the valley, another $3,300,000 now is being utilized and authorization has been granted for another $12,250,000 worth of work.

Record Crops in U. S.

Crop production in the U.S. this year may surpass the record established in 1946, and the outstanding crop of 1942. A record corn harvest is expected, and the second largest wheat crop in the nation's history has been harvested. Reports show that cotton, rice, barley, oats and flaxseed will give large yields.

Retired Color-Sergeant Famous Scots Guards Vermilion Visitor

VETERAN OF THREE WARS; SIX MEDAL AWARDS

A man with a unique record, James G. McGregor, 85 years of age, a retired Color-Sergeant of the famous Scots Guards, veteran of three wars and winner of seven medals, was a distinguished visitor in Vermilion recently. He was the guest of his son James G. McGregor, official of the Canadian Utilities who is in charge of the construction of that company's huge new electrical plant here.

The veteran soldier was born at Glasgow, Scotland in 1863. His army career commenced at 19 years of age when he enlisted in the famous Scots Guards. For 21 years he served that regiment and during that time saw active service through two wars, the Egyptian campaign from 1884 to 1886 and again with Kitchener when he recaptured Khartoum in 1898.

He then went through the Boer war seeing active service during the years of 1901 and 1902. He attained the rank of Color-Sergeant in a regiment where promotions are hard come by. Returning to England in 1903 he received his honorable discharge having reached the age of 40 years. The army was in his blood however and he immediately joined Lord Lovatt's Scouts in the north of Scotland.

In 1908 he left his army career behind him for the time being and migrated to Canada. He homesteaded in the Westlock district and despite the vast difference in the vocations he made a success of his farming operations, and Westlock became the family home.

He could not resist the need of his country in the First Great War and notwithstanding the fact that he was overage enlisted with the Canadian 192nd Battalion in 1916. He went overseas to England but due to being well over military age, 51 years old he was not allowed to go to France much to his annoyance. He quickly achieved the rank of Sgt. Major and proved invaluable in the training of the troops. At the end of the war he was discharged with the rank of Sergeant Major and returned to his family at Westlock. Until three years ago he actively pursued his farming interests but since that time he has made his home with his son Jim and family at Calgary.

WINS SEVEN MEDALS

Each one of his seven medals carefully preserved in a glass frame carries a story in itself. The first one of the row is a record of personal bravery quite apart from war. It is dated 1890 and was awarded for the saving of life from a fire in Wellington barracks at London.

The second medal is the Distinguished Conduct medal won by conspicuous bravery on the field of action in South Africa during the Boer war.

Third in line is the Suakin, an Egyptian war medal awarded him in 1885, while a second Egyptian medal, the Egyptian Star, a picturesque medal, is seen at the very end of the row bringing back memories of the battles in the Sudan from 1881 to 1886.

Fourth and fifth in the picture are the two medals won in South Africa during 1901 and 1902. The first is the Queen Victoria medal and the picture of that beloved monarch is seen clearly on the face of the decoration. In connection with this medal six bars name the famous battles in which Color-Sergeant McGregor fought, including battles of Belfast, Diamond Hill, Johannesburg, Driefontein, Modder River and Belmont. The second medal awarded by King Edward 7th has two bars.

Second from the end is seen the service medal of the First Great War. Finally the last medal in the row is the Egyptian Star mentioned before.

Mr. McGregor at 85 years, is upright and active. He maintains the soldierly bearing so indicative of a very good health all of his long life Scots Guardsman. He has enjoyed and attributes this to a fine physique, built up by army training. He recalls all of his army experiences clearly and has a world of history at his fingertips.

A unique career indeed, one in which his motherland was served through three wars, then coming to a new country and new vocation to make a further contribution by way of a home, productive farm and a fine family.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE SPECIAL ROOM

Sound The Outside World Did Not Share.

By BASCOM BIGGERS III

NORMA smiled secretly at the gift she had gotten Sam for their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Then she put it away and went back to the kitchen to finish lunch. Twenty-fifth anniversary next week. Silver anniversary. It was a long time to be together. There was only one thing she needed to make it complete. Maybe Sam would have the answer when he came in from the postoffice for lunch.

She turned the radio up a little. She guessed if she lived to be a hundred she would never get accustomed to the silence after having known the hustle and bustle of two boys. It was two years now since Harold, the oldest, had married. Bobby had naturally been first. In spite of the two years, she still imagined now and then that she could hear them bustling around in their rooms.

It seemed a little odd that they both had to marry out-of-town girls. She had hoped that at least one of them would settle in Anderson. But when they hadn't, she had taken it graciously. It was natural for girls to want to live near their parents. Like the old saying, when a son marries the mother loses him, but when the [illegible] the mother gains a son.

She heard the front screen slam and in a minute Sam grabbed her from the back, binding her arms to her side and burying a kiss in her greying hair.

"Guess what came today," he said.

"You got a letter from one of the boys," she said excitedly.

He released her and went to the refrigerator, taking out the pitcher and nonchalantly pouring himself a glass of water. There was a mischievous twinkle in his blue eyes.

"Whatever made you think that?" he said.

"Sam, you stop teasing me now. It was a letter from one of the boys."

"Nope," he said, sitting down on the kitchen stool and rubbing the back of his thin neck. "You're wrong. It wasn't a letter from one of the boys."

"Oh," she said flatly.

"It was a letter from each of the boys," he laughed.

"Oh, Sam," she said, laughing and hugging him. "They're coming, aren't they? They're coming for the anniversary. I can tell."

"Yes, and bringing their wives. Here," he said, handing her the letters, "read them for yourself."

When she finished the letters, she brushed away the tears that had collected in the corners of her brown eyes and hurried to get lunch on the table. She still had the characteristic little movements that reminded Sam of the first meal she had cooked for him. They were very apparent when she was happy as she was now.

"Now," she said, passing him the bread, "we've got to figure out where we're going to put them."

"Why, that's no problem. Besides the sleeping porch, we've got two extra bedrooms now. The boys' old room and the special guest room."

"That special guest room is just the trouble," she said, frowning over her iced tea. "Which one will we put in it?"

The special guest room had always been kind of a secret joke with them and [illegible]. One in which the outside world did not share. Whenever there were several guests in the house, they always put the favorites or "special" ones in the guest room. The others got put on the sleeping porch. The sleeping porch was nice enough, but it just wasn't to be compared with the guest room which had the best of everything in the house. Norma had brought the idea from her family about a special guest room. It was almost a tradition. It was considered an honor to find a piece of furniture or an article worthy of being put in there.

"I see what you mean," said Sam. "We don't want to show partiality."

"No," said Norma, shaking her head. "No, we certainly don't."

She was remembering the terrible time they had when Bobby got it into his head that Harold was the favorite because he was older and had been first. It had started when Harold took a trip with Sam and Bobby wasn't well enough to go.

She had talked to Bobby at great length about it, and they had shed many tears over it. She tried to explain, and it wasn't easy to do with a thirteen-year-old, that parents could love their children in different ways without loving one more than the other. She tried to show him how it was like with friends, you loved them for different reasons, [illegible] that didn't make you love one [illegible] than the other. If she [illegible] sons, she told him, she would love the last just as much as the first.

But she had never been certain that he understood. And from that day to this there was always just a portion of fear in the back of her mind that made her measure what she did for one son against what she did for the other. No, she couldn't risk it with the special guest room.

"We could just not use it at all," said Sam.

"No," said Norma, "that would look suspicious." And then a smile blessed her face and she knew happily what they would do.

"Sam, we won't be the most special people in the house, but the special occasion will be for us. You and I will stay in the special guest room. We never have. It will be our anniversary gift from the house."

"Of course," said Sam, getting up and hugging her. "Norma, you're a genius. The boys will love it. And so will I. After twenty-five beautiful years together, a man and his wife deserve a special room together."

Norma smiled happily, thinking that any room with Sam was a special room.

Arctic Baby Bonus....How Best To Spend It

It has been somewhat difficult providing the Eskimos with health instructions, and a visit by the nurse, as depicted above, is an altogether too infrequent occurrence. When the Family Allowance posters find their way into the igloos of the Arctic, health information and facts on disease prevention will help to relieve much suffering.

(Written Specially for this Newspaper by Central Press Canadian)

To catch the eye of Eskimo mothers, a unique poster printed in Eskimo syllabics and telling how best to spend family allowance money in the land of ice and snow, is now being distributed throughout the Canadian Arctic regions.

Issued by the department of national health and welfare, this poster, first of its kind in the world, gives evidence of the far-reaching humanitarian benefits of Canada's social security program. For not only does the Canadian government give every mother in Canada, rich or poor, a monthly cheque to help buy food and clothing for her children, but the government also provides mothers with information on how best to spend their allowances.

It is easy to provide the English and French-speaking mothers of the more populated areas with health education along with their cheques. But it has been quite a problem to find a way of reaching into the igloos of the Arctic with facts on food, sanitation, disease prevention and other health information.

With the sailing of the little ship Regina Polaris from Montreal to the Arctic via Hudson Strait, this problem has been overcome. For, aboard this ship which makes an annual trip to the Arctic with supplies, is one very important parcel this time. It contains 100 family allowance posters. These will be hung up in the trading posts throughout the Arctic as the supply ship makes her rounds of the north.

With its dramatic photo of an Eskimo mother and her papoose, the big card tells Canadian Eskimos the items they may purchase with their family allowance money. Translated from the Eskimo tongue, the items listed on this history-making poster [illegible]:

Dried or evaporated milk; baby cereal; flour, Canada approved vitamin B only; rolled oats, oatmeal, seal biscuits; sugar, corn syrup, molasses, marmalade, jam; fresh or powdered eggs; peanut butter, cheese, canned or fresh meat; fresh or dried fruit, fruit juices, canned tomatoes; green or dehydrated vegetables, rice, beans, salt, baking powder.

Other items listed for the Eskimos are: Clothing materials and baby clothes; footwear, shirts, caps, mitts, woollen underwear; yarn, thread, needles, thimbles; soaps, baby powder, baby oil, sun glasses, feeding bottles, nipples, wire milk whippers.

There are close to 8,000 Eskimos living in Canada's northland, according to the last Dominion census. Their general health and living standards are reported to be low. Family allowances are already relieving and preventing much suffering in the lonely igloos.

Clothing items which the Canadian Eskimos may purchase with their family allowance money are listed on the history-making poster. The mother of this little youngster made sure that he would not catch a chill, as he carefully takes his very [illegible].

Love For Farm Cow Kills Wild Moose

BARRIE, Ont. — A wild bull moose died from inflammation of the lungs — lovesick for a red cow in a farmer's barnyard.

His sickness was brought on by struggles with men who wanted to take him away from the farmyard and back to his natural habitat.

The 1,200-pound moose [illegible] of the bush and struck up a friendship with the red cow on Lawrence Odmer's farm near Port Severn, Ont., 30 miles north of here on Georgian Bay.

Lands Department officials decided it was dangerous to leave the animal in a settled area with the [illegible] approaching. They lassoed and trucked him away to a provincial park.

But the park pens weren't strong enough to hold him so he was taken to a barn on another nearby farm where he died.

Sap in a tree may freeze and crack the wood.

Landlord Carried Out Eviction Thoroughly

ST. BONIFACE, Man.—Never underestimate the power of an eviction order.

Mrs. Albert Johnson discovered that. She left home to visit friends, locking the door behind her, after earlier having received an order to vacate the premises.

When she returned her furnishings were on the street and the house had disappeared.

During her absence contents of the home had been removed, the building put on wheels and moved to a new locality by the landlord.

PLEASED CHILDREN

When weather spoiled attendance at a fete in Bristol, England, recently, a caterer had 8,000 cakes and cream buns left. He told assistants to give them to children who might like them. They were gone in five minutes.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "Tell [illegible]"

The question of religious education in the home, is one that presents many difficulties, especially in this ultra-modern age. Nevertheless it is one that ought to have the special attention of all parents.

Seeing that children from birth until the age of accountability are not held responsible for their actions this responsibility rests with the parents. Likewise the development of [illegible] character is the dual responsibility of the father and mother.

It goes without argument that the child of very early age is neutral — willing to take whatever course is marked out by others. [illegible] from the natural tendency to sinfulness that is inherited, I believe that I am safe in saying that each of us is a combination of imitations, that is we, through the years have chosen to absorb the good or the bad, or both that we have met in others, and today we are [illegible] we are, largely because of the things we have taken as part of ourselves from outside. (Now the spirit that lies behind our choosing is determined by our relationship to God. But that is a subject for another time.)

Accomplishing the feat of parenthood is something [illegible] than a mere achievement, it is a sacred trust given by God, a trust which has a vast influence upon the nation, for the home has long been recognized as the backbone of any country, and Christian principles are the foundation stones of the home. If parents allow Christian principles of living to be put aside the home life is sure to deteriorate, and the influence of the [illegible] will not have the proper effect upon the character building of the child.

It is true that there is a great difference between the mental attitude of the children of today as compared with the children of three decades ago. Then they usually accepted the reasonings of older people without questioning. However, it is not so today. [illegible] many of you parents know little Mary who [illegible] is not easily convinced and does not accept her mother's reasoning. She wants to know why she should go to Sunday school. She is told that it is good for her to go to Sunday school and that [illegible] wants her to go because it will make her a good girl. The girl [illegible] thinking [illegible] Sunday school [illegible] good to Mama [illegible] The parent in all probability will make Mary go to Sunday school but she will go with a sinister feeling that something is being put over on her, and her [illegible].

The type of home into which a child is born has a great influence on the set of [illegible] life. If the child is brought up [illegible] home, and receives his example [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] duced a total of 27 men whose names may be found in the American and English Encyclopedias. While in the same number of years a little state noted for its God-honoring homes produced 2,686 such men!"

Yes, Christianity. Evangelistic Christianity in the home is necessary to well brought up children and successful living, but how can it be had? I will offer a few suggestions.

1. There should be a studied co-operation between the Home and the Church.

2. Both parents should be [illegible] home religion.

3. A knowledge of God as a personal Saviour should be the experience of both parents.

4. A family altar [illegible] the permanent feature of the home.

5. A careful study should be made of the personality of the child. Because children belong to the same family it does not mean that they will respond to the same treatment.

6. Parents should support each others rulings and chastisement.

7. Parents should always act the truth that example is much better than precept, and lead their children to their devotional life.

8. Above all, parents should by their daily lives show their children their absolute loyalty to God and the means of Grace, this is, the Bible, Prayer and the Church.

Much misconstruction and bitterness are spared to him who thinks naturally upon what he owes to others rather than what he ought to expect from them.—Madame Guizot.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU FOUND $500? — PENSIONER HAS ANSWER

VANCOUVER. — Fred Allen, 70-year-old retired C.N.R. locomotive engineer, walked out of his suite and saw a billfold on the sidewalk.

He figured it was another of those practical jokes, so kicked the wallet into the gutter.

As it flew through the air he thought he glimpsed a lot of money. So he picked up the wallet, put it in his overcoat pocket and went on his way.

A bit earlier, at the same spot, Thomas Hawley had fished in his pocket for pennies for his granddaughter. In the process he lost his wallet containing $500.

It was a good job Fred Allen was the finder. Not everybody has the same feeling toward a rich find like that. And with pensioners pennies count.

When he had a good look at the contents of the wallet, this is the way Fred Allen felt:

"I darn' near croaked."

"Then my Methodist mother and my conscience took hold and I figured it was somebody's life savings."

It was—just about. The Hawleys planned to use the money as a down-payment on a house.

Today the reluctant-to-talk railroader made fun of his honesty.

"I didn't know I had it in me," he added. "If you knew how tough it was to part with that roll—more money than I've seen in one place for 30 years."

He retired five years ago after a 50-year career as fireman and at the throttle of locomotives from one end of the country to the other.

Mrs. Allen died two years ago, so now he "batches" with a retired customs man in similar circumstances. They have a lot in common—including "lousy hands of crib".

Back to the Allen philosophy he also said with a twinkle in his eye: "I'd steal in a poker game too."

The Hawley's gave Fred Allen a present in appreciation.

"He's sure a fine man," Mr Hawley said.

Fred Allen won't agree—but then he's an old railroader and he likes to think he's pretty hard-boiled.—Vancouver Province.

University Warns Chicken Thieves

SASKATOON. — Saskatchewan learned of its first radio-active thief.

Someone broke into the University of Saskatchewan's poultry pen and stole some chickens.

W. J. Rae, Professor of Animal Husbandry, said the university is conducting experiments with radio-active chickens.

"If the thief ate the bird undergoing such experiments, the results might be serious and he likely would have been apprehended by a doctor instead of the police."

The university had been feeding some hens a radio-active mash to determine what the body does with certain elements.

Living Costs Much Lower In Far North

VANCOUVER. — Housewives, this is it!

Don McDonald, of Toronto, said his food bill for a six-month period at Coppermine in Canada's far north was only $75.

And the 24-year-old prospector added: "It would be less if I didn't like coffee and tobacco so much."

Stopping over here on his way home to Toronto McDonald said people don't believe his food-bill story. "And they laugh when I tell them Eskimos smoke popular brands of cigarettes."

Sirloin steaks in the northern region cost half the price paid by the Canadian housewife. 2786

Indians Find Pemmican Edible After Being Buried 100 Years

ALBERTA'S Indians still make pemmican, from the meat of deer, moose and elk, but they can't make it last as long as the "[illegible]" pemmican buried on the hilltops of Alberta more than a hundred years ago.

This summer, farmers near Buttle found several chunks of the old pemmican on fresh breaking, and its description tallies identically with that of pemmican we found on new breaking in the Paddle Valley, about 100 miles northwest of Edmonton, some 30 years ago. The pieces are shaped somewhat like a large loaf of bread, [illegible] a foot long and seven inches through. As a boy I had a collection of rounder "loaves", shaped not unlike a round Christmas pudding. The pemmican was quite red inside, looking like dry raw meat, and there were white streaks throughout which Chipewyans told us was the tallow of moose and buffalo.

Indians near Rocky Mountain House, where this latest pemmican was unearthed, say it is buffalo meat which was pounded by the squaws into a mince-meat, then rolled tightly in hide and buried about a foot below the ground, where the Indians hoped to dig it up again if ever their food supplies ran low.

Even the oldest Indians around Buttle have forgotten how their forefathers cured this meat in such a way that it has remained fresh and unspoiled all these years. The secret of that curing process, they say, was lost slightly over a hundred years ago.

The old pemmican is hard, but can be cut with a knife, and has been buried so long that the hide had blended with the meat. A hungry person could still boil it and obtain a reasonably fresh meal.

Alberta Indians still make pemmican from wild meat dried in strips, with wild berries pounded into it. When dried in the sun, it keeps indefinitely. But even the natives are puzzled by the rediscovery of pemmican that has kept wholesome while buried longer than the oldest redman can remember.—J.W., in The Family Herald.

CANADA NEEDS LARGER POPULATION

WEYBURN. — After travelling [illegible] the western provinces, Ryerson Christie, Rotary district governor of Cardston, Alta., said there was need for a much larger population in Canada. Mr. Christie was speaking to the Weyburn Rotary club on his official visit to the city.

Mr Christie said if there were 25,000,000 to 50,000,000 people here, the people here would be assured a better living than at present. He said there would be an improvement in the health of the people, in education, in roads and many other things. He said there are many possibilities here and we have the means of developing them.

Mr. Christie said the only thing we lack is the ability to live together in peace.

- 3 eggs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 6 tablespoons hot milk

Sift and measure sugar. Sift and measure flour and sift three times more with baking powder. Beat the whole eggs until very thick and lemon colored. Add salt and sugar slowly, beating steadily. Shape into loaves and let rise again until double in bulk.

Greek Princess Plans To Farm In West

MONTREAL. — Princess Soutzo, member of the Greek royalty, is a woman who hopes to start life anew in Canada and is off to join her son, Prince Constantin, in Calgary.

The princess, a gracious, middle-aged woman who escaped from Roumania last March after the abdication of King Michael, reached Montreal recently on the Empress of Canada.

She told reporters she and her son hope to farm in the West.

"My son is a good farmer," the princess said. "He used to manage our big estates in Roumania and specialized in wheat growing."

Islay Lady Bereaved by Death of Father

SAMUEL JAMES BOYLE

On October 8th, Mr. Samuel James Boyle, of Minburn, Alberta, passed away in Edmonton. He leaves to mourn his loss 4 daughters: Mrs. Wilfred Purvis of Islay, Alta.; Mrs. Fred Hardy of Guelph, Ont.; Mrs. Andrew Nisbet of Edmonton, Mrs. J. H. Brigham of Edmonton; 3 sons, Norman, William and Alfred, all of Minburn. 31 grandchildren; 1 sister, Mrs. Sophia Talbot of London, Ont. Funeral services were held at the Minburn United church on Monday afternoon at 2 pm. The Rev. K. C. McLeod officiated and interment took place in the Minburn cemetery.

Expresses Appreciation

We would like to thank everyone who turned out to help, during our absence at the time our home burned.

May we also take this opportunity of thanking each and everyone who so generously donated, contributed and aided in any way to help get our new home together. Words cannot express our appreciation. Such kindness will never be forgotten.

Marinus Joy Hansen,
R.R. 2, Kitscoty, Alta.

"Stagettes pull together" and believe me we were pulling last meeting night, weren't we gals? Anyone sprouting any new grey hairs.

After the business session the girls willingly put nimble fingers to work cutting out all sorts of weird looking things—maybe for decorations. Could be. The new members were really enthusiastic and worked like little beavers. That's the real Stagette spirit girls. We were also pleased to have Doris with us.

University Alumni Plans Annual Homecoming Week-end

OCTOBER 15th TO 17th

Extensive plans promise an elaborate Homecoming Week end at the University of Alberta on Saturday and Sunday, this week end, Oct. 15-17. Special recognition will be afforded the class of '23, this year celebrating their silver anniversary, although any and all graduates are cordially invited. Students' Union Vice-President, Miss Elaine Brown, and director of Homecoming Week end Mr. Merle Summers are sparing no effort to make this third annual gathering of graduates equal to, if not better than, the Homecoming of 1947.

Wherever you are — whatever you are let University bonds assert themselves superior to all other ties this week end. Plan to attend Alumni Homecoming Week.

Chatsworth Chatter

(These notes were intended for the week of Oct. 4th.)

With the past week of bright sunshiny weather, many fields have been cleared by combine and by threshing machine. Threshing was resumed in the middle of last week. Had the harvest been even, all the threshing could have been completed by this time. However, spring conditions of growth were so unequal that it has resulted in a delayed threshing.

Frost on Thursday and Friday night (Sept. 30 and Oct. 1) was very severe, thermometers here registering 10 above zero. It destroyed the beautiful colors of autumn leaves and set folks who did not have their potatoes dug to worrying over possible damage. Most garden stuff is now safely garnered.

Drilling for oil has now ceased on the Hayward place and the outfit has left this vicinity.

Mr. H. J. Davies of Calgary was a visitor to the town and district last week.

[illegible] will be interested to hear of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Good, at Innisfail, on Sunday Sept. 12th. The baby weighed 9 lbs. 6 oz. and is to be named Allan Blair.

Byron Ferguson was a recent visitor to the district, and took his turn on Steve Jacula's threshing crew while here.

Mr. George Carr of Field, B.C., spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hutchinson last week.

The next meeting of the Chatsworth Country club will be held at Mrs. Patterson's on Oct. 21st. Madeline and Mrs. Patterson are in charge of the social end of the meeting. Ann is responsible for the prize for the nickel draw and lunch committee is Mrs. M. Tovell, Mrs. Arthur Tovell, Mrs. Albert Tovell and Mrs. Jim Thompson. A food parcel is to be packed as usual.

THE VERMILION STANDARD

Vol. X'. No. 21. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, October 21st, 1948. $2.00 A Year

Geo. Webb Heads Curlers For 1948-49 Season

NINE-SHEET BONSPIEL AGAIN PLANNED — BANK BALANCE ON HAND $873.27.

Geo. Webb was elected president of the Vermilion Curling club at the annual meeting of that body held on Monday evening. The complete slate of officers for the year follows:

Hon. President—His Worship The Mayor
President—George C. Webb
Vice-Pres.—E. M. Stewart
Sec.-Treas.—Russell Carroll
Chaplain—Rev. E. S. Heikle

Draw Committee — Loyal Amos, chairman; Wm. Sutherland, Charles Heckbert.

Ice Committee — Lloyd McFadden, Reg Spencer, Glen Good, Allen Currah, Mac Simonsen, Lorne Porkett, with power to add.

Building Committee—S. C. Heckbert, Percy Moffatt, Ross Boake.

Executive—Ed Corley, S. C. Heckbert, L. Amos, L. E. McFadden, Glen Good, Gordon Ross.

The financial statement showed receipts of $2845.36 for the 1947-48 season, expenditures of $1972.09 leaving a tidy balance of $873.27. Against this however there is a loan of $400 outstanding.

The building committee was instructed to push the installation of water and sewer into the rink, together with a water heating system, as quickly as possible.

It was decided to again hold a 9-sheet bonspiel providing the arena rink can be obtained for the necessary length of time. Dates for the various bonspiels on the C.N. between Lloydminster and Vegreville are to be set at a joint meeting of all the clubs concerned. It is proposed to hold this meeting at Mannville in the very near future.

Fred Firth, retiring secretary of the club, was voted an honorarium of $25. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the retiring president and vice-president Russell Carroll and Bill Barr for the very valuable services rendered.

Expansion of Curling Club

The Vermilion Curling club has developed tremendously in the past 3 years. Records show in 1945-46 there were enough members for 17 rinks. In 1946-47 the number increased to 22 rinks; last season 1947-48 this again jumped to 31 rinks. In 1947 the entire curling rink was renovated, the building straightened up and a cement foundation put in all the way round. The waiting room was enlarged and improved greatly, as well as the lunch room upstairs and a large counter installed. In 1947 the club branched out with a 9-sheet bonspiel and this was repeated with great success in '48. All in all the record of achievement of the curling club in the past three years has been noteworthy.

[illegible]

Method of selection of rinks will be the same as for the past few years. A complete canvass of curlers will be made, the necessary number of skips elected at a general meeting of the club, the skip is then to select his own third man, names of all other curlers will be put on the board and the skips will take turns drawing them.

Engage Caretaker

Roy Stone who acted as icemaker for the latter part of last season, has been engaged to carry on this winter.

FEES $10.00

Curling fees were set at $10, box rentals $1, high school students, $5.

Particular notice was taken of the $250 given by the ladies' curling club to the building fund, and gratification for the handsome donation was expressed.

Amateur Night Draws Capacity Audience

The Amateur program sponsored by Canadian Legion last Friday evening attracted a capacity audience which was well entertained by the variety of numbers presented.

Twenty competed in the three classes and winners were as follows:

Junior class, under 14 years — 1, Flora Filgate, 2, Shirley Pilon; 3, Lenore Michael.

Over 14 years—1, George Morlidge of Lloydminster, 2, Betty Burton 3, Shirley McCormick.

Instrumental Class—1, Harold Roebuck, 2, Victor Watt, 3, Mr. and Mrs. E. Isley.

Mr. D. C. Folk of the V.S.A. staff was the adjudicator. Mrs. Charles English and Mrs. Henry Meyers were accompanists. Donald Taylor was M.C.

The program was interspersed with amusing contests under the direction of George Martin, for the youngsters present. These delighted the audience and appeared to be equally enjoyed by the competitors.

Exploration Company Completes Survey

DRILL 30,000 FT. TEST HOLES

The Mountain States Exploration Drilling Company party which has spent the summer in Vermilion while carrying out extensive oil explorations north of town, left last Friday for a new location in Alberta.

While here the party drilled 60 test holes to a depth of 500 feet each, covering an area of thousands of acres north. By various means and tests and the use of the electrolog they are enabled to make a geophysical survey map of the country covered.

The cars, house trailers, drilling machines and trucks of the party made quite a lengthy cavalcade as it filed slowly out of town. It was the largest party of its kind ever to work out from Vermilion, although the town has been headquarters for geophysical and seismograph crews every year since 1940. Headquarters of the Mountain States Exploration Drilling is at Casper, Wyoming. Several of the men brought their families and lived in well-fitted house trailers while here and expressed appreciation of the way they had been treated by the people of Vermilion generally.

Bill Cross Stock Wins at Calgary

According to word received by the Standard just at press time, an Aberdeen Angus female owned by Wm. E. Cross of Vermilion was adjudged the Grand Champion of its breed at the Calgary stock show this week. The cow was later sold for $700 to Ray Bell who operates a 1000 acre farm at Swalwell, Alberta. This is the only information the Standard had received at press time.

Tests of the equipment are now being made at the plant and production will get underway in earnest very shortly.

WINTER LAYERS

All good well bred pullets should be starting to lay now for the winter season. Laying mash and scratch feed must be available at all times but do not force the birds too much. Good management is essential in order to get good records and best results.

BULBS FOR WINTER

We really appreciate a few flowers in the long winter months. Hyacinths, tulips and daffodils are easy to grow in pots to flower from Xmas on to spring. Bulbs can be bought now from all florists and nurserymen. A couple of dollars invested in bulbs will pay big dividends in satisfaction next January. Get a [illegible] on bulbs from your D.A.

Vermilion Welcomes Teachers to Convention

183 REGISTER THURSDAY MORNING

Vermilion is pleased indeed to act as host to over 200 teachers of the Wainwright, Vegreville and Vermilion school divisions, who are gathered in town for their annual convention Thursday and Friday at the school of agriculture. Registrations to noon Thursday numbered 183.

Discussion groups featured the program for Thursday morning and afternoon, with the superintendents period at 3 p.m., a banquet at 6 to p.m. in the V.S.A. dining room and a public dance at 9 p.m.

The A.T.A. locals of the three divisions held separate meetings and then a joint meeting on Friday morning.

Public Invited Friday Afternoon

Addresses by three outstanding men in the field of education have been arranged for Friday afternoon: Dr. Swift, deputy minister of education at 1 p.m.; Mr. Daniels supervisor of elementary education, Calgary at 2; Mr. A. A. Aldridge supervisor of Guidance, department of education at 2.30.

All sessions are being held at the Vermilion school of agriculture and living accommodation is also being provided at the dormitory there.

United Church Moved To New Basement

Taking over after professional movers had given up, a crew of workmen headed by Bill Pettigrew and Ray Barnette, aided by the advice of Engineer Youngston of the Canadian Utilities, are completed the moving of the United church.

The mammouth job consisted of jacking up the 42 by 74 foot frame building which had been built at 3 different times in as many sections some 6 feet, then moving it west 50 feet over the full-size basement and foundation already prepared. Motive power was by two big winch trucks of the Bill Mix Construction Co., Vermilion.

Bill Pettigrew and his men deserve great praise for undertaking the task and carrying it out so perfectly.

Estimated weight of the church is 70 tons. It measures 42 by 74 feet and is 30 feet to the peak of the roof. The steeple is 42 feet high.

The United church people are now enabled to complete the building project which will give them very fine accommodation for Sunday school and other church activities in the community [illegible].

Words cannot describe the difficulties faced by the church movers and the achievement of the workers can best be visualized by looking over the building in its new location and seeing where and how it was sitting prior to the move.

Reserve Force Committee Meets

Under the chairmanship of A. [illegible] Kaiser the Citizens committee of the local Reserve Force unit met on Friday.

It was agreed that the Chairman and N. N. Bentley should interview Major General Penhale G.O.C. Western Command regarding improvements [illegible] "A" Company. A permanent N.C.O. is badly needed here and improvements in the Armory are urgent.

It was felt that the committee at this time could not put on a Military Ball. This event was such a huge success a year ago that many people have asked for another one this year. It is hoped that the Legion will take over this function.

[illegible] discussion centred around the recruiting of men in "A" Company of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment. The committee urges young men between 17 and 30 to go down to the Armory Wednesday evenings and see what the instructors have to offer in protective drill, weapon training and [illegible].

Capt. F. H. Buckingham acted as secretary of the meeting.

Old Timers Round-Up, Banquet This Friday

The annual old timers round-up which consists of a banquet and dance will be held in the Elks hall this Friday evening Oct. 22 commencing at 6.30 p.m. All persons west of the Great Lakes by the year 1910 and members of such families are eligible to join the Vermilion Old Timers Association. Starry Pee-Wee Hockey Player Shot in Foot

Tom Acheson, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Acheson, starry pee-wee hockey player of last year, accidentally shot himself through the foot while out shooting gophers with a .22 rifle. The bullet passed cleanly through his foot without touching bones or cords. Tom was easing off the bolt which was in firing position when it slipped and the gun discharged. Fortunately Tom was accompanied by his father and the injured foot soon had medical attention. It is thought that he will be as good as ever when the hockey season rolls around.

Legion Renews Lease

Post 11, Canadian Legion held its monthly meeting in the new Memorial hall on Monday evening.

Islay Church Is Scene of Pretty Wedding

MARR—MARTIN

Knox United church, Islay, Alberta, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday when Rev. Geo. Driver united in marriage Margaret Winnifred Martin, daughter of Mrs. Robert Martin and the late Robert Martin to Donal Douglas Marr, son of Mr and Mrs. George Marr of Edam, Sask.

[illegible] and ferns decorated the church. Guest pews were decorated with white ribbon and heather, the heather being sent by an aunt of the groom from [illegible].

Given in marriage by her brother David H Martin, the bride looked charming in a suit of fuchsia gabardine with gray accessories and wore a corsage of cream aphelia roses and sprigs of white heather.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jeannie Haughton of Edmonton, chose for the occasion a dark green gabardine suit with brown accessories, her corsage was of peach aphelia roses.

The wedding music was played by Mrs Geo. Driver.

Mr David Marr, brother of the groom acted as best man and Mr. Wm. Hancock was usher.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr and Mrs. David Martin brother and sister-in-law of the bride. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered cake, ornamented with tall white tapers.

Those assisting were Mrs. Jean Newell, Mrs. G Midgley, Mrs. W. Hancock, Mrs. K. Kent. Mrs. R. Scott poured tea. For the occasion the bride's mother chose a black dress with sequin trim and wore a corsage of peach roses and carnations. The groom's mother chose a wine dress with lace bodice and wore a rose corsage.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Marr, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meltharpe, all of Edmonton, Mrs. Jean Newell, North Battleford, Miss Marion Stone, Oshawa, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Urquhart, Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White, Minburn, Mr. and Mrs Robert Scott, Saskatoon and Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Driver, Kitscoty.

Later the couple left for Edmonton and Calgary. On their return the groom will attend University in Saskatoon and after April 1st they will reside on their farm near North Battleford.

WARNING TO PARENTS

Parents should make a special effort to keep matches out of the reach of small children as the fall has been a dry one and a disastrous fire could easily be started, to say nothing of the danger to the kiddies. One small lad was noticed being relieved of a pocketful of matches by a thoughtful lady Wednesday morning this week, in a spot where a fire could quite easily have been started.

Fire Call to Craigs

The fire siren wailed out its warning late last Friday afternoon when considerable smoke was discovered in the south end of the 3rd storey of Craig's store. There was a high wind at the time. The brigade had occasion to use their ladder truck and ladders to reach the roof and the firemen swarmed up this like monkeys.

The fire itself seemed to be confined to the brick chimney which is used on the ground floor for the burning of rubbish, paper, etc. The smoke was thought caused by a back-draft [illegible] wind was blowing. No damage was reported.

Lovely Weather

Lovely weather has been enjoyed all this week, although last Friday morning a half inch of snow covered the ground and Friday and Saturday were cool. The weather improved Sunday and has been very fine since until this Thursday morning when a light rain fell. Promises are held for things brightening up during the day and the warm weather continuing.

LACK OF SUMMER RAIN DRYS UP FALLS— Lack of summer rain has caused the 274-foot Montmorency Falls in Quebec to dry up. Most of the water from river which feeds falls is diverted for Quebec City power. Bone-dry is face of the falls and only a pool of water remains at its foot. Drying-up has not affected the power supply and there is no shortage of electricity in the area.—S.N.S. photo.

The "phantom" is reported to have been eating jam, raw potatoes, tying knots in window curtains, rapping on doors and rocking in the parlor chair in the farmhouse near Stittsville, Ont. Committees Plan Youth Activities At Elk Point

Members of the joint group committee and local association governing the activities of the 1st Elk Point Group Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs and Brownies, and of the local centre of the St. John Ambulance Association, held a meeting with the leaders of the various groups this week to plan activities for the coming year. Financial reports from the various groups were read and the matter of raising funds for the coming years was discussed. All groups reported having successful camps during the summer months. A donation of $25 from a local firm was gratefully acknowledged. Efforts are being made to purchase a hut to be used as a hall for the local youth groups concerned. At present meetings are being held in the Elk Point Legion hall. Leaders of the groups for the coming year will be:

Boy Scouts, Scoutmaster — J. V. Jacobson, Troop Leader — Sydney Bates, Girl Guides Captain — N.B. Sumpton, Lieutenant — Lois Blackmore, Brownies—Acting Brown Owl —F. McDonell assisted by Miss Lillian Miller, St. John Ambulance Cadets: Cadet Surgeon—F. G. Miller; Cadet Supt.—J. V. Jacobson, Nursing Cadets: Lady Cadet Supt. — N. B. Sumpton, Lady Cadet Officer — Lois Blackmore, R.N. Members of the executive consists of: President—Dr. A. Wiegerinck; Vice-President—A. Hain; Secretary—Mrs. N. Fenton; St. John Ambulance Secretary — J. V. Jacobson. Executive committee—Lawrence Sumpton, Mrs. L. Edwards, Mrs. Frank Keitges, Mr. A. T. Raham.

A delightful lunch was served members and leaders at the home of Mrs. Frank Keitges.

WOODVALE

To say nowadays that harvest time is over is not correct. It seems that it stretches forever on. Most farmers in the district are definitely through, have even their greenfeed stacked and are either doing some work on the land yet or are getting ready for the winter, doing the hundred and one odd fixing jobs that always seem to crop up this time of the year. However around the middle of the month we heard of threshing still going on in the Hindville district, crops being cut with the binder around Tolland and fields awaiting the combine in Woodvale. Soon we hope, all will be done with the 1948 harvest.

Another son was born on Oct. 11 to Mr and Mrs Brooks Lysons and we congratulate them and little Art with the new baby.

Leo Lysons is staying with his sister Mrs. Harry Sweeney and going to Thorneville school. Four of the 12 schoolchildren at Ganton school have their birthday in October. Congratulations go to all of them: Margaret and Freddy McGrath, Sylvia Steele and Susan Wolters; also to Eleanor McGrath and Mable Watson. The latter is proudly displaying a pretty watch, a traditional gift in the Watson family for coming of age.

Twelve ladies worked on a quilt they hope will be useful to the Hanson family, at the Red Cross meeting, held at the home of Ruby and Doris Thomson on the 13th. Mrs. Bill Steele was a welcome and very helpful guest and by lunchtime the school girls came too and everyone enjoyed Mrs. Baker's visit when she dropped in after school. It was decided to have the next meeting on Nov. 10th at the home of Mrs. Van Waganingen where another quilt will be worked. There will be an exchange of magazines and books at that meeting too. Ruby and Doris served a very tasty lunch to their guests. Despite the big crowd the absence of Mrs. Sadie and Mrs. Cliff Oldenburg was felt and it was learned with regret that the former had been in the hospital and it is hoped that her health will keep improving. A speedy recovery is also wished for Bill Steele who is in the Vermilion hospital.

Mrs. Otto Wolters and family attended a big family reunion and dinner party at the old Curtis Wilson home where the whole Wilson clan gathered in honor of the visit of Mr and Mrs Curtis Wilson of Chilliwack.

We thought we had a smart pullet laying a double-yolk egg at the tender age of 5½ months but we have to admit that the Wildmore pullet raising a family already has her beat!

FARM FIRE HAZARDS . . .

Winter increases the chance of fire around farms, for oil lamps are needed more often in the home and storm lanterns more frequently in the barns and outbuildings. Only one out of every 7 Canadian farms is served with electricity. Few, because of their location, can be aided by the effective fire-fighting services available to city and town dwellers. Often lack of water and snow-bound roads would make fire-fighting apparatus useless in any case.

In a survey of fires on Canadian farms, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates that 11 per cent of farm fires are caused by the use of inflammable liquids and a quarter arise from faulty heating or cooking equipment.

Farm Radio Forum Returns to the Air

FULL INFORMATION AVAILABLE ON REQUEST

On Monday, Nov. 1 at 8:30 p.m. the National Farm Radio Forum program returns to the air. The Summer Fallow [illegible] which has been heard at this hour changes to the Forum broadcasts for the fall and winter months.

Possibly few of our readers realize that Farm Forum is the world's largest radio study group program. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the Canadian Association for Adult Education are joint sponsors of this program which starts its 9th season on Nov. 1st.

This program has other 'firsts'. Last spring it was granted the first Henry Tory Marshal award for its outstanding achievement in the field of Adult Education. It is the only farm show that is heard from coast to coast on which farm people take a leading role.

Every district in Alberta, or small groups within the district, can participate in this program by organizing listening and discussion groups. Realizing that many interested listeners are not favorably located to join listening groups, the Provincial office plans to extend its service by sending the Farm Forum Guide to individuals for a nominal subscription fee. For further information they should write the Provincial Farm Forum Office, 525 Lougheed Building, Calgary.

Farm Radio Forum can do a great deal to improve social relations, promote community entertainment, spearhead local activities and provide a wealth of information on various topics. This radio service is yours for the asking, but the local community must take the initiative.

Good Natural Gas Supply at Elk Point

SURVEY FOR GAS MAINS — IN USE THIS WINTER.

ELK POINT — Paul Stepa, secretary of the Elk Point Natural Gas Syndicate, advised members of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting here this week, that a survey for the site of the gas mains for the village of Elk Point was being made immediately. The mains will be laid next week and it is hoped that 25 homes will be supplied with gas before winter sets in. All necessary pipe has been obtained but a shortage of gas meters is being experienced.

The syndicate, which consists of a group of Elk Point businessmen, is headed by Dr. Ross as president and Mike Bartoshyk as vice-president, drilled for gas a quarter of a mile from the edge of the village and obtained a supply at a depth of 1864 feet last month. The well, which was drilled by C. H. Withers, produced a flow of 3 to 4 million cubic feet daily at a pressure of 425 pounds per sq. inch.

The Chamber of Commerce encouraged by the good flow of gas, feel that some industrial concerns may wish to become established here and have formed an industrial committee to encourage such developments. The committee is headed by Lawrence Sumpton and consists of Frank Lambright and C. A. Johnson. A need was felt for the establishment of a dry cleaning plant and bakery here. It was also felt that a photographer, a dentist and a lawyer would find considerable business here. The need for a local newspaper was also expressed.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department
Searle Grain Company Ltd.

HIGHER WHEAT PRICES

Last year the bulk of Canadian wheat was sold at the fixed price of $1.55 basis No. 1 Northern Fort William. Our farmers were paid on this basis. This year the bulk of Canadian wheat is being sold again to Britain and for domestic purposes at the [illegible] price of $2 a bushel, but farmers are still being paid on the years lower price, namely $1.[illegible] per bushel. If farmers were paid on the basis of the full price last year surely they could be paid in the same way this year. To this would still leave considerable [illegible] in the Wheat Board [illegible] sale of [illegible] 2 [illegible] wheat for reserves. Our farmers, I suggest, need now all the money they can obtain to rehabilitate their farms and to purchase the very latest labor-saving machinery. It seems to me for one at least that the extra [illegible] a bushel which by the way is the farmer's own money, now being withheld by the Government, would do more good to the agriculture of Canada in the farmer's own pocket now than it would resting in the Treasury of the Dominion Government until some time after the year 19[illegible]

A CAMPAIGN TO SAVE LIVES IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Every day in Alberta, blood transfusions are needed to help save the lives of patients admitted to hospitals throughout the Province.

[illegible] BOTTLES OF BLOOD ARE REQUIRED
EACH WEEK TO MEET THIS DEMAND!

Persons undergoing serious operations—victims of farm or industrial accidents, cases of severe burns—their lives often depend upon the immediate transfusions they receive.

The Canadian Red Cross has guaranteed to supply all hospitals with blood and plasma so urgently required. Under this plan hospital patients receive transfusions entirely free of charge.

YOU as a citizen of this community have an important part to play in this life saving work.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service operates 24 hours a day. It stands ready to supply the requirements of hospital patients immediately when sickness or accident strike BUT . . it must have your support as a voluntary blood donor.

If you are between the ages of 18 to 65, enjoying normal health here is your opportunity to help save the life of a fellow citizen.

REGISTER TODAY!

You will be notified at a later date when the next Blood Donor Clinic will visit your district.

The Red Cross Organizes At Elk Point

DR. A. WIEGERINCK PRES.

At a meeting held in Elk Point this week, a branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was organized. A branch had previously been organized which functioned admirably during the war, but nothing had been done since that time. A need was felt for this organization since the Elk Point [illegible] hospital had been receiving Red Cross blood and plasma for some time, and it was felt that we should return some assistance to the Red Cross Society. Plans are being made for a blood donor clinic to be held here on Oct. 28th. It is hoped that as many persons between the ages of 18 and 65 who can, will be willing to donate their blood for this worthy cause. Blood is supplied entirely free of charge to Alberta civilian and veteran hospitals by the Red Cross and no charge is made for the blood or for the services of the doctor who gives the transfusion to the patient. All those willing to donate blood are being asked to contact the secretary, Mr. J. V. Jacobsen. A doctor and 10 nurses and attendants will be on hand to handle the donations of blood in the Legion hall here. They will be assisted by members of No. 214 Ambulance Cadet Division and No. 255 Ambulance Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Association.

Officers elected for the new Red Cross Branch are: President—Dr. A. Wiegerinck; Vice-Pres. — Mr Alfred Hale; Secretary—Mr J. V. Jacobsen; Treasurer—Mr. R. J. Tredger; Committee members — Mrs. Neil Fenton, Mrs. Frank Keitges, Mr. Lawrence Sumpton, Mrs. L. E. Edwards, Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Blackmore, Mrs. F. McDonell, Mrs. N. B. Sumpton.

Witch-hazel, the North American shrub, native to low woods from Nova Scotia to Minnesota and south to Florida and Texas, derives its name from the use of the twigs as divining rods—just as hazel twigs were used in England.

What Do Cars Need?

There is ample room for improvement in the designing of new motor cars, in the opinion of Canadians answering a Financial Post questionnaire on the subject. A majority felt that the accent should be on safety and comfort, with many non-essential gadgets eliminated in the interests of economy and simplification of production. Others stressed the need for durability and for motor efficiency — i.e., greater mileage to the gallon.

What's In Store for Christmas?

For the individual shopper, the best advice, according to The Financial Post, is that if you do your shopping wisely and well, you'll be able to pick from a wider assortment of goods than last year. But there no volume behind many lines and you won't be able to come down the last few days before Xmas and get anything you want. If you see something and you know you want it, buy when you see it.

First Aid Hints for Dislocations and Bruises

DISLOCATIONS:
A dislocation is the displacement of one or more of the bones of a joint. The joints most frequently dislocated are those of the shoulder, elbow, thumb, fingers and lower jaw.
SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS
1. Pain of a severe sickening character at or near the joint.
2. Loss of power in the joint.
3. Fixity of the joint. The limb cannot be moved at the joint either by the patient or by the First-Aider.
4. Deformity of the limb. The limb assumes an unnatural position, and is mis-shapen at the joint.
5. Swelling about the joint.
TREATMENT:
MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO REDUCE A DISLOCATION.
1. Steady and support the limb in the position which gives most ease to the patient, using padding where necessary in order to lessen the effects of jolting during transport.
2. Rest the patient on a couch or bed in the position which gives most ease.
3. If the pain is severe, expose the injured part and apply a cold compress.
4. When cold ceases to give comfort, apply a hot compress.
BRUISES:
A blow anywhere on the surface of the body may cause extensive capillary haemorrhage beneath the skin, without breaking it — a "black eye" is an instance. The injury is accompanied by discoloration and swelling.
TREATMENT:
Apply pieces of lint soaked in equal parts of spirit and water, or a cold compress.

British Agriculture

BRITAIN'S STRUGGLE FOR economic recovery emphasis has been placed on the urgent need for increasing the production of food and manufactured goods, with the object of exporting as much as possible, and decreasing imports. In a report presented a short time ago to the British House of Commons by the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Williams, some interesting facts were made public regarding recent advances in food production in that country. It was estimated that nearly 300,000 more acres of land were devoted to food production this year than in 1947, and that, next year it is hoped that more than 10,250,000 acres will be under cultivation. Of this acreage, it is expected that 2,340,000 will be used for wheat, 1,000,000 for potatoes, 382,000 for sugar beets and 200,000 for linseed.

• • • • •

Standards For Poultry Raised

It is also hoped that during the next year livestock production will be considerably increased. Poultry production, the report showed, had expanded rapidly, with an increase of 40 per cent, or more than 11,000,000 hens more than in the previous year. Official poultry returns taken last summer, showed that there were at that time over 44,278,000 hens which were expected to increase egg production by 670,000,000 during the present year. The British Ministry of Agriculture has recently introduced new methods of increasing egg production by improving breeds and assisting farmers in various ways to maintain high standards of health among their flocks and to obtain maximum egg production throughout the year.

• • • • •

Help To Bring About Recovery

Milk production has also been increased. It is hoped that 900,000 more calves will be produced next year, and that there will be improvement in the quality of dairy herds. By improving breeds it is estimated that there would be a yearly increase of from 50 to 100 gallons of milk from each cow, and also an increase in the amount of butter fat contained in the milk. All these facts indicate the part which agriculture is playing in Britain's effort to bring about economic recovery. Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who visited Canada recently, expressed optimism over the progress which is being made in this effort, and said that the British people have reason to be very hopeful of its success. It is apparent that the British farmers are doing their part in increasing the output of food and other agricultural products to meet the needs of the country during this critical period.

Blackberries Blamed For Polio Contact

VICTORIA.—Blackberries growing on a vacant lot, and eaten by the sufferers, may be the contact for two Oak Bay Elementary School pupils suffering from poliomyelitis, municipal council has been informed.

The lot was burned off immediately and the whole area sprayed with DDT.

In Vancouver, Dr. Stewart Murray, city medical health officer, said such a contact was a possibility, but only a remote one.

The disease might be transmitted by flies he said, but is much more likely to be transmitted direct from a polio carrier.

SNARE RIVER HYDRO PLANT SUPPLYING YELLOWKNIFE

EDMONTON.—Power now is surging over 90-mile transmission lines of the Snare River hydro plant to Yellowknife supplying 8,000 additional horsepower to Giant Yellowknife and the northern mining town.

The unit which has taken about two years to construct, is the first of several generating plants the government plans to install, eventually for a total output of 25,000 h.p.

The power from the new plants will serve the gold mines in Yellowknife and also residents of the town.

May Stockpile Strategic Metals

OTTAWA.—Canada's defence authorities are considering stockpiling half a dozen strategic metals which would be short in this country in event of war.

This would include such metals as tin and manganese. While the stockpiling program would be relatively small it would be vitally important in any precautionary moves to ensure supplies of all materials for the five Canadian arsenals and the production of war-time industry.

This country is in the fortunate position, however, of being the world's largest producer of base metals, of nickel and of asbestos and because of this situation doesn't find it necessary to launch a stockpiling program in these defence materials.

"In fact we'll be able to trade a lot of base metals and materials like that for the strategic metals we need," one official said.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE, THERE'S NOT ALWAYS FIRE

CARMAN, Man. — Where there's smoke, there's not always fire, Mrs. Perry Metcalfe has discovered. It could be turkeys. Leaving her kitchen for a few minutes, Mrs. Metcalfe returned to find smoke billowing out the door and windows of her home. She rushed inside, expecting to find the oven had set fire to the walls. Then, unable to find any trace of damage, she looked up, and saw one of her turkeys perched calmly atop the chimney. The smoke and the bird were cleared away by a barrage of sticks, one of which broke a kitchen window.

Bird Changed Sex, Reaches Ripe Age

VANCOUVER. — Goo-Goo, a bi-sexual mallard that wanted to see how the other half lived, now is rated a centenarian.

At the ripe old age of 13, the pet of Mr. and Mrs. William Lamountaine is the equivalent of a human well past the century mark.

About 10 years ago Goo-Goo eschewed the mundane female life of egg-laying, at which she was no amateur, and began to change to a quacking, gaily-plumaged drake. Mrs. Lamountaine's suspicions of the chameleon process were confirmed by a game warden.

The bird had achieved a complete change of sex.

Now slightly lame and too heavy to fly, Goo-Goo lives a quiet retired life, but still looks and acts like any well-dressed drake.

Fuel Briquettes Made From Straw And Sawdust

WINNIPEG.—Fuel briquettes can now be made out of straw and sawdust without the use of a "binder", R. A. Sara, managing secretary of the industrial development board, told a meeting of the Manitoba Elec[illegible].

Exhibiting samples of the straw and sawdust briquettes, he said they had the same heat value per pound as lignite coal.

"A machine has been patented," he told the meeting, "that compresses loose straw and sawdust into briquettes with the aid of heat, and the portable machine will be capable of processing 3.4 to 22.4 tons of straw every eight hours, depending on the size of briquettes."

Speaking on new edible and inedible uses of farm products, Mr. Sara told of the growing importance of the oil seed processing industry in [illegible].

Canada has 13 oil extraction plants, of which three are in Manitoba, Mr Sara said, and predicted the rapid expansion of these plants to a position where Canada's annual import of 170,000,000 pounds of vegetable oils will be greatly reduced.

One of them, Ralph Bauer, plugged in his hand telephone and notified his company which called police.

480,000 Persons See Parks in Alberta

More than 482,000 persons visited the national parks in Alberta during the period up to the end of August according to information which the Alberta Motor Association has received from the provincial tourist travel bureau. This was only a slight increase over the previous year, actually 1,812.

While a much heavier tourist trek to Alberta had been expected this year, there were a number of factors which had the effect of holding back the inflow of visitors. Road conditions in some parts of the province were believed to be in part responsible.

Banff visitors increased by 60,321 to give a total of 271, 992. Elk Island with 69,445 showed a gain of 17,942, but Waterton Lakes fell off by 55,000 to report a total of 53,220 while Jasper Park was 1,871 below the 1947 total at the end of August of 60,977.

While Alberta's gain was not as great as had been expected, it was nevertheless well ahead of the total of 400,472, in 1941, the last holiday motoring period before the U.S. entered the war.

Travel officials are confident that 1949 will see a large movement to Alberta providing world conditions are not upset by war.

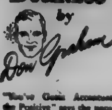
EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by



Don Graham

"You've Gotta Accentuate the Positive" says the popular song of yesteryear. And it's true!

The men and women who have accomplished big things in science, art, business, education, political and military affairs have all been positive thinkers. They had to be! Otherwise risks, mistakes, obstacles and laziness would have stopped them.

A barber once told me he wanted to open his own shop. But he never got around to it. Fear of failure held him back.

Negative thinking is likewise typical of all the people who are habitual fault-finders, indecisive, lazy, defeatist and over-cautious. They act as brakes against the world's progress.

Yes, we need more folks who accentuate the positive. And they themselves are happier, more successful in their work and enjoy better relationships with others!

An important positive force for national progress is the millions of dollars invested by life insurance companies, on behalf of policyholders, in public works and industries which promote higher standards of living for all.

More Electricity for Elk Point Nov. 1st

CANADIAN UTILITIES TAKE OVER SUPPLY

ELK POINT. — Canadian Utilities will take over providing electric light and power to the village of Elk Point on November 1st according to information received here by Chamber of Commerce officials. A power line has been built from the big new plant at Vermilion north to serve Derwent, Elk Point and St. Paul. Many homes in Elk Point which were unable to obtain power from the plant at Elk Point will now be able to enjoy this modern utility. The village has been served for over 20 years by a Diesel plant operated by Drs. Miller and Ross. Increased use of the 110-volt D.C. power in the village has produced an overload on the lines in recent years making the operation of the plant more and more difficult. The change-over to 110-volt A.C. will result in a demand for new motors and appliances. Efforts are being made by the Chamber officials to displace of old D.C. motors.

Elk Point District Teachers Plan Track Meet, Festival

At a meeting of the Elk Point sub-local Alberta Teachers' Association held here this week, plans for activities for the coming year were discussed. It was decided to have a school festival in the spring of the year, to be followed by a track meet and field day in the fall. It was agreed that the festival would not be on a competitive basis, although the items would be adjudicated, with a view to assisting those taking part. A festival committee consisting of J.V. Jacobson, Mrs. F. McDonell and Mrs. A. Kovach was selected. The circuit for the film strip projector was planned for the coming year with details of arrangements in the hands of Mrs. N. B. Sumpton and Miss Daisy Kock. It was decided to request the St. Paul School Division to rent one of their buses to transport teachers to the convention to be held at Bonnyville on Oct. 12 and 13. The executive elected for the 1948-49 term consisted of: President—R. E. Beattie; Vice-President — Mrs. C. D. Howe; Sec.-Treas. — Mrs. N. B. Sumpton; Press Correspondent—J. V. Jacobson.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

Recently I took a very enjoyable trip across four of our provinces. Met old friends, visited familiar places and generally speaking had a very restful and happy time.

I made the journey by railway train and like most of the other passengers took every opportunity to walk up and down the platforms of the various stations at which we stopped for train servicing.

As soon as the train stopped expert trainmen and workers quickly went to work greasing, refueling, wheel-tapping, brake-testing. While this was going on I walked toward the front end of the train and watched the changing of engines.

My! What monsters of railway engines there are today! What a difference between this [illegible] the latest mechanical achievement and the first engine which was put into service more than a hundred years ago. I had an opportunity to make comparison for only a few hours before I [illegible] stood in front of railway engine No. [illegible] "The Duchess" that stands in front of the C.P.R. station in the city of Winnipeg. Without a doubt the years have seen progress but through all the years the main essentials have remained the same. Fire, Water, Oil. Without fire and water [illegible] steam, without oil—no continued service, without tracks no arriving.

It was not long before my mind began to make comparison —the engine and our daily life.

Without the fire of desire we lack energy and power. It is the man who has his heart in his job who is a success. It is the Christian who has the fire of the Holy Ghost in his [illegible] that is a successful follower of God.

Without the oil of kindness and patience we soon become worn by the friction of life, and quickly become misfits. Oil lessens the friction, and prolongs usefulness.

The oil of kindness! What a lot of unhappiness could be avoided by just being kind. Say kind words, think kind thoughts and life would have a new meaning for many.

"One kind word will save a heart from breaking
One kind word, is always gladly heard.
Friends may frown and friends may you look down—
Then you will find out the value
Of one kind word!" So go the words of the chorus to a song my stepfather used to sing in some of his more mellow moods. There is more truth in them than meets the eye.

Tracks, the guides or the rules of life. Jump them. Disaster! Follow them and you get maximum power with minimum restraint. The laws of God are the railway tracks of life. Jump them at your own risk and endangering of others, especially of the children. We must follow the rules in order to get to the destination Eternal Life.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

"GOODNIGHT SWEETHEART" :: Reminiscing Scenes Of An Almost Forgotten Past

By JOHNNY ROWLEY

CHARLEY FERRIS had always said "Goodnight sweetheart" to his wife the last thing before going to bed when they were first married. He had continued the practice when he was thirty and when he was forty, and now that he was seventy-three he saw no reason for giving it up.

"Goodnight sweetheart," he murmured standing in the dusk of the upstairs room in his daughter's home.

He didn't get into bed immediately but went and stood by the window overlooking the garden. It was hot with the heat of late summer after a searching day and was only now, at ten o'clock, beginning to cool off. He stood there, absently, drinking in the warm glow of the moon, scarcely thinking, when he caught the murmur of voices from the clump of evergreens around the small summer house.

He didn't mean to eavesdrop but the voices wafted up to him on the cool evening breeze were clear and distinct. He knew at once who was there and frowned.

His granddaughter Dorothy — Dot, as she was to the family — was almost the image of his wife when they were first married. For that reason he had always thought more of her than his other grandchildren. Only today he had heard that she and Dick Albright were on the verge of breaking up. The news had bothered him for he thought a lot of them both and had been looking forward to the day when they would be married. He had continued to worry about it all day.

His hesitant offer of help had been met with refusal. "It's nothing you can do anything about, Grampa," Dot had told him. "It'll just have to work out of its own accord."

He had had to be content with that but it had continued to worry him. The voices were lower now and he could only catch a word now and then.

He heard Dick say earnestly "But Dot, if we're to make this thing work out we've got to trust each other." Dot's reply was lost in the night air but the old man had scarcely listened for it.

His mind had gone back almost fifty years. "Did you hear that, Nancy?" he asked. "He says they've got to trust each other." He chuckled. "Remember that time I had to go to Chicago and was a day late in getting back? That was bad enough but when you found the gloves in my valise, the ones I'd forgotten to give you, you thought I was lost for sure. It was a long time before you would trust me completely." He sobered suddenly, coming back to the present. "They're going through the same thing, Nancy," he said.

They were talking again, earnestly and had got up and stood now just in front of the summer house where the warm glow of the moon glinted softly on the girl's hair.

She was slim and tall and her hair, tumbling in soft curls was a raven black. "You know I love you," he heard her say. "I guess I always will . . ."

He didn't hear any more for his eyes had filled and he was thinking of another garden in the moonlight and of another girl. "She's the spitten image of you when you were twenty, Nancy," he said. "Do you remember the night I asked you to marry me . . . ?" He was lost for a few moments in contemplation. "It was a night like this," he continued finally. He meditated on the scene, his eyes half closed. "It's almost as though it were yesterday," he murmured.

As he watched the boy stepped forward and attempted to take her in his arms. For a moment she protested, but only for a moment, and with a muttered exclamation pressed her face to his.

Again the scene faded for the old man and he was seeing another scene, a scene out of his own past. "Remember that night at Halloran's beach, Nancy?" he whispered. "The night was as cool as this one and the moon shining on the waves made them look all silvery. I took you in my arms . . ." He stared out of the window, his eyes unseeing, looking back into an almost forgotten past.

He shook his head to get rid of the image and looked again into the garden. Dick had hold of both her hands and was talking earnestly. She was looking up into his eyes and in the dim light of the moon he thought he could see a smile on her face.

They stood like that talking for several minutes and then he could see that Dick was about to leave. The fear he had forgotten in his own reminiscing returned with a cold, deadening impact. It seemed that everything must be right, but he couldn't be sure. He strained to catch what they were saying but their tones were lower now.

Then Dick kissed her again. Quickly, the old man thought. He turned to go and paused when he reached the path which led around to the front of the house. He turned for an instant and for that brief moment the old man could see his face clearly in the moonlight. "Goodnight, sweetheart," he called softly. The moon made silvery ripples on the girl's hair.

Charley Ferris straightened up, a smile on his lips. The fear he had felt all along was gone and in its place an exultation he had felt only once before . . the night he had proposed to his wife!

"Did you hear that, Nancy?" he demanded. "Everything's all right. The trouble is all patched up." He turned from the window, leaving Dot standing quietly in the moonlight and went to his narrow bed. He paused for an instant before he got in . . long enough to switch on the light and look at the picture of a dark-haired laughing girl in a high-collared, long-sleeved dress which stood on his bureau.

"Goodnight, sweetheart," he whispered and then turned off the light and sank back against the pillow with a contented sigh.

"Goodnight, sweetheart," he murmured once again before his eyes fell shut.

Horses Sell Highest In Years

Auctioneer Laurie Drackett shown calling for bids at the horse sale in Moose Jaw, Sask., which each year precedes the feeder show and sale of feeder steers at the Southern Saskatchewan Co-operative stockyards.

Some good saddle horses were sold at the Moose Jaw auction. Cowboys with ten-gallon hats and high-heeled boots were much in evidence, and above, horses were in good shape and brought high prices at the Moose Jaw horse sale. Here a few of them wait their turn in the sales ring.

Redwater Well Big Producer

EDMONTON.—Imperial Oil Redwater No. 1, discovery well 30 miles northeast of Edmonton and 50 miles northeast of Leduc, has demonstrated an open flow potential of over 1,700 bbls. a day, may prove even larger when further acidization is complete.

Initial testing before acidization of the 3,204-ft. well with its 140 ft. of oil-bearing Devonian formation returned only 362 bbls. of oil in a 12-hour period. After acid treatment with 500 gallons of acid, however, the well returned an average of 72 bbls. of oil an hour on a six-hour open flow test. This represented a daily oil production rate of 1,728 bbls. Further treatment by acidization is being carried on with good hopes that open flow potential may prove still higher.

Little gas has accompanied the oil production. Significance of this is now being studied by officials. Apparently there is considerable pressure present for the well to produce the way it has. This could come from either a gas or water drive. A second test well is to be completed five miles north of Redwater No. 1. The oil runs about 35 deg. API.

CHICK HATCHING BUSINESS DECLINES

CALGARY.—A sharp decline took place in the chick hatchery business in Western Canada this year, delegates said in reports presented at the 11th annual meeting of the western section, Canadian Federation of Hatchery Associations.

Speakers blamed the late, wet spring and "greatly increased" feed costs for the decline.

Sharpest drop was reported by British Columbia. W. V. Hufford of Milner, said hatcheries in the West Coast province had only 60 per cent. of a normal year's business.

B.C. Needs More Prospectors

VANCOUVER. — British Columbia needs prospectors. The minerals are here—they need only to be uncovered, declares Frank E. Woodside, manager of the B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines, in announcing the Chamber's annual night school prospecting course.

Mr. Woodside predicts a tremendous boom in mining activity in coming years. Many who have taken the mining course in its past 30 years have made important discoveries, he says.

Subjects studied include mineralogy, geology, prospecting, staking claims, and methods of analysis, testing and development to make a prospect saleable to mining companies.

How To Get Quick Relief From Sore, Painful Piles

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you too if you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles.

My Hem-Roid treatment is different. Hem-Roid is an internal medicine — a small tablet taken with a glass of water. It corrects the conditions INSIDE your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you. Hem-Roid seems to help some pile sufferers more than others so I want to protect those who are not satisfied. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them as much as they expect it to. If Hem-Roid helps you surely it is worth the small cost. Otherwise I want you to have your money back. I'll take your word. I find people are honest about such things.

All I ask is you use Hem-Roid as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied return what you did not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid is an unusual medicine. It has been sold on a refund promise for over 10 years. I am not asked to make many refunds so it must help most folks who use it. At all drug stores.

HYDRAULIC RAMS DO THE WORK

HYDRAULIC RAMS are an excellent method of getting a good water supply for those who have water in such a location that they can use one.

We are publishing herewith drawings of three ways of installing a hydraulic ram. The important thing in the installation of a ram is to have the drive pipe of the correct length for the installation in question. In the upper drawing of the three installations pictured, the slope between the spring and the ram is sufficiently short that the drive pipe can be connected directly to the water supply. In the second and third pictures it is necessary to install a stand pipe or a supply box between the ram and the spring in order to secure the correct length of drive pipe for the installation in question.

These are definite rules in connection with the length of the drive-pipe of a hydraulic ram which must be followed if the installation is to be a success. The drive-pipe of a ram must be not less than 5 to 10 times the vertical height between the level of the water in the supply and the level at which the drive-pipe enters the ram. This height may also be described as the working head or fall of the drive-pipe. The minimum head or fall under which a ram will work satisfactorily is about 2½ feet. More head than this, however, is better.

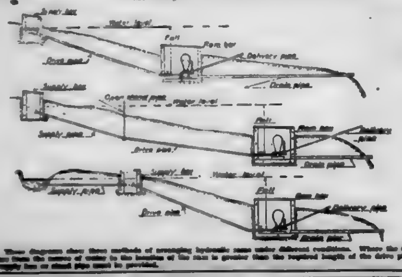
Where the vertical height to which the water from the ram has to be delivered is more than 5 to 10 times the working head of the ram, the drive-pipe should be made equal to the height of the vertical lift in the delivery. These are the rules governing the length of the drive-pipe of a ram.

It is possible to take water from a river at a point upstream and conduct it through a pipe along the bank to a point where sufficient fall will be secured to operate a ram. Often however such a pipe will be much longer than the permissible length of the drive-pipe. In such cases a stand-pipe is installed in the pipe-line, and the length of the drive-pipe, measured from the stand-pipe to the ram. This is illustrated in the centre diagram of the accompanying drawing. It would, of course, be necessary to protect the delivery pipe along the bank by burying it in the ground, but this is usually possible.

It is important that you secure the right size of ram for your installation. The companies selling hydraulic rams will send you on request a circular giving the sizes of the rams they make, the size of the drive pipe needed, the number of gallons per minute required to operate each size and the number of gallons the ram will deliver on different heights of vertical lift. It is obvious, of course, that the higher the vertical lift the less water can be delivered per minute. It is always advisable to install a ram small enough to operate when the water level is at its lowest point during the year. This is necessary in order to have a surplus of water at all times.

Hydraulic rams should be [illegible] in a pit deep enough to protect them from frost and there must be a waste drain from the pit to a ditch or other low ground into [illegible] the water will always have an [illegible]. Sometimes a small building is [illegible] up over the pit, which, of course, makes the ram accessible at all times, particularly in winter.

When properly installed and in places suited for its use the hydraulic ram is a cheap and very dependable method of pumping water. It can be used to pump water into elevated tanks from which the water is piped to faucets in house and barn as in any gravity operated water system, or it can be used to pump [illegible] an air pressure tank, though in this case an escape valve is necessary to permit water to escape when the tank is full. The most convenient installation for hydraulic rams is always the gravity tank system. It is necessary, of course, to have an overflow pipe running from near the top of the storage tank to some dependable waste drain which will [illegible] waste water to some place where it will not be a nuisance.



These diagrams show three methods of arranging hydraulic rams under different conditions. Where the distance from the source of water to the location of the ram is greater than the required length of the drive pipe, a supply box or stand pipe must be provided.

Prairie Fiesta And A Hayride

(By Grace Lockhart in Vancouver Province)

I WONDER if they still burn the straw stacks on the prairie? When threshing is all over and the grain has been sold or stored? And if they do, do they make a sort of fiesta of it as we used to do?

Of course with our modern scientific methods of [illegible] this out of that, I may be [illegible] last year's straw stack on my back for all I know. Or in my nylons!

I may not have been born 40 years too soon, but I used to think that burning an [illegible] waste, but what [illegible] do? True, the range cattle [illegible] eat [illegible] of it in the winter [illegible] the snow was too deep for feeding. Or they could find shelter in the lee of the big stacks, once they had gouged out spaces big enough to hold them.

These cattle were not to be [illegible] the stock that were [illegible] and housed all [illegible]. Milch cows and fancy heifers and teacher's pets generally, or some puny animal that couldn't take it. [illegible] the biggest part of the [illegible] stayed out all winter. They lived on the fat of the land all summer in the hay sloughs and the rolling hills that were the Moose Mountains.

After the first blizzard had [illegible] the stubble land and the summer fallow, drifting the snow into the coulees, and wiping out the trails, those cattle knew where to find shelter.

They could burrow out caves in the straw stacks and crowd in together, almost out of sight. When they were out in the open fields, they might not be on even scratching terms, but calamity brought them together. They got along.

We lived a couple of miles from the new little town, which was beginning to make its presence felt throughout the countryside. Already fences of barbed wire were being strung along on willow pickets, although we used to cap the pickets with buffalo skulls in case we became too civilized. But when the threshing was over, our place was the natural setting for the straw burning party. Dad always picked out the stacks he wanted for the cattle and we could burn the rest.

I used to issue a general invitation to my teen age pals in town. I might have been Elsa Maxwell, so closely did I follow the general motif for the party. I even collected my guests in the hay rack.

It was better to have the party in the dark of the moon because the burning stacks gave a more "lovely light". We used to pretend we were Indians and pow wow around the blaze, but the stubble hampered our dancing somewhat.

Sometimes we had our party in a harvest moon. Away beyond the bleached fields we could see the faint outlines of the Moose Mountains and the tiny, glimmering pinpoints of the lights in the town. Of course there was always the great canopy of stars. Nature used indeed to make our burning seem puny on such a night, but it was fun anyway.

When the last stack was burned we would go home and have a good feed. Not hot dogs—we had never heard of them. It was more likely to be sandwiches and cake and lots of pie with fresh buttermilk on the side. Sometimes we even had a barrel of apples, if any shipments had come in from Ontario.

When the party was over, we'd drive our guests back to town. The fires would have burned low and the stars come back into their own. Down where the trail dipped down to the coulee, it would be cold with the first hint of frost.

Fire Chief Gives Advice To Cut Down Chimney Fires

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. — Don't cut the draft on your furnace as soon as the fire burns freely. Let [illegible] go up the chimney and warm the [illegible].

This advice to furnace stokers is given by Fire Chief C. J. Highsted, who told members of the Rotary Club the total [illegible] by fire for the year in the province was $6,200,901.

In a warm flue, he said, there is [illegible] no condensation, and no formation of creosote, the deposit that burns to make "chimney fires", there would be almost no chimney fires, the chief said, if householders would handle drafts as he advises.

He blamed careless smokers for 2,196 of the 5,695 fires in B.C., and for property loss of $2,833,107.

Defines Six Stages Of Drunkenness

TORONTO — Alcohol is a "brain poison", not a stimulant, Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, Lansing, Mich., toxicologist, said.

In an address to legal, medical and police experts he outlined six stages of drunkenness: Dry and decent, delighted and devilish, dizzy and delirious, dazed and dejected, dead drunk and dead.

He spoke in a series sponsored by the Accident Prevention Association of Ontario.

He said carbon monoxide poisoning, diabetes and some nervous diseases sometimes produced the same symptoms as drunkenness.

Hallowe'en!

Owls in the treetops; cats upon the wall
Don't you know its Hallowe'en?
Aren't you scared at all?

Witches on their broomsticks, riding through the sky.
Aren't you [illegible]
When ghosts go floating by?

Mother says the witches, ghosts and everything
Are a lot of fairy tales
That Hallowe'en does bring.

Apples in a long row; games and lots of fun.
Jack-o-lanterns grinning
When the lights are gone.

Are so nice, not scary, and I love them all,
But I like owls and witches
And black cats on the wall!

Though they make me scary; make me shriek with fright,
I would hate to miss them
On this Hallowe'en night!

WEDDING BELLS

VERT—THOMPSON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Christian and Missionary Alliance chapel, on Wednesday, Oct. 13th at 2 p.m. when Florence Ethel, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, became the bride of Joseph Ellis Vert, son of Mrs. Mary Vert and the late Luther Vert.

Rev. Eric P. Berg performed the ceremony. Mrs. John Hillcox presided at the piano. During the signing of the register Miss Elaine Anderson sang, The Wedding Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length princess style gown of white sheer, with lily point sleeves, lace peplum and stand-up collar. Her long veil fell from a seed pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and fern. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Eileen Thompson, who wore a floor-length gown of pink sheer with shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline and long full sleeves. Her bouquet was of bronze baby 'mums.

Mr Franklin Wilson, cousin of the bride was best man. The ushers were Carleton Wilson and Angus An[illegible]

Later at a reception for 90 guests held at the Legion hall, the mothers of the bride and groom received the guests with the wedding party. Mrs. Thompson chose a grey dressmaker suit, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Vert wore an afternoon dress of figured jersey top and black skirt. Her corsage was white carnations and a red rose.

The bride's table was laid with an ecrue lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated and set in tulle.

Rev. Berg proposed the toast to the bride and Mr Jas. Stevenson gave a fitting talk.

The happy young couple left for a honeymoon to Edmonton. The bride wore a fuchsia dressmaker suit and a blue top coat, with black accessories.

Out-of-town guests were Mr and Mrs Vernal Ward of Kirriemuir; Mr and Mrs James Storms, Paradise Valley; Mr and Mrs Bert Caldwell, Altario; Mr Walter Ward, Quebec City Que; Mr and Mrs. Jerome Verte, Paradise Valley; Mr and Mrs. J. H. Perkins, Hardisty; Mrs Leedholm, Hardisty.

200 Teachers Discuss Educational Problems

[illegible] NEED FOR CLOSE RELATIONSHIP WITH PUBLIC

The teaching profession of today recognizes the need for a close relationship between itself and the public it is called upon to serve. This was most clearly [illegible] at a lively and well attended [illegible] convention held at the Vermilion school of agriculture on Thursday and Friday of last week. Early Thursday morning Adjutant Stewart of Vermilion gave the invocation and Mayor Morrison ably extended to the assembled teachers the well wishes for a successful convention from the Town of Vermilion. The principal of the V.S.A., Mr. N. N. Bentley, welcomed some two hundred delegates from the Wainwright, Vegreville and Vermilion divisions and took the occasion to remind the body of its responsibilities to agriculture in a province which was still basically a farming community.

[illegible]

The remainder of the first day was spent in small groups receiving helpful hints and new techniques for the more successful presentation of subject matter. These rapid fire and eminently worthwhile discussions groups were lead by outstanding teachers from the 3 divisions. The last hour on Thursday was spent in conference with the three divisional superintendents and Mr. Reeves the high school inspector. Teachers attending these professional discussions came away with many new '' as on how to better serve their individual communities.

Outstanding Provincial Educators

An imposing list of outstanding provincial educators were given ample [illegible] problems. Dr. Gibson, from the university explained the use of the projector in Alberta schools. Mr. Daniels, Supervisor of Elementary Education, Calgary refused to allow the [illegible] to forget the importance of the [illegible]tary teacher in the educational system. Mr. [illegible] A. Aldridge from the provincial department of education stressed the ever-increasing importance in our highly skilled society of an adequate guidance program which would make the utmost use of every student's talents and guide them towards a more complete life.

A.T.A. OFFICIALS SPEAK

Early Friday morning, Mr. A. Aalborg, Vice-President of the A.T.A. and Mr L. Olson pointed out that the provincial government was definitely making the profession more attractive by providing one of the best pension schemes in Canada for its teachers. They mentioned that in recent years teachers' salaries have steadily increased across the province but that these increases have barely kept pace with the rising costs of living. The Vermilion teachers indicated their interest in the betterment of education within the division when they passed resolutions requesting the establishment of an adequate health program and the setting up of home economics and shop classes.

Prof. Tweedie Speaks at Banquet

Thursday evening provided the needed relaxation from this heavy agenda. At 6:00 o'clock the main banquet hall was filled by some 150 teachers and guests. At this banquet Prof. Tweedie from the extension department of the U. of A. entertained and stimulated his hearers with a talk on the place Canada takes in the present international situation. Later in the evening 240 patrons danced to the music of Sprake's orchestra.

For the success and smooth running of this extensive program much credit must go to Mr. J.A. Smith, Kitscoty and Mr S. Olsonberg, Mannville

WELL SPUDDED IN ONE MILE NORTH

ON E. WELLS FARM — TEST OF NEW AREA

A test of an entirely new area is underway with the spudding in of an oil well on the E. Wells farm 1 mile north-east of Vermilion on the NW of 4-51-6. Drilling is being done by the Barlow Bros.

The company for whom the drilling is being done is the Western Development Company, subsidiary of Western Leaseholds Limited of Calgary, a large holder of freehold oil rights in central Alberta. This well will make a test of the Lower Cretaceous sands. Western Development, starting its first drilling, has about 20,000 acres of Crown and C.P.R. reservation lands north-east of Vermilion.

The spudding in of this well brings the actual drilling as close to town as it has ever reached. Being in an entirely new area as far as real drilling is concerned, results at the new site are awaited with great interest.

Board to Hear Proposed New Financial Deal For Municipalities

TO IMPLEMENT THE "JUDGE" REPORT

Councillor L. L. Kehoe and town secretary Jas. J. Part will be guest speakers at the regular luncheon meeting of the Board of Trade on Wednesday next, Nov. 3rd. Mr. Kehoe and Mr. Part attended the recent convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities and heard Premier Manning deal publicly for the first time with the "Judge" report on municipal taxation. The Alberta legislature at the next session will be asked to implement many of the recommendations in the report and these changes would save the taxpayers of town and country some $3,000,000 over the whole province. The speakers will deal with the report as it affects Vermilion and adjacent municipalities.

This meeting should prove of special interest to everyone interested in municipal affairs whether it be hospital, municipal or school.

Everyone interested is welcome to attend. The luncheon is at 12:10 and the meeting follows. The place — George's Lower Deck.

Pioneer of District Passes Away

DEATH OF HENRY GEAKE

Henry Geake, well known pioneer homesteader and farmer who has lived in town for the past several years, died at the hospital on Friday October 22nd after an illness of several months.

The deceased homesteaded just north-west of the present site of Clandonald, in the year 1907. He carried on farming operations very successfully until a few years ago when he sold his farm and moved into Vermilion to live. Mr Geake was born at Thetford Mines, Quebec, on Sept. 4, 1872, so was 76 years of age.

A private service was held at Moyer's Funeral Home on Sunday following which the body was taken to Blackie, Alberta, for interment.

Surviving members of the family are his widow and two sons Leslie of Vermilion and Earl who lives in British Columbia.

To Form Canadian Club Here

ORGANIZATION MEETING THIS FRIDAY, OCT. 29th

Many people in Vermilion have expressed the desire to have a Canadian Club functioning in the town. To that end an organization meeting has been arranged for Friday, Oct. 29th at 8 o'clock at George's Lower Deck.

If formed, the Canadian Club of Vermilion would be affiliated with the Canadian Club of Canada, and would thereby receive through them the opportunity of hearing at least four prominent speakers a year. At the wish of the local club this program would be augmented by other speakers.

It has been suggested that the Canadian Club of Vermilion be composed of both men and women. The annual fees would be set according to the number of speakers desired, and, judging by other town clubs, likely would not exceed $2.50 per couple.

All men and women of Vermilion and district are invited to attend the organization meeting to express their interest and views concerning the formation of a Canadian Club here.

Walter Maughan Collapses, Dies, Playing at Country Dance

Walter Maughan, aged 59 years, well known employee of Franco Oils Ltd., collapsed while playing the piano at a dance in the Union school Friday night. He was rushed to the hospital in Vermilion but was dead on arrival in town. Earlier that evening he had attended the Old Timers' banquet in Vermilion. He was employed as watchman and caretaker of the gas wells for the town supply south of Vermilion and had a small house at the No. 1 or Shane well.

The deceased was born at Maryfield, Man., June 1, 1889. He came to the Vermilion district about 12 years ago with the beginning of the oil and gas development here.

Funeral services were held at Wainwright Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment took place in the family plot there.

"GREEN ACRES"

CONTAGIOUS ABORTION

Contagious abortion in cattle Bang's Disease, is causing great losses to cattle breeders in this district. The Alberta Dept. of Agriculture has an assistance policy whereby vaccination of heifer calves from 4 to 8 months is done at reduced costs. Anyone having cows which abort should get a circular on Bang's Disease and an application form from the D.A.

GRAIN CLUB SHOW

I wish to congratulate the members of the McLaughlin Thatcher Wheat club on the fine seed show and meeting which they put on recently. There are 16 members in the Club and the boys and girls showed samples from their plots. There was not a weed seed or any other impurities found in the samples by the judge.

SEED CLEANING POLICY

The Alberta Government has announced a policy whereby grants are made to municipal districts for setting up seed cleaning plants for the use of farmers. The government will pay half the costs of these plants if the municipalities will put up the other half. If there is sufficient demand from farmers in this district for a plant there is no doubt that it will be favorably considered by the Council. Petitions from farmers organizations will be welcome.

SOIL DRIFTING

The scene is all set for plenty of soil drifting in this district next spring. All that is needed at any time is a high wind and dry surface soil and the soil will start to blow. We have [illegible] A new [illegible] on Soil Drifting Control is available at my office.

FATTENING POULTRY

Many farmers lose out by not fattening their poultry. It pays to pen up the birds and feed a mash hopper for two or three weeks. Besides the gain in weight the [illegible] will be improved.

LIVE STOCK LOSSES

Several cases of stock dying from eating too much grain or stubble feeds have been reported to me during the week. New grain often causes paralyzed digestive organs which results in bloat. These cattle are hard to handle [illegible]. The same applies to poultry getting too much grain.

TO THE GAS CONSUMERS OF VERMILION

This summer we have built a new pipe line to enlarge and improve our gas service. We plan to connect this line to our system and turn gas into it on SUNDAY, October 31st. This operation will require a brief suspension of service. Gas will be shut off about one P.M. and service will be resumed about an hour later. The whistle of the Power House will blow once when service is cut off and will blow twice when gas is turned on again. For their own protection, we request consumers to shut off all fires at the first signal and to keep all valves closed until second signal is heard.

We will appreciate your co-operation.

OLD-TIMERS ROUND-UP DRAWS LARGEST ATTENDANCE YET

The Old Timers Round-up held last Friday night in the Elks hall, proved to be the largest gathering in the history of the association. 269 people attended the banquet with many more registering for the dance to bring the total on the roll to 372. The practically summer-like weather enjoyed that day coupled with the fine open fall brought out old timers from many miles around. There was a very large attendance from the Landonville district, many of them attending for the first time, Islay and Clandonald were exceptionally well represented. Marwayne, Lindbergh, Derwent and Kitscoty people were in evidence, while the old timers from the district contiguous to Vermilion moved in en masse.

Catering to the huge gathering was by the W.A. of the United church.

Following the banquet a short program of toasts revealed that Canada was the best country in the world, Alberta the best province in Canada and Vermilion the best district and town in Alberta.

Taking part in the talks were the President Chas. Robinson, Mayor Morrison, Mrs. A. Cameron, H. B. Evans, Mrs. A. E. Ronaghan, A. M. West, W. J. Moore, E. H. Buckingham, Rev. [illegible] S. Reikie and Rev. [illegible] W. Tees.

In his remarks President Charlie Robinson welcomed Mr and Mrs Bob Becker who came all the way from Chilliwack, B.C. to attend this event and thereby satisfied a desire of many years. Mr Louie Hayward also of Chilliwack who has spent the summer here. Mr Shortell old timer of [illegible] who homesteaded just south of Dewberry and is still there. Oscar Johnson also of Dewberry who played for the first dance ever held in Vermilion [illegible] was introduced. He had the same fiddle with him and he played [illegible] the dancing which followed.

After the floor had been cleared the old timers special orchestra of Mr and Mrs Rufus Omness with Fred Gould on the traps went into action and soon had the large crowd swinging about at the best old timers dance ever held. Assisting with the music was Oscar Johnson old timer of 04 and the Hayes family orchestra from Islay. Floor managers were Charlie Telford, Roy Walker and Sam Butz of [illegible] step dances were [illegible] enjoyed. The crowd stayed longer and danced more on this occasion than for many years.

The old timers gathering is something of the [illegible]. It attracts from a much wider area than does any other evening event. It is a keenly anticipated affair and it always seems to be good to come up to expectation.

To those responsible for its organization [illegible] highest commendations and may this event be one that never falls by the wayside.

Officers elected to guide the Old Timers association for the ensuing year were:

Hon. Pres. — His Worship Mayor Morrison

No Use Now — 3-ton Steel Door on Bank Vault

2½ INCHES OF SOLID STEEL

Anyone with a latent desire to break into the vault at the Canadian Bank of Commerce have left the job a little too late. Over the week end George Caron installed a new steel door on the vault—and what a door! Its thinnest spot is 2½ inches thick, solid steel and it weighs 3 tons. The job of swinging such a door was considerable of a task, but George did it and made an excellent job. The old robbers' gag of locking the staff in the bank vault doesn't work anymore either, as the heavy steel door can be opened more easily from the inside than it can from the outside.

The new door is worth examining and Manager Sandy Wait says to drop in and look it over.

Pleasant Valley W.A Pork and Bean Supper Successful Event

The pork and bean supper which was held at Morrison school last Tuesday night, was very successful and a very large crowd attended.

It was nice to see so many from Vermilion, Islay and Allandale.

Mrs. Roebuck and Marion's piano duet and Mr Tom Wattie solos met with much applause. Mr. Gillies' Scotch solo and Mrs. Jim Gould's recitation also were very well received.

Again we would like to extend thanks to all members and non-members who helped to make this supper a success and to kind friends who sent in donations.

The sum of $56.90 was realized.

Newspaper Ads. Chief Factor in Sales Success

Newspaper advertising was acclaimed as one of the chief factors in the success of Jolly Time Pop Corn by Howard C. Smith, president of the American Co. "Of all the advertising we use," Mr. Smith said, "there is much we would do without before we would consider dropping our newspaper advertising."

"A" COY. PUTS ON MOCK BATTLE

SPECTACULAR SIGHT

On Sunday, at dusk, our local unit advanced to capture the north hill. The attacking force proceeded through the town in battle order under command of Sgt. Martinson.

The defending force under CQMS Hunter was in position on the crest of the hill awaiting the threatened attack.

Sgt. Winters commanded a trench mortar battalion which made a surprise attack from the right flank on the enemy positions. Capt. Buckingham, Lieut. Donnelly and Sgt.-Major Moore acted as referees and later discussed the manoeuvre with the troops. Thanks are due to four Boy Scouts from the local troop who carried First Aid kit right into the firing line.

After cessation of hostilities the troops enjoyed a weiner roast at the rear of the battle ground.

The battle proved greatly interesting to a large number of spectators who lined the road and vantage points on the south hill. After dark the flares, tracers and gun-fire were quite spectacular. Reports of the flares being seen have come in from several points fifteen to 20 miles away.

FIREMEN ENTERTAIN WIVES

Friday Oct. 14th was ladies' night as far as the members of the Vermilion Fire Brigade were concerned as they were hosts to their wives that evening at a theatre party, lunch and showing of home movies. Nineteen of the 22 firemen were present each with his wife. There is only one unmarried fireman and he was unable to attend.

The party attended the Columbia, seeing the Emperor Waltz. This was followed by lunch served at George's Lower Deck. After the refreshments Reg Spencer showed a series of very interesting home movies taken on various occasions around the town, at Fair time, during the visit of the Governor-General, at Banff, and the Firemen's convention at Lethbridge. Local persons appeared in all the films.

Big Spuds - New Spuds

Two potato stories cropped up this week. Norman May was engaged in cleaning out some old potatoes from his basement when he discovered that some of the spuds had taken root and grown to maturity. They were thin skinned and exactly like the first murphies of the year when grown in the usual way and place. New potatoes in October were quite tasty and a real treat.

BIG SPUDS

Mrs. Tom Thompson brought in 3 colossal potatoes which tipped the scales at 1¾, 2 and 1¾ pounds respectively, a meal in every one.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Surest Thing Ever Doped Out On A Horse, But Missed.

FLIGHT OF THE RAILBIRD

By ERNIE RYDBERG

WHEN the missus and I get over to Swartz's, Rudy isn't home. Molly, Rudy's frau, doesn't say where he is, but I got a good idea. She looks kind of worried, and so I figure Rudy's out seeing a guy about a horse.

I sit down and breeze through the evening paper while Molly and Hazel go out in the kitchen. I can hear them talking.

"Molly," says Hazel—coming right to the point as Hazel is inclined to do, "Does Rudy make lots of money at the races?"

"No," says Molly slowly. Then she quickly adds, "But he doesn't lose much. In fact, I think he's a couple of hundred dollars ahead this season."

"My goodness is that all," sniffs Hazel. "Fred and I were talking the other night ... ."

That's enough for me. I don't like Hazel sticking her nose in other people's business. I go over to the far end of the room so I can't hear.

Rudy's a swell Joe. Hazel shouldn't pick on him. My gosh, if it hadn't been for Rudy, I'd probably still be making about fifty a week. We're partners. Got the swellest little job printing set-up you ever saw.

He's a go-getter Rudy is. Like the ticket end alone. Rudy can peddle tickets to anybody. I bet if you live anywhere within five hundred miles of Jerico, and you buy a ticket to the pictures or the fights or a play—even to the opera, you'll be using one of our ducats.

Naturally, when the Jerico Track opened up we got their business. Millions of those little cardboards we've printed. Rudy landed that contract, but he practically had to live out there. He started getting interested in the horses. And how! Pretty soon he was talking of little else.

Not that Rudy is one of those guys who goes around with a racing sheet in his hip pocket all the time. He doesn't. He got quite a reputation for himself when he hit some unusual ones. Rumor has it that Rudy has a system all his own. Anyway, guys are always sidling up to him for hot tips. I'd figured he was coining money, and I am pretty surprised when I hear Molly say he is only a couple of hundred ahead.

I sit there for a few minutes, kind of fidgety. I don't like Hazel talking to Molly about it. I know Molly's plenty sensitive about Rudy not holding up his end down at the print shop. Not that I'm complaining. Pretty soon I saunter out to the kitchen. The girls are discussing whooping cough.

I park myself on a stool and start twirling a fly swatter. Molly stoops over to look at a couple of apple pies in the oven, and I pop her one. She screeches, and Hazel says, "Freddie," in a very scandalized tone.

"Now, will you tell me what the big surprise is?" I say.

"I will not," says Molly. "You'll have to wait," and just then Rudy comes in, and we sit down to supper.

I am pleasantly surprised to find everybody in very good humor. Even Hazel keeps her nose out of other people's business. From the soup, through the roast, even to the last bite of apple pie with the piece of cheese I've saved for it, I'm trying to figure it out. Only one thing I can figure. Rudy's hit a long shot for a pile of dough.

While the girls are doing the dishes, Rudy and I go into his study.

Right out of the blue sky he says, "Name a horse."

I'm surprised. He'd never discussed horses with me.

"Name a horse. Any horse."

Now, I'm not a betting man, but once in a weak moment I put fifty bucks on a nag at Santa Anita. So I say "Ajax."

He pulls out the first drawer of a green filing cabinet, flips through the cards, pulls out one marked "Ajax". I look at it. Everything's down—parents, grandparents, every race he ever ran, best time, poorest time, conditions at the track, weather, jockeys, owner's name, trainer, transfers of ownership. The works.

"Look on the other side," he says.

I turn the card over. It's a graph covering five years, and there's an inked-in line that curves up and down.

"What's this?" I ask.

"The horse's record," says Rudy. "Based on the information on the other side of the card. See this upcurve. Shows the horse is coming. A down curve means he's passed his peak. Except for occasional flukes, all charts'll run this way," and he pulls out half a dozen other cards to prove it.

But I don't pay much attention. I'm figuring out when it was I lost my fifty bucks. Sure enough, Ajax's curve is just starting down.

"My gosh," I grunt. "This is like money in the bank."

"Well, not exactly," chuckles Rudy. "I have to work out which way the curve is going to go before the race. Not after it. Come on out back," and he switches on the light in the patio.

He takes me over to a little building. Inside there's enough stuff to start a weather bureau.

"Weather conditions make a lot of difference," says Rudy, squinting at the thermometer. "Say here's something else," and we walk over to the corner of the lot where there is a square plot of bare ground.

"I had the soil tested at the Jerico Track," says Rudy thoughtfully. "This is almost identical to it."

I begin to get the drift. I'm amazed, but I shouldn't have been. It's just like Rudy. When he does something, he does it through.

"The idea is," says Rudy, "I know before I get to the track just what to expect. I know the weather conditions. Well, with the dope on my cards I can make my selection right after lunch and get out to the track in plenty of time for the first race."

We see the light in the kitchen go off and so we saunter inside. Right away Hazel suggests bridge. Only nobody makes a move. We sit around and talk about this and that. Hazel picks up some cards and starts shuffling them in her lap. Personally I'm itching to know what the big surprise is. Finally Molly says—like she'd just suddenly happened to think of it.

"Oh, Rudy what did the man at the weather bureau say?"

Rudy smiles at her. "Said they'd be tickled to death to have the stuff."

"Then I can plant tomatoes out there on—on your track?"

"You sure can, Honey." Rudy gets up and goes into his study. He comes back, rolling his green filing cabinet. Hazel has even put down the cards.

It's a pretty warm evening, and you can imagine my surprise when Rudy crumples up a lot of newspapers, sticks them on the fire and touches a match to them. He opens Drawer A to C; grabs a handful of cards and tosses them on the blaze.

"Good gravy," I snort.

Rudy grins. The tears are leaking out of the corner of Molly's eyes.

"This little railbird has come home to roost," grunts Rudy, and he chucks on more cards. He pulls out the bottom drawer, finds a card and tosses it to me.

It's "Zaca" — everybody's choice this afternoon in the fifth. The fire is burning like anything, and we all move back. Rudy comes over and sits on the davenport with me. He takes the card out of my hand; looks at it for a long time.

"Surest thing I ever doped out," he says finally. "Great odds. I decided I'd go whole hog."

"Yeah?" I say.

"Yeah," says Rudy. "I started for the hundred-dollar window, and Whitey Morris stopped me. He wanted to know if I had anything in the sixth. Well, I stalled him, and just as I got to the window, they closed it.

"I really didn't mind. I seldom bet to win. I sauntered over to the rail. It was a great race—close all the way—then Zaca is nosed out in the stretch. I was dumbfounded. Everything showed Zaca should have won. I knew it was an honest race. I stood there thinking where I could have missed. It might have been the wind. Pretty gusty this afternoon. Anyway, I'd missed. I tore up my ticket and tossed it away."

"Uh huh." I grunt, waiting for him to go on. All of a sudden I think of something. "Hey," I say, "I thought you said you didn't buy a ticket."

"I didn't," grinned Rudy. "Freddie, for years I've been playing around with little square pieces of cardboard. That was my hundred-dollar bill I tore to bits. You should have seen the wind take it kiting."

Rudy got up and threw some more cards on the fire, went over and sat down beside Molly. They made a pretty picture.

It was kind of quiet in the room but Hazel fixed things.

"Let's play bridge," she said.

PILES OF BALED STRAW are frequently seen on Manitoba farms this fall where in former years blazing straws marked the end of the threshing season. Straw for feed and bedding is highly valued by livestock farmers and it also represents a definite amount of soil fertility which goes back to land via the manure spreader.

Plenty Of Meat For Christmas

OTTAWA — No matter what trouble they might have getting other commodities, Canadian housewives "certainly won't find it hard to get meat" this Christmas, L. W. Pearsall, chairman of the Canadian meat board, said.

Asked for his impression of how butchers' shelves will look this Yuletide, Pearsall said "they'll be loaded."

He said there would be more beef slaughtered every week between now and next spring—barring strikes or other such eventualities — than the Canadian public can eat.

With the Anglo-Canadian beef contract cancelled last August and the federal government's export quotas to the United States lifted around the same time, he said, there will be a "fairly heavy" movement below the border but "that will still leave a lot right here in Canada."

Cattle, Hog Population Down

OTTAWA.—Canada's livestock population is down.

The bureau of statistics reported recently that a survey it carried out in June indicated decreases in each of the main kinds of farm animals.

Cattle at 9,470,300 were 2.6 per cent below the June 1947 figure of 9,71[illegible].

Hogs at 4,463,100 were 18.5 per cent below 1947's figure of 5,473,000.

Sheep and lambs were down to 2,231,000 from 2,707,000 and the number of horses dropped from 2,[illegible] to 1,905,000.

Canada Has Large Surplus Of Potatoes

OTTAWA — Canada's expected bumper potato crop, a vexatious problem for agricultural economists, today may help the housewife's grocery bill.

A government source says the large surplus of potatoes this year is making for lower prices on the domestic market. "Canadian housewives should be happy," he said. "They might otherwise have been paying a lot more for potatoes than they are today."

But the problem remains that some part of the 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes expected this year may go unmarketed unless the government can find a new solution to that age-old problem of supply and demand.

Currently the United States has allowed imports of 3,500,000 bushels a year of table and seed potatoes from Canada at a reduced tariff rate.

But even at the normal higher tariff rate it has been found that the Canadian product can undersell American potatoes supported at $2 a bushel.

A government official estimates that the Canadian potato can sell in the U.S. at $1.25 a bushel at the reduced 37.5 cents a hundredweight tariff and slightly less than $2 a bushel at the normal rate of 75 cents a hundredweight.

Little Man's Loans Now Big Business

Since 1930 the year when all Canadian provinces completed their legislation enabling credit unions to incorporate, the number of these people's banks trebled, membership has increased fivefold and assets ten fold. By last year there were 2,546 credit unions in Canada with 773,129 members and [illegible] millions in assets, according to a Dominion Department of Agriculture publication, entitled "Credit Unions in Canada, 1947".

J. E. O'Meara, author of this report, says that the increase in these three items was remarkably steady even during the war when credit union expansion in other countries declined since war's end. Canadian progress and growth in this form of co-operative saving and lending has continued slowly but steadily.

Tucked away in these people's banks are $[illegible] in shares and additional savings on deposit of $174,884,922. From these assets credit union members effectively loaned one another $99,310,022 last year.

Yet this tremendous business is made up of small groups averaging only 221 members whose savings invested in this form of co-operative average $300.00.

Board of Trade Movement Triples Strength In Three Years

SLIGHT INCREASE OVER 1947 NOW 561 ORGANIZATIONS SERVING COMMUNITIES IN CANADA

The Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce movement has tripled its strength across Canada in 3 years, according to an announcement by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Today there are 561 community organizations of business men serving their communities and their country through The Canadian Chamber.

The national organization, which coordinates the work of these community organizations on matters of national policy holds its 19th annual meeting [illegible] on Oct. 26-28. It is significant that two sections of a special train will carry over 200 delegates from Eastern Canada for the meeting. Two sections of this train will carry delegates from the Maritimes.

Of particular interest to advertisers is the information included in the announcement that out of the 561 community organizations making up the membership of The Canadian Chamber, the national organization, 278 are served by their own weekly newspapers and 75% of the 561 member Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in Canada affiliated with The Canadian Chamber are in communities with [illegible] people or less.

The announcement from The Canadian Chamber of Commerce states that it is a community or grass roots organization comprising over 75,000 individual business men who give leadership to community, provincial and national development through the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce movement.

Among the aims and objects of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce movement are: 1. to promote the progressive development of Canada and to oppose vigorously communistic and other subversive influences. 2. to improve community welfare through the efficient work of a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce in every Canadian community. 3. to stimulate and maintain a strong and united nation.

WHAT PRICE DEMOCRACY?

Democracy is without price . . . no one can ever take it for granted or assume it is paid for in full. It is an inheritance we are duty bound to pass on . . . not only to the next generation, but to our fellow men everywhere who have yet to enjoy its full benefits.

Democracy grew from a great ideal . . . that all men are born free and equal and are deserving of the same privileges. It can live on only if we constantly strive to fulfill this ideal and protect the priceless freedoms won.

Moderation is one of the chief safeguards of democracy. By being moderate in our thinking, in our actions, and in our pleasures, we are living democratically.

As The House of Seagram has so often stated, by being moderate in all things we are acting for the common good.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL'S
Silver Anniversary

THREE OF 487 POOL COUNTRY ELEVATORS

The Alberta Wheat Pool started in business on October 29, 1923. Its first office was staffed with only 15 employees, and furnished with second-hand equipment.

Today the Alberta Wheat Pool is the largest Alberta business. Its assets include 487 country elevators and two terminals with a total grain capacity of 37,000,000 bushels.

The Alberta Wheat Pool has paid patronage dividends, over the years, to a total of $3,724,180.15 in cash and has redeemed reserves from original Pool members to a total of $4,448,883.85.

Alberta Pool Elevators has provided excellent service to patrons and has gained a high reputation for fair dealing. The system has handled as much as 52,000,000 bushels of grain in a single year.

All these, and many other accomplishments, have been achieved by the Wheat Pool members, who have rendered such loyal and devoted service to their own organization over a quarter of a century.

Nothing can take the place of this farmer-owned co-operative in providing security and the preservation of hard-won rights and privileges for the grain producers of this province.

"Make this year a Pool elevator year."

WHEAT POOL'S 25th ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-five years ago on Oct. 29, 1923, the Alberta Wheat Pool started in business. On that date an office was opened in the Lougheed Building in Calgary with a staff of about 15 people. From that small beginning this farmer-owned co-operative grain handling organization has developed into the largest Alberta business. Its assets include 487 country elevators, a 5,150,000 bushel terminal at Vancouver and a 2,000,000 bushel terminal at Port Arthur. It has handled as much as 52,000,000 bushels of grain in a single year, and has had a yearly cash turnover in excess of $60,000,000. It has branch offices in Edmonton, Vancouver and Winnipeg, and the average number of employees is around [illegible].

The formation of the Alberta Wheat Pool in 1923 grew out of the experience of Western Canadian farmers with the Federal government's participation in wheat marketing during and immediately after World War 1. The Canadian Wheat Board was dropped in Aug. 16, 1920, and shortly afterwards a price decline set in which continued until Dec. 1923, when wheat reached a low point of 93½c a bus.

The farmers tried to get the government to re-establish a Wheat Board. Failing in that effort, they turned their energies towards the building up of a voluntary wheat pool. Alberta was the first province to complete a Wheat Pool organization. On Sept. 5th, 1923, over 26,000 farmers had signed contracts to deliver their wheat to the Alberta Wheat Pool. The following year Wheat Pools were organized in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The combined physical assets of the three Pools now include some 1,275 country elevators and 9 terminals, with a total capacity over all of 130,000,000 bushels of grain and a total value in excess of $50,000,000.

One of the principle objectives of the Wheat Pool movement is price security for the farmers. In this regard, in preference to the open market system with its booms and depressions, the men who organized the Pool sought to obtain, over the years, an average price for wheat which would have a reasonable relationship to cost of production.

Another objective was the establishment of a co-operative elevator system primarily for service and not for profit. The Alberta Wheat Pool has retained the confidence and support of many thousands of Alberta farmers. In the past quarter of a century it has handled a total of over a billion bushels of grain with a gross value in excess of $925,000,000. It has paid patronage dividends in cash totalling $3,724,000 and in reserves of over $2,000,000. Furthermore it has redeemed reserve contributions of original members to a total of $4,448,000.

"It has been our policy to operate this enterprise along the lines of pure co-operation," says R. D. Purdy, manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool. "We believe sincerely in the principle of co-operation and its effectiveness on behalf of the grain growers. Nothing can take its place in the provision of security and preservation of hard won rights and privileges."

ALLANDALE NOTES

Allandale was well represented at the Old Timers banquet and dance held last Friday. Everyone seemed to have a grand time.

It was such a pleasure to have a chat with Mr. Jake Wener while in Edmonton. Jake has a large shoe store on Jasper and is doing very well. He enjoys meeting friends from Vermilion, his old home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Throndson and daughter Beverly were holidaying at the latter's home in Oshawa, Ont. [illegible] motored back last week and spent a few days at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson have accompanied their son and family to Wildwater. From there going to Valley View, Peace River, to visit their daughter Lucy Frock and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilson spent last week-end visiting friends at Chipman, Red Deer and Calgary.

Thought for Today

Resolve today to take out of your life that weakening thing of holding something against someone else. Make room for power and peace.

Death Rate for T.B. Lower in 1947

Thirty-four fewer Albertans died of tuberculosis in 1947 than in 1946 according to figures released today by C. Robert Cursey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. The reduction in the Alberta death rate was from 37.1 in 1946 to 32 in 1947.

Deaths from tuberculosis in all Canada dropped from 7,797 in 1946 to 5,485 in 1947. The rate in 1946 was 47.2, in 1947 43.4.

Not since 1947 has there been a decrease of such magnitude, said Mr. Birkey. It is particularly gratifying in view of the increase reported in 1946. He said that the figures reflect the increasing emphasis on case finding and early diagnosis in the widely based operations of the Association and the Department of Health through the mass chest X-ray surveys largely financed by Christmas seals.

Also instrumental in bringing about the decrease is the Association's educational program resulting in a growing awareness among the public of the extreme importance of early discovery of the disease and the extension of the case-finding campaign to general hospitals through routine tuberculin testing and chest X-raying of [illegible]

Vermilion Welcomes New Industry

FINE COCA-COLA PLANT OPENED —INVESTMENT OF $35,000 BY OWNERS, MESSRS. A. KENT AND W. O. ANTRIM.

PLANT NOW IN PRODUCTION

The opening of the fine new plant of Vermilion Beverages Limited for the manufacture and bottling of Coca-Cola products, signalizes the commencement of a very valuable and much desired type of industry into the town of Vermilion.

The owners and operators of the new industry, Messrs. Aldous Kent and Walter Antrim, have invested approximately $35,000 in the undertaking. They have spared no expense and have left no stone unturned to provide the finest of buildings and to secure the best of equipment for the manufacture of the Coca-Cola product.

The building itself is constructed of cinder brick. It is 30ft. x 60ft. with 17-foot ceiling. Manufacturing, bottling, washing and sterilizing equipment is nicely arranged at the north end of the plant, together with office and wash room. Remaining space is for storage purposes.

General contracting was by George Caron and Co., plumbing and heating by W. C. Martin, electrical installation by Elbrond and Gillies.

Vermilion Beverages Ltd. have the franchise to serve a wide territory. Supply service is by one of the well-known Coca-Cola trucks, so now we can have a "Coke" made right here in Vermilion.

The building is a decided asset to the town, and the whole plant, according to officials of the Coca-Cola Co., is superior to most and equal to any plant in operation today.

The Standard adds its congratulations to Mr. Kent and Mr. Antrim on their achievement and extends best wishes for every success of this new Vermilion industry.

Canadian Pilot Training To Get Govt. Grant

COMMERCIAL FLYING SCHOOL INCLUDED

A government subsidy to promote civilian flying training has received Cabinet approval and will be announced shortly from Ottawa, according to a report in the October issue of Canadian Aviation.

More generous than the pre-war grant to flying clubs, this new program also will have a broader application to include commercial flying schools as well, the magazine claims. Another new feature will be a direct cash payment to each flying graduate.

Each flying club or school providing an approved course of air and ground instruction will receive $100 for every student who passes the private flying license tests. In addition, the student will receive a cash subsidy with his license.

The military significance of this program is indicated by the provision of an extra bonus to each flying graduate if he (a) is 18-22 years of age; (b) can pass the RCAF aircrew medical; (c) is willing to sign up for the RCAF auxiliary or the permanent force.

The Civil Aviation Division of the Department of Transport is working out a detailed plan of administration. When this is complete, an Order-in-Council will authorize the program.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mr. and Mrs. Wallington and family visited on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Dicke of Windermere district. Mrs. Dicke's mother Mrs. Harde of Miami, Man., was also there and she is a cousin of the writer's. Everyone had a pleasant afternoon chatting over old and new times since we last met 9 years ago. Mrs. Harde intends leaving for her home in [illegible] this week end. She and her sister Mrs. McGinnis of town spent the week of Oct. 10th visiting their brother Sam Johnston and wife at Caslan, Alta.

The children had a holiday last week while Mrs. Wilson attended the teachers' convention in Vermilion. While in town Mrs. Wilson stayed with her sister-in-law Mrs. A. Holte.

We are pleased to hear Joyce Whitlock is now home after her recent operation for appendicitis. We also heard that wedding bells are to ring soon for you Joyce. Very best of wishes for your happiness.

Don't forget Brockville dance on Friday, Oct. 29th.

Guest Star

Gifted Canadian-born soprano, Evelyn Pasen, who has already made several appearances on the Northern Electric Hour, will return as guest star on Monday evening, November 1. Paul Scherman will lead the Northern Electric concert orchestra in this broadcast originating in Toronto. The program is heard weekly over the CBC Trans-Canada network.

ASKS FARMERS TO GET PURE SEED

RECOMMENDED BARLEY VARIETIES ARE AVAILLABLE

Director T. J. Harrison of the Barley Improvement Institute this week suggested the present was an ideal time for farmers to get pure stocks of recommended barley varieties.

During the war there developed a shortage of seed. All types of barley were readily saleable at good prices. Farmers didn't have to pay much attention to good seed with the result that when the war ended many had their seed stocks badly mixed.

Mr. Harrison, also chairman of the National Barley Contest committee in charge of the competitions sponsored by the brewing and malting industries, says there is a fair quantity of good malting varieties coming on the market. The contest, now in its third year, is showing visible results one of which is that it has focused attention of farmers on better barley varieties.

Only four varieties have ever been eligible for the contests. This year Mr. Harrison says, there is an abundance of good seed at reasonable prices, and hence one of the best opportunities in years for farmers to get back into pure barley varieties of the type wanted by maltsters.

As more samples in the two competitions in this year's contest continue to come in the quality is keeping unusually high. In part, this good record is no doubt due to the crop season and the unusually favorable harvest season Prof. Harrison says, and it is also probably due to the fact the contests are encouraging farmers to get certified and registered pure seed of best barley varieties.

Worsted cloth production in Canada reached a new high in the first half of 1948 [illegible] 2,901,000 yards. This represents a small increase over shipments of 2,[illegible] yards in the first six months of 1947.

SAYS BRITAIN FACES FOUR MORE LEAN YEARS—Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer, is a very straight-talking man ... hence no one was surprised when he said, while he was on this continent, that Great Britain faces four more lean years and that his country's exports and imports would not be balanced until 1952. He said his countrymen understand the need for the austerity program, and while they don't like it, they are "grinning and bearing it." Salvation Army Home League Sends Christmas Parcels Overseas

The Ladies' Home League held their regular meeting Wednesday evening Oct. 20 with 15 ladies present. The meeting opened in the usual way by the singing of a hymn, a prayer and a Bible reading. Following this Adj. Stewart spoke a few words.

Busy hands then got to work and wrapped about 36 pounds of food for parcels for Britain and Africa. These parcels will find their way to needy homes in time for that Xmas cheer. The ladies do not only help to parcel the goodies but kindly donate them too. Apart from this the Home League have kindly and generously helped out wherever necessary.

Don't be surprised when you hear a knock-knock at your door as the ladies are also out for donations in response to a call from the British and Foreign Bible Society Let us all do our bit for this worthy cause The world's greatest need is a good old fashioned spiritual revival This would be benefitted from Bible study and without donations and help this work could not be carried on. So ladies, do your best to help us in this door-to-door canvass

Yes Allandale Koknee, Wildmere and Bowtell writers, a rest room is surely a necessity in this town of Vermilion. The writer lived in the country herself for 18 years and realizes keenly the need for a proper rest room. It may be the next in line in the town plans—who knows?

WOODVALE

The community was shocked by the sudden death of Walter Maughan who collapsed and shortly afterwards died, while playing the piano at the wedding dance of Mr. and Mrs. Art Ganton Walter passed away without suffering, but he will be greatly missed by his very many friends in all the communities around the Thorncliff district where he made his home near the gas well of which he was the caretaker

Another sad piece of news is that of the operation Mr. Fred Wolters had to undergo earlier this week. Gangrene set in after Mr Wolters cut his foot and the doctors found it necessary to amputate the foot and the leg below the knee. At time of writing it was not known how well Mr Wolters, who is 82 years old is feeling after the operation. His daughter Rosa is staying in Vermilion for the time being and everyone is hoping for the very best.

Mr and Mrs Robert Rankin will shortly leave the Woodvale district to live in Vermilion. PROGRESS in CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

NEW Agricultural methods, originating in busy laboratories, spread rapidly to the farmer.

This crop year alone chemical weed control methods have brought millions of EXTRA dollars to Western farmers. We are proud that National Grain has played an important part in the introduction of these methods.

From 1942 on, despite severe wartime restrictions, widespread demonstrations over the three prairie provinces made by our Company were the first to prove beyond doubt the success of selective chemical weed control. The low volume nozzle for applying 2-4-D was also a National "first". Demonstrations carried out with the valuable assistance of the Universities of Saskatchewan, Minnesota and California, proved this method to be fully effective. Now used extensively throughout the United States and Canada, low volume application has saved farmers' money in equipment and untold losses of labor.

FIFTY PER CENT. MORE SPENT ON FARM MACHINERY

OTTAWA.—Canadian farmers last year paid about 50 per cent. more for new farm machinery than they did in 1946.

Estimated grand total of expenditures on new farm machinery at the retail level was $146,500,000 compared with $96,446,000 the previous year. An estimated additional $[illegible] was spent for repair parts compared with $27,429,000 in 1946.

[illegible] of new equipment, mainly at wholesale prices, amounted to $120,[illegible] an increase of 48 per cent. over the revised estimate of $81,[illegible] in 1946. Sales of repair parts at wholesale [illegible] $22,[illegible] against $[illegible] in 1946.

Montreal Woman Describes Visit To Port Of Churchill

Mrs. W. S. Edgar of Montreal with her husband visited Churchill, Man., recently, and the following is Mrs. Edgar's description of the strategic port city of Churchill as it appeared in the Montreal Daily Star.

AT FIRST sight, Churchill looked disappointing. It presented a very untidy appearance, nearly every building on the tiny townsite—the total civil population does not exceed six hundred—seemed to be in a state of erection or repair. Loose lumber lay everywhere, trampled, uneven ground surrounded each new dwelling, and debris of all kinds was strewed carelessly about.

But in this sub-Arctic region where all out-of-door work is a race against time, no thought could be given to tidying up as one goes. The moment the day's regular labor was ended each man hurried home to resume work on his own dwelling. Wife and children shared in the labor. It was a common sight to see an entire household busily removing shingles from a roof undergoing [illegible] or engaged in painting [illegible] there [illegible] the work stop at sundown, [illegible] after darkness had fallen, far [illegible] the night one could hear the steady pounding of hammers as [illegible]

[illegible] houses have no cellars. [illegible] they have them when even in the height of summer less than two feet beneath the surface of the ground the land is perpetually frozen.

But the most lasting impression made on a visitor to the town was its vivid coloring. The flowers and plants of Churchill adapt themselves to the rigid sub-Arctic conditions and grow low to the soil clinging tenaciously to the gray rocks and making the most of the short summer [illegible] them. And what a wealth of plant life there was in Churchill and how striking the contrast [illegible] black or rust-colored [illegible] over the blue gray [illegible] and cranberry [illegible] with their bright red berries [illegible] and rock [illegible] that the Harbour Board houses were painted yellow or [illegible] arresting [illegible] among the gray [illegible] should appear. Other houses had roofs painted blue or red. Perhaps the brilliance of the Northern Lights seen swaying like waving plumes one mid-August night—or the golden glow of the setting sun suffusing the entire sky, had induced the town-dwellers to mimic nature in their choice of colors for their own hard-wrought homes. Color is everywhere around the townsite: in the blue white-crested waves of Hudson Bay, in those of the Churchill River emptying into the world's largest inland sea and in the bright hues of Indian and half-breed raiment.

Churchill is built on a narrow peninsula between the bay and river. Harbor and bay are not ice-free until late July. The earliest boat from Great Britain reached Churchill as late as the ninth of August, and not more than a score of them will call before the [illegible] season closes.

Churchill's wharf can berth four vessels and three ships can be loaded simultaneously with grain from the towering white elevator which is by all odds the most beautifully proportioned and stately building in the town. A stroll through the freight sheds [illegible] with the arrival of each ship [illegible] case a [illegible] of British-made cars. These had been brought over by a British freighter then in port and were awaiting delivery to Calgary, Edmonton and other Western cities. In the shadow of the British freighter, the Empire Beatrice, lay the Regina Polaris, a Catholic mission ship which was at Churchill to pick up supplies for Eskimo [illegible] in the Far North.

But though it is fascinating to watch the flow of the red-gold grain [illegible] Niagara pouring into the [illegible] ships or the [illegible] white whales [illegible] and after [illegible] of all is the water [illegible] rocks of the [illegible] of the bay. [illegible] have so chiseled and polished these rocks that their surface has the appearance of the smoothest [illegible]

The [illegible] are a [illegible] range [illegible] south of the Caspian sea. [illegible]

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

The First Snow

By JANE DALE

Last night when I went to bed
No stars were shining overhead.
The east wind moaned and the bare trees groaned,
I pulled the covers over my head.

This morning I looked out to see
Why the stars didn't shine for me;
Why the east wind moaned and the bare trees groaned.
The world was changed as changed could be.

I saw a blanket of purest white
It must have fallen in the night
When the east wind moaned and the
bare trees groaned,
And I had hidden my head from sight.

The bright sun chased the clouds away
And said to me, "Come out and play"
The wind won't moan, nor the bare trees groan
The first white snow is here to stay.

B.C. FEELS BUILDING PRICES NEAR PEAK

VICTORIA, B.C.—The Provincial works department feeling the period of top construction prices may be near, has changed its policy in awarding contracts to take advantage of it.

No more long-term contracts, which take several years to complete, will be awarded.

Big projects will be broken up into sections which will represent a single season's work for a contractor.

Thus contractors in submitting bids will no longer have to gamble on price trends over a period of more than a year, and the department feels that bids may be more reasonable.

If construction prices should fall in the next year the department will save money in awarding the contract for final sections of the projects.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

CHILDREN NEED ELUSIVE VITAMINS

Vitamin "D" may be the sunshine vitamin but that doesn't mean the youngsters can get all the "D" they need just by sitting in the sun.

In a pamphlet entitled "Points About Vitamin D" the Nutrition Division, Health and Welfare Department, says it isn't possible to get an adequate supply from the sun.

The ultra-violet rays which make Vitamin "D" cannot penetrate smoke, fog and dust and the rays cannot get through a tanned skin.

Every child needs 400 International Units a day. This can be bought in drops, liquid, tablets or capsule form, for "less than two cents a day."

While some mothers may think their children should get enough of the vitamin in their food, the department says "No".

Useful amounts of Vitamin "D" are present in such foods as irradiated evaporated milk, sardines, salmon, but not in adequate supply for growing children.

The vitamin is so important mainly because it provides protection against rickets.

"Probably one Canadian child out of eight has or has had rickets in mild or serious form. Every year some 30 Canadian children die of rickets . . ." says the department. "Those who live will be disfigured and weakened when they are exposed to disease in later life."

In addition, the body must have Vitamin "D" for tall, well-developed bodies, straight bones, and good health.

On the subject of teeth the department warns that while mother may not always realize it, her child's "baby" teeth are his most precious possessions.

If they are not properly cared for the youngster's mouth may not develop properly. This often can result in poor adult eating habits, speech difficulties, and a great deal of pain and discomfort in later life.

Nursing Aides Training Course

OPEN TO GIRLS AND WOMEN

A call for new applicants to take the Nursing Aides training course was issued recently by Miss J. F. Ferguson, Supervisor of the School operated jointly under the Canadian Vocational Training plan and the Alberta Dept. of Health. In seeking applicants Miss Ferguson stated that present arrangements will be ended in December of the present year. Miss Ferguson also stated that many opportunities exist for girls and women who complete the 40 weeks' course. The hours of work and salary schedule are most attractive and the need for Certified Nursing Aides in the rural and community hospitals is great.

Starting as a vocational training course for ex-service women who were interested in the care of the sick, the course was later offered to all Alberta women, some of whom have years of experience as practical nurses. Those completing the course are eligible for certificate and annual licenses which enable them to take positions in hospitals throughout Alberta. Miss Ferguson pointed out that Certified Nursing Aides are not to be confused with practical nurses, ward aides or graduate nurses. Certified Nursing Aides help to fill the need for women trained to relieve registered nurses of many of the duties which are placing a heavy burden on many hospital staffs.

Standard salary schedule for a 48 hour week as approved by the Nursing Aides Council begins at $90 per month for the first six months, increasing to $110 per month during the third year. Full maintenance which includes room, board and laundry of uniforms is deductible at the rate of $25 per month.

A Need For Action

FROM THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE Organization of the United Nations there has recently come another warning in regard to the need for immediate action in increasing world food production. It is predicted that unless effective planning is done, within the next twenty years half of the people in the world will be subject to diseases associated with diet deficiencies and to premature death. While the population of the world has increased by 150,000,000 during the past ten years, during the same period food production has decreased by eight per cent. If food production had increased in proportion to the growth in population, it should have advanced by more than sixteen per cent. Sir John Boyd Orr, formerly the head of the Food and Agriculture Organization, and a foremost authority on world food problems has described the present situation in regard to this matter as "the death march of our civilization".

* * * * * *

Canada Also Has Problem

While the prospect of a serious shortage of food within the next two decades is alarming, what is considered to be equally serious is the rate at which present [illegible] areas are deteriorating due to soil erosion, bad methods of farming, floods, pests and other forces which destroy crops. In the United States, more than three billion tons of top soil are believed to be lost each year and in Canada it is well known that we have a serious problem in retaining the fertility of the great farming areas which contribute so much to world food supplies. In China, the Yellow River annually carries away more than 200,000 acres of farm land while in Africa jungles are said to be spreading and in South America and Australia desert areas are increasing in extent.

* * * * * *

Should Farm More Land

The [illegible] answer to the problem of a serious food shortage is to increase production. In order to do this it will be necessary not only to preserve our present farm lands but to bring more and more acreage under cultivation. This would mean the spending of large sums of money and a great co-operative effort among all food-producing countries. Prevention of soil erosion, reclamation of desert lands, irrigation, insect control, reforestation and other problems of this kind would have to be studied and effective measures planned to deal with them. At this time, when there are so many grave and complex problems facing all, the [illegible] of the Food and Agriculture Organization are of the opinion that [illegible] the attention is being given to the vital question of food production. They have given warning that it is of the utmost importance to the world at this time that there should be no delay in recognizing this fact and taking constructive action.

Churchill Port Sets Wheat Export Record

CHURCHILL, Man. — Thirty-five ships, 15 of them overseas cargo vessels, have touched this port during the 1948 navigation season which ended Oct. 15.

The Canadian wheat board announced in Winnipeg that 5,214,342 bushels of wheat were exported from Churchill for a port record. The last cargo vessel cleared the port Oct. 8.

The 1948 incoming cargoes included tractors, diesel operated generators, automobiles, whisky, glass and china.

Included among ships touching the northern Manitoba port were two Royal Canadian naval destroyers, an ice-breaker and 16 coastal vessels.

"This was a wheat year for Churchill," said W. N. Twolan, port manager. "Indeed it was our only export. We are well satisfied with the season, output, considering the amount of 1947 crop there was in the [illegible]."

Present port facilities appear to be capable of considerable expansion for both incoming and outgoing trade, he said. New living quarters for harbor employees are under construction and are expected to be ready for occupancy next season.

Fifty Curlers To Tour Canada

MONTREAL.—To handle a party of 30 curlers from the Royal Caledonia club of Scotland who will tour Canada and the northern United States this winter the CP steamship Empress of France will call at Greenock, Scotland, to pick up the party. The curlers are scheduled for the return trip on Feb. 2.

The curlers from the mother country of the "roaring game" are tentatively set to play right across Canada from their arrival in Halifax Dec. 28, until their departure.

Suggested stops for matches are Truro, Moncton, Levis, Montreal, Toronto, Sudbury, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Calgary, Nelson, Edmonton and Regina in Canada.

Farm Machinery Need Emphasized

DETROIT. What this world needs said tractor designer Harry Ferguson recently, is more farm machinery instead of automobiles.

The Irish-born inventor made the comment at dedication ceremonies at his new plant in Detroit. He promised a "new line" of agricultural implements which he said is in "secret development."

Horace D'Angelo, president, predicted a production rate of 100 tractors a day in the Detroit plant by Dec. 1.

SUN WON'T BURST FOR "LITTLE" WHILE

MOSCOW.—Turkmenskaya Iskra, a newspaper in Ashkhabad, quoted Soviet scientists B. Kukarkin and P. Parengo as saying that while some stars have been known to burst, the sun "does not belong to their number," and will continue to shine brightly for at least 45,000,000,[illegible]

Foresters On Mice-Trapping Campaign

VICTORIA, B.C.—The forestry department is all-out on a mice-trapping campaign.

The object is to discover when the mice population is at its lowest ebb so that the department can start planting Douglas fir seeds.

In the past it has been a race to see if the department could plant the seeds faster than the mice could eat them. The mice won.

Laboratory tests revealed a mouse could eat 300 seeds a day. The deer mouse appeared to be the worst offender.

The department is now considering coating the seeds in order to make them less palatable for mice.

FEWER FLAT TIRES

NEW YORK.—The American Automobile Association reported fewer flat tires in 1947 than in 1946. The good news was tempered by the fact that battery failures, ignition trouble and carburetor failures increased. Automobiles stalled a total of 37,[illegible] in 1947, the association added.

Woodcarvers of Germany and Switzerland generally use mountain pine, walnut and boxwood for their carvings.

Prairie Water Conservation Program Outlined

OTTAWA.—G. L. MacKenzie, chief engineer of the agricultural department's prairie farm rehabilitation branch, said that a water conservation programme on the prairies may spread over 3,300,000 acres of farmland.

Speaking before the Engineering Institute of Canada, he said the initial programme is being developed in a general area of 105,000,000 acres but that ultimate irrigation would not exceed 3,300,000 acres.

Currently, three projects are under way in Alberta, and one in Saskatchewan.

Seek To Lengthen Tourist Season

OTTAWA.—A suggestion Canada's tourist season be lengthened by postponing celebration of Labor Day from the first to the third Monday in September was made at the third annual Dominion-provincial tourist conference.

D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian travel bureau, said he has been urging the change for years but the idea is unacceptable in some quarters.

Chatsworth Chatter

The Sunday show put on by "A Coy. of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment was quite picturesque, being both seen and heard from here. We hope there were no casualties! All frivolity aside, however, such a Mock Battle, while providing interest and training in case of the eventuality of war, should bring home to us all the terrible futility of war.

The dance to be held at the Chatsworth school this Friday the 29th is in aid of the Xmas Tree fund, so folks turn out to help raise the necessary money to provide gifts and candies etc., for the kiddies of the community.

WEDDING BELLS

TONER—OSBALDESTON

On Tuesday, October 19th, at 10 a.m. the marriage of Violet Edith Osbaldeston and John Milton Toner was solemnized in the Holy Name church, Vermilion. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Osbaldeston and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Toner, all of Vermilion.

Rev. Father Gorman of Lloydminster officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Eileen Toner attended the bride and Mr. Paul Schulte was best man.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a dressmaker suit of aqua blue wool and white crepe blouse trimmed with lace. Her hat was of rose felt with blue veiling and ribbon, and her corsage consisted of pink roses, fern and lily-of-the-valley. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

Miss Eileen Toner, bridesmaid, was dressed in a brown gabardine suit, with hat of blue felt trimmed with veiling. Her corsage was of roses and fern.

Nuptial music was played by Miss Vivian Voss of Vermilion.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace cloth, and centred by a four-tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated in white and silver, topped by an arch hung with silver bells. Tall glass vases of brilliant russet chrysanthemums completed the decoration of the table.

Mr. George Martin proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom replied.

Receiving the guests, Mrs. Albert Osbaldeston, mother of the bride, was dressed in an afternoon frock of navy blue faconne crepe with wine hat of felt.

Mrs. John Toner, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece dress of flowered jersey and crepe, with dark hat of felt.

During the afternoon an open reception was held when the young couple were the recipients of the good wishes of a host of friends and received many beautiful and useful gifts.

In the evening a wedding dance was held in the Legion hall, Vermilion with a large crowd in attendance.

The young couple left later for Forestburg, Alberta, where the groom is now employed with Canadian Utilities and where they plan to make their future home.

Bride-Elect Honored

On Thursday, October 14th, a number of friends of Miss Violet Osbaldeston gathered at her home to tender her a shower of gifts and good wishes. The evening was spent in games and in visiting. The Misses Joyce Osbaldeston and Gladys Heidebrecht wheeled in a table laden with gifts and presented them to the bride-to-be. After the opening and admiring of these the bride fittingly thanked all those present for the many useful and beautiful gifts, assuring them that all would be welcome to visit her in her future home.

A delicious lunch was served, bringing the evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Glidden Farewelled

WILL RESIDE IN EDMONTON

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hodgins when old timers and friends gathered for a surprise and farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Glidden. After residing here for many years Mr. and Mrs. Glidden are leaving shortly to reside in Edmonton. The evening was spent at games and singing until lunch time.

Following lunch Mr. C. King gave a very suitable little address and Mr. Hernie Hodgins, on behalf of those present came in with a nicely decorated box containing a very fine set of dishes. Taken very much by surprise Mr. and Mrs. Glidden thanked everyone for their kind remembrances and good wishes.

AT ALLIANCE CHAPEL

Well Attended Weed Meeting Is Held At Kitscoty

AFTERMATH OF PROSECUTIONS

About 100 ratepayers of Vermilion River M.D. met at Kitscoty on Tuesday to discuss the weed problem.

The meeting was called as an aftermath of the 22 prosecutions under the Weed Act in the Kitscoty and Marwayne districts. The petitioners for the meeting were on hand to present their grievances.

W. L. Brown of Islay was elected chairman and Thomas Wilson, secretary of the M.D. acted as secretary.

Mr. W. Lobay of the Provincial Field Crop branch, gave a talk on the provisions of the Weed Act and the responsibility of the Weed Inspectors in enforcing this Act.

Questions and discussions were invited and over half of the farmers present expressed their views. No one seemed opposed to enforcing the Weed Act but it was the general opinion that everyone guilty of violating the Act should be summoned and not a small percentage of the people having noxious weeds.

Only one resolution was presented and the meeting was unanimous in urging the Council to stock 2, 4-D and make it available to ratepayers at cost.

Most of the Council and the Agricultural Service board were present and also District Agriculturist E. H. [illegible]

MUCH NEEDED PROJECT IS NOW IN SIGHT

ELK POINT. — The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce has been assured by government officials that a survey for the site of a bridge across the Saskatchewan River at Elk Point will be made this month. J. W. Beaudry, M.L.A. has informed the Chamber that there are only 3 bridges left to be surveyed this year and that one of these is to be the Elk Point bridge. A delegation sent to interview Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of Public works previously, has been advised that as soon as the survey of the bridge was made, that steel would be ordered. The fact that building of the bridge is in sight, culminates years of effort on the part of the Chamber and the community to get this important project underway. Construction of the bridge is seen as the key to the future construction of a north-south highway connecting Elk Point with Bonnyville, Cold Lake and Vermilion. Emphasis is being laid on the importance of a "circle route" for tourist traffic, via the Vermilion and St. Paul-Cold Lake highways. It is felt by the group that construction of the salt plant in the district has done much to accelerate action on this important construction. Officials have also been informed by the Alberta Salt Co. that there is a strong possibility that a million dollar chemical plant may be built here in the near future.

Rev. A. Peake at St. Saviour's

At evening service of St. Saviour's Anglican church, the Rev. F. A. Peake, whom many will remember as a former Vicar of Clandonald, will be present and will preach the sermon. Rev. Peake is now the Western Field secretary of the Department of Religious Education of the Anglican church. His field is a wide one as it is up to him to visit as often as possible all parishes in the two provinces of Alberta and British Columbia. He plans to show a film to the young people after the evening service and to say a few words to them.

Dr. Bob Cook will report on the Winona Lake conference and the Beatenberg, Switzerland congress. He will also conduct the Youth For Christ rally at night.

At the local Youth For Christ rally to be held in the Masonic hall tonight (Friday) at 8:00, Director C. Stewart expects to give a report on the conference. Also after this rally the election of Youth For Christ officers for the next year will take place. Everyone is invited to take an active interest in the affairs of Youth For Christ.

CHAS. THOMPSON BUYS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thompson, well known residents of Clandonald and district for many years, have moved into Vermilion where they have purchased the former Anglican rectory more recently owned by Hugh Brown. The new owners plan extensive alterations to the premises.

COPY HELD OVER—

Due to lack of space and time for setting into type a considerable quantity of news including town items, country bulletins, weddings and a picture or two, have been held over until next week. This material receives priority in our next issue.

Treasury Branch Now In Commodious New Quarters

STAFF OF TWO GROWS TO 15

The Vermilion Treasury branch is now housed in brighter and much more commodious quarters, having moved to their new offices in the recently purchased government building over the week end. The offices now present the most modern appointments for the convenience of public and staff alike. Some little renovations remain to be completed and these will be carried out by workmen at night. Capable use has been made of the corner location for the purposes of the Treasury branch business.

STAFF GROWS

It is interesting to recall that the present manager Mr. L. S. Dawson opened the Treasury branch here in 1939. The staff then was comprised of himself and one assistant, Chester Sparks. The quarters occupied were a small corner of the present offices. Now Mr. Dawson is still manager but he has a staff of 15. Eleven of these are men and 4 girls. Mr. Lloyd Donnelly, a local man, is head accountant.

The Vermilion Treasury branch, with its accompanying agencies, handles one of the largest volumes of business of any of the Provincial Treasury branches.

Town Hunters Shoot Tame Ducks

(From Bowtell Bulletin)

Jack Semeniuk of the Bowtell district had the misfortune to have all his tame ducks shot by hunters (?), while the ducks were swimming on the McGinnis slough. It is quite a shame that town hunters are not more careful. A lot of livestock has suffered wounds this hunting season too. To make matters worse these ducks were shot during a warm spell and on a Sunday as well when shooting is supposed to be prohibited. Shooting sitting ducks should be against the law too—there's no sport in that!

LADY CURLERS—TAKE HEED!

Attention Lady Curlers! How would you like to raise the curling fees? There'll be discussion on this and the rink alterations and improvements at the Women's Curling club meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the library room of the town hall.

School of Agriculture Enrolls Large Class

199 STUDENTS IN CLASSES

One hundred and ninety-nine students were enrolled last week for the regular courses at the Vermilion school of agriculture this winter. The details of registration were quickly completed and classes are now in progress.

Honors for having travelled the greatest distance to arrive at Vermilion are shared by a girl, Anne Jackson from Keg River on the highway north of Grimshaw and a junior farmer, Victor Aalbus from Baldonnel, B.C., also in the Peace River area.

Although several districts not represented by students in recent years appear on this year's lists of home addresses, such points as Westlock, North Edmonton, Athabasca, St. Paul, Fort Saskatchewan and Camrose are again well represented. Numerous new students are members of families well known from the school records and the V.S.A. Alumni association's activities.

In addition to their class work the students are busily engaged this week in selecting their representatives for the Students' Council and for committee work in conducting the program of social, athletic and literary activities during the forthcoming term. Campaigning is now in progress and elections will take place next Monday.

Many persons of Vermilion and the surrounding district will be looking forward to an opportunity to visit the school at the time of the Fall "Open" dance which is being planned for Friday, Nov. 19th.

Truck Load of Cattle Turns Over

As a result of the extreme shortage of railway stock cars three loads of cattle were shipped from the stock yards here to Edmonton by truck during the past week. At a point 4 miles west of Vegreville one of the trucks loaded with 21 head of prime beasts, tipped over. As a result four of the animals were so badly injured that they had to be destroyed at once, while a number of others were hurt enough to render them useless when they reached the packing plant.

Shipping by truck was resorted to when it was found impossible to obtain railway stock cars according to information given The Standard by livestock buyers here.

"GREEN ACRES"

POOL ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-five years ago the Alberta Wheat Pool started in business. I well remember the date because I was working for a grain firm in Calgary at the time. I wish to offer my congratulations on their 25th anniversary. Incidentally I also wish to comment on the [illegible] photographs on the front page of the Budget. I know all of the eight men and seven of them I know quite well.

KILL THE SPROUTS

Last year I used Barsprout on my potatoes and on other vegetables when I put them in storage. No sprouts appeared until well along in the spring. We ought to use more of these scientific discoveries. They pay good dividends when used as recommended by the manufacturers.

WINTER VEGETABLES

Your IAA still has fresh tomatoes, celery, carrots, beets, potatoes and onions. So many people in both the country and town these days have such poor gardens. You will never have a good garden unless you [illegible] in and then you have to look after it.

CROSS BROS. WIN PRIZES

At the Calgary Fall sale Jack Cross showed 4 Herefords and won the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion for females. At Edmonton Bill Cross showed [illegible] Aberdeen Angus and got the Grand Champion. [illegible] This heifer sold to $7[illegible]

CHURCHWARD'S YORKSHIRES

At the Edmonton Fall sale [illegible] Churchward got [illegible] for a Yorkshire sow which sold for $160. Mr. Churchward bought [illegible] Yorkshire boar [illegible] for $25[illegible]. This boar was bred by Wylie Bros. of Vegreville.

CORNISH-JACKSON PRIZES

Mr. W. R. Cornish, M.L.A., of Mannville, showed the Champion Suffolk ram at Edmonton. He sold for $20[illegible]. Alan M. Cornish got championship on a Hampshire ewe. Mr. Jackson of Mannville showed the Champion market lamb. M[illegible] congratulations go to all these district breeders who have done so well at the Fall [illegible].

On Thursday evening November 11th there will be a Smoking Concert at the Legion Hall to which function all Returned Men and Women are cordially welcome whether or not you are a member of the Legion.

Saturday, Nov. 6th Is POPPY Day

Following the custom of earlier years, Saturday Nov. 6th has been declared as Poppy Day all across Canada. As in the past, the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion, together with the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, will hold their regular sale of poppies in Vermilion.

The sale of wreaths and poppies each year serves a three-fold purpose. It serves to keep in our minds the spirit of remembrance for the soldiers of two Great Wars 1914-18 and 1939-45 who gave up their lives to preserve the freedom and way of life we enjoy in the democratic countries of the world. The wreaths and poppies are made by veterans of these two wars who are still in hospital suffering from the wounds they received on our behalf. The sale of these poppies gives them the little comforts of life which they would otherwise not receive. The individual branches of the Legion use their share of the proceeds of the sale to carry out their charitable work in assisting the veterans and their dependents who are unable to make their own way in life because of the effects of the wars.

We urge every citizen of Vermilion and district to buy a poppy on Nov. 6th. The cost to you is only a few cents, but when thousands of them are sold all over the country the money earned is used to provide the needy veterans of this country with a decent way of life.

Prospects Good For Tiger Hockey Club

NEW PLAYERS IN TOWN — SANDY WATT ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT AS PRESIDENT OF CLUB AND LEAGUE.

Readers attention is directed to an advertisement elsewhere in this issue regarding the reorganization of the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club. The club and league had a good season last year and have a tidy bank balance with which to start the season. The meeting will be held Friday, Nov. 12th at 8:30 p.m. in the library room, basement of the town hall.

It is understood that there are some "hot" prospects for a real good team this winter and all those interested in hockey should show up and give the game a boost.

A. M. Watt who has been president of the league and of the local Tiger club for the past 4 years, is definitely resigning this year due to pressure of other work. He says that it is a young man's job at any rate and that new blood is always desirable.

Officials Praise Local I. O. D. E. Library

R. MacDonald of the Dept. of Economic Affairs and his assistant, Miss Audrey Ladler visited the I.O.D.E. library and were very pleased with the services provided. Books were well selected and arrayed and in excellent condition. In the opinion of the two officials the Librarian is to be congratulated on the good work she is doing, and in their opinion too, more people should take advantage of the service which the I.O.D.E. library has to offer.

Branch of Canadian Club Formed Here

In accordance with a widespread desire a branch of the Canadian Club of Canada was formed at a meeting called for that purpose held at George's Lower Deck on Friday evening. Over thirty interested persons both ladies and men attended.

ISLAY

The annual chicken supper held in the Islay hall by the W.A. was a great success being attended by 275 people. There were even a few chicken left over after the multitude had had their fill. Sincere thanks are extended to all who donated food or helped in any way, also to the folks from Vermilion and surrounding district who helped make the event so successful.

Miss Muriel Stone and cousin Marian Stone of Oshawa motored to Edmonton Thursday last week on receiving word of the serious illness of Mrs. Herbert Stone. Latest reports indicate that Mrs. Stone's condition has improved a little. A speedy recovery is wished her.

Al Beecroft motored from Edmonton to do some duck hunting. He was accompanied by Dan Gilchrist, an old timer of this district. Dan was a guest at the Bothwell home while here and attended the chicken supper where he met many old friends who were delighted to see him.

Mrs. C. C. Mitchell of Thorsby and Mrs. Yvonne Steinhauer of Edmonton were in Islay for the Robertson-Timmins wedding. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fenton and Maxine of Streamstown visited Mr. and Mrs. John Maitre Friday and attended the wedding.

Bert Gould and two sons Gordon and Lawrence are away north of Edmonton hunting big game.

Bowtell Bulletin

Don't forget the dance on Friday Nov. 5th at the school.

The writer regrets to hear that at time of writing Betty Rochford is in the hospital with a badly infected throat.

Aubrey McGinnis has returned home. He is in Edmonton at present but will shortly work in Vermilion.

Members of the Walker family are all Edmonton visitors this week. Mr. and Mrs. Hardie are looking after their farm during their absence.

Floyd Stensvith visited over the week-end with the Sherwood family. Floyd worked for Grandad Sherwood some 16 years ago. He now lives south-west of [illegible].

Mrs. Spencer, Philip, Betty and Sandy of Vanesti were visitors at the Sherwood home Sunday.

Mrs. Knutson spent a few days visiting at Marshall, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Dedelly are settled in their new home.

Charlie Burt and Frank Robinson have been busy cutting brush down on their road in the hopes that the road will be graded up. It certainly needs fixing as it is practically impassable even for a team in the winter time.

The Busy Bees thank all those who helped with their sale at Stephens last Saturday with special mention of Stephens management for the use of the store.

If you want to see a grand flock of white Holland turkeys just visit Mrs. John Nelson near the Allandale school.

WILDMERE WINKS

If the good weather continues the Rev. T. W. Teape will hold a service in the Wildmere school on Sunday Nov. 7th at 3 p.m. Everyone is welcome and Mr. Teape is a grand speaker.

The writer is pleased to note that the Salvation Home League is lending its support to a [illegible] and [illegible] adequate rest room for country women.

Our nice weather continues. Lawrence Graham and Jim Wallington saw geese on Nov. 1st. Crows are still in evidence.

J. C. Wallington was an Edmonton visitor last week. While there he called on Mr. and Mrs. Howard. He also drove out to Darwell to see his sister Mrs. Summers. He stopped at Carvel Corner to inquire the road and by a coincidence met a former Wildmere teacher Mary Brown who is now Mrs. Gadd. We hear that you still read the Winks Mary.

Armistice Day Nov. 11 Thirty Years After

(Contributed)

In this year of Our Lord 1948, a year that has brought us to the brink of a terrible precipice, it behooves all thinking men and women, and the people to whom I have the honor of addressing this letter are in that category, to examine themselves very thoroughly, and find out if they are facing the future like men or are burrowing their heads in the sand, and hoping the storm will blow over. 30 long years have passed by since that first Armistice Day came, the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, very significant these numbers, and looking back one must admit it was an armistice only, and peace has not yet come to a troubled world. I wonder if we have the courage to face ourselves, and ask if we, you and I, have definitely striven towards establishing the ideals that would bring peace.

"Ah! When shall all men's good — be each man's rule, and Universal Peace—lie like a shaft of light across the land."

Thirty long years in striving and who can say as to what progress has actually been made. And what of the future?

There is no person who is not connected with war. It might be you are not actually a returned man or woman, you would have been had it been possible, but your brother, your son or daughter, your cousin, have been in the Armed Forces and will go again if the forces of Good do not prevail, if the leaders of our world are not successful in their efforts to stem the tide of Communism. Our way of life is after all what we have been fighting for, the ideal that man made in the likeness of God, is free to think and act and that the State cannot subordinate him without killing the State itself. Let us this Remembrance Day say with Tennyson:

Slav, Teuton, Kelt, I count them all
My friends and brother souls,
With all the peoples, great and small,
That wheel between the poles.

Then let us realize it is not now one country against another and the trouble localized, but it is the whole world out into two and lined up against each other. To the victor belongs the spoils and the victor if there is a victor, will have and leave a heritage of hate, disease and such dire poverty that life will be no better than that of the animals. We who have seen war know that possibly better than others who have not been so fortunate, and we know too that had we been ready to extend the hand of true comradeship and been true to the spirit of what our comrades died for the present world situation would not have come about. The Legion message to its members and to every soul in the world is "Make this coming Remembrance Day a time to think of what war will do and what it might mean to millions and then get down on your knees and pray." "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. Wherefore let thy voice rise like a fountain". Pray.

HALLOWE'EN ! . . .

Hallowe'en is over for another year after a double portion. The smaller children carried out their harmless and oftimes amusing rounds on Saturday night garnering as they did so an amazing collection of eatables. The kiddies were attired in all sorts of weird garb and were not averse to paying for their goodies with a little entertainment. The large fry had their apparently unchecked innings Sunday night and succeeded in making a general nuisance of themselves although little in the way of damage is noted.

DEWBERRY NEWS

It was the night before Hallowe'en and all through our town,
The kids they were pushing oil barrels around.
Some were laid flat, and some were on end, in the hope Someone would stumble and his neck for to bend.

Yes, it's gone again, and the only damage is that one man had some windows in his house broken. Of course there was the usual decoration of out-houses placed here and there, with a group all together on the main road north of town. Our funny story is about one farmer who took the keys out of a motor vehicle while tricks were being played on him by the owner and passenger. It all ended with the driver having to knock at the door and ask Mr. Farmer if he had the keys.

THE WEATHER . . .

Beautiful weather continues, warm days, little if any frost at night. The roads throughout the country generally speaking, are in very good condition.

The C.G.I.T. girls under Mrs. Elsie Jones treated the public to a free Hallowe'en party in the hall last Friday. A nice program was presented by the girls after which they served lunch.

Vic Iwanill, Headley, Ben Timmanson and Edsel Jones have gone on their annual hunting trip west of Edmonton. This year they have taken a team of horses in the truck with them. Frank Bowman and his party expect to leave this week for the same location.

A few geese are still to be found north of here. Ole Lunden and Clarence Axley were successful in bagging four one morning this week.

The Dewberry students' union have once again started their picture shows and will show them on Monday nights.

Just for the records—Terry Anderson, 7 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Anderson, has 8 teeth.

Don't forget the A.F.U. box social on Nov. 12th.

USED TO CLEAR FIELDS OF "CRASH" BIRDS—A unit of tamed peregrine falcons, favorites of ancient kings and their courts, have joined the royal air force. The R.A.F. announced in London, Eng., that it had enlisted 15 falcons to clear the [illegible] near R.A.F. fields of birds during the winter months. It was pointed out that 51 planes have been involved in accidents resulting from flying into flocks of birds in England during the past year. Experiments conducted at one R.A.F. field indicated that a single falcon eliminated the bird menace with a few daily flights. Above is a peregrine falcon.

(Too late for last week)

Splendid autumn weather has enabled most folks to do up many odd jobs around the farm before expected snow flies. Everyone has enjoyed the lovely days and summer-like temperatures.

The W.A. supper held at Morrison school on the 19th was a decided success. Many families were present at the gathering and it was quite like old times to see the tables set up with delicious food and the W.A. ladies all busy serving. There was plenty to eat and the pies left over were auctioned off at the close of the evening. We were glad to see so many of our comrades from Vermilion who were ably assisted with the impromptu concert. Proceeds from the supper and pies was very gratifying. The bidding was good on items left over. Our genial chairman held the attention of those present with his ready wit and in that way kept bidding high!

The articles by Tall Oak are something to look forward to. We need more of this kind of reading. Keep it up Tall Oak it will bring about a taste for the better kind of reading and gives readers a chance to think of the better things of life which are so essential in this day and age.

Ducks are still plentiful in the fields and one hears hunters from time to time in late afternoon. Most of our summer birds have gone south. It's a real pleasure to see the lovely Jays and hear their cheery call. The chick-a-dees also are back and make the leafless groves ring with their sweet notes.

FROM MEMORIES

Oh every year hath its winter
And every year hath its rain—
But a day is always coming
When the birds go north again.
When new leaves swell in the forest
And grass springs green on the plain
And the alders veins turn crimson and the birds go north again.

Canada has nearly 100 daily newspapers. English language dailies have a circulation of about 3½ million, French language about half a million. In addition we have four Chinese and and 2 Yiddish dailies.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "Tall Oak"

During the last war one of the privileges that fell to my lot, was the conducting of the military church parade.

What a sight!

Two thousand men—spic and span, buttons shining and uniforms smartly pressed. Officers with their Sam Brown belts highly polished. The playing of the military band—the exciting rhythm of marching feet. The shouts of "Heff — Hi — Heff" (that's what it sounded like to me). It was a thrill as I watched standing alone upon the make-shift dais, and feeling very incompetent.

While waiting for the parade to form up around the platform, I let my eyes sweep across the scene before me.

Down behind the platform there was a sweating N.C.O. trying desperately to eliminate a howling back-feed in the public address system. He finally succeeded.

The marching troops had formed up behind their markers, and the Company Commanders reported that their sections were in order. The regimental Sergeant-Major (who I thought was looking very important) was keeping an eagle-like eye upon the proceedings. When all was in order, he very smartly did a right about turn and reported to his immediate superior who in turn marched smartly to the Camp Commandant or Senior Officer in-Charge.

Looking over the entire parade the Senior Officer of the day swelled his chest with good prairie air (I had momentary concern about his brass buttons) and roared, (yes I think that describes it) "Paaaraaaade. Stand awwt ease!" . . . "aaat-ten-shun!" A tremendous clap of metal tipped heels followed. For a moment he swept the entire parade with critical eyes then with a look of satisfaction he did a right-about turn and marched toward me (I felt a moment of near panic being my first military church parade) and very deliberately he turned the parade over to the "Padre." I returned his salute and lifting my chin as high as I could so they could hear gave the command for the parade to Stand at Ease then followed with Stand Easy.

"Onward Christian Soldiers" was the first hymn we sang. The singing was disappointing for 2000 men. Between verses I encouraged them. After that the singing was better.

It is hard to explain the feeling in my heart. Before me were hundreds of the finest men in Canada waiting for a message from the Man of God. Many of them would be dead in less than 6 months! They would die on the battlefield defending our right to hold a gathering such as this and yet so many didn't seem to realize what it was all about. In fact many would sooner skip church parade altogether. (Not mind you because they didn't want to worship God but because military church parades turn out to be C.O.'s inspections and "Tommy" resents all the pressing and extra polishing etc. he has to go through to simply go to church—so he'll skip out of Church parades, or any other parade if he can get away with it!)

Unfortunately, "Tommy" doesn't stop to think the situation through, and when he gets back into civilian life he runs away from church because of the unfortunate association the word church has in his mind with the word parade. So we find him neglecting his Soul, which is a great pity!

Before the sermon permission is given to make themselves comfortable by sitting on the ground. This they speedily do. Then we talked of Jesus Christ the Son of God. How He gave His life to open the gates of Heaven for us all. How He has sent the Holy Ghost to give us power over self and sin—to make us true soldiers of the King of Kings. Anxiously they are exhorted to accept Christ as their personal Saviour from sin and its consequences and power. The talk closed with an exhortation to loyalty, to king and country and also to Almighty God.

All then stand for the final hymn and the Blessing, automatically coming to attention for the National Anthem as it is played by the band. Then the men are marched back to their quarters and dismissed.

Months later, I read the announcements: Private —, Cpl. —, Captain —, Major—, Colonel—, "Killed in Action." And I wonder — did they understand the message? Did they accept Christ as Saviour? Were they ready to meet God? It affords me a little comfort to know that some did . . . but what of the rest?

"Oh, that the world would taste and see,
The riches of His grace,
The arms of love that compass me
Would all mankind embrace."

There will be another parade on November 11th. Yes, I know, the circumstances will be different—memories will be stirred—[illegible] the same — Opportunity will be with us still. Opportunity to resolve to be loyal to democratic ideals and most important to accept Christ as Saviour and Lord.

MOSSBANK, Sask.

"Biggest Little Village In The South Country"

—Haven For Hunters
—Opens 20-Bed Hospital

The new modern 20-bed Buffalo-Lake Mossbank Union hospital, after almost two years of work preparing and moving, is officially opened with a staff of two doctors and three nurses.

THE first thing seen of the Mossbank site was a trail south of the townsite which was called the Wood Mountain Trail. Until 1906 the district was not touched by white people. In that year surveyors marked out the sites for homesteads, and 1907, the first year that anyone settled in this region. Four men, Robert Jolly, now deceased, Alec Jolly, still on his homestead, John Clarke, now living in Mossbank and Robert Walker now residing at Rainy River were the first four to settle in this district. Upon asking John Clarke at an interview about the district, he replied: "Everything was burnt from here to the halfway mark towards Moose Jaw". Later that year many more located in these parts with as many as 20 men in one wagon coming through while others came by horseback and some even walked.

In 1909 the first post office was established with Robert Jolly as the postmaster. It was named Mossbank by a list of names the Inspector of Post Offices had with him. Mossbank being on top of the list, so Mr. Jolly took the first name, [illegible].

The C.N.R. was built through in 1913 but a store had already preceded it. It was built near the C.N.R. station in the fall of 1912 with Lawrence Quinn as first storekeeper. Jim Quinn owned the land on which the townsite of Mossbank was built.

Mossbank's Community Hall, a building of 40x100 feet with a full size basement, serves the district as a banquet, recreation and dance hall. It has a balcony on three sides of the building.

The present townsite laid out in 1913 and the buildings were put up a year later. The C.P.R. was built through 1915 and the north side called Raycraft by the railroad. This caused all the businessmen with the exception of Lawrence Quinn, the first storekeeper, to move their stores to Raycraft. A month later the Village took up a collection to move them back.

In 1917 a fire wiped out the west side of main street and the villagers being undaunted rebuilt it in the same year. In 1922 as a memorial to the soldiers who died overseas, trees were planted along the streets of Mossbank.

Through this time until 1929 Mossbank grew to a population of about 500. Surviving the hungry thirties its population in 1939 was estimated 430. In 1940 Mossbank received an unexpected boost when No. 2 Bombing and Gunnery School, R.C.A.F., was opened 4½ miles east of Mossbank bringing with it a personnel of 2,200 men when it was operating at full capacity. Homes were opened to them and every available room and building was rented out. From that time till 1945 the population ranged at about 1,150. Business was very prosperous. At the close of the airport the population dropped to 560 and at present it again stands at 700.

The village is proud to say that during the war period, the business people did not take advantage of the close proximity of the No. 2 B. & G. school and boost prices or enlarge their places of business in any way.

At the close of the war business started to improve, social activities were started again, progress was noticed and we are pleased to say has been moving rapidly forward ever since.

The region surrounding Mossbank, especially Lake Johnston, four miles north of the village, is a popular attraction to hunters of wild game—visitors coming from as far east as the State of New York and as far south as California. They always take home their quota of ducks and geese. "Hunters"—Mossbank Welcomes You!

The Village has a high power line to provide lighting and other facilities. The business section consists of a bank, two general stores, two hardware stores, two butcher shops, two beauty parlors, one theatre, two restaurants, one electrical goods store, cleaning and pressing establishment, two barber shops, shoe repair shop, drug store, men's ready-to-wear shop, hotel with licensed premises and splendid accommodations, Masonic Hall, painting and interior decorating shop, six automobile dealerships and three wholesale and retail oil depots, bus station and bus service, two railroads, Post Office, public and high school, the high school was purchased by the Larger School Unit from the airport, a building 240 feet long, and was used last year by the school, six teachers are employed.

Legion Hall, large community hall and recreation centre, building is 40x100 feet with full size basement used for banquet hall and special occasions. Village also boasts a skating and curling rink, six elevators, R.C.M.P. station.

A new modern 20 bed hospital valued at $70,000, now opened with a staff of two doctors and three nurses.

The telephone office has just been moved to its new location on Main Street. Ground plans are in operation to amalgamate 10 rural No. 109 and Sutton 108 with the object to provide 24 hour service to Mossbank, Mazenod, Ettington, Vantage, Ardill, Mitchellton, Expanse and Bishopric.

The Lake Johnston Star which covers a large district with its circulation, was originally printed at Expanse, Sask., by Mr. Alfred Wyldman, and in 1919 moved it to Mossbank. After Mr. Wyldman's passing in 1942, Mrs. Wyldman carried on the editorship till 1945, when her son C. C. Wyldman, came back from overseas and published the paper till last July and sold out to the present owner Mr. Ewald K. Wuschke, who believes he is the youngest editor in the province. Age 19 years.

The surrounding country is definitely a wheat growing country, some winter wheat is being grown and mixed farming is becoming general.

Mossbank is well treed and during the summer months a well recognized beauty spot. On entering the village, the wide main street, well kept boulevards, yards and gardens with an abundance of flowers and vegetables attract the eyes and has brought well deserved comments from visitors. Our Slogan is: The Biggest Little Village In The South Country.

The Main street of Mossbank looking from the south when entering off the No. 2 Highway. Trees to the left of the street were planted in 1922 as a memorial to the soldiers who died overseas.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

AS OLD AS YOU FEEL

City Folk's Ain't Got No Consideration For Folks In The Country

By ANNA E. WILSON

"HOW you ever stand these flies, Martha," that would be the peevish voice of Cousin Minnie, "is more than I can see—it does seem as if a body might have a little peace in the country after putting up with the city for eleven months of the year."

Dad lowered his paper slowly and looked at Mom, who had just bustled in with a glass of milk and a piece of gingerbread for sister Fannie's boy Sil who was staying the summer and growing so fast you couldn't fill him no matter how much you tried. Sil took the milk and gingerbread and went off to eat them on the back porch and Mom collapsed on a chair. She heaved a sigh now, listening to Cousin Min.

"I forgot to mention the hole in that screen, Dad. With wire so hard to get, I had to tack a piece of netting on it and Sil put his ball through it yesterday. The flies have been coming in all day and with Cousin Min down with one of her headaches. they do bother her."

But Dad wasn't thinking of Cousin Min. He was thinking of Mom. He'd never seen Mom look so tired. Her face was covered with tiny beads of sweat and you could tell just by the way she sat down that she was just about spent. After all Mom was all of seventy.

Dad bit on his pipe and scowled. "Well, if it isn't Cousin Min, it's Sil, and if it isn't Sil it's your Uncle Jeb—from morning until night there's never a moment's peace in this house. Tell you what, Mom, city folks ain't got no consideration for folks in the country. Soon's the weather's fine they come crowding down for Sunday dinner or they come for their holidays or to stay the summer. Work, work, work, that's all you do, Mom, from May till September and never a word of thanks that I can see or time to sit down and enjoy the good paint job I've done on this porch. Time you had a rest yourself, Mom. What in thunderation—!"

It was just Uncle Jeb slipping across the back yard in his socks, trying to ease the sore feeling in his feet with the soft feel of the grass, until he hit a stone with his toe. Mom bustled off and rubbed it with arnica.

"Not a bruise showing," she said apologetically, "but Uncle Jeb does like you to fuss a little. Comes of being alone in the world. Tell you what, Dad, fixing up Uncle Jeb makes me think of old Mrs. Fraser Lynn."

Dad wasn't to be sidetracked. "I've made up my mind, Mom," he said grimly. "Come Monday week, they're all going packing. The whole lot's nothing but a bunch of grade A chiselers."

Mom laughed. "Now, Dad," she said equably, "quit fussing about things. It's not as if we couldn't afford to give Cousin Min and Sil and Uncle Jeb a holiday. Why, with no children of our own, I wouldn't know how to spend the money Aunt Mary left us, bless her heart!"

"You could spend it," said Dad grimly, "getting Nora to help with the work and taking better care of your arthritis."

"Coddling just cripples you," said Mom firmly. "Now, Dad, as I was saying, it's a nice day to drive over and see old Mrs. Fraser Lynn."

Dad cleared his throat. Mrs. Fraser Lynn was all of Mom's age. A lone body she'd found the care of her house too much for her and had gone to live in a home near the county seat.

Dad's voice was fretful. "You don't want to be seeing old Mrs. Lynn on a hot day like today."

"Well, it's the only day we've got," said Mom, reasonably. "Once the haying starts the Miller boys'll be staying and I don't give a body a chance to get away. Besides it's Nora's afternoon off and she's promised to come over and give Cousin Min a bite and look after Jeb and Sil."

All the way over Mom sat in the front seat fanning herself to keep cool and enjoying the scenery. Dad wasn't enjoying anything. He'd made up his mind that the summer folks had to go. Mom needed a rest. He took up the argument stubbornly.

"[illegible] Jeb can go over to his sister[illegible] Millie runs a boarding house by the lake and [illegible] knows lake air's good for old folks."

"Now, Dad." Mom's voice was placid. "Jeb'd be nothing but a maid of all work for Millie and you know he's on his feet all day at that job of his in the city. Says he couldn't keep it up if it wasn't for a month or so down here."

"Jeb goes," Dad was firm, "and Cousin Minnie can take her headaches and her aspirins over to her brother in Lakeview."

"Now Dad." Mom wiped her face with a large handkerchief. "Cousin Min does suffer so with that migraine and being librarian in a big city library's close work. Cousin Min's been coming to us for 20 years. That brother of hers has five children and lives in a flat. It's hot and dirty."

"Min goes," said Dad decisively, chewing on his pipe. "So does Sil."

Mom laughed outright. "Sil's set traps down by the creek. Says there's muskrats there. Getting to be a fine boy now he's got away from that city gang. Wouldn't be surprised to see Sil take up farming."

"He won't learn on this farm," said Dad darkly.

"This is the place," said Mom, giving her face another going over and straightening her hat. "Drive right in and park by the elms. There's Mrs. Lynn in that armchair, shooing the flies away with a newspaper."

At first, Mrs. Lynn hardly knew them, then she brightened up. "Can't be more than a year I been here and, imagine here I am forgetting folks already. Seems as if one day's so like another you just lose track." She eyed Mom wistfully. "You do be looking younger than ever, Mom. It's having things to do and folks to tend after, I expect. Nothing's so aging as the feeling of not being needed anymore."

Mom was all agog with news of Mrs. Lynn's friends but Mrs. Lynn seemed to lack interest in Mom's gossip. She was apologetic. "Just off here you get out of things. Sort of lose track. So Sil's boy's still with you, Mom. Must be a fine thing watching a young lad grow up. Makes folks young again—almost."

Even Dad could see that Mrs. Lynn was getting tired. Folks here weren't used to much going on around. Dad was thoughtful. Mom wasn't a day younger than Mrs. Lynn, but he could see she was just raring to get back to clean and sew and cook, and coddle Cousin Min and Uncle Jeb and Sil.

They were just turning the corner by the gate when Dad spoke. "Wouldn't surprise me any, Mom, if that old piece of screen wire left over from the porch wasn't around somewhere. Maybe I can tack it to Cousin Min's window and we could have Sil pick up the stones and rake out back—Uncle Jeb does like the feel of the grass on his feet. You know, Mom, sort of makes a man forget he's seventy-five come August, having folks around."

Praise For Cr. George Lawrence

We think a word of appreciation is due our councillor, Mr. George Lawrence on the large amount of very worthwhile and required road work accomplished in our division this summer. A lot of improvements have been made on the highway as well as a lot of new roads graded that have been needed for years. Several danger signs have been put up. Some "Slow" signs are required at the Rye school as the thick hedge all round the school grounds cuts off any view of the road traffic until the children are out of the gates. The corner at Rock burns still needs cutting off. We hope the good work will continue next year as country roads [illegible] attention.

Grandma Goad 87 Years Old

Birthday greetings for Oct. 30th are extended to Grandma Goad who is 87 years of age. Mrs. Goard is quite active and does her own housework.

Miss Florence Seal has been visiting her sister Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Darlene.

Since last writing this column a dance has been held in St. Pats hall with proceeds in aid of the church, and another at Rye school in aid of the Xmas fund. Both were successful.

Mr. Grant Sr. has returned from a trip down east and drove back a new Kaiser car.

There is quite an epidemic of weddings this fall and as it is hard to keep track of them all we will just extend good wishes generally to all the happy young folk.

Firecrackers Dangerous

The writer agrees wholeheartedly with the Dewberry scribe on the question of children and firecrackers. The firecrackers are thrown about without any thought of where they might land. Surely someone is responsible for the actions and manners of the children who do such things.

Mrs. Law, teacher of Rye school, attended the convention in Vermilion.

Mrs. O'Rourke, Kathleen and Peter are leaving next week for the coast where they will spend the winter.

Several of the young people are going away for the winter. John Mulgrew is running a brush cutter near Vermilion, Ten McGillivray is attending V.S.A.

Chatsworth Chatter

The wonderful fall weather continues, with everyone making the most of the long open spell to catch up on odd jobs which do pile up on the farm.

Many have been busy completing work on new houses, or additions to houses, hereabouts. The new house being built this summer for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bielech is now completed. Joe Mistal is building a new barn also a further addition on his house. Joe Farkash Sr. is having the final color coat put on his stuccoed house. Frank and Charlie Farkash have been busy with cement work on their new house. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Good are prepared to move to R. Good's house when the outfit arrives to move their house to town for Mr. and Mrs. R. Good and the Arnston house has been taken down and the lumber moved. This leaves a very bare looking corner as this house has been a landmark there for a long time.

Miss Helen Phillips of Mannville has been visiting her sister Mrs. Joe Farkash Jr. for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Bruce Hyde and little daughter Betty, left on Saturday 23rd, on their return trip to DeWinton, Alta. Mrs. Hydes' mother Mrs. D. Cameron, accompanied them as far as Edmonton. The trip was made to the city by bus and from there by train.

Cliff McKee is driving a flashy new Meteor car.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cameron and little daughter Judy, were visitors to Lacombe this past week and guests at the home of Mrs. Cameron's parents Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer.

Congratulations and good wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ang Anderson newlyweds of last week. Also, wishes for all future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. John Toner recently married. Both of the brides were former members of this community.

Party Commemorates Cadet Week

In celebration of Cadet week, members of the No. 214 Ambulance Cadet division held a joint party last week with members of the No. 255 Nursing Cadet Division, St. John Ambulance Association. The party was held in the Elk Point Legion hall and various games and activities were held. Much amusement was created by the Ambulance Cadets who were initiated by the Nursing Cadets into a "hen party". The girls won over the boys in a "sniff-sniff" relay in which small pieces of paper were carried from one end of the hall to the other by intake of the breath, but the boys defeated the girls in "balloon foot ball". Corporal Joan Sumpton won the prize for identifying the greatest number of faces from the comic papers. Over 40 cadets were in attendance. Arrangements for games and amusement were in the hands of Cadet Supt. J. Jacobson and Cadet Sydney Bates. A delightful lunch was served the cadets by the lunch committee consisting of Lady Cadet Superintendent N. D. Sumpton, Lady Cadet Officer Lois Blackmore, Corporals Joan Sumpton and Jean Moruss and Cadet Doreen L[illegible]quist. A re-arrangement of corporals and sergeants will be found necessary in both divisions to replace those who have left Elk Point and to accommodate new members. Arrangements are being made for cadets to assist at the Red Cross blood donor clinic to be held here on Oct. 27th.

A Successful Year

AT THE CONCLUSION OF ANOTHER tourist season the Dominion Travel Bureau has reported a very successful year in this growing and important branch of Canadian industry. Because of our close proximity to the United States the number of Americans who visit Canada are always an indication of the volume of tourist traffic. This year it is estimated that [illegible] American cars entered Canada which was considerably more than the number which entered in the same period in 1947. The amount of United States currency spent by tourists here this season has not yet been made known but it is hoped that it will exceed by at least ten per cent the 235 million American dollars which were brought into Canada during the holiday season last year. This aspect of the tourist business was considered especially important this year because of Canada's low reserves of United States funds.

* * * *

Increases in Most Provinces

Disastrous floods which swept British Columbia in the early summer and extensive forest fires in northern Quebec and Ontario were believed to have been responsible for a considerable decrease in the tourist business in those areas which normally attract many thousands of visitors. At a Dominion Provincial tourist conference held in Ottawa in October it was reported that there was an increase in tourist trade this year of from one to twelve per cent over 1947. British Columbia was the only province to report a decrease, the figure for this season being five per cent less than in the previous year. The Dominion Tourist Bureau reported that as many as 4,300 inquiries were received in one day regarding holiday resorts in Canada and more than three million pieces of literature were mailed out by the bureau this season.

Land Of Great Natural Beauty

Roads and [illegible] always closely associated with discussions concerning the tourist business. In the past there has been considerable criticism of the facilities provided in some parts of Canada but the Tourist Bureau reports that this year there were fewer complaints and a greater number of letters of appreciation in this connection. Great progress has been made in improving highways and in raising standards of tourist accommodation but there is need for further effort in building up this business which has proved to be a most profitable one for the country. The matter of completing the trans-Canada highway is still unsettled and such a road would be a great asset both in attracting tourist traffic and for the country generally. It is to be hoped that the progress which is now being made in building up the tourist industry will continue for few countries have greater natural beauty than Canada and it is fitting that it should be enjoyed by visitors from other lands as well as by Canadians themselves.

Alaska Road As Channel For Tourist Trade

VANCOUVER — Since the U.S. Army's corps of engineers built the Alaska Military Highway through Canada, farsighted residents of Western Canada and United States have been stressing the needs and benefits of improved land transportation to [illegible] Alaska.

William Warne, U.S. assistant secretary of the interior, believes that if the Alaska Highway were properly developed it might channel a tourist trade of almost $100 million a year [illegible] into Alaska.

The Alberta provincial highway system joins up with the Alaska Highway via the Edmonton-Dawson Creek [illegible], which Premier Manning has announced his government plans to put in shape, [illegible] sections gravelling them as rapidly as possible.

British Columbia will link with the Alaska Highway at Dawson Creek when the John Hart Highway from there to Prince George is completed.

Hundreds Of Geese Land On Airport

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Hundreds of Canadian snow geese recently buzzed Springfield's multi-million dollar airport, landed without instructions from the tower and refused to leave.

Commercial airliners were able to land only when trucks shooed the big geese off the glistening runways. The geese apparently believed the [illegible] strips were lakes. They waddled and honked around the municipal field moving out of the way only at threat of being flattened by truck wheels. None made a move to fly away.

Airline pilots said the geese which weigh from seven to 10 pounds could break a propeller or even damage a wing.

Everybody was worried except the geese. They rested on their federal immunity from gunfire. It is against the law to shoot the big birds at the rate of more than one a day per hunter and only in season.

SAFETY FIRST

Here's a safety tip when putting furnace or stove pipes in position. After fitting the lengths securely together take a piece of white chalk and make a circle around the place where the slightly expanded ends of each length fit over the previous section. If the lengths of pipe start pulling away from each other the chalk mark will show this movement.

If this small safety tip is adopted a casual glance at the pipes at any time will show whether the sections are parting company or whether all is safe and sure.

There is danger in poorly fitting stove or furnace pipes. Keeping [illegible] makes probable a disastrous fire [illegible] may be in the making.

TURKEY REPRESENTS A GOLD MINE IN THESE DAYS OF SOARING PRICES—Symbolic of all festive holidays is the turkey, which is becoming noticeably absent from the public's table. The high prices of meat and fowl have lessened the sales of these products, so that most holidays are being celebrated now without the customary fowl on the dining-room table. Above W. FUNNY And OTHERWISE

The teacher wanted to impress on his class that there was nothing a man could not do if he put his mind to it. Johnny Jones begged to differ.

"Well," said the teacher, "tell me and the class what it is."

EXPERT OPINION ON WOMEN'S FOOTWEAR

PLOWING A "PUSH OVER" SAYS GIRL

LINDSAY, Ont. — Blonde, attractive Madeline Huffman of Waterford, Ont., says this business of championship plowing is a push-over. At least, that's the way she has found it.

She took up tractor plowing just two weeks ago and recently was presented with a $40 prize at the plowmen's banquet. That was for winning a girls' tractor class at the International Plowing match last week. But she also placed fourth in a competition at the match.

"The county officials wanted me to plow with a pony tractor," said the smiling 17-year-old. "That's how I happened to take it up. Now that I've found out how easy it is, I'm going to try again next year."

Chicken Confuses Manitoba Farmer

WINNIPEG, Man.—Amos Vince of Ashern, Man., is very confused.

The cause of his confusion is a chicken that can't make up its mind whether it wants to be a male or a female.

In a letter to the Manitoba Agriculture Department Vince said that he had recently received 12 Leghorn cockerels from the hatchery. However, one of the cockerels started laying eggs. After laying about a dozen eggs the pullet decided that there was no future in eggs and proceeded to do a turn-about.

In less than three days the bird blossomed into a full-feathered cockerel.

Manitoba poultry experts say that the occurence is rare but has happened before. They say that to their knowledge a male has never become a female but females can become males.

Town Reverts Back To Village

REGINA — Mortlach, 27 miles west of Moose Jaw and one of the oldest towns in Saskatchewan, has lost its "growing pains".

A dwindling population has resulted in the town council making application to the provincial government for permission to revert to the status of a village.

And so, after Jan. 1, 1949, the town of Mortlach will officially become the village of Mortlach.

Mortlach's population in 1946, according to the quinquennial census, was given at 255. The population is down from that figure now.

Oil To Ensure Prairie Future

OTTAWA. — Dr. G. S. Hume, Chief of the Geological Survey, Resources Department, said that new discovery of oil in Alberta will make the Prairie Provinces self-sufficient in a short time.

"It is certain that the Prairie Provinces will be self-sufficient and yield a surplus as a result of the discoveries of the Leduc and Redwater wells near Edmonton," he told the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Currently the Leduc field is producing more than 500,000 barrels of oil a month. In June the Leduc field surpassed the famed Turner Valley in production.

Dr. Hume said the Redwater field has not started production yet but it contains great potentiality.

He warned that the time is approaching when the west coast will not be able to get sufficient oil by importing from California. Consumption in that state was nearing production level.

"All of our western oil comes from California, so the self-sufficiency of the prairies may be of interest to the west coast," he added.

He doubted if oil from the new Alberta fields will be transported east.

CANNIBALS AMONG FISH

WINNIPEG. — Winnipeg city officials suspect there are cannibals among their gold fish. When the pool in front of the city hall was drained recently, all that remained was 12 old-timers. Normally there would have been many young fish in the pool.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Have you made any new friends lately?

Of course we always want to keep our tried-and-true friends. But [illegible] is to discover an important secret of a richer, more interesting life. Like travel, new faces and new personalities help lift us out of our ruts.

So, instead of waiting for new friends to drift into our lives, it is a good plan to seek them and cultivate them.

Where will you find them? Right in your own town—perhaps in your neighborhood, church, club or place of work. Already you have a "nodding acquaintance" with some people who may later be included in your circle of intimate companions.

Choose from all types—not just those whose occupations and interests are similar to yours. Favour those who are mentally stimulating.

Of course, to make new friends means that you must usually make the first move. But most people appreciate being singled out and quickly respond to friendly overtures. And the little effort you make will pay dividends in happier, more successful living.

ELDERLY COUPLE MAKE LONG MOTOR TRIP

This country must be grand for old people. Where in the world else will you find a 78-year-old farmer taking his wife in an older model car, over those western high and by-ways, for a two weeks' motor trip? Well, that's what Mr. Charles Friedland did and he and Mrs. Friedland enjoyed every mile of it. The only trouble they had was one flat tire. Their journey took them first to Edmonton for a visit with Mrs. Patter, then all the way up to see the Alaska highway next and back again on to Cold Lake and Cherry Grove to see their daughter Mrs. Dilcox and home in time to be at the Rankin sale not even looking a wee bit tired.

The Rankin sale was well attended and a very big crowd gathered to bid on the various items and to do some visiting — so much so that the auctioneers once in a while had to ask for quiet, so they could be heard and hear the bids themselves!

TOLLAND GIRL WRITES RADIO SCRIPT

The script of the "Wonder Box", a children's program on Wednesday 5:30 p.m. over CKUA is written by a former Tolland girl, Sophie Haan, who is taking the teachers' course at the U. of A. The first one was heard by some of her friends on Oct. 28th and they thought it was very well done and that others, especially the young children in the district might like to listen to this program, prepared by a former neighbor.

Gordon Trevithick shipped some cattle two months ago and on the way to town a few animals stampeded and could not be found at the time. Gordon since then has received several cheques for these strayed animals after thy had been brought to the stock yards by kind farmers who had found them on their places. A few are still at large.

UEFB MOBILIZES TO GIVE BRITAIN STRENGTH
. . . IN COLD WAR TO WIN THE PEACE

REASON FOR UEFB

By centralizing buying and transportation, including delivery at destination, substantial savings can be effected. The scattered efforts of many can be channelled into an efficient single stream of relief, without a loss of individuality as to [illegible] groups or organizations.

MORE AID PER DOLLAR

For example the cost of placing a ready packaged 10 lb. parcel in the hands of a recipient in Britain exclusive of content purchase price, is approximately $2.50 at present whereas through UEFB concessions the comparable cost would be 57c to 70c. This economy does not include the very substantial saving which bulk purchasing effects.

The gallant people of Britain are suffering today because they are determined to win the cold war. They are the only nation in Europe fighting with body and mind to vanquish the spectre that haunts the Old World.

Their health is being weakened, their efficiency impaired, by the tremendous restrictions they have imposed upon themselves. They stand in danger of being defeated by undernourishment.

Why? Because Britain imports four-fifths less goods than before the war, yet exports more than half as much again as in 1939.

UEFB offers the best means of making your aid to Britain effective now.

UEFB is a voluntary organization set up to collect, forward and distribute aid to the undernourished people of Britain. UEFB purchases supplies in bulk. The British Government supplies free transportation. The UEFB British Advisory Council assures that your dollars will buy what is most needed for those who need it the most.

Although UEFB cannot at present handle used clothing, arrangements are being made to do so early next year.

Says the British Ministry of Food:

". . . we are living on marginal nutritional standards, and there is cause for anxiety lest this should be having adverse effects on physique and health . . . Everything you can send us is wanted and urgently wanted."

If the British people go under, YOU and all of us, will feel the effects. We need a strong Britain to help fight the cold war. Give generously to UEFB—TODAY.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

Bless The Work

By JANE DALE

Bless the work my hands must do
As the hours speed quickly by
Much of it so commonplace
Much which does not beautify
Bless the humdrum tasks I pray,
Sanctify them every day

Bless the word that I must speak
As a mother, neighbor, friend,
Much is without eloquence
Much forgotten at day's end
Bless the words and may they find
Beauty in another's mind

Bless the moments set aside
From my daily work and care
For a quiet walk with Thee,
For a quiet word of prayer
Bless those moments, grant that they May grow richer day by day

B.C. Hydro-Electric Plant In Motion

BRIDGE RIVER, B.C.—The 36-year-old dream of a retired surveyor has come true. Geoffrey M. Downton recently pushed a klaxon button that set the British Columbia Electric Company's new $22,000,000 hydro-electric plant in motion.

The plant, which produces 62,000 horsepower, is largely the result of [illegible]

Situated about 130 miles northeast of Vancouver the unit is one of 10 which will eventually produce 630,000 horsepower for industry in the B.C. coastal area. It is part of a $36,000,000 expansion program designed to lure industry and business [illegible]

The actual planning of the scheme is almost fantastic.

Mission Mountain divides Bridge River, a relatively small body, from Seton Lake, the source of the power. To the casual eye the two appear to be on the same level.

Downton discovered there was in reality a drop of 1,300 feet from the [illegible] river. He envisaged a [illegible] mountain, allowing the lake's waters to roar down the drop, and a power plant at the head of the river. That was in 1912.

Now the vision is complete.

Situated in the heart of rugged mountain country, the development required 142 miles of road to establish tower locations. Long hauls over dangerous curves took a toll in trucks, about 20 being lost in the ravines.

Only one life was lost in the construction.

Boards Of Trade, Chambers of Commerce Triples Strength

The national organization which co-ordinates the work of these community organizations on matters of national policy held its 19th annual meeting in Vancouver recently.

Of particular interest to advertisers is the information included in the announcement that out of the 864 community organizations making up the membership of The Canadian Chamber, the national organization, 378 are served by their own weekly newspapers, and 73 per cent. of the 864-member Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in Canada affiliated with The Canadian Chamber are in communities with 5,000 people or less.

The announcement from The Canadian Chamber of Commerce states that it is a community or grass roots organization comprising over 75,000 individual business men who give leadership to community, provincial and national development through the Board of Trade and Chamber of [illegible]

Among the aims and objects of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce movement, are (1) to promote the progressive development of Canada's private enterprise system and to oppose vigorously communistic and other subversive influences. (2) To improve community welfare through the efficient work of a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce in every Canadian community and (3) to stimulate and maintain a strong and united Nation.

RECIPES

CHOCOLATE HONEY ICING

1 cup honey
2 unbeaten egg whites
4 tablespoons cocoa

Place honey in a mixing bowl, add the two unbeaten egg whites. Beat mixture until it will stand in peaks, gradually adding cocoa as beating. Spread on cake.

For variation, ½ cup finely chopped nuts may be added just before icing is spread on cake.

NEVER FAIL FUDGE

2 cups granulated sugar
2 squares chocolate, grated or ½ [illegible]
¼ cup light corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup cold milk
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts

Combine all ingredients except butter, vanilla and nuts. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until it forms a soft ball in cold water or reaches 236 deg. F. on candy thermometer. This requires about 5 minutes after it actually boils. Remove immediately from heat, add butter and vanilla. Cool until lukewarm, then beat until creamy. When it begins to lose color, stir in the nuts and turn into buttered pans.

Cool and cut in squares. If desired 3 tablespoons peanut butter may be used in place of the butter.

KATHLEEN WILLSHER EMMA WOIKIN

CONVICTED IN SPY TRIAL, WOMEN LEAVE "PEN" — Only two [illegible] in an espionage plot in this country, Emma Woikin, 27, and Kathleen Mary Willsher, 42, both found guilty during 1946 spy trials at Ottawa, were released recently from Kingston, Ont. penitentiary. Mrs. Woikin served out her two-and-a-half year sentence but, due to failing health, Miss Willsher was given her freedom four months before expiration of her three-year term. Emma Woikin is reported en route to her brother's home at Blaine Lake, Sask., and Miss Willsher is said to be in seclusion at the apartment of an Ottawa friend. Emma Woikin was born at Blaine Lake, of Doukhobor parents. She had been employed as a cipher clerk in the department of external affairs. Miss Willsher was employed in the office of the high commissioner for the United Kingdom where she became assistant registrar.—S.N.S. photo.

Inferiority Feeling Canadians' Fault

HALIFAX.—A Scottish-born university professor, Dr. John B. Hardie, has diagnosed Canada's chief ailment as a national inferiority complex.

"Canadians are overcome by a shocking sense of their own inferiority," he told Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island delegates to the annual re-union of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites here.

Now a Professor of Hebrew at Pine Hill Divinity College here, Dr. Hardie said: "You Canadians all seem to feel intellectually inferior to the people of other countries because of your Canadian background. That is absolutely incorrect ... just a lack of effort makes you feel that way."

Canada Geese Battle With Man For Control Of Lake

CAIRO, Ill.—The Battle for Horseshoe Lake between Canadian invaders and United States Government forces is developing into a major fight.

The United States Government, represented by Federal conservation forces aided by aerial bombers, grenade-lobbers and assorted noise-makers, is trying to stand off the onslaught of the migrating Canada goose.

As far back as records go the Canada geese have made Horseshoe Lake their winter home. Until the price of corn reached present levels farmers did not object too much. What were a few meals in the corn fields when goose-hunters were willing to pay inflation prices for a place in the goose pits?

The Government, after the "look-and-count" boys in the Conservation Department found the Canada goose population dwindling, ordered shooting closed at Horseshoe Lake.

With the income from the goose pits gone the farmers yelled "help! the geese are taking us."

So Government forces moved in. They came with air force and ground troops, and when the honkers appeared they turned on the noise gadgets. The first reaction of the invaders was retreat and reform. Those old ganders, leaders of the flock, are in absolute command and when they order the flock in, they go in.

And they came in, hovering over the lake and then peeling off into a dive, regardless of airplane bombs [illegible]

Conservationist V. C. Conover said the bombs used are as harmless as firecrackers and would not damage a goose if a direct hit were made. Often, he said, the geese react to the noise by diving toward it.

The first phase of the battle has gone to the invaders. But the conservationists haven't given up. They think that when the later flights come in they will be wilder than the early arrivals and that the scare treatment will work.

GAELIC LANGUAGE

Gaelic reached height of perfection as a language in the 17th and 18th centuries. After that it declined, as there was a law against its use. Gaelic now is the official language of Eire.

Announces New Training Program For Aircrew Members

Announcement of a one-year training programme for selected aircrew members of the R.C.A.F.'s Auxiliary Squadrons was made from Air Force Headquarters, Ottawa, following a two-day conference of Auxiliary Squadron Officers from across Canada. The meeting was the first such gathering of senior Auxiliary officers since the peacetime re-organization of the Air Force, and was attended by officers representing squadrons in Montreal, Toronto, London, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, and Vancouver.

Under the new training plan selected Auxiliary Squadron members will be given a year's instruction at the R.C.A.F.'s Flying Training School, Centralia, Ont., and will receive pilot's wings and commissions as flying officers upon completion of the course. They will then return to civilian life, but in the capacity of Auxiliary Squadron aircrew they will proceed with further training on the operational aircraft available at each squadron.

STAGETTE NOTES

An air of tension hovered over the club rooms last meeting night as the new "initiates" silently wondered just what was going to happen to them.

November 1st to 7th marks National Stagette Week across Canada. This week is organized to give the people of Canada a better idea of what the Stagette Clubs are, what they are doing both nationally and in their own local groups, and what their aims are.

Girls are to meet at the club rooms at 7 o'clock Sunday evening for church parade to the Anglican service.

Mary was appointed to be our new handicraft convener.

After the business meeting "our little girls" took the Stagette room solemnly before the old members of the club really went to work on them. The result was what some of you people saw running around the streets last Tuesday night. Welcome to the club girls, you were all grand sports. How's the cold cream supply holding out? Anyway, the lunch was worth it, wasn't it?

Red Cross Blood Clinic Here Nov. 16th

OVER 200 DONORS EXPECTED —THIRD VISIT MOBILE UNIT — AT ELKS HALL

Next Tuesday, Nov. 16th, the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Red Cross will again hold a voluntary blood donor clinic in the Elks hall. The clinic will be in session from 2 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. It will be the 3rd visit of the mobile team of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion service since it was organized in Alberta in July 1947.

200 Donors Expected

The last clinic held in Vermilion was in April when 100 persons donated their blood. Red Cross officials however are confident that with the new registrations obtained during the recent campaign and the large turnout expected from the agricultural college, over 200 donations of blood will be received.

Bronze Buttons for 3 Donations

Persons having donated at the two previous clinics in Vermilion are urged to attend the clinic next week to receive their bronze button awarded by the Red Cross for 3 donations. Buttons are also presented for 6, 10 and 20 donations of blood to this service. Wartime donations are credited towards the various button awards.

Life Saving Service

Since the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion service was organized in Alberta last year, over 8,000 patients in hospitals throughout the province have received more than 15,000 transfusions of blood and plasma. The Canadian Red Cross is now the sole source of supply for whole blood and plasma administered in Alberta hospitals. Patients receive the transfusions entirely free of charge. Blood collected at clinics by the Red Cross is shipped to blood banks located throughout the province. When the supplies of blood are required hospital authorities contact the Red Cross and blood of the required group is immediately despatched to the hospital. The ever-present supplies of whole blood and plasma maintained by the Blood Transfusion service is credited by hospital and medical authorities with the saving of countless lives since the service was organized by the Canadian Red Cross.

Available at Vermilion Hospital

Many citizens of this district have received direct benefits from this free blood transfusion service, which is available at the Vermilion Municipal hospital.

Smaller Amount of Blood Taken— No Dieting Necessary

Red Cross officials point out that the present donation of blood taken [illegible] than the wartime donation. They also stated that dieting prior to the giving of blood is no longer necessary. When attending the clinic prospective donors are first tested to determine if they are physically fit to give their blood. This is done by means of a small finger prick test. There is no pain or discomfort in giving a donation of blood and it only takes a few minutes of the donor's time. The age limit for blood donors is 18 to 65 years.

Time Allowed for Extra Donors

Appointment times will be arranged for those who register prior to the holding of the blood donor clinic. However, time has been allowed for anyone wishing to attend the clinic to do so without having an appointment.

INTERESTING BOARD MEETING

SEEING OURSELVES AS OTHERS SEE US, FROM A TOWN ASPECT

The Board of Trade meeting Wednesday developed into a very interesting session as time was taken to see ourselves as a town, as others see us. All the remarks lead up to the forthcoming town planning meeting tentatively scheduled for Nov. 24th. Watch for a definite announcement regarding this meeting. A good many points for improvement were brought out with practically everyone present airing their views. Sidewalks, vacant lots, shabby buildings, street numbering, civic pride, all came in for their share of the limelight. Bill Sutherland was in the chair.

A report of the meeting held last week at which Cr L. L. Kehoe and town secretary James Part were guest speakers, will appear next issue. The report deals with several interesting points regarding alleviation of municipal taxation as recommended by the Judge Commission.

This Duck Hunter Used Gun, Fishing Pole And Skiis

John Anderson of Dewberry declares that skis and a fishing pole, along with a shotgun are now standard hunting equipment. John got under a nice flight of ducks near a slough. He enjoyed good hunting but when it was over he found that 5 ducks had landed in the open water in the centre of the slough and that most of the surface was covered by ice not quite thick enough to bear his weight. Not to be stumped, John went home, obtained his fishing line and hook and a pair of skis. By using the skis the ice held him up, and by dint of some dexterous casting, he hooked the ducks one by one and fished them to him. Not often you have shooting, skiing and fishing all in one outing!

Water and Sewer Services Now Available To 239 Premises

270 APPLICATIONS TO DATE

The town now has 175 customers actually using water or sewer services of the new system, or both. To date there have been 285 applications for water and sewer services, 6 of these were cancelled, leaving 279. Of the original 200 applicants, all who wanted them done this year are completed or near completion. Of the 279, services have been completed into the basements of 220, an additional 19 services have been [illegible] except for some inside work that is being left for colder weather.

Of the 175 customers who are actually making use of the system, [illegible] are using water only, 20 [illegible] are completely hooked up using both water and sewer, while 5 are using the sewer only.

Revenue from water and sewer for October was approximately $1000.

Ten men are employed digging the water and sewer ditches and this number will be increased during this month. 47 of the services have been dug right from the main to the house by hand.

OCTOBER WATER CONSUMPTION

Average daily consumption of town water for the month of October was 70,300 imperial gallons per day. Of this amount Canadian Utilities used 47,000 gallons. The average daily consumption by the townspeople was therefore 23,300 imp. gallons per day.

It appears from the above survey that Bernie Ackerman and his crew have made good progress in running services from the water and sewer mains to the basements of possible users.

C. E. Strocher's Oil Pump Is Acclaimed in Lloydminster

The Strocher Auger Type Rotary pump, invented and patented by C.E. Strocher of Vermilion after some five years work perfecting it, has been given a real test in the Lloydminster oil field, and has proved workable and very successful. The auger type pump was used to pump heavy oil from Bee Jay No. 1, a well which has defied production for the last year.

Hopes are now running high among oil men that the pump will revolutionize production in prairie oil fields similar to Lloydminster and Vermilion and brings possibilities of increased activity. It would eliminate costly pumping equipment now used and also the many expensive well servicing jobs necessary to keep the wells on production.

His many friends here are naturally elated at the success of Mr Strocher's invention.

S. C. Heckbert, president of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, left Tuesday by air for Ottawa to attend a meeting of the executive council of the B.E.S.L.

"Search for Talent" Show on Nov. 20th

ELKS TO ARRANGE SHOW

The Associated Canadian Travellers take pleasure in announcing that Vermilion has again been chosen as a site for their "Search For Talent" show which will be held in the Elks hall on Saturday Nov. 20.

Several crippled kiddies are today receiving treatment that would have been unavailable to them if it had not been for the generosity of the citizens of Vermilion and Northern Alberta who gave so generously to the cause last season.

The Edmonton club of the Associated Canadian Travellers and Radio Station CFRN combine annually to present "Search For Talent" shows with a three-fold aim:

1. To raise funds for the Northern Alberta Crippled Children;
2. To give local talent an opportunity to be seen and heard;
3. To bring top flight live entertainment to the community.

Arrangements for the show in Vermilion are being made by the Elks lodge. The show will commence at 7 p.m. All who wish to compete in the Amateur contest should contact Henry Powell at the Co-op. store.

This year the "Search For Talent" show will feature improved facilities for the contestants. A new stage setting has been provided to improve the visual qualities of the presentation and CFRN has extended the broadcast time to one hour so that more local performers may be heard. Although the shows will be held on Saturday nights they will not be heard by the air audience until the following Monday. Thus the Vermilion performer who appear on the Saturday night program will be able to listen to their own efforts on the following Monday evening from 7 to 8 p.m.

The Elks donate the hall free and the entire proceeds of the show are for the Crippled Children.

Salvation Home League Continue Helpful Activities

SEND XMAS CARDS TO AFRICA —MEET AT HOME OF "SHUT-IN" LADY

The meeting of the Salvation Army Home League was held at the home of Mrs Jennie McFadgen on Wednesday Nov. 3rd. Mrs. McFadgen is a shut-in lady due to her health and is not able to attend these meetings but who very kindly offered her home for this occasion. The ladies took a little cheer which added greatly to the enjoyment of Mrs McFadgen.

Ten ladies were present and the meeting opened as usual with prayer and Bible reading. Solos were then rendered by Mrs Eckford, Mrs Parkins, Mrs Tuey and Mrs Yarwood. Accompaniment was by Mrs Isley on the guitar. Our next shut-in meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Millar on Dec. 1st. This lady is also greatly interested in Salvation Army affairs but cannot get out to meetings of any kind. The writer believes that more of this could be done even in country clubs whether a person be a member or not. From experience gained while living in Vermilion it proves very encouraging and heartening to the person who cannot manage to attend all activities.

The Home League ladies each sent a Xmas card and a little message of cheer to missionaries over in Africa.

During this month 3 baskets of fruit and a parcel of toys were sent to the sick in hospital and home.

The meeting closed in the usual [illegible].

On Hallowe'en night Mrs Yarwood took several of the folks out to the country home of Mr Harry and Mr [illegible]. Here the country [illegible] school and the Salvation Army Sunday school from town joined together to enjoy a Hallowe'en party. A very enjoyable evening was spent with the children. Adj. Stewart showed pictures which the children and also grown-ups enjoyed immensely. The costumes of the children were very good and exemplified the spirit of a grand old fashioned Hallowe'en. Treats for the children and a good lunch for everyone topped off the evening.

Everything went well until Ervin Whitcher returned home to find that the chickens had found a new roosting place. Who put the chickens in Ervin's house? Tone up girls!

REMEMBRANCE DAY—

Today, Thursday November 11th, people of Vermilion and of the Dominion, are respecting the memory and honoring those who gave their lives in two great conflicts in the hope that the world would be free to live in peace and security. Solemn Remembrance Day services are being carried out by the Canadian Legion.

The responsibility of safe-guarding the world from any recurrence of such calamities is a duty that rests with those of us who have been spared.

The Standard has received a review of the Royal Commission on Taxation — the Judge Report.

This review was prepared by the Alberta Educational Council, whose [illegible] in urging increased financial support for elementary and secondary education resulted in the appointment of the Royal Commission.

The Council agrees that implementation of the report will give some help toward improving educational opportunity in Alberta. Anton Kenzie and Bruce Baldwin brought down a specie of eagle in the vicinity of their farms south-west of town last week. They followed the wounded bird for 3 miles, finally getting another shot that brought the big bird down and they despatched it. Wingspread was 6 feet 10 inches, while from beak to tail measured 2 feet 11 inches.

To Discuss Proposed De-grading of Red Bobs Wheat

MANY FARMERS CONCERNED

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture arrangements were made to hold two general meetings for the purpose of discussing the proposed degrading of Red Bobs wheat.

The first meeting was held in Edmonton, Nov. 1st and the second in Calgary Nov. 2. Members of the Board of Grain Commissioners were present to discuss the Red Bobs issue in full at these meetings.

Many farmers have expressed concern over the proposed degrading of this wheat as it is a very popular variety in many districts and the Federation feels that these meetings have cleared up many points on which there may have been misunderstanding and so pave the way for action that will be in the best interests of Alberta's wheat industry.

Alberta's Car Total Hits Record Level

Alberta's car registrations for this year already have hit record levels and are continuing to climb, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association. Consequently the revenue from this fruitful source will be greater than ever for the provincial government's treasury.

For the 6 months ended Sept. 30, the total number of passenger car licenses issued was 107,213. This was a gain of 3,387 over the same period in 1947, which in itself was a record year. Many new cars are on the highways, serving to boost the registration total, while tourist motoring also has been a prime factor.

This year, Alberta probably will have 200,000 licensed car drivers. Up to the end of September the total was 191,258, as against 178,531 in the similar period of last year.

Officials are confident that by the end of the present license year March 31, 1949, Alberta will hold a topmost place among provinces which have made outstanding gains in car registrations.

There are good prospects that this year's total even will be exceeded in 1949, with a greatly increased holiday and tourist movement expected and many more motor vehicles on the highways.

With car licenses continuing to mount, there is every need of carrying on highway improvements designed to meet all demand and to build roads of a high standard which will appeal to motorists, whether they live in Alberta or come here in touring vehicles.

Complete victory over tuberculosis is in sight. This is supported by statistics and by the opinion of those who have led the drive for eradication. More adequate case-finding programs have resulted in a rising percentage of minimal cases and a falling percentage of advanced cases.

CLEAR TITLES FOR VETERANS

During the past few months many inquiries have been received with regard to the progress that is being made in obtaining clear titles for veterans of Great War 1 who purchased land under the Soldier Settlement Board legislation which was passed in 1919, and in order that the parties who are interested may get authentic information, this month's column is devoted entirely to a review of this matter.

Having already dealt with this question up to the end of the 1947 Session of Parliament, this report will deal with it from where the last one concluded. The first item of interest is that about a year ago, the then minister of Veterans affairs, Rt. Hon. Ian A. MacKenzie announced that the former Director of The Soldier Settlement Board, Mr. Gordon Murchison, had been dismissed from that position. Included in the announcement also were some remarks that were not complimentary to Mr. Murchison and supported our contention that this official was not a fit one to fill the position of director. His successor seems to be a man of entirely different calibre and, I believe, will be much fairer in his dealing with the veterans. His name is Mr. F. J. Rutherford. A short time later the prime minister announced that minister of veterans affairs, Rt. Hon. Mr. MacKenzie, had resigned his position in the cabinet and was appointed to the senate. He was replaced by Brig. M. F. Gregg, V.C., former Sgt.-at-Arms in the House of Commons and at that time President of a University in New Brunswick, a position he vacated almost immediately and was later elected to the House in a by-election caused by the sudden demise of the late Hon. Mr. Bridges. Another change was brought about when Mr. Walter Tucker, former member for Rosthern, Parliamentary Assistant to the minister of Veterans Affairs and Chairman of the special committee on Veterans Affairs, resigned his seat to take over active leadership of the Liberal party in Saskatchewan. His remarks in the House show his position. He was replaced by Mr. Leslie Mutch, member for Winnipeg, who has consistently supported our demand for Clear Titles in the House and in Committee.

With the change of personnel in important places and encouraged by the support given from all sides of the House, it was deemed advisable by the Soldier Settlement Association that another delegation should appear before the Special Committee on Veterans' Affairs and this was consented to by the Committee. Accordingly on June 17th last, the President and Secretary, Mr. Harold C. Baker and Mr. Alfred J. Sibley appeared and presented their brief on behalf of their organization. It was among the best briefs presented during the Session and several questions were asked at the conclusion of the presentation.

When the brief was discussed by the Committee some days later it was decided to recommend to the House that Clear Titles as requested be granted. As this report was included in a general report of the Committee which covered several other matters, it was deemed advisable not to move concurrence, but in the supplementary estimates tabled just before the House prorogued an item of $100,000 appeared and was passed by the House for the purpose of giving clear titles first to those who had no equity in their land, that is, those cases where there was more charged against the land than it was actually worth and secondly those who had very little equity in their farms. At the present time I have no information about what action has been taken but it is my intention early in the next session to find out exactly what has been accomplished.

It is interesting to note that in June of this year there were 2,679 settlers who owed an average debt of $1,0[illegible] while in 1946 there were [illegible] [illegible]

During past sessions we have voted hundreds of millions of dollars to help people in other countries, [illegible] that will never be paid back. Isn't it [illegible] $3,124 [illegible] to pay off the remaining debt of our old veterans who fought years ago to [illegible]

The writer attended the funeral of Mr Walter Maughan held at the United church at Wainwright Wednesday afternoon last. A well-filled church showed the esteem in which the deceased was held. One of the ladies in the choir sang "The Old Rugged Cross". The minister gave a very comforting sermon to the bereaved ones. Some 30 cars followed the hearse to the cemetery. Lovely flowers covered the casket. The deceased was laid to rest in the family plot.

A large crowd attended the sale of Mr Robt Rankin of Woodvale on the 29th. Nearly everything sold very well. Mr and Mrs Rankin feel their working days are over for the heavy work that a farm requires. It's nice they can quit and enjoy a rest. They really have built up a lovely home as well as raising and educating a family.

We met and had a very nice chat with Mrs Dan Gerber of Vanesti and with her daughter-in-law Mrs. Arlo Gerber. Oh yes, we saw the triplet Teasdale boys, fine healthy lads they [illegible].

The Masquerade dance held at the Brockville school was a success both financially and for a good time. The proceeds were to help buy a piano for the school and some $30 was cleared to help this project along. Some very nice costumes were on parade. First prize for the gents' event went to Albert Cleland who dressed as a lady, very well done too Albert. The teacher Miss Freda Arthur captured the ladies' 1st prize by dressing as a witch. Some others who deserve honorable mention were Mrs. Luchuk and Aileen Smith who dressed as "The Night" they were nice costumes as were many others. Albert Smith J Wilson, Roland Arthur and Hubert and Clive Regan all furnished the music free.

Saturday evening Mr and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr and Mrs R. Martin and Mr and Mrs. Frank Gibson celebrated their wedding anniversaries with a supper at the Brunswick hotel. They attended the Carnival and show to wind up the evening. All three anniversaries fall within the week.

Mr and Mrs Fred Kottmeier of Tolland were Sunday visitors to the Wall-[illegible].

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers and family, Mr. and Mrs Albert Smith and family were all supper guests at the Smith home with Mr and Mrs. Miller. Later the children spooked for apples and had a real nice Hallowe'en evening.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Mil-[illegible] Smith were supper guests at the Wallington home where a nice evening was enjoyed.

SYMPTOMS OF T.B.

Any of the following symptoms should make a person suspicious of tuberculosis.

Loss of weight. Loss of strength. Loss of energy or endurance. Feeling tired or run-down, especially in the afternoon or evening. Poor appetite. Indigestion or dyspepsia.

Temperature normal or below normal in the morning and 99 or above in the afternoon or evening.

Persistent cough. Cough is frequently but not always present in T.B. Every cough lasting 3 weeks or longer is suspicious. Haemorrhage from lungs. Blood-streaked sputum is also suspicious. Pleurisy — sharp pain in chest, worse on breathing, lasting some time.

U.G.G. Has Successful Year

Mr. J. E. Brownlee, K.C., President and General Manager, presented to three hundred delegates constituting the Annual Meeting of United Grain Growers Limited a report showing a satisfactory fiscal year ending July 31st last. Earnings, after setting aside $250,000 for patronage dividend on grain receipts of the year were established at $1,155,180.53, to which amount was added $95,705.66 representing profit on disposal of properties to give a total of $1,250,886.19. [illegible] $677,003.94 included interest on bonds $46,902.79, Director's fees $9,160, counsel and legal fees and remuneration of salaried directors $55,430, Annual Meeting expense $21,097.39 and provision for depreciation $504,540. Taxes on income were estimated at $190,000, leaving $383,076.31 profit for the year. Provision for dividend of 5% on Capital Stock amounted to $175,619.25. Discount and expenses in respect of bonds issued during the year and expenses in connection with the issue of capital stock were completely written off to the amount of $70,251.20. Earned surplus account was carried forward in the amount of $706,200.55, an increase from the previous year of $134,206.30.

The report pointed out that adjusting payments totalling $789,000 had [illegible] and barley to the Company during the early weeks of the crop year while price ceilings were in effect. Addition of that amount to provision for dividend on patronage and on share capital brought the total for distri[illegible] from the year's operations of more than $1,200,000.

GEO. W. EDWORTHY
Manager Western Division

The balance sheet showed a working capital of $2,900,377.20, an addition during the year of $452,923.15 of which $180,000 arose from issue of new capital stock.

The report stressed the Company's recent expansion by purchase of more than 100 country elevators, mainly in Saskatchewan, bringing the total in the three prairie provinces to more than 625. In addition terminals are operated at Port Arthur and Vancouver. The year was described as one of the most notable in the Company's history.

Delegates present represented 60,000 farmer shareholders in the prairie provinces.

Car Biggest Killer

To the motor car goes the dubious distinction of being the major violent killer on this continent points out the Financial Post. Last year 4,120 people or more than 10 a day, lost their lives on the highways of Canada. In comparison the murderer is a puny enemy.

Only by convincing overlasting caution can we hope to curb these mounting losses in traffic killed and maimed. The authorities must be more careful in issuing permits to reckless and inefficient drivers in eliminating hills, curves and other proven danger spots along our streets and highways. Above all, the average motorist must be made to realize that every time he gets behind the wheel, he is operating a machine which through a little carelessness on his part can become as quick and as deadly as a machine [illegible]

Thirty years looking backward, to the time of Nov. 11th, 1918, the writer can still visualize the strenuous days before this first Armistice, and all that it cost, especially in manpower, to one small unit of the Canadian Corps, with all others experiencing something on the same scale.

Thoughts drift back to the Canal du Nord, where we had to slide down one side, and scramble for dear life up the other, with Fritzy waiting for you, driven underground by the heavy bombardment; we think of the night before, waiting for zero hour, shivering cold and scared. Names recur, almost forgotten, Quarry Wood, Bourlon Wood, Arras-Duay and Arras-Cambrai roads, then on to the Canal de la Sensee, through Denain, Abscon, and on to the flooded area in front of Valenciennes. It was here at Mont Houy where the enemy threw extreme numbers against the Argyle and Sutherlands, who exacted a toll far beyond the advantage to the enemy of such a small knoll, that the 4th Divis., moved in and with the advantage of support of a solid line of heavies, 5.9's and 9.2's, driving through to the burning refinery, then a left turn, across the railroad track and on to the city itself, being stopped by a rear guard, and also a blown bridge, time taken out to reconnoiter. Prisoners being lined up in their hundreds, being disarmed, and then one man taking a group of 100 to 400 back down the line, and we, still active, being just a little envious that they were out of it. Calls for stretcher-bearer, being answered on the run, and a sudden call of look out, Mac, a rifle shot, and the enemy you were running to help, stopped from treachery by the quick action of a pal, shooting from the hip, "there but for the grace of God, go I". Back in Marcoin, the day before, seeing two 9.2's landing in the street, the first one close, but a dud, and we breathed again, the second dropping in front of Company Headquarters, one of the boys finished and the other crawling along, to get under cover, "O.K. Sam, let's fix it now", ready to duck if we heard another coming, but getting him away finally and down to the back areas.

Into Valenciennes, where the populace were still unable to realize that they at last would be able to get much needed supplies, the moving up, through Charleroi, Jemappes, and Havreville, billeted, and starting on routine drill, to give the boys something to keep their minds from being too active, and all taking a very dim view of this. Being moved to Mons, there for a few weeks, I wonder if the bells still play "O Canada", every Sunday morning at the 11 hour. Trips to Brussels, Waterloo and Louvain. Then gradually the time arriving to leave, and the trip to Le Havre, (box cars 8 horses or 40 men, and getting almost 50 in there), embarking for Blighty, the channel in fine fettle, and most of the boys helping feed the fishes. Camp in England, and leave, then the great day of sailing for Canada. Being demobbed and thrown back into Civvies, then the chance for a job, and further trying to prove your worth to the country of your adoption. Was it worthwhile, most of us think so, ask the man who has been through war, he hates it, but when it comes to interference with the basic principles of our living, let's make the answer always No, to those who would try to spoil it, and keep our powder dry.

Wildmere W.I. held the November meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Whitlock Wednesday Nov. 3rd with 9 members and 2 visitors present. The food was donated for another parcel and soap was handed in for a parcel also to send overseas. It was decided to hold a chicken supper and dance in Basswood school Friday Nov. 26th for our annual affair instead of our usual sale of work as in other years. Supper will be 50c per plate with half orders at 25c. It will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening. Roll call was answered by 'How we invested our 25c'. Mrs. Wilson did the most by selling cards, Mrs. B. Martin 2nd. All together over $20 was handed in by members from their original 25c. Mrs. Garnett read a very interesting letter from an English W.I. member. This member lives in a small village in England yet they have 60 members. The writer received word last week that her uncle John Graham of Dawson Creek, B.C. had passed away. He too, was a Wildmere pioneer, having homesteaded here in Aug., 1907 on the farm where the writer now lives. He homesteaded again in the Peace River block in B.C. After leaving here in 1918 he and his family resided at Kamloops where his wife passed away in June 1918. Later he lived at Vancouver and in 1929 he along with a married daughter and family moved to Dawson Creek to live. He was in his 85th year. He leaves 3 daughters Mrs. Carlson of Dawson Creek, Mrs O'Malley of Vancouver, Mrs. Kotoski of New Westminster, and 3 sons Cecil in Vancouver, Rex of Rolla, B.C. and Howard of Anchorage, Alaska. The greatest old timers round-up in the history of the association was held on Oct. 22nd in the Elks hall. The picture shows one of the floor managers, Charlie Deford, well over 70 years, really going to town on a square dance and quite at home using the mike. Charlie still taps off a lively step dance. Next to Mr Deford is Rufus Ommen. Rufus and Mrs Ommen and Fred Gould are the old timers' pet orchestra. They have played for every old timers' round-up since the inauguration of the association. The second fiddler is none other than Oscar Johnson who farms just south of Dewberry and has been there since 1904. Oscar played for the first dance ever held in Vermilion away back in 1906 and on the 22nd he was reeling it off on the same violin, just as good as ever. Picture by Studio of Photographic Arts.

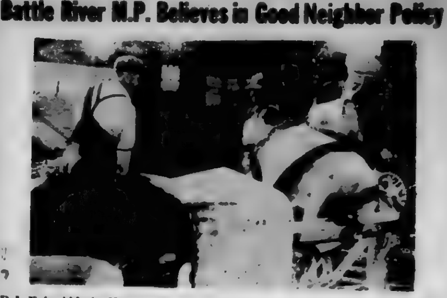
Battle River M.P. Believes in Good Neighbor Policy



Bob Fair Aids in Home Building Program

With a shortage of help delaying various home building projects around the town, Robert Fair of Vermilion, member of parliament for the Battle River Federal constituency since 1935 donned overalls and went to work with a will helping Billie Pilkie run the cement for the foundation of his new home in the west end of town. Shown in the picture are Mr. Fair shovelling gravel into the cement mixer, Camille Caron, one of the workmen, and Billie Pilkie owner of the new house, pouring the water. A few days later the M.P. started on a new basement for himself, and the Pilkies, father and son both, went to work helping him put in his basement.

Mr and Mrs. Fair moved to Vermilion about one year ago. They recently purchased property in the west end of town, one of the former Pinchbeck lots, and have moved a house onto it. —Studio Photographic Arts.

Chatsworth Chatter

Though we have had a taste of winter, it did not last long. We are moving so gradually into colder weather that it is not so unpleasant to endure. Few can remember when we have experienced such an agreeable fall, in spite of the fact that some seem to be worrying about the dry weather affecting crop returns next year. However, if we have the rains in the spring months of May and June, the lack of moisture in the previous fall seems to make little difference.

At the beginning of this week fall work is still being carried on, on the land. There has been no frost heavy enough to stop the work of fall cultivation, due to the absence of moisture.

The house occupied by Mr and Mrs Harry Good has now been moved to town, the Pich moving outfit having taken it in on Nov. 2nd. It is now set on the foundation prepared for it and it is located on Main street, 3 doors east of the Salvation Army hall. Mr and Mrs H Good are already getting settled in it while Mr and Mrs H Good and family have come and the move into H Good's house on the farm.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Nov. 10, 1932

Outdoor skating is in full swing.

An audience of over 400 listened while the Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of municipal affairs and his deputy Robt English spoke on the "enlarged municipal area project". Feeling of the meeting seemed to be unfavorable to the plan.

Norman McClellan was elected president of the Vermilion Inspectorate School Trustees association, W. J. Casterton vice-president, Mrs. George Bennet, 2nd vice-president and H. P. Long secretary-treasurer.

Remembrance Day activities were planned by the Legion.

Remembrance Day

NOVEMBER 11th, 1948

We Remember
and pause a while to think of those who have made the world better for having passed through.

1914--18 — 1939--1945

There is still a job to be done, the right to fight for the sanctity of the home — the right to work as we wish, without being flogged into it — the right to speak for the right -- and God give grace to still do just that.

ALLANDALE

We're really grateful for the wonderful fall weather. The hunters will appreciate it, as one was able to finish the work early and then go a-hunting. Good luck hunters, but be careful of those camp fires.

Islay Fowl supper was just grand thanks to the W.A. ladies. It's something we look forward to every fall. The bean supper was also enjoyed at Morrison.

Liam O'Fee is home holidaying from the coast. Those trains wait for no one do they Liam?

Miss MacGregor is holidaying at the Gunness home. There have been many changes since 1936, the last time she was around these parts.

We're pleased to see by the Standard that Mr and Mrs. Chas. Thompson have purchased a home in Vermilion.

Wedding Bells

ROBERTSON—TORRANCE

Knox United church, Islay, was the scene of a lovely wedding on October 29th when Winifred Mildred Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Torrance became the bride of Clarence Webster Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robertson of Streamstown. The church had been tastefully decorated by Mrs. Fyfe and Mrs. Chas Robertson. Rev. Driver performed the ceremony and the wedding music was supplied by Mrs. W. L. Roebuck.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor-length gown of white sheer, embroidered with sequins, styled with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her full-length veil was embroidered net caught into a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby 'mums. She wore pearls, and a lovely gold watch, a gift from the groom.

The bride was attended by a matron of honor, Mrs. W. Summers, her sister from Calgary and a bridesmaid, Miss Gwenda Torrance, her sister from Islay. They were beautifully gowned in mauve brocaded nylon, floor-length with shoulder-length veils of plaited velvet and tulle. Each carried a bouquet of yellow and mauve baby 'mums.

Little Miss Ruth Kennedy was the flower girl, bedecked in peach brocaded nylon, floor-length. She carried a crocheted basket of bronze and white baby 'mums.

The best man was Mr Howard Robertson of Beaufort, brother of the groom. The ushers were Messrs. Victor and Dalton Torrance, brothers of the bride.

During the signing of the register Mrs. C. C. Mitchell of Thorsby sang "I'll Walk Beside You," accompanied by Mrs. Roebuck.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where 115 guests were received. Many beautiful gifts were displayed and a sumptuous lunch was served. The bride's mother had chosen a blue dress of jersey crepe and grey accessories and her corsage was red roses and white baby 'mums. The groom's mother wore wine crepe and her corsage was red roses and white baby 'mums.

The bride's table was laid in white linen, decorated in pink and white centred with a four-tiered wedding cake and pink and white tapers. Mrs. McEachern and Mrs. Fyfe poured tea. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. L. Buchanan and served by Miss Lila Bowser, Mrs Steinhauer, Miss Risdale, Miss Flossie Tessman, Miss Marion Roebuck, Misses Alice and Betty Buchanan.

The master of ceremonies was Mr Driver, who called on Mr Fyfe to propose the toast to the bride. This was fittingly responded to by the groom. Appreciation of our host and hostess was expressed by W. L. Roebuck and responded to by our host.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs Robertson Sr. and Mr and Mrs Howard Robertson, Beaufort, Mr and Mrs Gordon Robertson, Streamstown, Mr Bob Sutherland, Ottawa, Ont, Mrs Mitchell and Mrs Steinhauer, Thorsby, Mr and Mrs Hosack, Streamstown, Mrs Dennill and Mr and Mrs Milo Hodgson, Dewberry.

For travelling the bride wore a black tailored suit with black accessories. They will visit Calgary and Banff and on their return will make their home in Islay.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

ISERT—KINSHELLA

At the home of Mr and Mrs. Charles Kinshella of Dewberry, a pretty wedding took place on October 28th when Viola Marie, daughter of Mr and Mrs Kinshella, and Cameron Minard Isert, son of Mr and Mrs Rudi Isert of Hazeldine, were united in marriage. The Rev. E. S. Baikie of Vermilion officiated.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of white sheer and a floor-length veil held in place by a bridal crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Margie Kinshella, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length gown of pink taffeta. Her corsage was of 'mums and carnations.

Mr Gerald Kinshella, brother of the bride, was best man.

For receiving, the bride's mother wore a figured jersey dress with a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Isert, mother of the groom, wore a grey silk dress with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

The reception was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Kinshella where some thirty-two guests, friends and relations, of the bride and groom, gathered. A buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. L. Maltais, Lavina Kinshella, Patsy Isert, Mrs. Wm. Klimek and Mrs. G. Wilson.

A four-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table with pink and white streamers adding to the effect. The bridal toast was proposed by Mr. R. Trimmings.

A dance was held at the Dewberry Community hall, and later that evening the newlyweds left on a honeymoon to Vancouver. For going away the bride wore a blue wool suit with matching accessories. On their return they will make their home at Hazeldine.

FLEMING—FINLAY

A quiet but pretty fall wedding was solemnized in Jasper Place United church, Edmonton, on Monday, Nov. 1st, at 3 30 p.m. when Margaret (Marjorie), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Finlay, of Dewberry, became the bride of Mr. Russell M. Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Fleming, also of Dewberry. Rev. G. A. Larue performed the ceremony.

Probe Into U. K. Wheat Agreement Loss

LINE ELEVATORS SEEK FULL VALUE FOR FARMERS

Proposal for appointment of a Royal Commission to determine the losses suffered by Western farmers as a result of the Canada-U.K. Wheat Agreement and the sale of wheat for domestic consumption below world prices during the period of Agreement was made in a communication forwarded to the Acting Prime Minister and the Minister of Trade and Commerce today by the North West Line Elevators Association.

It is proposed that the Royal Commission should be granted authority to assess the amount of compensation that should be paid from the National Treasury to compensate farmers for the losses suffered and that this amount be credited to a [illegible] fund to guarantee a floor price to the farmers in future years. The Line Elevator group further suggests that the Royal Commission pass on the wisdom of the Government in the future, entering into any long-term bulk sales of wheat or other grains.

In its communication to the Government the Line Elevators Association points out that within the next few weeks representatives of the Governments of Canada and the U.K. will be called upon to agree on a price for the 140,000,000 bushels of the 1949 crop to be delivered to [illegible] [illegible] undertaking made by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture on [illegible] the Agreement to the effect that any losses suffered in the first two years of the Agreement would be made up in the final years. The Agreement expires with the 1949 crop. Losses suffered by farmers during the first three years of the Agreement are calculated at [illegible] and it is pointed out that an absolute price of $[illegible] per bushel would have to be granted for the 1949 [illegible] if the Agreement and the undertakings of the Minister of Agriculture were to be carried out in protecting the farmers against losses.

He has learned, for instance, that in making loans, a bank manager must satisfy himself that the borrower would merit your confidence if you were lending your own money.

At the same time he welcomes opportunities to put money to work. Loans are part of his business, and an important source of revenue. They help people get along, help build a prosperous, progressive nation.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "Tall Oak"

I had the happy privilege of acting as one of the judges in a young peoples' elocution contest recently, [illegible] as I saw the fine company of boys and girls who were taking part I felt a warm glow around my heart. The young people ranged in age from Juniors 6 to 11 years to Seniors 16 and over.

As I listened to their efforts I thought what a fine way to build character into future citizens, training them to think on their feet, and express themselves intelligently. The subject of the contest was concerning self-control, and proper living.

Character! — What an important thing it is to have men and women of sterling character.

George Matthew Adams once wrote "Character is the sum total, worthwhile of what a man has, after he has won all, and the only thing he [illegible] left after he has lost all" . . . "Character is power."

Character is out of reach of the gossip. Reputation may suffer by evil talking but your character is unassailable for character is what you are! Your reputation is what men think that you are or say that you are.

Character is not inherited, we can of course, inherit characteristics, that is the shape of our nose, or chin, or ears but not character.

Character is of our own making. A good true character must be won.

Your life expresses itself in character. The little things you do reveal your character—what you laugh at the way you react in your dealings with others the way you listen to the other fellow as he tells his story, the way you answer people; even the kind of things you like to do most, and the way you shoulder responsibility, all reveal your character.

There are two kinds of people in this world—Masters and Weaklings.

There is the man who is in control of his life—whose soul dictates to his body, and the man whose soul is slave to the demands of his body. The weaker the character the greater the demands of the body—the stronger the character the fewer the demands of the body.

Christianity makes character better. Lack of real Christianity makes char[illegible]

Seeing that the character is of your own making, it is our own responsibility to make something of our character by practising self-control. No man can build a worthwhile character by getting drunk (indeed he is a stronger man who leaves intoxicating drink alone entirely), or by loose living. No one can become strong in character when he flies off into a fit of blasphemous and abusive language at the slightest, or any provocation. I dare to say that the main trouble with our world today is the desperate lack of good character among our people. Thank God there are some who take pride in developing high character, but it is a sad thing that so many just drift along, and if things are not going just right they visit the beer room. If something upsets them, they go into an awful fit of cursing, as though that will alter the [illegible]

Just a final word. Your character is YOU—it is the only thing you take with you when you die. Make something of your character by keeping your conscience educated by God's holy word, by being honest and kindly in all your dealings, by (and this is most important) getting right with God. This is the surest and only way to secure a character worthy of eternal happiness. When a man confesses his sins to God, believes in the sacrifice of Jesus Christ, and accepts the forgiveness and guidance of God in his daily life, that man is on the way to developing a fine, worthwhile character.

Build your character on God. Men and women of character are in demand by heads of firms. The world is looking for those upon whom it can depend. God has prepared his best and greatest for men and women of Godly character.

Elk Point Students Hold Tennis Tourney

The winners of the high school and [illegible] tennis tournament held here during the past two weeks were announced by Rev. W. N. Blackmore, club secretary. He praised the winners and all those who participated for the good clean sportsmanship shown throughout the tournament. He hoped that many such events would be held in the future. Winners who were awarded pins in the various events were: Boys' Singles — Eddie Soldan, Girls' Singles — Joan Sumpton, Boys' Doubles — Carl Hall and Billy Sumpton.

The tennis court which was built just this summer under the supervision of Mr. Blackmore, has already attracted a fairly large membership among the young people of the district, and it is expected that there will be an even larger membership next year.

Elk Point High School Students union plan to hold another tournament during the next week.

DEWBERRY

The Dewberry hockey club has been re-organized with Neil Jones as president, John Anderson, vice-president, James Munro secretary. It was very pleasing to see such a large number out doing repair work at the skating rink. The co-operation of the citizens of a community makes a small town into a progressive one.

Dewberry sports association now have a three-sheet curling rink. A little levelling remains to be done but the ice lanes have been closed in from the weather.

Miss Marjorie Findlay was honored by a shower in the hall last week by the ladies of town and district prior to her marriage to Mr. Russell Fleming.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Isert on their marriage and best wishes for future happiness.

We extend congratulations to two sets of proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Worth on the birth of a daughter and to Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston on the birth of a son.

Noticed around: Roy Butz, Tom Ryan and Brian Braithwaite all recovering from broken or crushed bones suffered in their every day walks of life by playing, wrestling [illegible] getting kicked by a horse.

[illegible] agree that the best man is the best man.

Did you know that Mrs. Gordon (Maggie) Wilson by icing the wedding cake of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Isert has brought her total to 19 for making or icing wedding and anniversary cakes of people within our district?

Mr. and Mrs. Will Porter, Stan and Philip have left for their winter home in Vancouver.

Dewberry people are expecting to use the new power line this winter. We notice that all the lead wire poles have now been set from Marwayne to Vermilion via Dewberry and Clandonald.

All roads lead to Dewberry and with the discovery of a new [illegible] gravel pit in the Riverton district roads from there south are being gravelled by donation and otherwise.

95% of British and Foreign War Brides Happy in Canada

WINNIPEG: According to records of the Canadian Red Cross society well over 95% of the 43,454 British and foreign war brides of Canadian servicemen who came to Canada between June 1942 and December 1947 continue happy and [illegible] their lot. Mention of war brides assisted by the Red Cross during the current year was made recently at the semi-annual meeting of the Society's Central Council in session at the Royal Alexandra hotel.

In response to appeals from war brides in difficulty, the Red Cross has investigated 900 cases so far in 1948 delegates heard, of this number 25% involved matrimonial complications which in turn represents only 2% of the overseas marriages.

C. LaFerle, Toronto national chairman of the transportation committee told the delegates that up to the end of August 1948 relief supplies amounting to $1,462,340 had been shipped overseas through the Canadian Red Cross. Shipments totalled 166 with $609,719 worth of supplies going to the United Kingdom and the balance to 22 separate foreign countries.

Canada rates high in literacy, more than 96% of all adults being able to read and write.

Xmas Seal Campaign Objective is $125,000

HELP STAMP OUT T. B.

The 1948 Christmas Seal campaign must realize at least $125,000 in Alberta according to E. H. Read Drumheller president of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, in order to carry on the many anti-tuberculosis activities of the group.

Mr. Read said funds raised through the sale of Christmas seals help pay for health education in mass X-ray surveys, nursing services, vocational training and rehabilitation of San patients, post graduate training for doctors, medical scholarships, research and many other preventive measures.

The Seal sale this year opens on Nov. 15th, and it is hoped that the objective will be reached by Xmas. Last year $116,000 was raised by this means, but all activities have been stepped up and new undertakings have been made mostly in the case-finding [illegible]

Rebekahs To Hold Annual Ball

IN THE ELKS HALL

The Britannia Rebekah Lodge announces elsewhere in this issue that their annual ball will be held on Tuesday Nov. 23rd in the Elks hall. In order to have some attraction for everyone a complete program of modern music liberally interspersed with old time dances, has been arranged. These Should Be in Ireland

Three huge potatoes, all on one root, were brought to the Standard this week by W. J. Garnett of the Wildmere district. The potatoes are of the "Early Ohio" variety and the three big fellows weighed up for a total of 7¾-lb. The behemoth of the trio weighed in at 3¼-lb. belying the opinion that he might be a hollow shell, poundage of the other two were 2⅝ and 1⅝. Housewives who held them e.d. of curiosity are of the opinion that some sort of hoist would have to be used to hold the potatoes up for paring. They would surely delight the eye of an Irishman as there the growing of murphies is a science.

Salvation Army Holds Business Session

The soldiers and recruits (members and prospective members) of the Salvation Army met for a special business meeting in the Citadel.

Adjutant Chas. Stewart presided, and opened the meeting with the singing of "Fight On, Fight On, For Jesus" and prayer.

Treasurer Ken Isley gave a financial statement and reported that the personal giving of the members had increased more than a 100%, but counselled that the church was still short of its objective.

There was lively discussion concerning the Evangelistic work and program, after which Adj. Stewart gave a report on the Corps (church) standing and progress during the past five years. He reported that out of 28 new contacts, 10 had been made soldiers (members), 1 had been made a recruit, 6 had been removed from the rolls for non-attendance.

Concerning the soldiers (members) roll he reported that of 36 on the Corps roll 12 had been transferred to other Corps; 1 had died; 3 had been removed from membership as unsatisfactory, leaving a roll of 20. To supplement this number there are four recruits awaiting enrollment in the near future. Counting enrolled members recruits and those who worship at The Salvation Army but not members there is a total congregational roll of 30. In addition to this there are 3 new contacts to be added as adherents.

The Adjutant thanked the soldiers and recruits for their co-operation. Sunday Nov. 14th at 11.00 a.m. was chosen for the time when all would present their tithe adjusting offering to the Lord.

The meeting dismissed with the Consecration chorus "I'll Be True Lord to Thee" and prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Gontier Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr and Mrs Paul Gontier celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Oct. 26th. They had planned to spend the day very quietly as only Robert the youngest of their 9 children, was at home. They were very pleasantly surprised however when on Friday night seven children knocked at the door having come from Edmonton and Vegreville to be with their parents on their silver wedding day. Only Therese, newly appointed teacher at Porcupine Plains in Saskatchewan was unable to come. The girls cooked a delicious dinner on Sunday which was eaten from the new dinner set, a gift of the children with Mr Peter Fernand as guest. In the afternoon Maurice slipped away to bring Mr and Mrs E G Green and Mr and Mrs F van Wagoningen for a surprise visit both families being without a car at their disposal at the time. A very pleasant afternoon it turned out to be with toasts to the silver couple and songs by the children. Best wishes for many happy years together with the children go to Mr and Mrs Gontier from their other friends and neighbors in the district.

VERMILION HONORS WAR DEAD

Vermilion and district citizens in large numbers gathered at the Cenotaph in the town park on Thursday, Nov. 11th, Remembrance Day, to pay homage to the memory of those who gave their lives in the Great Wars of 1914-18 and 1939-1945.

The brief but impressive ceremony was conducted under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. At 2 minutes before 11 a.m. the hour of the signing of the Armistice in 1918, the [illegible] silence was observed, the termination of the impressive stillness being heralded by the opening notes of "The Last Post" which was sounded by Adjutant Charles Stewart.

Wreaths were then placed on the cenotaph by representatives of Dominion, Provincial and local organizations, and private citizens.

On parade at the cenotaph were the Veterans, the Reserve Army, the R.C.M.P., Air Cadets, Boy Scouts, Stagettes, W.A. to Canadian Legion, I.O.D.E., school students and V.S.A. student body. Music was by the Salvation Army Junior band and the Clandonald Pipe band. Parade Marshall was Robert Allen.

Following the laying of the wreaths the parade followed by hundreds of citizens, moved from the Cenotaph to the Columbia theatre where the solemn Remembrance Day service was [illegible].

REMEMBRANCE SERVICE

Delivering an able and forceful address, the Rev T W Teape, chaplain of Canadian Legion Post 11, chose his text from Psalm 138:7—"Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me; thou shalt stretch forth thy hand upon the furiousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me." Mr. Teape in his opening remarks said:" Brethren, we are come together today to do honor to the glorious dead. Many of you who are here can remember quite vividly sons and brothers and acquaintances and close friends who laid down their lives in the defence of freedom in North Africa and Italy, in France and Holland, on the high seas and in those fierce encounters in the skies. We are confident that they were instrumental in securing for us our present freedom and our present prosperity. That is why we honor them as benefactors of all mankind." The speaker then went on to develop two pictures, the first one that of a Europe of rubble piles and rationing, the second picture more reassuring through which the light of the coming dawn gleamed faintly pointing to the recovery of the war ravished and impoverished countries of Europe.

Adding to the solemnity and impressiveness of the occasion was the reading of the roll call of the men who laid down their lives in the battle for freedom through two wars.

Assisting in carrying out the service were Comrade E. Sweatman president of the Legion Post 11, Comrade Thos. Watts, Adj Chas Stewart, the Salvation Army Jr band and the Clandonald Pipe Band.

On Saturday Nov 6th the W.A. to the Canadian Legion organized and carried out a very successful Poppy sale.

ARMISTICE DANCE

The annual Armistice dance was held by the Legion in their new hall and attracted an overflow crowd.

ANNUAL SMOKER

Thursday evening Nov. 11th the annual Armistice Smoker was held to which event veterans of all wars were invited. An interesting feature was the introduction by Bernie Ackerman of four Polish war veterans who have been working on the water and sewer project here for several months past. These men were in Poland when it was overrun. One was captured by the Germans and forced into the German army, the other 3 were drafted into the Russian army. All four were wounded. After learning the language and the customs of this country, the men will take up their respective trades, all being skilled tradesmen.

Over 200 attended the Smoker. Mayor Morrison gave a short address. W. B. Elford entertained on the piano demonstrating a piano attachment through which any musical instrument could be imitated; J J Jones of Mannville spoke briefly. President Ted Sweatman was M C.

COMMUNITY EXTENDS HELP TO FIRE VICTIMS

ELK POINT —The home of Mr and Mrs. Fred Smith and family of this area, was completely destroyed by fire this week. The home, which was in the Spring Park district was located on the farm owned by Mr Smith. All of the house and its contents were lost completely and no insurance was carried. Winter supplies and clothing which had been purchased prior to the fire were also lost and all that the family has left is the clothing they were wearing at the time. A fund is being raised to help the family and donations of food clothing and household goods are being received. Residents of Elk Point and Spring Park showed fine community spirit, when 40 men went out into the woods this week to get logs for lumber with which to build a new home for the family of four. It is expected that another crew will assist in building the house. It is hoped that others will be able to help the family in their great loss.

Commonwealth Has New Prince

A son who may one day rule the Commonwealth was born Sunday night to Princess Elizabeth and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh. The new Prince weighed 7 pounds 6 ozs. at birth and is described as a really splendid baby. Both mother and son are doing very well.

Small Boy Scratches Infant's Face

Little Sue Blades, 3 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Blades of the V.S.A., was very badly scratched on both sides of her face by a small boy Monday afternoon.

Mrs Blades left the little child in the carriage outside of Boake's Drug store while she made a purchase, on going out she found the baby screaming and her face was covered with blood from deep finger nail scratches on both cheeks. A clerk in the store had noticed a small boy of about 3 or 4 years run past the window a second or two before. Investigation is being made.

Hon. Louis St. Laurent Now Premier

Canadians witnessed the end of an epoch Monday when Prime Minister King, after 21 years, five months and 5 days in office, handed his resignation to Governor-General Viscount Alexander. Mr. King, whose term in office has exceeded that of any figure in Empire history, steps down from the highest public office in the Dominion to that of private member of parliament for Glengarry, an Ontario constituency. As a privy councillor his title always will be Rt. Hon. W L Mackenzie King. Mr. King's successor will be Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, who was named leader of the Canadian Liberal party at a convention in August. Mr. King's last official act was to tender Canada's congratulations to Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, upon the birth of the new Prince of Edinburgh.

Doug Brimacombe Heads Senior Hockey Club

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR SENIOR TEAM — OPERATION OF EAST'N ALTA. LGE. FAVORED

Possibly the most enthusiastic hockey meeting held for several seasons was that of last Friday evening when the Vermilion Tiger Hockey club was re-organized for the approaching winter. Not only was the gathering heartily in favor of organizing a senior team but the consensus of opinion was that the Eastern Alberta Hockey league, with teams from Vegreville, Lloydminster and Vermilion should be operated again this winter. Names of eighteen potential hockey players of some ability, many of them present at the meeting, were taken as the nucleus of a league contender. It is quite possible that some newcomers to town were not included but everyone will be given a real tryout as soon as ice is available.

SANDY WATT RETIRES

A. M. "Sandy" Watt, president of the club and a dynamic force in Vermilion hockey circles for the past 3 years, announced his retirement and no amount of persuasion could alter that decision. Sandy has been good for hockey in Vermilion and along this portion of the C.N.R. line and his decision to retire is generally regretted. However, he did accept a position on the executive.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The financial statement as read by Sec.-Treas. Tom Stack showed a balance of some $187.12 in the bank. This was a carry-over from the Tiger activities of two winters ago when the Eastern Alberta league was operating. Just about a break-even was made on last year's district league schedule. No club made any money, no club lost any. Some of the individual players were out of pocket, those from the country sometimes purchased their own sticks and went to considerable trouble to reach town to play their games. However they all figured they had fun and really enjoyed the league.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

The following were elected to office for the coming season:

President—Doug Brimacombe
Business Manager—Bill Crabb
Sec.-Treas.—Tom Stack
Coach—Stan Waldenberger
Executive — Sandy Watt and Reg Mitchell

After general discussion the following points were decided:

The executive was instructed to call a meeting of representatives of Vegreville, Lloydminster and Vermilion to be held Sunday Nov. 21st at Vermilion, for the purpose of reviving the Eastern Alberta Hockey league.

DRESSING & CURING PORK

Many farmers used to cure their own bacon but this valuable addition to farm living has nearly passed out. A reprint of the Alberta circular entitled "Dressing and Curing Pork on the Farm" has just come to hand. Why not get this circular and read the recommendations for smoking pork, making sausage etc."

FARM PLANNING

District Agriculturist Chevrette of St Paul spent last Wednesday at Vermilion. We visited a farmer at Kitscoty who asked for a cropping plan for his farm. Both Mr Chevrette and myself are convinced that a carefully planned cropping system including forage crops in regular order is the only solution to the weed problem and the return of the good grain yields of early days. I will be glad to talk this matter over with anyone who wishes to call at my office.

PUBLIC MEETINGS

Your District Agriculturist would be glad to come out to meetings in any part of the district. From now until December 20th is a suitable time for holding agricultural meetings. [illegible] let me know the date and the subject and I will be there.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. Pearl Baker

On Friday November 12th at 11:30 o'clock in the evening, at the Vermilion hospital, one of Vermilion's early residents, Mrs P. M. (Pearl) Baker, passed on. She and her husband, newlyweds, came to Vermilion in 1910, and this has been her home ever since with exception of two or three years in Edmonton. Her birthplace as well as that of her husband, was Osnabruck Centre, Ontario. Here she grew up and when she entered the teaching profession it was at Osnabruck Centre that she taught until the time of her marriage, and the adventurous move to the Great West.

When her husband, the late Frank Baker, died in October 1945 there was a period of internal battling to become readjusted. During this period she survived a sick spell that was little short of a miracle. By sheer inner force she fought back to strength and health, precarious always, but sufficient. After this she took up her old job of teaching at the same time studying for a permanent certificate. In the early part of this period her mother passed on.

At the time of Mrs Baker's death she was teaching at Ganton school. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Corydon Brown of Vermilion, and Mrs. Wilfred Matheson of Dewberry. There are four grandchildren.

By provision of our Creator every individual is endowed with special gifts and qualities which may or may not be cultivated and used. It is this that sets everyone out as being of wonder, interesting, venturous unpredictable, and of inestimable value. It is this that makes it impossible for any life to be insignificant. And so in the passing of close friends and acquaintances, as well as those who attain special eminence, it is highly becoming to pay tribute to the worth and dignity of every life.

One of the distinguishing qualities of Mrs Baker was a stern refusal to give in to hardships or difficulties. Obligations and duties, as she saw them, were freely accepted, and once being accepted, were firmly held to. To them she gave the full measure of her strength and ability. Family, church and Sunday school, and related interests enlisted her highest loyalty and devotion. In thinking of the steadfastness of her life the word indomitable comes up. And what a word it is; what wealth of meaning it holds. Hers was an indomitable spirit.

If human life on earth is adventurous, significant and unpredictable what are we to say of the after life. This is too great for our comprehension. It passes imagination. We get a glimpse of one glorious view of it in those words of Jesus, "In my father's house there [illegible]sions. I go to prepare a place for you." Many mansions, not a few but many; not inadequate paltry dwelling places, but mansions. A place prepared for a new kind of life in the ascending scale of our Creator's design.

It is a pleasant and cheering thought that, in the plan of the Lord of all, in leaving here she moved on to the place of "many mansions". In the midst of valiant effort and useful activity she went. It is no doubt as she would wish it, and so close the earthly record. She goes on with life's banner held high.

Funeral services were held by the United church on Tuesday afternoon November 16th at 2:00 o'clock. Interment was at the Vermilion cemetery.

Ill Health Causes Resignation of Popular Teacher

Due to recurrence of a nervous condition, Miss Lavina Kinshella grade [illegible] teacher in the Vermilion public school asked to be released from her contract last week end, as she is forced by her health to give up teaching. Her departure is regretted as Miss Kinshella had proved a very efficient and popular teacher during her short stay here. Her home is at Dewberry. The services of Mrs Geo [illegible] have been obtained as substitute teacher.

During this past week Mrs W A Kibblewhite has been subbing for Miss [illegible] grade 6 teacher. Miss Gillen [illegible]

Power Pleb. Result Rests on Vermilion

A "photo finish" in the power plebiscite held Aug 17th at the same time as the provincial general election with the possibility of public ownership staging a startling upset to win by a slender margin, was indicated Wednesday.

Another disclosure is that owing to the absence of an official count for Vermilion constituency, provincial government officials are about to make a count of the plebiscite ballots from that riding.

Some deputy returning officers in Vermilion riding did not count the plebiscite ballots, assuming this was not essential. Consequently the returning offer A R Stephenson, pioneer Mannville farmer was unable to make an official return of the plebiscite results in that constituency.

The official figures on the plebiscite for all constituencies with the exception of Vermilion, announced Tuesday, gave a majority of only 703 for private ownership. The standings were: for private company ownership [illegible]; for public ownership and operation by the Alberta power commission [illegible].

[illegible] figures for Vermilion given just after the election showed 2,144 in favor of public ownership and [illegible] for private ownership. On the basis of these figures the vote would be 139,677 private and 139,722 public or a majority of 45 for the latter, in the over-all voting with a few polls to hear from.

[illegible] votes were cast in the Vermilion constituency in the election, but a great many voters did not bother marking the plebiscite ballot.

Annual Fall Dance and Alumni Re-union V.S.A.

Friday, Nov. 19th is the date set for the Annual fall dance and Alumni reunion at the Vermilion school of agriculture. This is a regular feature in the social life of the school. The students of former years take this opportunity of revisiting the school and renewing acquaintances. Last year ex-students attending Varsity chartered a bus and came for the occasion while others drove over 200 miles to join them. People of Vermilion and surrounding districts welcome this opportunity of attending a dance at the school where facilities available for dancing, lunch etc. provide for a most enjoyable evening.

Supreme Court Cases Of Interest Here

The Vermilion District Livestock Co-operative Limited's suit against W. C. Ewing of Mannville, Alta., a former manager of the Company, to recover money paid out by him without authority during his term of office was tried in the Supreme Court sitting at Vegreville on Tuesday, Nov. 16th before Mr. Justice Shepherd.

Judgment was given against Ewing for the sum of $1748.11 and costs. Ewing's counterclaim against the Company was dismissed.

F. J. Richardson of Vermilion acted for the Vermilion District Livestock Co-op. Ltd. and J. I. Jones of Mannville for the defendant Ewing.

At the same sittings the application of Olena Stachniuk of Derwent for an Order upon Mike Stachniuk and his wife Molly Stachniuk to show cause why a quarter section of land transferred by the husband to the wife should not be sold to satisfy a judgment was dismissed with costs.

Jos. M. Lazarenko of Myrnam acted for Olena Stachniuk and F. J. Richardson for Mike Stachniuk.

Appeal of Steve Jacula Is Dismissed

BY APPELLATE DIVISION OF SUPREME COURT

The appeal of Steve Jacula from the conviction and sentence imposed by Police Magistrate A. E. Kaiser was dismissed by the unanimous decision of the Appellate Division of Supreme Court in Edmonton on Nov. 9th.

As a result of a fracas in a local beer parlor Steve Jacula was charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm to Jack Duff. He was tried before Magistrate Kaiser on March 11th, 1948, was found guilty of the charge and sentenced to 6 months at hard labor with a fine of $100 and costs of $21. The conviction and sentence were appealed by Jacula, but the appeal was dismissed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta.

A YEAR OF POLITICAL EVENTS— The resignation of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as Prime Minister of Canada and the swearing in of Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent comes as a spectacular climax to a year of imposing political events.

New leaders in Canada's major political parties, the movement of two provincial premiers to the federal field and arrangements for the entry of a tenth province would be exciting incidents in any one year. The return of 5 provincial governments — three of them with added majorities were additional features. Only the Ontario and Saskatchewan governments lost strength in the provincial elections.

In our external relations Canada assumed her place in the security council of the U.N. with Gen. McNaughton as our national spokesman.

THE WEATHER . . . Lovely weather continues. Skating is in full swing on the river and on sloughs. The coldest point of the week was last Friday night with a reading of zero, day readings vary from 42 to 25, with lows of zero to 27 above at night. Showers and snow last Friday and Saturday accounted for .31 of precipitation. The weather just could not be nicer at this time of the year.

ISLAY

Stagette Club Reviews Extensive Activities

The Vermilion Stagette club with 22 other clubs across Canada, has just completed its annual National Stagette Week.

The object of the individual and organized Stagette clubs is to improve the girls who belong, in character, and to improve their communities through charitable undertakings.

In 1942 the Calgary club undertook the Maidstone Street school project, namely: "the caring for, feeding, clothing and educating of over 300 children ranging between the ages of three and 14, in a school located in one of the worst slum districts in London, England."

This club found the work too great for one group to handle. Consequently, all the clubs adopted it as the National project. Large parcels of suitable clothing, food and comforts are sent regularly to this school.

The Vermilion club contibutes periodically to the above project. Since the funds, needed to carry on, are gathered here in town, the members feel that home organizations should benefit by donations. Regular contributions therefore are given to the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Cancer Fund. Christmas food hampers are presented and some help is given to needy families.

A few years ago after much discussion, it was decided to look into the possibilities of a playground. Realizing the burden would be too great for one organization (and that a female one) the club approached the local Elks. This organization has backed the project most generously. Then the Vermilion Teachers' Organization asked to be represented. The Vermilion Playground committee therefore, is made up of three members each from the organizations, the Elks, Teachers, Stagettes. The Town Council then accepted the proposed plan of the playground and permitted the use of the present site. They had the ground levelled and placed a flood light on it.

Following is a financial statement of the activities carried out by the organization thus formed:

WOODVALE

Slowly but surely it is getting a little colder and a wee bit more snow seems to fall every other day or so around here. Some of the animals apparently think it is spring: gophers have been seen by almost everyone during the first part of this month: Adam Ducsok saw geese flying north and then on Armistice day a big flock was noticed going south at a very great speed. A big golden eagle is back again, and we have never seen them around before it gets cold. However everyone has enjoyed this warm spell thoroughly, but we would not be human if we did not want more of it.

Friends and neighbors went to town on Nov. 6th to pay their last respects to Mr. Fred Wolters. Sad as the death of anyone always is, it must be a comfort to his daughters and sons to know that he did not have to live years yet as a cripple, something that would have brought the active and independent Mr. Wolters no happiness.

Hazel Thomson spent a few days in the hospital getting her tonsils removed and has an extra week's time.

Mr. Proctor of Hindville has been a patient in the hospital and we wish him a speedy recovery also.

We have quite a number of congratulations to offer to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson (nee Marjorie Young), to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sampson (nee Florence Young) to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crocker and to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teasdale, all on the birth of their babies. The baby girl of Marjorie's and the boy of Florence's will no doubt visit with their mothers in the Hindville district where grandparents aunts and uncles are proudly interested in their arrival. The little daughter of Mae and Clarence will live in the [illegible] district and the [illegible] Teasdale boy [illegible] where his [illegible] brothers will show him how to grow into a lively healthy boy.

Congratulations go to a [illegible] girl Joyce Whitlock and her husband Laurence Welsh who were married on the 11th. I do hope we got the name right Joyce, and we all wish you lots of happiness.

A shower was held at the Watson school for Florence Teasman who will become the bride of Lorne Alley on the 16th. Best wishes go to these newly-weds too.

Brooks Lyons is working for W. C. Martin, tinsmith, in Vermilion this winter. His brother Clarence is employed there too. Clarence and his wife spent two weeks recently in Calgary where he took a short course at the technical school there.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Hobbs bought a house in Vermilion recently and although they will not move from the farm yet Mrs. Hobbs' mother Mrs. Todd will live in it this winter and Mrs. Hobbs hopes to stay with her there off and on.

The Red Cross meeting at the writer's home was only attended by a very few ladies. By working hard the six of them managed to [illegible] a big quilt. Being busy did not stop them from having a very pleasant time talking while stitching away furiously. The meeting part was [illegible] neglected but during a [illegible] while the quilt was rolled the secretary managed to get the minutes read and a copy of a letter from the Chal[illegible]worth Community club re a rest room in Vermilion. It was decided to ask Mrs. Gladys Wolters and Mrs. Ma[illegible] McGrath to be the representatives of this auxiliary at a meeting to be held in the near future in Vermilion to [illegible] this matter. It was felt that a supervised rest room might be the only solution as apparently a great many of the public are unwilling to use such facilities in a clean and [illegible] way otherwise the restrooms [illegible] several of the stores and garages used to have would not have had to be closed on that account in the past.

The next meeting of the Red Cross will be the general one on Jan. 5th at the home of Mrs. Otto Wolters. If anyone feels like making some quilt blocks for us, any pattern will be welcome as long as the size is 15 sq. inches.

Popularity Contest At Maxwell's Furniture

A Lane cedar chest, value $65, will be given away by Maxwell's Furniture store to the girl between the ages of 1 year and 20 years, who receives the largest number of votes between now and the 22nd day of December. Every dollar spent at Maxwell's entitles the purchaser to one vote for his favorite candidate. On Dec. 22nd the votes will be counted and the girl with the most votes will receive the lovely Lane cedar chest. The chest is now on display at Maxwell's Furniture store. The more you buy at Maxwell's the more votes you can have. 23atf

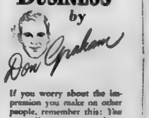
by



Don Graham

If you worry about the impression you make on other people, remember this: You are really important to a large number of people!

Yes, almost everyone you meet and associate with depends on you to support their self-confidence in some way. Even those who seem "high hat" and independent really want to earn your favourable opinion.

Here are some ways to make yourself even more important to others:

1. Be a good listener. Go out of your way to express appreciation of what the other fellow says and does.
2. If he is your superior, show due respect. If an assistant, encourage him and let him know that you value his services.
3. Never belittle the ability or accomplishments of others. Be a booster.
4. Don't contradict, even if you are right. State your facts or opinions in some indirect way.

By following these hints you will enjoy better personal relations wherever you are. And this, in turn, will do wonders for your own self-confidence!

To his family, a father is the most important person in the world. And since the family depends on him for their financial support, the typical Canadian father protects his family with life insurance.

Remembrance Day Ceremonies, Elk Point

ELK POINT.—Members of the Elk Point Branch of the Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L., celebrated Remembrance Day by a special parade and service. About 30 Legionnaires and 65 Boy Scouts, Girl Guides Wolf Cubs and Brownies, and members of the Elk Point Ambulance and Nursing Cadet Divisions—St. John Ambulance Association, paraded down main street and past the hospital. An impressive service was held in the new Legion hall under the direction of Comrade President William Keller. Addresses were given by Rev. W. N. Blackmore of the Elk Point United church and by Rev. Father Morin, O.M.I. of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church. In his address Rev. Blackmore emphasized the need of greater [illegible] in these post war days and a keeping of the faith with those who lost their [illegible] on the battlefield. He saw the [illegible] even now for all the nations of the world to help in maintaining the peace so dearly bought by the fallen comrades in arms. Rev. Father Morin saw the failing of the peace after World War I as due to the lack of observance of the basic Christian principles and of the teachings of Christ. He hoped that all people of Canada would do their utmost to prevent the outbreak of a third world war.

Those in charge of the various sections of the parade were: Legionnaires Wm. Keller, Scouts and the Ambulance Cadets—J. V. Jacobson; Guides and Nursing Cadets—Mrs. N.B. Pumpton; Wolf Cubs—Sydney Kates; Brownies—Mrs. F. McDonnell and [illegible].

"Let's Chat Awhile"

I wonder how many of you can remember the time when you learned to drive a motor car. I can!

Driving along a straight road was fairly easy, but when coming to a corner, or a curve, I found my confidence leaving me.

Cautiously, with tightening grip and abated breath, I would start to take the corner. There was a moment or two of near panic. by having safely passed the cause of my apprehension I would indulge in a sigh of relief and go sailing along once more with renewed confidence, leaving my difficulty behind.

Since then I have learned to take corners without fear, but what if the difficulty in turning corners had [illegible] me afraid to tackle the task? As a car driver I would have become a failure. The pleasure that comes with the sense of accomplishment would also have been lost.

But corners in government highways and streets are not the only ones. There are 'corners' in the path of life, difficulties we encounter while engaged in the business of living.

All of us have our 'corners', some [illegible] than others. There is a tendency sometimes to think that our corners are somewhat worse than most but what really determines the effect of the corners, is how we take it! A great deal depends on how you meet your difficulties. Of course if you have thrown out of your life the stabilizing influence of active Christianity then you will always have difficulty with your 'corners'. To know definitely that you are on friendly terms with God is a wonderful source of comfort and help when a corner of trouble comes along.

I have seen people meet death, one of the most serious Corners of Life, and I have seen the calm sensible way in which consecrated Christians met the experience (see John 15 14). I have seen those that had such a strong faith in God that death was just another corner to take in confidence and hope. One Christian woman in particular I remember at this time. She had a very robust son of 18 years of age. He was killed by an [illegible]. Five months later her husband also a Christian died very suddenly [illegible] months later her sister [illegible]. A [illegible] experience! Yes, but none the less real and the source of this woman's courage and comfort came from the vital inward experience of the living Saviour. She wept and was sad but she was not inconsolable for even though human efforts were very [illegible] adequate yet she had the indwelling power of God that took her around the corner.

Next time you have to [illegible] around a corner [illegible] your life are you going to face it alone or will you take Jesus as your Saviour and Friend now and be assured of His help and comfort. You [illegible] to some tough Corners but if you have a vital Christian experience knowing the [illegible] it will make a difference!

WOODVALE

It was with great regret that the Tolland community heard of the passing of Mrs. Frank Baker on Friday in the Vermilion hospital. Mrs. Baker [illegible] past two months in the Ganton school teacherage and made herself many friends in that short time, besides performing the miracle of making [illegible] dren like to go to school very much and to do, one and all, very well in their studies. She will long be remembered for her kindness and the interest she took in the community and school life in the district.

Gordon Trevithick met with an accident while leading a steer by a rope on horseback. The lariat caught his leg and tore some ligaments, making a stay in the Vermilion hospital necessary. We wish you a speedy recovery Gordon.

The Steele children are going to Triangle school now, while the nine other children of Ganton school are being brought to Union daily, a ride of 12 miles.

The farm forum meeting on Monday was postponed but we enjoyed a visit of Chris Thomson and Ralph very much. The next meeting will probably not be held until the end of the month or early in December.

Keep that Sub. right up to date.

The last week has seen many transformations in the student body. Some are walking on air but most are in the depths of despair. The reason — the first report cards are out! Results are varied—either you can still go out every night of the week without worrying too much or you've got to buckle down.

We would like to thank Mrs. Teage for doing such a swell job of pinch-hitting for Mr. Smeltzer during his absence last Friday. We'll be glad to have you back any time the occasion arises.

Party Honors Newly-weds to Hughes District

A party to honor and welcome Mrs. Roy Walker and Mrs. Angus Anderson to the district was held Thursday afternoon Nov. 11th at the home of Mrs. W. Lyle Robinson when Mrs. Wm. Barr, Mrs. Joe Hart, Mrs. Clarence Barr, Mrs. Manson Barr and Mrs. Robinson were hostesses to the ladies of the Hughes district.

A contest pertaining to a bride's trousseau conducted by Mrs. Joe Hart opened the afternoon's entertainment. It ended in a tie, an elimination contest ensued which proved Mrs. George Rossberk and Mrs. Ray Williams to be the prize winners.

The contest was followed by a delicious lunch served by the hostesses.

The guests of honor were then presented with gifts in gaily decorated shopping bags. Assisting them in opening the gifts and reading the many good wishes were Mrs. Walter Walker and Mrs. H. Anderson. The brides made nice thank you speeches expressing appreciation for the lovely gifts and good wishes.

There were twenty ladies in attendance.

STAGETTE NOTES

A short business session was held before Mary took over the Handicraft period. It was decided to spend this meeting fixing up the new members' names on the Stagette banner. Thanks, Mary.

It was also decided that the girls each start making two articles on their own for Handicrafts.

Next meeting to be a business session.

A food parcel was sent to the Maidstone Street school in London last week through C.A.R.E.

Ministerial Association Meets

COMPOSITE ROLL OF CHURCH MEMBERS SUGGESTED

The members of the Vermilion Ministerial association met at the home of Mr. Berg on the morning of Nov. 9th at 10.30 o'clock. At the invitation of the meeting, Mr. Magnus, who was visiting Mr. Berg at the time, very readily consented to sit in with the others who were present. Mr. Magnus at the request of the President, opened the meeting with a prayer.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read by the Secretary and accepted, Mr. Berg gave a report on the recent Bible Society canvass. It appeared that close to $175 had already been subscribed, and it was felt that the $200 mark might be reached in the end. Mr. Berg suggested that Mr. Hoover be requested to send a letter of commendation to each of the groups who had canvassed so well.

The part the ministers would take in the Armistice Service on Nov. 11 came up for discussion. Mr. Berg was sorry that he would be in another part of the province on that day. Mr. Stewart assured us that so far as the music was concerned the Band had everything under control.

Mr. Stewart suggested that at some time in the future a composite roll of church members in the town of Vermilion should be compiled so that one might be able to tell more easily who were the folks with no church affiliation at all.

Mr. Rodkie then gave a very thoughtful and worthwhile paper on the subject of "Preaching — Is it the best method of fulfilling our task?" The conclusion Mr. Rodkie came to was that the answer to this question was undoubtedly Yes, but that we should constantly recollect our dependence upon the Holy Spirit. A free discussion on the subject was engaged in by all those present and many interesting points were raised.

On the motion of Mr. Berg the meeting adjourned.

Keep that date right up to date.

Letters to the Editor

Nov. 16th, 1948

Editor, Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

In an advertisement carried in this week's Standard attention is called to the fact that the Annual meeting of the electors and ratepayers of the Vermilion School Division for Subdivision No. 4 is to be held at Woodvale school on Thursday Dec. 2nd at 2.00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Since the formation of the School Division these meetings have been held in Vermilion and they have never been well attended. The meeting place is being changed in the hope that a week day meeting nearer the centre of the Subdivision will result in more interest being shown and a larger attendance.

We shall welcome your attendance at this meeting. Buildings are standing idle which may be used elsewhere and perhaps your school is one of them. Please attend and discuss the future use of these buildings.

Thanking you for publication of this letter.

Yours truly,
D. C. McGrath, trustee,

Ven. W. Leversedge Dies in Edmonton

The Venerable Walter Leversedge, D.D., Archdeacon of the Diocese of Edmonton, beloved Rector of St. Saviour's Parish, Vermilion, from 1936 to 1947, died in Edmonton this Thursday morning November 25th. Funeral services will be held in Edmonton on Monday afternoon November 29th.

Vermilion Fair Livestock Sale Dec. 4th

The sale of purebred beef cattle and a number of purebred hogs will take place at the pavilion of the Vermilion school of agriculture on Saturday, Dec. 4th. Auctioneers Don E. Ball and W. J. Durno will conduct the sale and it is expected that a large number of buyers will be present as the sale presents an excellent opportunity for breeders to augment their present herds with outstanding individual animals.

Every effort has been made to see that only quality livestock is placed in auction and with the exception of a few excellent cows all stock offered will be young stuff which would be of value to anyone desiring to inject new and worthwhile blood into the herd.

Such well-known breeders as the Cross Bros., Homer Campbell, W. L. Robinson, H. Kisiak, C. Townsend, E. M. Clements, W. J. and E. S. Plaxton, J. G. Creech, P. & E. Churchward, the McGreevey Estate, Ivar Larson, Jack Perkins and others are offering the select listings and all roads will lead to Vermilion on Dec. 4th for the sale which begins at 1:00 o'clock, with placing of animals starting at 10:00 a.m.

The Sale is sponsored by the Vermilion Agricultural society.

600 Attend Re-union At Agricultural School

The Alumni re-union and annual fall dance at the Vermilion school of agriculture Friday evening was attended by over 600 persons setting an all-time record for this event. Former students began arriving in the forenoon and then throughout the afternoon and evening the largest gathering of the Alumni ever to attend a re-union assembled to see the school again and to renew acquaintances.

Last year's graduating class turned out in largest numbers but many other classes back to 1922 were well represented. Some travelled by bus and chartered bus but the majority arrived by automobile from Athabasca, Westlock, Fort Saskatchewan, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Killam, Provost, Chauvin and numerous other points some considerable distance from Vermilion.

The highlight of the evening's program occurred when the Alumni grouped together in the gymnasium to sing the V.S.A. song and give the school yell under the leadership of D. C. Folk. With school spirit at its highest, Henry Ryben, popular pianist of Class '47 was recruited from the dance floor to take over at the piano for the next few numbers.

PEE-WEE HOCKEY LGE. AGAIN THIS WINTER

SPONSORED BY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION — MIDGETS NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN

Pee-Wee hockey will continue to flourish this winter if plans made at the meeting called by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association are carried out. The V.A.A.A. sponsored the Pee-Wee hockey last winter in an effort to relieve the Elks of some of the weight of their service work. The league was very successful and was wound up by a big supper party at which the trophies were presented.

Need Help from Coaches

It is planned to have the four-team Pee-Wee league operate again this season providing the necessary time at the arena can be arranged. The pressing need is two at least, and preferably three men to coach and manage each of the four teams. Anyone willing to help out should contact Reg Mitchell, president of the V.A.A.A., Stan Waldenberger or Bill Sutherland. Each team has one game and one practise session each week.

Saturday Morning Session

For some years past there has been an hour set aside for the little fellows to practise on Saturday morning. The weakness of this for the past year or two has been lack of anyone able to supervise at that time. It is hoped that this year someone can be induced to take charge for the morning session, whether or not he coaches one of the teams.

[illegible] Needed

Everyone is anxious to see plenty of hockey for the youngsters of all ages. If you can spare an hour or two each week to do a little coaching or supervising offer your services to the V.A.A.A.

An effort will be made this season to see that the Midgets get some attention. These are the boys who graduate each year from Pee-Wee ranks and are left to shift for themselves. Efforts will be made to see that they get regular hockey sessions and proper coaching. It is a big job and the help of everyone with any knowledge of hockey at all, or organizing ability, would be deeply appreciated by the Association.

V.A.A.A. Busy Organization

During the past two years at least, the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association has been a very active organization. It has underway a new athletic park which will come into use possibly next spring and which will be complete with first class diamonds for baseball and fastball. Since the [illegible] year the Association has held a hockey tournament, a baseball tournament, engaged a swimming pool supervisor and instructor for the summer months and generally supported any athletic movements for the youth of the town.

Outdoor Rinks

It was revealed at the meeting that there will be two outdoor rinks this winter. Principal Frank Walker stated that there will be one on the public school grounds and that work has already started on it. It was [illegible] from a former year. He was asking that the flooding be done by the firemen or the town but otherwise stated that the rink would be well looked after.

The second outdoor rink it is hoped will be a co-operative effort between the town and V.A.A.A. and will be flooded in the [illegible] park. Some arrangements will be made for keeping it cleared of snow.

FATHER-SON AGREEMENTS

All business partnerships have definite agreements yet very few farmers have set up a partnership contract with their sons. Such an agreement will give the sons a better understanding of their position and very likely will also give them more incentive to take on their rightful responsibilities. Get a copy of such an agreement from your D.A.

BULL NOSE IN PIGS

This disease also known as Rhinitis is an infectious disease of swine. Pigs affected from Bull Nose grow slowly and do very poorly. The old herd should be replaced by disease free stock. The pens should be thoroughly disinfected. It is reported that infected pigs do much better on wet instead of the usual dry feed.

SEED PRICES

The Alberta Seed Growers' Co-op [illegible] prices for Registered seed this year. It appears that there is more pure seed available in Alberta than ever before. It is a [illegible] that a lot of field inspected [illegible] will never be sealed in sacks as registered seed. This all means that farmers needing a change of seed can get it locally without the expense of freight and processing. Plenty of farmers in this district would profit from getting some pure seed again.

BANG'S DISEASE

At the request of [illegible] arrangements have been made to bring [illegible] heifers in the Vermilion [illegible] for Bang's Disease [illegible]. Dr. Alexander of Lloydminster will be on hand to do the work. The date selected is Dec. [illegible]. Anyone interested should see me as the date might be changed. [illegible] could very well follow this example and get cheaper rates for the [illegible].

LIVE STOCK SALE

Do not forget the pure bred stock sale at Vermilion Dec. 4th. Even if you do not intend to buy, come around anyway. Stockmen can always learn something of value by taking in these [illegible].

SCHOOL LUNCHES

In this land of plenty many school children do not have the right kind of lunch to maintain their good health. Why not organize for a hot lunch at school? Get a circular on Lunch Boxes and Hot School Lunches from your D.A.

COUNTRY ORGANIZATIONS WILL AID NEEDY BRITONS

THREE-WEEK APPEAL UNDER WAY BY U. E. F. B.

The United Emergency Fund for Britain launched a three-week appeal for funds to aid needy Britons on Nov. 14th, continuing until Dec. 5th, according to an announcement made at the executive offices in Toronto. UEFB has established its nation-wide organization and now has chairmen in every Province with local committees in many cities and towns across Canada.

After months of extensive effort devoted to setting up its provincial administrative bodies, machinery for the co-ordination of all Canadian aid to Britain will start functioning immediately upon completion of the fund raising campaign. UEFB enjoys the co-operation and approval for this movement of a large number of the leaders in government, religion, education, industry, finance, labor, and social and welfare groups in Canada and the United Kingdom.

Plans and objectives of UEFB as outlined, include an overall voluntary aid to Britain program. Donations to the fund will be used to make bulk purchases of food and other supplies in Canada which will be shipped to UEFB warehouses in Britain for general distribution under the direct supervision of the organization's advisory council. The ocean shipping charges will be absorbed by the British government, who will also provide free dockage handling, inland transportation and warehousing in the United Kingdom. All such gift supplies will be exempt from customs and excise duties, materially reducing costs and producing more relief for every dollar contributed.

UEFB will also forward, without cost, parcels packed by organizations in Canada for approved recipients in Britain if delivered at UEFB warehouses in collective shipments. Standardized UEFB packages, in various sizes and prices, containing selected foodstuffs for deficient diets, are being prepared and will be available shortly. Arrangements are being completed to handle donations of used clothing, bedding, and similar items, also without cost to the sender, early in the coming year.

Masons Visit Lashburn For Investiture

A pleasant evening was enjoyed by 14 members of Vermilion Lodge No. 24 A.F. & A.M. on Nov. 11th when they journeyed to Lashburn for a fraternal visit and to invest Worshipful brother John Ridington with his Past Masters apron. This is the highest honor that can be conferred by a local lodge on any brother. In this case the presentation and appropriate remarks were made by the present Worshipful Master of Vermilion Lodge who paid glowing tribute to the recipient mentioning the high regard which is held for John Ridington. John in his remarks expressed his thanks, simply and with feeling saying to the Lashburn members "Gentlemen, these are a few of my friends from Vermilion."

Short talks were given by some of the Vermilion Brethren during the lunch hour following.

Thieves Ransack Bob Bell House in Calgary

MAKE OFF WITH BRENDA'S PIGGY BANK

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bell of Calgary, former Vermilion residents was entered through a bedroom window last Thursday and the house thoroughly ransacked. All the thieves got was Brenda's little bank and 25c that had been left on a table to pay the newspaper boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bell and Brenda were out for the evening, visiting at the home of Bob's sister Charlotte. They arrived home about 9 p.m. and found the house had been given a detailed going over. Apparently the thieves wanted money and nothing else.

Mr. Barney Klashinsky has recently sold his entire farm holdings in the Vermilion district with the exception of one quarter section to Mike Kochan a young farmer from the Cummings district. Mr. and Mrs. Klashinsky will make their home in Vermilion in future.

The deal included the old Buxton estate property which Mr Klashinsky purchased shortly after he came into the district from Saskatchewan some 25 years ago.

Islay District Locals

Little Barbara Golby is recovering nicely from severe cuts on arm and thumb which necessitated 7 stitches. A fall down the cellar steps caused the painful injury.

Raymond Coombe and wife motored down from the city over the week end spending the time with the former's mother. During his stay Ray slaughtered and took back his winter's meat supply, a choice baby beef.

On Tuesday last Mrs Nellie Coombe spent the day with her mother Mrs. W Gould. Grandmother Gould is in fairly good health and able to be up for the greater part of the day. God willing she will celebrate her 96th birthday on Dec 30th.

It's a real joy to motor over the nice dry roads this fall. The grand weather and absence of moisture has made it easy to get about.

The Islay Students Union have made a nice sum towards the repairing of the rink. Their ambition is to have a Pee-Wee hockey team.

The writer noticed a huge bird a few days ago with a very large wing spread resembling an eagle.

The writer was given a slip from a blossoming Poinsettia some weeks ago. Surprising to say the slip took root and now bears a Poinsettia flower of its own. It is said that very rarely a Poinsettia plant bears flowers until the Xmas season, which reminds one that this blessed season is near and soon we shall hear again this refrain:

"There's a song in the air
There's a star in the sky
There's a mother's deep prayer
And a baby's low cry
And the star rains its fire
While the beautiful sing
For the manger of Bethlehem
cradles a King."

FINAL PLEBISCITE RETURNS— Final figures from the Vermilion constituency were received by the Alberta government last week and the complete vote on the power plebiscite taken last summer in the province shows that 139,991 voters favor private ownership with 139,840 showing preference for public ownership. This gives a very slim majority of 151 for the continuation of the present system of the generation and distribution of electrical energy. Vermilion constituency figures were 2284 for public ownership and 1722 for private enterprise.

VERMILION LIVESTOCK AREA

The greatest concentration of livestock population on the farms of central Alberta is in the Red Deer, Stettler, Camrose crop district, according to a study of details of the June survey released by the provincial department of extension. It topped 400,000 head. Next in order comes the area east of Edmonton embracing the Willingdon, Vermilion and Viking railway lines to the border, with 322,000. The Edmonton district has 288,000 within a 40-mile radius. Also above 200,000 in the Westlock-Athabasca district. The Peace River country has 135,000 head of stock.

LOVELY WEATHER CONTINUES

Perfect fall weather has continued since last publication. Temperatures varied from a low point of 5 above on Nov. 21st to the high for the week of 44 on Nov. 22nd (Monday). 1.2 inches of snow fell Thursday morning after which the skies cleared and the sun shone brightly.

Blood Donors Doubled

The President and Executive of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society wish to thank most sincerely all those who contributed in any way to the success of the recent blood clinic. 200 blood donations were received, almost doubling the number on the occasion of the last visit of the blood clinic in April.

Local Branch Canadian Club Is Approved

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Club is now eligible to receive memberships of $2.50 per couple or $1.50 single person. These memberships may be paid to the secretary-treasurer Mrs. Cumming or left at the Bank of Commerce.

Due to the application being received so late in the year, some little difficulty has been experienced in securing a speaker for the first meeting as all of the speakers have complete schedules. It is hoped that arrangements will be completed within the next day or two and that the club will hold its first meeting late in November or the early part of December.

The Canadian Club is open to both ladies and men.

BOOK WEEK

A farmer friend informs us that because this is Book Week he intends to start a small library for his son aged 10, who was beginning to take an interest in books. I reminded my friend of the 5 great books, the usual foundation upon which most English boys years ago were brought up, namely The Bible, The Book of Common Prayer, Shakespeare, Robinson Crusoe, The Vicar of Wakefield, Don Quixote, and the Novels of Charles Dickens. After a good lifetime of reading I still think these are the greatest works. Anyone reading and rereading these books would become an educated and thinking person, would have a full knowledge of the spiritual, humanistic and social aspects of life, in addition would learn much about human nature and [illegible] something about the underlying principles of agriculture and of money and finance. Indeed there is one book "Robinson Crusoe" which itself deals with the principles of all three important features of human life. To start a boy with a library of good books such as these would be a [illegible] thing for a father to do for his son, for it would have a healthy and enduring effect on the whole of the boy's life. Later on, naturally there are other great works the lad would be led to add to his shelves.

Bowtell Bulletin

Mrs Firth, Gale and Kay of Marshall visited for 4 days recently with the former's sister Mrs. F Robinson and brother Ken Kay.

Congratulations and all good wishes are extended to the newlyweds Mr and Mrs. R. Arnold. A shower was held at the home of Mrs T Sherwood in honor of the bride. Among those present were Mrs. L. Playne, Mrs F Playne, Mrs. J. Millar, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. Rochford, Mrs. Gillies, Mrs Dowser and Lila, Mrs Burt, Mrs Williams. Following the serving of lunch the presents were carried in by four wee tots, Frances Sherwood, Larry Playne, Keith Burt and Kenny Gunn. The bride thanked everyone in a very befitting manner for the nice gifts and kind wishes. To close an enjoyable afternoon Lila played the piano and the ladies joined in a sing song, closing with the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow".

Mr and Mrs Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs H Semeniuk and Miss A. Coutts went to Myrnam recently to attend the wedding of Mr and Mrs. Iakiuw.

The congregation at Pleasant Valley on Sunday numbered 27. Baby Richardson was christened. Weather permitting the Rev. T. W. Teape will hold another service here Nov 28th.

The Busy Bee meeting was held at the home of Mrs Williams. The writer unfortunately could not attend, so will give added details of the meeting next bulletin. Owing to the resignation of the president Mrs. Hardie was elected to fill that office.

Mr and Mrs. Perkins are now settled in their new home and Mrs Perkins intends to entertain the Busy Bees in December.

The fine skating on Lippert's Lake is being enjoyed by large numbers.

Mr and Mrs Knutson and Harold were Sunday visitors at the writer's home.

We wish to extend deepest sympathy to the families of the late Mrs Baker and Mr Wolters in their bereavements.

Josie Warawa is helping out at the Gannon home for a month.

A card party was held at the school Wednesday evening. Mr Millar was M.C. Prizes went to Mrs Davies, Daddy Woodruff, Cecil Gannon and Mrs J Seminiuk.

Harold Knutson was a recent visitor to Edmonton.

Allan Coutts was a visitor for the week end at the Sherwood home.

Quite a number from this district enjoyed the dance at Allendale on Friday evening. It was certainly [illegible] to hear Mr and Mrs Burt play again. Mrs Burt received a presentation of a lovely birthday cake.

Jim and Robert Repp plan to leave soon for the [illegible] to [illegible] stay.

Don't forget the dance at Bowtell Nov 26th folks. A good time to all assured.

Clandonald Newlyweds To Live at Leduc

McCAFFERTY—GOAD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Columbus church, Clandonald, on Monday Oct. 18th when Izola Shirley Goad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Goad of Clandonald, became the bride of Patrick Joseph McCafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCafferty, also of Clandonald. The Rev. Father McPhee officiated.

The bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white rayon sheer, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline outlined with sequins and metallic embroidery, a cummerbund type midriff, a softly flared skirt, and full sleeves with domed cuffs. She wore a finger-tip length bridal veil of rayon net topped with a bridal wreath of dainty orange blossoms and buds. A double strand of pearls and pearl earrings added to her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of red roses and a missal.

The bridesmaid, Miss Elsie Kolodziejzyk wore a floor-length gown of pink organdie and a sweetheart veil.

Mr. Clifford Goad, brother of the bride, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents during the afternoon, and a wedding dance held in the Columbus hall that night. The Clandonald orchestra played for the dance and as their opening number played "I Love You Truly".

The bride and groom left Tuesday morning for a short honeymoon and have now taken up residence at Leduc where the groom is employed by General Petroleums.

Bridal Showers

A lovely bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs. Molineux on Saturday Oct. 9th where a bride-elect Miss Izola Goad, received many lovely gifts and best wishes from her friends. A very tasty lunch was served by the Landonville ladies.

On Thursday, Oct. 14th Miss Izola Goad, bride-elect of October, was guest of honor at a shower held at the Kolodziejzyk home in Clandonald. The bride-to-be received many useful gifts and the best wishes of everyone present. Games were played and a jolly time was enjoyed by all. The party broke up shortly before the lights went out. The happy young couple Izola and Pat journeyed home for the second time with a car full of gifts.

ALLANDALE NOTES

What a wonderful fall and everyone seems to be enjoying it, practically no snow and all above zero weather to date.

Orley Omness had a very successful trip north hunting. It has been years since he had gone with the team and wagon. It was the shortest time away too, 11 days. Crossed on the river both ways via ferry, this has never happened before.

Mr and Mrs Baldock, the Omnesses and Miss MacGregor attended the opening dance at the college. It was grand to see so many people really enjoying themselves. Thanks to the college staff.

Allandale dance in aid of the Xmas fund was very well attended.

It will be nice to have the skating rink in operation.

Mrs Baldock reports a very delightful holiday in Hamilton and nearby cities. She visited relatives in Regina also on her way home.

Orley Omness underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday morning Nov. 22nd in the Islay hospital and was doing nicely at time of writing.

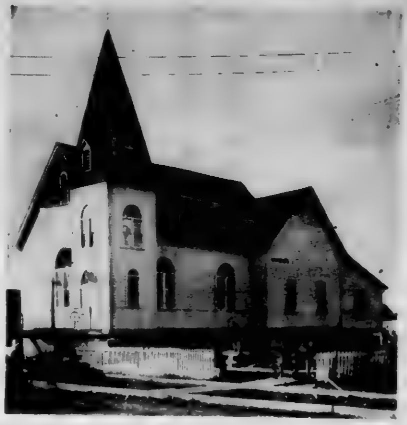
United Church To Re-open Sunday, Nov. 28th



A project of some interest in the community now nears completion. The First United church building which now stands upon a new foundation enclosing a full-sized basement and which has been newly decorated inside, will be used for worship services this coming Sunday Nov. 28th.

Several parts of the work have yet to be finished up, but members of the congregation are happy that the place has been reached where it is possible to return to the church for worship.

Please note that the primary department of the Sunday school will meet in the primary room at the high school as during the past few weeks but junior and senior departments as well as the church congregation will meet in the church.

The church building measuring 42 by 71 feet, built at three different times in as many sections, estimated to weigh 70 tons was raised up 4 feet then moved over 6[illegible] feet to the new foundation and basement. The church is 30 feet high at the peak and the steeple is 42 feet high.

Bill Pettigrew, local carpenter and contractor who had never tackled a moving job before in his life, was in charge of the project, ably assisted by Ray Barnette, and by Engineer Youngston of the Canadian Utilities. Motive power for moving was supplied by two big winch trucks of the W.B. Mix Construction Company.

First Aid Hints for Miscellaneous Injuries

FOREIGN BODY IN THE EAR CHANNEL

If an insect is in the ear channel fill the ear with olive oil, when the insect will float and may be removed. Otherwise make no attempt to treat a patient with a foreign body in the ear but take him to a doctor as soon as possible; attempts to remove the foreign body may lead to fatal consequences. If a child cannot be induced to keep the fingers from the ear, tie his hands down to prevent his pushing the foreign body further. Never syringe or probe the ear.

FOREIGN BODY IN THE NOSE

Instruct the patient to breathe through the mouth. Do not interfere with the foreign body, but take him to a doctor at once.

FOREIGN BODY IN THE STOMACH

Pins, and other small, sharp objects may be accidentally swallowed. Give nothing by the mouth but take the patient to a doctor at once. Smooth objects such as coins or buttons need not cause alarm.

FROST BITE

Wind and constricted clothing will make the tissues freeze more readily. Moisture on the skin, and air heavily laden with moisture, will make the tissues freeze more readily, that is — the tissues will stand a much lower temperature in dry air than in moist air, before freezing takes place.

TREATMENT 1. Slow thawing. 2. No rubbing. 3. No moisture. 4. No snow.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Nov. 24, 1932

Thirty-eight sheep have been killed at various farms close to town by town dogs. A clean up is being made of them.

Vermilion district had two winners at the Toronto Royal, the Shorthorn Bull Dominator owned by the school of agriculture took all the honors in his class and Golden Hero owned by W. L. Robinson was second for yearling bulls.

P. G. Pilkie was elected president of the Old Timers, Bill Sherwood vice-president and Charlie Robinson, sec.-treasurer

Skating started at the arena Monday.

Alberta Association of Municipal districts rejected the provincial government's enlarged municipality plan at their convention.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Nov. 22, 1916

Very fine weather with 16 above the coldest for this week.

The tax levy for the town of Vermilion for 1916 was Municipal $13,509.22, School $10,50.77 for a total of $24,438.99

Elevators at Vermilion, Islay and Kitscoty are plugged due to a shortage of grain cars. The condition is general.

Elk Point Building Permits Exceed $100,000.

Building permits issued in Elk Point to the end of October of this year have exceeded $100,000 according to information released here by Alfred Hall, secretary of the village. This is well over the record total for last year. One of the biggest projects has been the construction of a modern bank building by the Dominion Bank, estimated to have cost over $30,000. It is expected that the Branch will move from its present premises leased from Kost Pawlyk to the new building early in the new year. A modern theatre and dance hall has been constructed by Steve Andrishak and forms an attractive addition to the business places of the town. Other permits issued have been, for residences Kost Kostchl, Dr A. Wiegerinck, Walter Windish, Frank Miller, Chas Carlson, Mrs Helen Kovach, Anton Billy, Edward Scott, Clarence Merrick, David Ross, Jim Davis, John Hobden. Mike Habiak and Nick Bochon, garage and implement show room. Mike Zarowny, basement, Frank Miller, basement; Great West Distributors, warehouse and tanks; British American Oil Co., warehouse and tanks, E. V. Martin radio shop and house. The Village of Elk Point has built a fire hall and town office on main street of town as well. Indications point to an even larger amount of building in 1949 as materials become more readily available.

Chatsworth Chatter

At time of writing these notes we are enjoying most wonderful weather balmy air sunshine blue skies with Monday, 22nd particularly nice. There is only a light scattering of snow around in sheltered places. The light rain some ten days ago has caused freezing of the top soil, but this frost has not penetrated deeper than the surface.

Roads are in good condition throughout the district.

Lakes and sloughs are ideal for skating as we have had no snow to roughen the ice. Young folks have been enjoying a few get-togethers.

It is reported that there is to be a skating rink at the Ottawa school this winter. A meeting was held recently and details of the project were discussed, with everyone very enthusiastic about this community enterprise.

Mr and Mrs Jim Panter, Dickie and Debbie were visitors to Edmonton last week end.

There is to be a bazaar and party at the Ottawa school on Dec. 3rd.

The November meeting of the Chatsworth Country club was held at the writer's home on Thursday 18th with 13 members and 3 visitors present. The membership of the club now numbers 20. Roll call was answered by "An idea for a home-made Xmas gift" many interesting and novel ideas being presented. After a short business session, the articles donated for the bazaar were sold. A wonderful assortment was soon disposed of at bargain prices. The nickle draw was won by a new member, Mrs. Leo Klschinsky and the name drawn as the sender of the overseas parcel was Mrs. S Sturt, donations to the parcel numbering 18 items. At the conclusion of the meeting, a guessing contest "What is it?" was staged by Mrs. Jim Thompson and Mrs H Good, Mrs. Patterson being the winner of this prize a dish of home made candy. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. M. Tuvell's on Dec. 9th (please note change of date from the 3rd Thursday of month to 2nd Thursday for Dec only). Following the contest lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Burns Mrs. J Thompson, Mrs. H Good. We were very pleased to have as visitors Mrs. D. Harrison, Mrs S. Moses and Mrs. Robson, and hope they will come again.

Ben Pich is now driving a Ford V8 sedan.

Miss Fulton and the schoolchildren are busy preparing for the Xmas concert. It seems hard to believe that Xmas is just a little more than four weeks away.

Bill Waterfield is home after resting a while in the Lamont hospital. His many friends hope he will be hale and hearty soon.

Tuesday a very pretty wedding was solemnized in Knox United church, when Florence Treaman was united in marriage to Lorne Axley. Rev. Geo. Driver was the officiating minister.

A farewell evening in honor of Mr and Mrs Einar Anderson who are leaving Islay for Vancouver was held in the hall Monday night. They were presented with mementos.

Mrs Purves is home after having holidayed with Sheila near Wetaskiwin.

Mr. Tom White left Tuesday morning for B.C. for the winter.

Many of us were shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Frank Baker. Our sympathy is extended to the two daughters Mrs. Corydon Brown and Mrs. W. Matheson.

Patronize the good time planned in the hall Friday night, Nov. 19th by the school.

Ford's lumber and hardware is now undergoing alterations; a new foundation is being put under the building. Laird Kearns, manager for the past three years, has given up that position and is leaving soon for a job with the Regent Drilling in Edmonton.

A crew is building an annex to the A.P. elevator. The fine fall has allowed much outside work to be done.

Death and Funeral of Riverton Pioneer, Peter Holmen

An old timer in the Riverton district, Peter Holmen, passed away in Elk Point hospital on Friday, Nov 12. Born near Lillehammer, Norway on January 21st, 1869 he came to Wisconsin with his parents who settled in the Westby district of that State in 1877. In 1906 after having farmed for several years in Wisconsin and Minnesota, Mr. Holmen, who shortly before had married Oline Eakenbus, moved to Vermilion with all his belongings, including machinery and livestock. He went in search of a homestead which he found in the Riverton district. He built a house in Vermilion where he spent the first winter. In the spring of 1907 Mr Holmen built a log house and barn on his homestead and during the summer he put up some hay and broke a few acres of land. He also spent the second winter in Vermilion as by now his wife had given birth to a son. In the spring of 1908 he sold his house in town and moved with his family to the homestead which, along with several other quarters of land, he and his son and daughter have developed into one of the most prosperous farms in the Riverton district, and where he lived till his demise.

After his wife's death in 1920 Mr Holmen himself took over the household duties as well until his daughter then only ten years, grew old enough to be of some help.

In all his 80 years Mr. Holmen enjoyed exceptionally good health. He was always a hard worker and a wise manager of his farm. Last summer, however, his health rapidly deteriorated as he developed cancer which caused his death.

Those of us who had the privilege of knowing Mr Holmen could not but admire the greatness of his character, the wisdom of his counsel, the sympathetic attitude toward his fellow men, his calmness in prosperity and his patient resignation in adversity. Of him it can truly be said that "he did unto others as he wanted others to do unto him".

He is survived by one son, William, of Riverton one daughter Helen (Mrs B. Timanson) also of Riverton and 6 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Nov. 15th in Riverton school with Rev Brase of the Lutheran church in Lloydminster officiating. Interment was at the Greenlawn cemetery. Pall bearers were Messrs N Timanson, F. Maddox, D Matheson, C Haskell, Sr., Sol Kast and L. Green.

Opening of Christmas Seal Sale

SENT TO 190,000 HOMES

Last week about 190,000 homes in Alberta received $90 of the 1948 Christmas Seals, gaily colored little messengers of good will and good health, each one of them a soldier in the battle against tuberculosis.

Last year 67,000 Albertans contributed $116,000 during the Seal sale and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association hopes this year to receive contributions from at least 70,000 individuals, for a total of $125,000 or more.

Money raised through Christmas Seals help to finance the chest X-ray surveys, tuberculin testing and X-raying of hospital patients, vocational training and rehabilitation of ex-sanatorium patients, health education and many other forms of anti-tuberculosis measures.

In Edmonton and Northern Alberta the Seal sale is sponsored by the Kinsmen club and the objective for the district is $53,000. Contributions may be sent to Christmas Seal Office, Heintzman Hall, Edmonton, and receipts will be sent on request for income tax deductions.

Letters to the Editor

CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY

Edmonton, Nov 6 1948

Mrs Olive R Smith
Treas Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E.
Dear Mrs Smith:

Will you kindly express the sincere thanks of the Northern Alberta Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society to the members of the Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. for their splendid co-operation and assistance in our 1948 campaign.

The total amount raised by your organization is $504.56 which is most gratifying. You will probably have read in the press that the Cancer Society have purchased for the University hospital two highly technical instruments to be used in Cancer Research. This is the only hospital in Canada to be equipped with these machines and I'm sure it is a source of satisfaction to know that your your efforts have contributed largely to this achievement.

We trust that we may count on you for support in any future campaigns.

Yours sincerely
E. F. McGarvey,

"Let's Chat Awhile"

On the road to Edmonton the other day, we came across a red-lettered sign which had on it the word, "DETOUR".

One word, but it meant a great deal. It told us that we couldn't get by that way, and we would have to go around. We couldn't disregard the warning without the grave risk of accident. The one word sign did something else—it showed us the safe way. We took it!

Isn't it a pity that people fail to read the "Detour" signs of life?

A mother and a father spend much energy in warning their children of the dangers of life, sometimes they listen and are guided, often they are not, and with a wilful heart they break through God's "Detour Signs" often to the loss of their soul.

Hitler and Mussolini chose to ignore the detour signs—they lost all. Russia, and Stalin seem to be determined to do the same thing—they too—shall not escape! It is a fixed law of the universe, all that disobey the detour signs of God shall pay the price; they shall pay the price in health of body, peace of mind, damnation of soul. This law works just as well on Englishmen, Jews, Africans, Canadians, or any other nationality.

I have in mind a very nice couple who were very much in love. They were engaged to be married. There are some things that even engaged couples should not indulge in. God has put up a big Detour sign. But this couple chose to ignore it. It was not until years after they were married that they reaped the consequences.

A rather nice young fellow became acquainted with the couple and visited their home often. Soon however, the husband began to sit by himself by the radio, and an increasingly sullen expression appeared upon his face. He became nasty to his wife, and viewed the visiting friend with suspicion. Was there something wrong with the friend and his wife — No! Well, what was the trouble? He couldn't forget that his wife had at one time been willing to ignore the 'Detour' sign, and he was tormented with the thought that if she had ignored it once she may well ignore it again—for someone else! It wrecked their marriage. Detour, you can't get by! Oh, that more notice would be taken of God's detour signs.

Can you see the detour signs of life, or do you go blundering on to learn the hard way?

God's law, the Ten Commandments, are the detour signs of life. Obey them, and you will not only be saved from a thousand pitfalls, but you will be able to lead others to safety.

Happy and wise is the man who early in life has learned that Salvation by faith in Christ gives us spiritual eyesight to see the signs clearly, and wisdom to know that all sin brings forth misery and separation from God. Contented and sensible is the man who understands the sign: Detour—you can't get by.

The community joins with the writer in extending our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. Brown on the loss of their dear mother Mrs. Frank Baker. Her passing leaves a wide gap hard to breach, her cheerful disposition was an inspiration to every one who met her. The Tolland schoolchildren lose a teacher they all loved. May God be with the bereaved daughters in their hour of sorrow.

Congrats even if a bit late to Mr. and Mrs. John Toner and to Mr. and Mrs. Angus Anderson for a long and happily married life.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teasdale of Union on the birth of a baby son; Also to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Alexander of Battleview on the birth of a son; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kennedy of Willoughby on the birth of a daughter.

On Thursday last Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller, who have spent the past six weeks visiting in Wildmere, left on their return to Vancouver. They were accompanied by Billie Smith going out to visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith. They were to visit Alex Smith and family in Edmonton, then go on to Billie's sister Mr. Chas. Morand and family in Calgary. They then travel by bus to Vancouver. May they not forget their many friends in Wildmere.

Here is an item we forgot to add to our W.I. news last week: Mrs. Garnett Sr. and Mrs. Bob Martin were chosen delegates from Wildmere to pay a call on the Vermilion town council concerning a better rest room for country folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garnett of Dasswood visited on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hobbs of Woodvale.

In a recent letter from Mrs. Smith of Vancouver she said Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kyben and boys had been to see them. Mrs. Kyben has not been feeling very well and is under doctor's care. May you soon be your old self again Jenny.

The curling rink is at last taking shape. It's a big project for so few to undertake — where there's a will there's a way!

Storage of Tools and Materials

In a recent radio talk on The Alberta Farm and Home Forum program, B. T. Stephanson, Dept. of Agricultural Engineering, University of Alberta, mentioned some of the advantages of orderly arrangement in the storage of tools.

He suggested that the tools be arranged on tool boards or in tool cabinets, by hanging them on hooks or racks. The open tool boards are easy to make and silhouettes of the tools painted on the boards will prevent mistakes about where each tool belongs. The silhouette also makes it easier to check on all tools. The cabinet type of storage is sometimes preferred, particularly for the more expensive tools. More protection from dust and dirt is afforded and the cabinet can be locked if desired. In arranging for sharp edged tools, hang them so there is no danger of their falling or dulling the edges.

Mr. Stephanson also had something to say about storing materials and supplies. Small supplies can be kept in bins or drawer cabinets. Bins for bolts or washers are not difficult to make. Small screws and fittings can be kept in glass jars, and arranged in order on the shelves. Small amounts of lumber can be stored on racks built along the walls of the shop. In some shops, overhead storage is also possible. If this is the case, a convenient and safe ladder should be provided. Stocks of iron bars can be stored best by standing them on end in a specially built rack about 7 feet high and 3 to 5 feet.

Alberta Farm and Home Forum sponsored by the Faculty of Agriculture, University of Alberta and the Alberta Department of Agriculture is heard on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 8.15 p.m. from radio stations CKUA and CJCJ.

At the end of 1947 the Canadian National Railways had a total of 2,570 locomotives including 24 electric and 75 diesel electrics. The C.N.R. pioneered in the use of diesel-electric motive power in Canada as far back as 1926. In 1948 two multiple unit diesel-electric locomotives, the largest and most powerful of their kind ever bought for service in Canada, began hauling freight between Montreal and Toronto.

STAGETTE NOTES

A good business meeting was held and a lively discussion followed about our goal in handicrafts this term. Will hear more about this right after the new year.

If any of the girls wish to purchase a Cranbrook Stagette club recipe book please contact Molly. Remember they would make grand Xmas gifts especially for a "bachelor" girl and we'll also be helping the Cranbrook club scholarship project for the Banff School of Fine Arts.

Next meeting will be handicrafts so girls remember to dig out your gloves. Yes folks, we're at it again and Mary has high hopes of us finishing them. The new members can bring one of their articles to work on.

We're discussing the all important event for December—our Holly Frolic, so you'll be hearing more about it regularly.

We considered making holly corsages this year but due to the difficulty in securing holly we decided against it.

'TEEN TOWN

The regular meeting of the Vermilion Teen Agers was held Thursday evening at the home of John Currah. Final arrangements were made for the dance on Nov. 30th.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Phyllis Westman.

APPRECIATION

The Teen Agers wish to thank the Canadian Legion for calling off their Gay Nineties dance on Tuesday Nov. 30th in favor of the Teen Agers dance which is to be held on that date.

Appreciation

Due to an oversight the generous contribution of Mr. W. P. Pilkie and son Billy, in connection with the Armistice Day services was not mentioned, and the members of the Canadian Legion express their regret at this omission. Mr. Pilkie and son have always been extremely kind in donating the use of their theatre for this service. What many people do not realize is that a meeting of the nature of the Remembrance Day service calls for considerable extra work to make the necessary changes, and this year Billie Pilkie and Tom Conboy worked with W.P. a long time to get the theatre ready. It was an oversight that should not have occurred.

CLANDONALD

St. Mary's W.A., Clandonald, will hold their annual bazaar on Saturday Dec. 4th commencing at 2:30 p.m. Sale of home cooking, farm produce, fancy work, sewing etc. Tea will be served. Any donations will be much appreciated. 26-7

Holy Name Church Is Scene of Beautiful Wedding Ceremony

CUSACK—LOCKWOOD

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized at the Holy Name church, Vermilion, on October 27th at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, when Violet Louise Lockwood, eldest daughter of Mrs. J. Cummings of Cochrane, Alta., became the bride of John Owen Cusack, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cusack of Clandonald. The Rev Father Gorman of Lloydminster officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr John Owen Cusack, was dressed in a lovely gown of white rayon satin, with a long veil and headdress to match. The bridesmaid Mrs. B. Specht wore a light pink gown and the maid-of-honor Miss Dorothy Cudd was in an aqua blue gown, both carried bouquets of gold mums. The flower girl Anne Schurman, becomingly dressed in yellow, carried a dainty basket of white daisies. Miss Winnifred and Miss Kathleen Convey were the train bearers and wore blue dresses with gold sequins.

Mr Norman Cusack acted as best man and Mr Sidney Cusack was usher.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for Clandonald where a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The groom's mother chose for the occasion a mauve dress and wore a white carnation.

Following a few days at Clandonald the happy young couple returned and took up residence in Vermilion.

WEDDING BELLS

FERGUSON—TOVELL

At a candle-light ceremony in the Metropolitan United church, Edmonton on Nov. 12th Margaret Isabel, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Morton Tovell, of Vermilion, became the bride of Howard Connelly Ferguson of Edmonton son of Mrs. Charles Ferguson of Vancouver and Mr Ferguson of Vermilion.

The Rev R. M. Thompson of Edmonton performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor length gown of white satin, with lily point sleeves and sweetheart neckline trimmed with lace held in place with pearls. Her full-length embroidered veil was caught into a coronet of baby mums. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby mums. Her only jewelry was a wrist watch, a gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Mrs. G. Hutchinson and Mrs. A. Anderson both of Vermilion, as matrons of honor. Mrs. Hutchinson wore a floor-length gown of pink net and carried pink carnations and white baby mums. Mrs Anderson wore yellow brocaded nylon and carried pink carnations and white baby 'mums.

The best man was Mr. Alan Ferguson of Edmonton, a cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony about thirty five guests were received at a reception held at the Embassy room.

The bride's table was laid in white linen, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Baby 'mums and white tapers added to the effect.

Rev Thompson proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded.

Leaving later on a wedding trip to Calgary and points south the bride changed to a suit of wine gabardine with brown accessories.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will make their home in Edmonton.

HAYS—BANKS

A quiet wedding took place at the Irma United church on Monday, November 8th at 1 o'clock in the afternoon when Lorna Wynn Banks youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs T. Banks of Vermilion, exchanged marriage vows with Russell Ivan Clarence Hays only son of Mr and Mrs. James W. Hays of Hardisty. The Rev H. W. Inglis officiated.

The bride wore an afternoon frock of royal blue satin with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and pink rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a gold locket a gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister Mrs Andrew Clark who wore an afternoon dress of printed silk with navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr Andrew Clark acted as best man.

Hockey Lge. Rejuvenated

TEAMS FROM LLOYDMINSTER, WAINWRIGHT, VERMILION — VEGREVILLE OUT — ORGANIZATION MEETING SUNDAY.

Developments during the past week indicate that the Eastern Alberta Hockey league, dormant last winter, will be rejuvenated and will operate again this winter.

Lloydminster is keen for league hockey and apparently have a wealth of material. They plan to enter two teams, a senior and a junior outfit. Vermilion is definitely in, while a 4th entry comes from Wainwright. Wainwright backers say that possibilities for a hang-up team are not any too bright, but with the completion of the fine covered rink built as a living war memorial for the use of town and district, everybody is demanding league hockey. The rink is the equal to that of any town in Canada and with the spirit of accomplishment and optimism riding high the former buffalo town will no doubt loe quite a hot contender.

Vegreville is definitely out as far as this league is concerned as players are, according to word received here, at a low ebb there. They have also agreed to compete in a league with Willingdon and Two Hills.

Organization Meeting Sunday

A meeting of representatives of all clubs will be held in Vermilion on Sunday afternoon at 3.30. Officers will be elected, a schedule of league games drawn up, and rules and regulations revised. A. M. Watt of Vermilion is president of the league but will ask to be relieved of that office.

News that the league will again operate is being joyfully acclaimed here. Loydminster teams have always been popular and the new contender Wainwright, is sure of a warm welcome in the other league centres

Vermilion Pioneer Passes Away

Dennis Noonan, aged 81 years, a pioneer farmer of the Turkey Hill district south-east of Vermilion, died suddenly at his home here Wednesday morning Dec. 1st. He had enjoyed good health all of his life and was taken ill only the evening before his death.

The deceased came to Vermilion back in 1907 and commenced farming south-east of town. He retired from farming a few years ago and moved into Vermilion which has since been the family home. He leaves his widow, 2 sons and 5 daughters to mourn his loss.

Funeral services will be held at the Holy Name church on Saturday Dec. 4th at 10 o'clock in the morning. Interment will take place at the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Islay Church Setting For Lovely Wedding

AXLEY—TESSMAN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Islay United church at 8 p.m. on Tuesday Nov 16th when Miss Florence Ethel Tessman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Tessman of Hindville, became the bride of Mr Lorne Axley of Dewberry. Rev. G. F. Driver of Kitscoty officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearl beads and sequins, long sleeves and bustle. Her full length embroidered veil was held in place by a bridal coronet. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and fern. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, gift of the groom.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Irene Shattuck of Kitscoty, carried pink and white carnations and fern, and wore a floor-length gown of pale blue taffeta, featuring baby puff sleeves sweetheart neckline and large bow on bodice at the back. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a blue net headdress.

The groom was supported by Mr Donald Braithwaite of Dewberry.

During the signing of the register Miss Maureen Gilpin sang "I Love You Truly", accompanied by Miss Lila Fowner at the organ.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, the young couple left for the home of the bride where a wedding supper was served to some forty guests. The bride's table was laid in ecru linen centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Wedding bells and streamers added to the effect.

A wedding dance in Islay hall was well attended by a large circle of friends.

The happy couple will make their home at the groom's farm at Dewberry.

Vermilion Student Receives Governor-General's Medal

Miss Joyce Hodgson of the Vermilion Intermediate school, was notified last week that she had won the Governor-General's medal. This award is given every year to the student obtaining the highest standing in the Vermilion school division for the Gr. 9 June departmental examinations.

Next Friday afternoon a presentation of the medal, and of a $25 scholarship given by the Vermilion Elks, will be made to Miss Hodgson at the high school where she is enrolled in the Commercial department.

Her achievement is all the more outstanding as the first 5 years of her school life was taken by correspondence under the supervision of her mother. The family at that time was living in the country.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hodgson. The family moved into Vermilion during the war while Mr. Hodgson was with the active service forces in the Navy. He is now employed at the Vermilion school of agriculture.

V.S.A. Student Receives Board of Trade Scholarship

GUEST AT LUNCHEON

Stuart Church of Camrose 2nd year student at the V.S.A., was guest of honor at a recent luncheon meeting of the Board of Trade at which gathering he was presented with a medal and a $50 scholarship. Stuart won this award by virtue of making the greatest contribution to the social, academic and athletic life of the school during the 1947-48 term, during which time he was a first year student.

This award is made annually by the Vermilion Board of Trade. The winning student was introduced by N.N. Bentley, principal of the V.S.A. and the presentation was made by Melvin Hill, president of the Board, who complimented Church on his achievement. Mr. Church expressed his appreciation and stated that in his opinion the Board was doing a very good thing in providing this incentive for the students every year.

FARMING METHODS

Landonville Farmers Seek Protection, Preservation of Deer

CO-OPERATION OF EVERYONE REQUIRED — BECOMING PLENTIFUL IN AREA.

Landonville farmers are seeking to protect and preserve the wild deer which are becoming plentiful in that area. Deer are seen frequently and as many as ten of the gentle and beautiful creatures have been observed in one bunch. Farmers in the district claim that if unmolested for a few years the deer would be a common sight in a wide stretch of territory. An appeal is made to everyone to co-operate to protect and save the deer.

Men seeking to preserve the animals have agreed to take all possible measures for the speedy apprehension of deer killers. Game wardens will be notified and supplied with all possible clues. The game warden from Vermilion will make numerous trips through the territory and is ready to take special trips if necessary to aid the co-operative effort to the utmost.

NO OPEN SEASON—HEAVY FINE

There is no open season for deer south of the North Saskatchewan river. The maximum penalty for shooting one is heavy, a $200 fine or 3 months imprisonment.

In addition to Mr. Urquhart, Vermilion delegates were Ashley H. Cooper and Melvin Hill.

Death and Funeral of Ven. W. Leversedge

A link with pioneer missionary work in the province was severed Thursday with the death of Ven. Walter Leversedge, 67, archdeacon of Edmonton North, for many years a resident of Edmonton and Vermilion.

He came to Alberta first in 1906 to do missionary work among the settlers. He served the railway builders of the line to Jasper and travelled regularly on foot and horseback, the area from Edmonton to Jasper and between the Saskatchewan River and the Pembina. At Wabamun he had his first home in Alberta and welcomed there his bride from England.

Archdeacon Leversedge began his missionary work as a Church Army officer in England. After coming to Canada he was ordained by Rt. Rev. Cyprian Pinkham, Bishop of Calgary, and served in the parishes of Brooks and Bassano.

After the formation of the diocese of Edmonton, he returned here to the churches at Colchester and Tofield. He moved to the Pacific coast for several years because of health reasons and then came back to Alberta. He was successively in charge of St. Mark's, St. Paul's, Good Shepherd, St. Mary's, St. Michael's, St. Saviour's at Vermilion and finally back to his early parish at Wabamun.

In 1925 he was made canon of St. Aidan. He became rural dean of Vermilion the next year and in 1930 became archdeacon of Edmonton North. He was domestic chaplain to the bishop's of diocese and also examining chaplain for candidates for holy orders. In recognition of his outstanding service to the church, the degree of Doctor of Divinity (honoris causa) was bestowed on him in 1944 from St. John's College, Winnipeg.

He is survived by his wife, his daughter Lilian; his son, Fred, at Vermilion and a brother, Jack, in Vancouver. There are two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at All Saints' Cathedral. The Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Bishop of Edmonton, officiated, assisted by the Dean, the Very Rev. A. M. Trendell, and Archdeacon the Ven. A. F. Tackaberry and interment took place in the Edmonton cemetery. Honorary pallbearers were Hon. Mr. Justice F. Ford, Chancellor of the Diocese, Rev. Canons J. C. Matthews, C.F.A. Clough, A. Wallis and Rev. A. Elliott. The active pallbearers were: Rev. Canon W. M. Nainby, Revs. W. E. Harrison, T.W. Teape, W. T. Elkin, C.E.F. Wolff and R.S. Faulks. A very large number of beautiful floral tributes, including many from Vermilion, were received.

WILDMERE WINKS

Another of Wildmere's bachelors gave up his single blessedness last Wednesday, Nov. 24th when Lloyd Howard took as his bride Gladys Coburn of Battleview. They were married at the bride's home by the United Church minister from Wainwright. Later the happy couple left on a short honeymoon to Edmonton and other points south. Mr. Harry Howard of Edmonton attended his son's wedding, as did Lloyd's youngest brother Victor. We all wish them many years of happiness in their married life. They will live on the groom's farm in Wildmere. A wedding dance will be held in Wildmere school on Friday Dec. 3rd, and for the newlyweds a shower will be held as well. Come one—Come all—but please leave your "booze" at home.

Mr. Evans Castin who has bought the Riley farm in Wildmere has returned to his family home in England for the winter. He expects to be back in March.

Mr. H. Howard paid us a short visit while in the district. We are sorry to hear that Billie Steel is not very well again. J. Wallington was a visitor to Punnichy last week. We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Macnab of Cummings is a patient in the hospital, a speedy recovery is wished her; also to Mr. Proctor of Hindville who recently underwent an operation; The writer spent a pleasant day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Graham recently; We were pleased to meet Mrs. Hobbis and Mrs. Yarwood in town Saturday. In a recent letter from Mrs. R. York of Goose Lake she says she does enjoy reading the Standard every week, she is teaching again this year.

Rev. Mr. Teape thinks that the weather is too cold now to hold any more services this fall. We will be looking forward to seeing him in the spring.

There are only a few restrictions on the entry of Canadian gift parcels into the United Kingdom. They must contain only bona fide unsolicited gifts and must be marked as gifts. The contents are subject to customs and/or purchase tax, but for the present gift food parcels are admitted without customs charge, provided they contain foodstuffs only and no other goods.

Canadian postal regulations limit the gross weight to 20lb. (not 22lb.), when parcels are forwarded by parcel post.

Equatorial Fruit Grown by Bill English

Bill English has been successful in growing a large sized lime, together with one a little smaller, both from the same plant. Bill purchased the plant a year ago last March and the lime started to grow that fall. It was placed outside for two months this summer and the finishing touches to the growth took place inside the house. The full grown fruit is a very fine specimen.

THE WEATHER

The first cool day of the present winter season was Saturday morning Nov. 27 when the temperature slipped down to 8 below. Sunday morning went a little lower when 10 below was recorded. The only other low reading was Tuesday morning with 9 below. High for the week was 24 above on Thursday Dec. 2nd. The sub-zero readings have been in the dead of night and the days have been bright and enjoyable.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

As I have just returned from the Social Credit convention which was held in Edmonton on Nov. 23-26, I feel it will be of interest to many readers to hear about some of the highlights of this gathering. I mention highlights because it would be impossible to give a detailed report in the space allotted to me.

The Convention, which was the 14th since the Alberta Social Credit League was formed, was one of the largest, most enthusiastic, enlightened and well conducted in the history of the organization and those responsible for the program and carrying out of same deserve great credit. Many resolutions dealing with local, provincial and federal matters were discussed and voted on by the delegates who took their work very seriously and seemed to have a good grasp of the serious condition in which the whole world is today.

Women's, Youth Organizations

The first day of the convention was taken up dealing with the work of the Women's and Youth organization. As a result of the deliberations the ladies are starting out to accomplish their biggest and best year's work and the young people also formed an organization which was long overdue. The officers elected to head both these organizations are full of enthusiasm and optimism and with the co-operation and help of the rank and file great things can be expected during the coming year.

Applications for Membership

Registration of delegates to the main convention commenced early on the 24th and in a short time the preliminaries were disposed of and the delegates settled down to hear reports of the officers of the organization. During discussion of the President's report, which dealt, in part, with the refusal of officers of the League to accept applications for membership from certain individuals whose conduct demanded some attention over a considerable period, delegates were almost unanimous in their decision to adopt the President's report and later in the day backed up this decision by adopting a resolution from the Alexandra constituency dealing with qualifications of M.L.A.s. The afternoon was mainly devoted to discussion of resolutions on various subjects and in the evening a banquet was held at the Macdonald hotel at which about 400 attended. All the newly-elected members were seated at the head table in adition to Hon. Solon Low, National Leader, Premier E. C. Manning and Mrs. Manning, Hon. C. E. Gerhart, main speaker of the evening, the officers of the association and others.

Travel Picture of Conference

In his one hour address which was entertaining and very informative Mr. Gerhart gave a travel picture account of his trip to the Empire Parliamentary Association Conference which was held in London. Conference delegates were divided into three groups and taken to different parts, Mr. Gerhart's group going to Belgium and Holland. He dealt with conditions in these two countries and England and left no doubt in the minds of his [illegible] about the fortunate position held by Canada in comparison with countries he visited.

How Can We Enlarge Beachhead?

Thursday forenoon was again taken up mainly with the [illegible] of resolutions and was concluded [illegible] address by Mr. Low "How can we enlarge the Beachhead?" Mr. Low was also a delegate to the Empire Parliamentary Conference and afterward was a member of a group that [illegible] Germany. As he is very well [illegible] on world affairs and one of the most observant persons you can meet, he was in a very good position to take full advantage of the trip and gave us an account of it that brought home to all the delegates a realization of the seriousness of conditions that exist. Several accounts were given of individual buildings here and there being almost undamaged in cities that were reduced to rubble, accounts of munition factories being torn down and then suddenly an order coming through to cease operations, one of the big banks was interested in a Krupp factory. Further accounts of war factories being torn down in Germany and removed to Yugo Slavia behind the iron curtain. When he asked why he was informed "They helped us win the war didn't they?"

Friday afternoon, was taken up with resolutions, an address by Hon. David Ure, minister of agriculture, election of officers that resulted in the whole slate being re-elected, some unfinished business and the closing address by Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson.

Address of Premier Manning

In the evening a public meeting was held in the Masonic Temple at which Premier Manning was main speaker. In the first part of his address he made comparisons between the three western provinces pointing out that Alberta had no sales tax while B.C. and Saskatchewan have. That Alberta has not borrowed a cent for running expenses since the Social Credit government was elected and that our province has retained its wartime surpluses and added to them by good administration. He later went on to discuss the clash between "Godless Materialism" and "Christian Democracy" and stated that there was no room for the two ideologies to live together in our land. If the strife that now exists cannot be settled it may end in military terms.

Every day hundreds of customers may be in and out of the bank which serves you.

Yet you know nothing about their transactions, they know nothing about yours.

You may be depositing or borrowing. The amount may be a dollar, or thousands. That's your business . . . nobody else's.

You take for granted this private, personal relationship between you and your bank.

All banks see to it that your transactions—and those of about 7,000,000 other Canadians—are kept safe from prying eyes.

"GREEN ACRES"

SOD BOUND BROME

It is common knowledge that Brome grass gives poor yields of hay or grass after three years from seeding. Fields can be renovated by plow or one-way in the early spring when the soil is wet. A better way to maintain field and prevent the "Sodbound" condition is to seed about 3 pounds of Alfalfa per acre with the Brome seed.

TANK HEATERS

Nearly all cattlemen have water heaters in the stock watering troughs nowadays. In the old days we broke the ice on slough or creek but in this modern age it is conceded that stock having to swallow pieces of ice in getting a drink are not going to take as much water as their good health requires and besides, the cold water chills the animal thoroughly.

FROZEN CREAM

From now on a lot of frozen cream is likely to come in to creameries. Frozen cream is placed in second grade as it produces mealy butter. Cream should be kept cool but not frozen. Also, warm and cold cream or milk should not be mixed. Cool the warm product first.

HEAVY DUTY OILS

Great care should be used in changing over from ordinary to a heavy duty (detergent) oil, according to E.B. Martin, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture Engineer. Anyone figuring on making this change ought to get a circular on the subject from this office.

LIVE STOCK LOANS

This fall quite a few farmers hesitated to start feeding cattle for the spring market on account of the uncertainty of market. But is is true every year and there is no good reason to think that stock prices will go down. The Vermilion and District Livestock Association is ready to make loans for buying feeders. See Robinson & Mitchell for particulars.

APPROVED POULTRY FLOCKS

This week I got a list of the Approved poultry flocks in Alberta. There are about 300 farmers in Alberta raising flocks approved for selling eggs to hatcheries but only six farmers in my district are listed. Once again I must say that poultry raising is proving to be a profitable side line on grain farms. If farmers at Wetaskiwin and Camrose find producing eggs and dressed poultry to be profitable I think I can recommend the business to people in this district.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Dec. 1st, 1932

A delegation from Vermilion, to Vegreville and all intermediate points waited upon Premier Brownlee, Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works and Hon. R. G. Reid requesting that the provincial highway be kept open this winter. W.C. Pullyblank was the Vermilion representative on the delegation. The delegates were informed that owing to the financial stringency prevailing no extension of the road plowing policy was planned this winter.

Over $9000 of the 1932 taxes remain unpaid in Vermilion, creating quite a problem regarding municipal financing.

Wm. Steele was elected president of the Vermilion agricultural society and Miss Nell Long secretary. S. C. Heckbert was added to the board of managers.

A chinook prevails and snow is disappearing fast under the balmy breeze.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Nov. 28, 1916

Mrs. T. A. Marris and family have arrived safely in England.

Andrew Wilson has sold his farm located 4½ miles south of town, to Hugh McIntosh of the Ethelwyn district who will move on to it in the spring.

Ladies' fur coats of dark muskrat were selling for $65 and $75 at the local stores.

The Canadian National Railways is the largest single employer of labor in Canada.

Partridges Make News

On Armistice morning John Porter was startled by a crash of glass at his kitchen window and turned quickly to see a somewhat dazed bush partridge flying away from a shattered pane of glass in the storm window. The bird had hit the outer window and broken out practically the complete pane. The episode to follow is the peculiar part of the story — a few days later the partridge, or one of its brethren, again struck the window. The storm window pane had not been repaired and this time the partridge ended up right in the kitchen. Apparently the bird had heard of those well known lines "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

A SECOND JACK MINER

A peculiar incident of interest to nature lovers occurred Sunday morning when Doug Cooper was out in the yard of his west end home. He spotted a partridge at the edge of the bush some 60 yards distant. Without much thought he clucked to the bird whereupon apparently recognizing the [illegible] friendly one the partridge actually ran quickly to him ending up right at his feet. Then as if surprised at its own temerity, the pretty little fellow retreated a few steps, looked the situation over and reassured by the inspection flew up into a spruce tree and stayed around the grounds for several hours where it was viewed by several west-enders who could approach practically close enough to touch it.

Bush partridges are not an uncommon sight around the yards in this vicinity, but rarely have they ever been as friendly as this little fellow.

Canada's Department of External Affairs was created in 1909. Our first full Minister to Washington was appointed in 1927.

Ethelwyn News

It appears as if winter has arrived at last with a good 6 inches of snow in this locality.

Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Etherington motored to Edmonton where the men attended a seed growers banquet. This week Jack Grant and Harold Cooper motored to the city.

A whist drive was held in the Rye school Nov. 20. 5 tables were played. Prizes went to the following: Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Grant Jr., Mrs. Law, Jack Grant Jr., Donald McClellan [illegible]

The sincere sympathy of the district is extended to Mrs. Bert Elliott whose mother Mrs. Shumacher died last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant Jr., Mr. Cooper and Joy, Joan Law, Sidney and Donald Attfield attended the Y.S.A. dance on Nov. 19. It was a grand party and everyone had a lovely time. It is to be regretted that more of our young people do not attend the Y.S.A. Most of the students seem to come from a distance.

Another successful dance was held in the Rye school Friday Nov. 26th with proceeds in aid of the Xmas tree fund. The Mulgrew boys supplied the music.

The writer is quite sure that everyone enjoys the articles by Tall Oak, also the thoughts for today as expressed by the Allandale scribe.

Vegreville Division Sells Old School Buildings

PURCHASED BY VERMILION DISTRICT FARMERS

During the evening hours of last Friday's meeting of the Divisional Board, Divisional trustees, under the chairmanship of Mr S. Hinton, were joined by members of the Board of New Vegreville S.D. under Chairman Glynn. Tr. Cole of the Division and Tr. Pidruchney of the Town board were absent on a trip to Toronto. The purpose of the joint meeting was the discussion of a proposal for the Town School District to join the Division.

At the invitation of both Boards, Mr. H. E. Balfour, Director of Administration for the Dept. of Education, was present at the meeting. He reported to the Boards that 60% of Village Districts and 50% of Town Districts in the Province are now incorporated as units of School Divisions.

The Division had previously submitted to the Town the financial terms of a proposal to amalgamate and this together with the matter of increased facilities and mutual benefits, was fully discussed. Mr Balfour's wide experience in this field was of great benefit to the Boards in their discussion. The Boards did not complete an agreement at this meeting but at their invitation Mr Balfour will draft and submit copies to both Boards of a proposed agreement along the lines of the discussion, for further consideration.

During the day hours of the meeting, the Divisional Board dealt with a great many items of Division business. Minutes, auditor's report, report of department inspector were read and adopted.

Correspondence and accounts were dealt with and direction given on all items. Building reports showed progress on the Mannville school building with possible completion by Feb. 1st.

The Board made a grant of $50 to the local S.D. Trustees' Assoc and authorized subsistance and mileage for attendance of district delegates to the Association Convention on Dec [illegible].

The Division had advertised tenders for the sale of a number of unused school district properties. A large number of tenders were received and the highest bid was accepted in each case with the following sales being approved:

Eden Vale: lightning rods, J. R. Eyben, $25; School building, George Eyben $525, Coal shed, Chris Bradshaw $25.

Witham: school, J. Willis, $100, Barn, M. W. Cooper, $163; Coal shed, J. A. Knutsland, $55, East toilet, Hinton Bros $7.50, West toilet, M Kenzie, $5.25.

Saltaux: Barn, Arthur Phoeney $276.

Birch Creek: Barn, Emmett McLaughlin, $125.

Warwick, old school: W. Malarski, $110.

Chairman Hinton is leaving on a holiday trip to his old home in England and was granted three months' leave of absence from his duties on the Board.

The Board adjourned to meet again on Dec 17th. —Vegreville Observer

Red Bobs Losing Out

Alberta wheat producers can make up their minds that Red Bobs is going to be degraded. From 1951 on that variety will not get a better grade than three northern.

The Board of Grain Commissioners maintains that Red Bobs has not the quality and its production should be discouraged. Thatcher, Saunders and Redman wheat are expected to take the place of Red Bobs, although there is a decided insufficient supply of the latter two varieties.

STAGETTE NOTES

It's nice to see the old Club room practically bulging with members and everybody as busy as bees. Handicraft was the main object and of course Xmas is only 17 shopping days away, may be another good reason.

Our annual Christmas party had considerable discussion and it was decided that Monday Dec. 20th be set aside which suited most members. It is hoped that Dorothy Polk hasn't a class that particular night (after all Dorothy, Xmas means a lot to everybody).

We will again hold our annual Xmas Frolic folks keep watching the Standard for further particulars.

We gather at the home of Dot McCormick on the South Side next week for the night of education.

P. and Bill Jr. are members with the former having 34 years and Bill 27 years in the business. A very fine entertainment was enjoyed at this function. Hockey League Is Re-organized

OPENING GAME DECEMBER 15 —ED. GERRISH OF LLOYDMINSTER NEW PRESIDENT.

The Eastern Alberta hockey league has been re-organized and the opening games will be played on Wednesday next, Dec. 15th when the Lloydminster Huskies are hosts to the Wainwright entry, and the Lloydminster Meteors play the Vermilion Tigers here.

Re-organization of the league was carried out at an enthusiastic meeting here Sunday with representatives from both the Lloydminster teams, the new Wainwright team and Vermilion in attendance. A nine weeks' schedule during which each team will play 18 games, 9 at home and 9 away, was drawn up. The games will be played Wednesday and Saturday nights. The play-offs will follow the completion of the regular schedule.

SANDY WATT RETIRES

Retiring president Sandy Watt was in the chair and suggested that as Vermilion had been the former headquarters of the league in the past it was only fair that the chief executives be elected from one of the other towns in the league, and he suggested Lloydminster. The idea was adopted and the following officers then elected:

Hon. Pres.—A. M. Watt, Vermilion
Pres.—Ed. Gerrish, Lloydminster
Sec.-Treasurer — Wilf Mastermann, Lloydminster
Executive—Art Shortell, representing Lloydminster Huskies; Gerry Mills and Bob Bellward representing Lloydminster Meteors; Ken Tory and S. H. Ryan representing Wainwright; Russell Carroll and Tom Stack, Vermilion.

A. M. West was present and offered the Craig Cup to the league for annual competition. The president Mr. Gerrish accepted the offer with thanks and A. M. Watt, S. H. Ryan and J. H. Meanwell were appointed cup trustees.

LEAGUE ENTRIES

Entries to the league were accepted from the Lloydminster Huskies, Lloydminster Meteors, the Vermilion Tigers and Wainwright. This is the first time that Wainwright has participated in a league on this line. They have recently completed a modern covered rink as a war memorial in the south town and the fans there are now demanding league hockey.

The story was the same from the three towns represented at the meeting. The fans want league hockey and there is no mistaking that fact, and a great season is confidently anticipated.

Lloydminster with a wealth of material will be two teams, the Huskies of former years, and a new young team called the Meteors sponsored by Skinner Motors. Vermilion will have their Tigers as of yore, and it appears that for the first time there will be keen competition for the various steady positions on the team. Wainwright admit that their entry as far as quality is concerned is an unknown factor, but there is plenty of spirit prevalent and they will probably have a real contender.

The following attended the meeting representing the various teams indicated: Ed Gerrich, Art Shortell, Jack Meanwell, Joe Schmitz, Art Shaquist and Wilf Materman, the Lloydminster Huskies; Gerry Mills, Bob Bellward and Marv Foster, the Lloydminster Meteors; Ken Tory and S. H. Ryan, Wainwright; A. M. Watt, Russel Carroll, Tom Stack, Bill Crabb, Doug Brimacombe, Vermilion. Also present were Roy Jory, A. M. West, and Ashley Cooper, H. R. Parker, and Wally Guy representing various news gathering agencies.

A very hearty vote of thanks was moved to the retiring president and secretary Sandy Watt and Russell Carroll for their untiring efforts on behalf of the league in the past.

INTRODUCING NEW PRESIDENT

The new president, Mr. Ed Gerrich, is vice-principal of the high school in the booming town of Lloydminster. He is intensely interested in hockey and has the ability, knowledge and enthusiasm to make a very worthy successor to Sandy Watt. It is safe to predict a very well run and successful league under the leadership of President Gerrish.

In the meantime attend the opening game at Vermilion on Wednesday evening Dec. 15, Lloydminster Meteors vs. Vermilion Tigers.

Jas. D. Adam Re-elected To School Div. Board

Jas. D. Adam was re-elected to the Vermilion school division board as trustee for subdivision No. 6. This is the town of Vermilion subdivision. Mr Adam has already served 2 years on the board. The election was by acclamation at the annual meeting held last Friday evening.

In a motion of thanks to Mr. Adam it was pointed out that this was possibly the most difficult of the municipal offices for a business man to fill. The meetings were usually two day sessions held Friday and Saturday and during the past year Mr Adam had attended no less than 15½ days at meetings, besides putting in additional half days as a member of the teacher evaluating committee and salary negotiating committee. The year just past too had been a heavy one involving the construction of a new school in town and the installation of water works in the public school. All this involved considerable extra demands on time in addition to the regular educational problems confronting the board. Thus the personal sacrifice was much in excess of that of any other municipal position.

Mr. Don Taylor was chairman of the meeting and D. R. Mitchell was secretary.

Air Cadet Officials Visit Vermilion

Last Wednesday evening Dec. 1st saw the holding of a special meeting among air cadet officers and officials when 14 sat down to supper in the Brunswick hotel, the local men interested in the air cadet movement entertaining FO Ferguson, Sgt. K. MacLean and Mr Ritson-Bennett. The latter was present by permission of the Canadian Red Cross who have loaned him to the air cadet league for the promotion of safer swimming methods and life saving tactics. It was regretted that more information had not been passed along earlier so that a greater number of the general public could have heard Mr Ritson-Bennett's message. Later at the Legion hall which was loaned for this occasion, he showed some excellent films of the plan in action. He had with him other films showing the photographing of the far north country by the RCAF. This vast land has now been very well covered and a means of a better understanding of that area has been provided.

Sgt MacLean was here to arrange the setting up of a radio unit, to teach the air cadets something of this subject also to tie in the amateur operators or 'ham' stations. Great help was received by him from the local men in charge of our radio range station here.

FO Ferguson is the liaison officer attached for the purpose of instruction and help.

The local Flight is pleased to hear that Kitscoty is making plans to take over their sub-unit and make it into a self-supporting unit. No doubt Vermilion squadron will have need to watch their laurels when this happens as the Kitscoty boys are keen and they can be depended upon to set a fast pace in air cadet work.

VERMILION FAIR LIVESTOCK SALE OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Top Price $660.00

The annual purebred livestock sale of the Vermilion Agricultural society, held at the Provincial school of agriculture on Saturday last, was one of the most outstanding district events ever to be recorded and one of the most noteworthy stock sales held in Western Canada for several years. Some 1200 people, many of them from as far away as Athabasca in the north to Drumheller in the south and from North Battleford in the east to Entwistle in the west, thronged the fine pavilion and the school barns during the day.

Don E. Ball, of Edmonton, assisted by William Jacobs handled the sale to the entire satisfaction of all concerned and was largely instrumental in excellent prices being received for practically every offering. Cattle sold to an average price of $320 including late 1948 calves while 2[illegible] hogs put over the auction block brought a new record price of $106 per head.

TOP PRICES

Top prices for Herefords went to W. J. Flaxton of Wainwright who [illegible] J. C. Wallington of Vermilion, secured a fine cow and calf at $660 and A. Sumner & Son of Consort purchased an A1 bull for $600. Homer Campbell, well known local breeder disposed of a cow and calf for $530 and C. L. Townsend of Mannville obtained $350 for a young bull. J. S. Cross of Vermilion found ready buyers for his entries as did Harry Kisiak, youthful breeder from Clandonald.

SHORTHORNS

Shorthorn high was paid by C. O. Wilson of Vermilion to W. L. Robson, a top of $470 for an open heifer while Hughes Bros. of Vermilion, Wm. McCutcheon of Lavoy and the McGreevy Estate of Kitscoty and P. Churchward of Lloydminster disposed of all their offerings at substantial prices.

ABERDEEN ANGUS

W. P. Cross, breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle which have established a nation-wide reputation for quality and whose stock was first offered did not find ready buyers as did the Herefords and Shorthorns, a choice junior heifer calf from his well known herd was knocked down to W P C Galloway for $275, the breeder making a considerable sacrifice in order to get quality stock into the district.

HIGH AVERAGE FOR HOGS

Only a limited number of selected [illegible] were offered for sale and found ready market at first rate prices. The top hog of the sale owned by P. Churchward of Lloydminster was sold to S. H. Ayers of Hemaruka while one of the Jack Perkins gilts went to K. M. Stone for $1[illegible] of the Dept. of Agriculture offerings S. E. Ayers became the owner of the top at $110. The average price of $106 for hogs [illegible] for the year [illegible]

Presentations Are Made To Medal Winner

Friday afternoon Miss Joyce Hodgson was honored by a special program at the Vermilion high school where she was presented with the Gov.-General's medal as well as the $25 prize given by the Elks Lodge of Vermilion for the creditable achievement on the June Departmental examinations in Gr. 9. Assembling in the Gr. 12 classroom, the students and staff received as special guests Joyce's mother Mrs. C. Hodgson, supt. E. C. Miller, Mr. H. Powell Exalted Ruler of the Elks Lodge, Trustees J. Adam and A. H. Cooper, and Secretary J. R. Robson.

Mr. Smeltzer, the chairman, called upon Mr. Miller for the first presentation. After explaining that the medals are given in each of 10 areas of the province to the pupil receiving the highest standing on the Gr. 9 exams Mr. Miller pointed out the keen competition that Joyce had had. Out of the 125 Gr. 9 students in the division eight secured honors standing, 5 of the 8 having attended the Vermilion intermediate school. He also extended congratulations of the Divisional School board to the whole Gr. 9 class in Vermilion and to their teachers for their fine record.

He related the following summary of the winners of this award since the organization of the Division in 1939:

1940—Rebecca Swayne of Waverley. 1941 Robert Lovitt of Dewberry. 1942—Elmer Haskell of Dewberry. 1943 — Jean Robson of Vermilion. 1944—Kurt Enkenhus of North Home. 1945—Margaret Walters of Preston in attendance in Vermilion. 1946—Jack Baumann of Telegraph. 1947 Richard Smyth of Streamstown. 1948—Joyce Hodgson of Vermilion.

Mr. Miller then conveyed the congratulations of the Dept. of Education to Joyce.

Mr. Henry Powell Exalted Ruler of the Vermilion Elks Lodge, next extended the congratulations of his organization to Joyce as he presented her with the $25 prize for having received the highest standing in Gr. 9 in the town of Vermilion.

Much credit is due Joyce particularly when we consider the fact that four years of her early education in the [illegible] district were accomplished through correspondence courses under the supervision of her mother. Then the family moved to Vermilion where Joyce has been able to continue her studies since she entered Gr. 5. At present she is particularly interested in business training and in art. As a result she has begun the very popular three-year course in the commercial department of the local high school.

ETHELWYN NEWS

Mr. Law and son of Drayton Valley spent last week with Mrs. Law and the children. Mr. Law says that big game is very scarce in their section of the north country.

Best wishes for a long and happily married life are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hill (nee Katie Skronkowich). The writer would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Hill and Mr. Skronkowich for the lovely time enjoyed at the wedding reception and dance.

Miss Frances Skronkowich of Edmonton was home for her sister's wedding.

Miss Annie Mulgrew is now working in the hospital at Vermilion.

A whist drive and dance was held in the Rye school Dec. 3. Six tables of whist were played with the following being prize winners: Mrs. [illegible] Gold, Joan Law, Jay Cooper, John Podhaunick, George Carlton and Ernie Attfield.

Thanks to Councillor George Lawrence for having show signs sent out to the Rye school and thanks also to Mr. Currie for putting them up.

Turkey Hen After Laying Record

Turkey hens are not famed for their laying consistency or indeed for laying very much at all. They seem to be content to lay enough eggs for a good hatching, in a nest hidden well away, and then consider their duty well done.

All turkey hens are not like this however. Peter Kruchinsky of Clayemore has one hen which seems to be intent on establishing a turkey laying record. On Nov. 24th she laid her 150th egg this year. What is more, she is still laying. She also hatched out a setting of turkey eggs and but two weeks after she hatched them she was laying again.

Mr. Kruchinsky has a lovely bunch of turkeys and it is not surprising that he has one a little out of the ordinary in the flock.

STAGETTE NOTES

Our last meeting was held at Dorothy Folk's home, thanks to Dot McCormack for making this change possible, and also for part of the delicious lunch which was served after the meeting.

Tickets for the Holly Frolic Dec. 27th are now on sale. It's semi-formal. Plan on having a good time then.

Dorothy Folk's music class deserves much credit. A full evening of musical entertainment was provided by her students. They all did very well and we want to take this opportunity to thank the girls, as we didn't have a chance to do so in person. We do know a lot more about Christmas carols and also about Christmas.

Thanks to Mrs. Folk and Dorothy we had a very enjoyable evening.

Girls don't throw away those names yet. The gift limit is $1.

Check room: Saturday Dorothy Gatehouse, Lucy English. Clean-up: Betty and Doris Giles, Marg Gervin.

E. H. Costin who recently purchased a half section in the Wildmere district has returned to Bedford, Eng. to visit his parents. He plans to return at the end of March. He sailed on the Empress of France.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE COMMON ENEMY

"Two Opposing Factions Will Unite To Oppose A Common Enemy."

By JOHN ROWLEY

"THAT," said Martha Fordham with all the indignation she could muster, "is the last straw! No husband of mine is going to order me around ... tell me what I can and can't buy ... My own money too!"

Anger made her blue eyes snap and sparkle and the unruly lock of blonde hair which persisted in hanging down in front of her eyes whenever she found her temper boiling over was tossed back with a quick lift of her head.

The object of her anger stood at the small desk in the hallway of their small bungalow, a bill in his hand and grim determination on his face. This time she wouldn't get away with it. He had to put his foot down sometime ... and this was it!

"Twenty dollars," he roared, jutting out his chin, "is too much for any hat! If it was made of silver and garnished with gold it would still be too much. It ruins our budget ... it ..." He groped for a word. "It's outrageous!"

"Outrageous, is it!" Martha snapped. "It's my money and I'll spend it as I like and that's all I have to say to you this morning. I'm leaving for work. I've heard all I want to hear about that hat."

She jammed on the hat and flew out of the door, not forgetting to slam it behind her.

A purple-faced Dick Fordham was left with the bill for the hat clenched in his fist, his anger simmering at a white heat.

"And quite right, too," said a voice from the stairway. "If I was Martha I'd go home to mother!"

The owner of the voice, dressed in sober black with neat white lace collar and cuffs, finished her descent of the stairs and disappeared into the parlour. She was small, slight, with snow-white hair, spectacles which had a tendency to slip off the bridge of her nose, and she carried a paper-covered booklet under one arm.

Her son-in-law gradually recovered if she realized the incongruity of ed from his amazement and wondering her suggestion.

"That's one thing she can't do," he thought grimly. "She can't go home to mother as long as mother lives here."

Finding no outlet for his anger he, too, left for work.

He wore a worried frown that day. Two upsets coming at once were just too much. The trouble he was having with Martha was just routine ... but he couldn't understand what had come over her mother. She was usually on his side. Always before she had been the perfect mother-in-law. Up until the last few days, that was.

"In fact," he thought, "up until she received that correspondence school booklet she's always carrying around. I wonder if that could have anything to do with it."

Both he and Martha had tried to discourage the old lady when she had got the idea of taking a correspondence course in what the advertisement called a "Comprehensive Survey of Caesar's Conquests." But it had been to no avail.

"It's time I was getting an education," the old lady had insisted and had refused to consider any substitute.

"Caesar's Conquests," Dick snorted. "She must be reaching her second childhood."

By closing time he had given up thinking about it in disgust.

Martha was already home when he got there and he could tell by her eyes that all was not forgotten.

"Well," Mr. Dick Fordham," she said. "I hope you've thought things over and are willing to admit that I've a perfect right to spend money I earn any way I see fit."

"But, Martha," Dick expostulated. "Don't you see. We're pooling our resources. Otherwise we would have had to wait to get married. We're trying to keep to a budget and, after all, you got a new hat not so long ago. There were other things we really needed."

Mrs. Adams had been sitting by the window in the parlour, her nose in her book. "Martha is right as always," she broke in. "And if I was her I'd leave you until you realize that she has some rights."

Both Dick and Martha stopped their bickering and looked at her in amazement. This was so unlike the gentle old lady.

"Martha should spend all her money on herself," she continued calmly. "Go to a nightclub, my dear. That's the quickest way I know. That nice Herb Johnson who used to take you out would be glad to go with you. That would teach that husband of yours a lesson."

"Moth-er!" Martha's scandalized tones spoke her amazement. "What are you suggesting? I wouldn't think of such a thing!"

"You've a perfect right to spend your money," Mrs. Adams insisted. "Don't let him tell you what to do. [illegible]."

Dick, nonplussed for once, kept [illegible].

"I'm only trying to help," Mrs. Adams said self-righteously. "I don't want my daughter tied to a stingy old ..."

"Moth-er!" Martha snapped. Don't talk that way about Dick. He's not stingy."

Unconsciously the two young people had drawn closer together to oppose this unexpected onslaught on their happiness.

"I'm sorry," Martha said to her husband, "about the whole thing. You were right." Dick put a protective arm around her while she turned worried eyes on her mother.

"I don't understand what's come over you, Mother," she said. "It almost looks as though you wanted to break up my marriage. I don't see how you can say the things you've said."

With the two of them together the fierce protective expression left Mrs. Adams' face and was replaced by the humorous twinkle they all knew so well.

"The results haven't been so bad," she pointed out.

Martha sat up suddenly, her tears forgotten, and stared at her mother, a look of comprehension slowly diffusing her features. She looked from her mother to Dick and back.

"You did it on purpose," she gasped. "You knew we would make up. How ... why ..."

Mrs. Adams rocked gently and smiled her satisfaction. "Of course," she admitted calmly. "The result of my first lesson. If it worked for Caesar it would work for me! I'm well satisfied with the course, something useful almost on the first page. I'll read it to you."

She read aloud, a frown on her forehead as she formed the words: "In the face of danger it has often been found that two opposing factions will unite to oppose a common enemy."

"Caesar believed that implicitly," she informed them. "It says so here. He conquered the Gauls, you know."

Western Canada's Biggest Turkey Flock Being Fattened For Christmas Season

By A. H. CLARKE
Written Specially for Central Press Canadian

DRUMHELLER, Alta. — Mrs. Ben Brown, of Acme, Alberta, is not a bit worried about the "Turkey for Christmas dinner question," for nearly 4,000 of them are at present undergoing fattening in her poultry pens for the year-end market. The birds, corralled in high wire and board fences in four pens, got their start from a normal-sized barnyard flock over 12 years ago.

Each year the flock has increased until this season Mr. and Mrs. Brown hope that their spring breeding stock will include at least a thousand top ranking hens. Gobblers for the flock, in the past few years, have been imported at the rate of 75 from some of the largest turkey farms on the North American continent.

At the moment the best gobblers in the flock are close to 23 pounds in weight and should put on several more pounds within the next few weeks. Attending the birds is a man-sized job in the hands of John Chernon, former Navy man. Rodney Chernon, two years old, although only an inch taller than the birds, follows his dad through the flock nonchalantly, but with keen interest.

Credit for the flock, which is one of the biggest in Western Canada, is given to Mrs. Brown by her husband, who for a number of years ran one of the province's best hog ranches.

So far as the proprietors know they have not lost one turkey to coyotes, but have had most of their difficulty through hail storms, long wet springs and thunder storms. Two ranges of over five acres each are employed to raise the turkeys. Rotating from one pasture to another cuts down the chance of disease taking toll and provides fresh green feed for the flock.

The fluttering of a feather or the dropping of a sparrow from the sky are sufficient distractions to stampede the whole flock of 4,000. In daily light hours the birds will quiet-en down in a few minutes, but at night time once they are off the roosts nervousness holds the birds on the move for a long period.

Water is a 325 gallon a day item to the birds during the present fattening period, with feed going into an ever increasing amount. Present pens provide a roost capable of seating capacity for all birds and at the far side of the corrals a shelter, which is protection against the hot sun, wind and storm. On the range a wide belt of trees are protection against the elements and enemies to the flock.

In conformity with rules laid down by the Provincial Agricultural department, hens used for breeding must be banded, inspected and blood tested. The eggs are shipped to the large hatcheries for incubation. The average hen will lay approximately 30 eggs within the season.

Seventeen brooders, each with a capacity of 250 birds, are required at the Brown farm, each spring to get the young turkeys started. Care in handling, generous range space and good fences keep the number of cripples in the large flock down to a minimum.

Hens and gobblers to be used for spring breeding are kept in the open throughout the winter. This fall a 12-foot wooden fence on the windward side has been erected to give the turkeys extra protection for those periods when the temperature registers below zero.

Gobblers are marketed at live weight. Fifty cents per pound, it is expected, will be this year's price.

DECIMATION OF GAME

Eskimos Move Farther North

THE PAS, Man.—The decimation of game animals in certain parts of Canada is expected to result in the migration of Eskimos from the mainland and lower Arctic islands into uninhabited islands of the upper Arctic or Polar regions.

A. W. F. Banfield, chief mammalogist of the Dominion Wildlife Service at Ottawa, said Eskimos in the eastern Arctic, particularly in the Ungava regions had been hard pressed by the loss of caribou herds on which they lived before white traders arrived.

Mr. Banfield said he had noticed the movement of Eskimos while preparing to make a count of caribou. Recently he saw an estimated 100,000 caribou crossing the railway line on a 10-mile front near Churchill, Man.

He offered the opinion the decline in caribou herds is due not so much to the inroads of civilization or killing by wolves as to the use of repeating rifles by the natives.

There is a movement of Eskimos from Canada's mainland from the Melville Peninsula to [illegible] Island.

It was difficult to explain to the people of northern Manitoba that the abundance of caribou which they see on the biennial migrations is not general in Canada, and that belief in the inexhaustibility of herds had led to their decimation in the eastern Arctic and Alaska regions.

Caribou are reported in numbers on the west shore of Baffin Island, Mr. Banfield said, but there are few on the eastern shore which already is populated by Eskimos.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

I sat by the window watching the trees swaying in the breeze. In the branches of the tree nearest me I saw a solitary bird. He was a clever little fellow. The tree swayed violently to and fro but our feathered friend manipulated his feathered appendage to good advantage and kept his perch through it all. As I watched him I thought—what a lesson in balance. Keeping on even keel through the tempest.

[illegible] in Toronto. In one of the largest banks there is a huge steel door that leads to a treasure vault. [illegible] weighs many tons. Looking at [illegible] one wouldn't expect that it was [illegible] by mechanical means [illegible]. A little child can push it open unaided. Why is this possible? It is possible because the door has fine balance.

What about our individual balance? In the mechanical realm balance is most important. In the human realm balance is even more important. Here is a question to ask yourself: "Are you living a balanced life?"

The question of a balanced life is [illegible] more important than [illegible] people realize. [illegible] people are in a desperate condition. They keep it from their neighbors of course but deep down inside they are like a deer in the [illegible] state wandering seeking [illegible] satisfaction and peace [illegible] out of balance.

Oh, the problems of people. Oh the heartache and sorrow they bear, and the tears they shed mostly caused by not knowing how to live the balanced life or because of sin are [illegible] they had lost their balance.

It is a sad day for the world when people begin to forget God and become preoccupied with so many things. Is it any wonder that [illegible] hospitals are overcrowded [illegible] have to pay thousands [illegible] each year to increase [illegible] and look after those [illegible] inmates when the [illegible] has to a large extent forsaken God who is the source of balance.

When [illegible] out that the [illegible] balance of drinking alcoholic beverages, loose morals, excessive pleasure seeking and every other vice is the natural consequence.

Man is a spiritual being and in order to live happily he must have a right relationship with God—if any man neglects this important side of his nature, no matter what he may say to the contrary, he is not living a properly balanced life.

What man needs today is a renewed sense of balance. Yes, he must have a proper sense of balance or civilization will eventually bring about its own eradication. If civilization is to be delivered from chaos the individual man and woman, girl and boy, must not only keep up with civilization but they must keep up with God. We must follow the teachings of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, in regard to His teaching about our relationship to the Creator of the Universe and to each other.

Out in the west here there is an expression that is often used in describing good judgment. It is "Horse Sense." We can do with more of that fine old commodity, for as someone has quipped, "Horse Sense is [illegible]."

Let us cultivate a more balanced life—a saner mode of living. Let us balance our thinking by giving more time to God and Worship.

The sensible fear of God is still the beginning of Wisdom. Many overlook this truth.

WILDMERE WINKS

Several have attended the skating parties near Ray Osterberg's this last two Sunday afternoons.

The chicken supper at Basswood school put on by the W.W.I. was well attended on Friday evening even if the weather wasn't very good. Several carloads came out from town but when it commenced to blow they had to leave shortly after supper thinking the roads might get heavy. People came from Hindville, Woodvale, Battleview and Brockville. It's a lot of work but also a lot of fun. We have not heard just how much was made at the supper. A dance was held later with J. Wilson and Albert Smith supplying the music. J. Bathe was M.C. We were pleased to have our W.I. member Mrs. Ray Dibben who now lives in Vermilion, with us that evening for a short while. In the turkey raffle sponsored by Mrs. Frank Gibson, Adam Smith Jr. held the winning ticket. That makes Mrs. Gibson holder of top honors in "How I Invested my 25c" as she turned in $17 to the W.I.

George Riley is at present helping Jack Lysons of Tolland.

Earl Graham who has worked the past summer on the flood survey gang in B.C. is at present visiting his children at the Wallington home. We are pleased to say Mrs. Graham at the San in Calgary is now able to be up a few minutes again each day.

Everyone was saddened when the news came that Canon Leversedge had passed away. He was a splendid man and spread good will and cheer wherever he went. Another who helped blaze a religious road through the west has passed on but he leaves memory monuments that will live on forever. We all join in sympathy with his sorrowing wife, daughter and son in their bereavement. His is a life that goes forward with the Cross of Glory held high.

It is a common fallacy that in order to "get along" with other people we should agree with them, accommodate them, and generally conform to their ways.

But the superficial kind of popularity gained by making too many concessions is not desirable. Moreover, people have a lower opinion of the man who stands by his own beliefs and convictions—without being opinionated, narrow-minded or queer. The popularity he enjoys may not be so widespread but, being based on respect, it is much to be preferred.

By the same token, it never pays to act in any way foreign to our real nature. Trying to be someone or something we're not, bluffing, pretending we like something we dislike — these and all other attempts to create misleading impressions put us under a strain. And this, in turn, distorts our personalities in a way that does not win friends and influences nobody.

So never imitate the chameleon or the ostrich. Always be yourself!

GRADING OF RED BOBS WHEAT

STATEMENT BY BOARD OF GRAIN COMMISSIONERS FOR CANADA

On and after August 1st, 1951, Red Spring Wheat of the Red Bobs variety will not be graded higher than No. 3 Manitoba Northern.

The Canada Grain Act provides that for the first three grades of Hard Red Spring wheat the varietal standard of quality shall be "Marquis or any variety equal to Marquis".

In ruling whether a variety is "equal to Marquis" the Board acts on the advice of the Associate Committee on Grain Research. This Committee comprises the leading government and university cereal chemists in Canada, with representatives from the Board, the Department of Agriculture, the National Research Council, the Universities of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and the Canadian milling industry.

By comparison with Marquis, the chief faults of Red Bobs are that it is about 1% lower in protein content, 5% lower in loaf volume, and yields dough that is softer and less elastic. Accordingly, Red Bobs is not as good as Marquis for strengthening mixtures of softer wheats.

In view of these latest findings of the Committee, Canadian farmers will agree that the Board has no option but to issue instructions that, as soon as practicable, Red Bobs will not be graded higher than No. 3 Northern.

This advance notice is given so that growers of Red Bobs may have ample time to decide whether they will continue to grow Red Bobs, and if not, what other variety they will grow in place of Red Bobs. Leading agronomists have agreed that, throughout much of the area in Alberta where Red Bobs is now grown, farmers could [illegible] equal or better yields by growing Thatcher. [illegible] districts Thatcher would be unsatisfactory because it does not mature early enough. A suitable variety for these areas, Saunders, has now been developed, and sufficient supplies should be available for the 1951 seeding. Redman is another new variety which farmers, in many districts, will find satisfactory as a substitute for Red Bobs.

Letters to the Editor

Mrs. E. C. Miller,
Red Cross Branch, Vermilion.

Dear Mrs. Miller:

I should like to express my thanks on behalf of this Service to you and all your helpers who made the Vermilion mobile clinic of Nov 10th such an outstanding success. The organization on this occasion seems to have been excellent, utilizing as it did the Air Cadets, the Stagette Club, the refrigeration facilities of the Co-op. meat shop and all the volunteer help who assisted with refreshments and looked after the rest beds.

Special mention must be made of Dr. King who at a very critical period of the clinic, relieved Dr. Mary Hunter of her onerous duties and so allowed her to have a rest and a break for refreshments.

It is impossible for me to individually write all those who helped but I hope through you, to convey to all concerned my very sincere thanks.

Yours sincerely,
S. E. Greenhill, M.D., D.P.H.

Islay Girl Married At Lloydminster

McLEAN—GANNON

On Nov. 24th at a quiet afternoon ceremony at the manse of the Lloydminster Roman Catholic church, Fr. MacDonell united in marriage Dorothy Kathleen Gannon, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gannon of the Islay district to John Douglas McLean, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McLean of Kitscoty.

For her marriage the bride wore a gray afternoon frock with loganberry accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. She was attended by Mrs. Kathleen Shattuck as matron of honor, and Miss Hatlin as bridesmaid. The former wore a brown dressmaker suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. Miss Hatlin chose a wine dress with gray accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Gannon, the bride's grandmother, was present. She was attired in a navy blue suit with corsage of talisman roses.

Mr. Don McLean and Mr. Herb Moon attended the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate families in the Royal cafe. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gannon chose an afternoon dress of turquoise crepe with black accessories. Mrs McLean was gowned in an afternoon dress of gray crepe.

The young couple are spending their honeymoon at the coast. On their return they will reside in Lloydminster. —Lloydminster Times.

ISLAY

Christmas trees arrived in town this week.

The pie social staged by the Students' Union of Islay school was one grand financial success, thanks to the contributors of pies and to the bidders. Some husbands were not letting another fellow eat his wife's pie—and others were not paying too much for his wife's pie and suddenly let it fall to a pretty high bidder. Well that is the way it goes, and has, for days past, and all good.

Rumor has it that curling will soon be the fun for winter evenings here. We notice smoke coming from the chimney every day at the rink.

Sorry to report that Lyal Anson was hurried in to hospital here Sunday, a case of appendicitis. Also his mother Mrs A. Anson is there having a rest cure. We hope a speedy recovery for both.

Sunday service was conducted by Rev T. W. Teape of Vermilion. We were greatly pleased to have him in our midst again. We are to have him again in the future too. Next Sunday Dec 12th at 2 p.m. Rev. Mr Morrison of Lloydminster will occupy the pulpit and Dec 19th Mrs Batty of Kitscoty with her choir will give the Christmas music. This service will be almost entirely musical. All are invited to attend any or all services at Knox United church.

Miss Mary Burnett was a week end visitor in the city.

Noticed home from Kitscoty for the week end were Dorothy McNeely and Bruce McLennan.

Walter Carlson has moved in to the house recently occupied by Mrs Gannon. Walter is working in the Jim Hepburn garage.

Sol Kohen still is hauling hay home to his farm by town. Looks like a lot of good feed too.

Mr Wm Junk and Mr David Martin attended the livestock sale at the V S A Saturday.

Noticed the Coulton family in to church service Sunday afternoon.

Nice to see Mrs Bill Shaw out doing her own shopping, after being a year in hospital in Edmonton.

Dressed poultry were bought here the past week. Mrs. Tom Torrance brought in a considerable number of "top" turkeys. A splendid showing of choice birds.

Wintertizing Tires

A winterizing process for auto tires that's claimed to reduce winter driving dangers announced by tire and rubber firm is reported by The Financial Post. Process involves use of a twin-roller tractioniser which punches many tiny holes into tire tread. This it is claimed increases traction and gives greater resistance on ice-covered highways.

Salvation Army Home League Meets At Home of "Shut-In"

The meeting of the Salvation Army Home league was held at the home of Mrs. John Millar on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. This particular lady is a shut-in as due to her health she is unable to attend the meetings in the Salvation Army hall. Mrs. Millar very kindly offered her home on this occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Millar both take an interest in the affairs of the Salvation Army.

Adjutant Stewart and the League ladies took along a little cheer to the enjoyment of Mrs. Millar.

The meeting opened in the usual way with 14 members and visitors present. Adj. Stewart led in prayer following which he read a very inspiring reading and lesson from the Book of Psalm. The lesson for the week was read by Mrs. Yarwood. A beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. Art Smith with guitar accompaniment. The lady of the house at these special shut-in meetings is given the choice of her favorite hymn and on this occasion it was Rock of Ages. Mrs. Parkin read a very fine poem entitled "Do Not Judge Too Hard". Everyones favorite chorus was sung accompanied by Adj. Stewart on the guitar and with special mention of Mrs. Millar's pet canary, and what a singer he is.

The meeting was closed with prayer and as a special request from Mrs. Millar everyone joined in the singing of "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again".

The lunch hostess for the evening was Mrs. Ken Isley.

The next meeting will be held in the Salvation Army hall at the usual time, Wednesday Dec. 8th at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Though the weather has gradually turned more wintry-like, and we have a little more snow, it is still not too hard to take. Let's hope we have no more snow and that roads will remain open for cars until after Christmas. The roads are very good right now, the last snowfall seems to have [illegible]

Skating is still being enjoyed on some lakes and on sloughs. Some clearing off had to be done after the last snowfall.

The rink at Ottawa school is now flooded, the boards are up and skating is in full swing there.

George Parkash who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis on Monday, Nov. 22, came home on the 29th and expects to be back to school this week.

Jim Punter sustained a broken bone in one of his legs recently in a fall from the roof of his house.

Teddy Tulodziecki is on the sick list at present having undergone an operation for appendicitis two weeks ago.

Homer Campbell (with van and hounds) was a recent visitor to the district. Coyotes are certainly plentiful hereabouts, most farms having lost over a dozen fowl each throughout the last few months. The animals are so bold (or hungry) that they will come right into the yards to catch the chickens.

The bingo party, raffle and bazaar at Ottawa school was well attended and a nice sum was realized in aid of the school's Xmas fund.

Condensed Adverts. Little Wonder Workers

The little condensed advertisements contained in the Standard come in for a steady stream of praise from those who use them. It is seldom that people go to the trouble to write to express their appreciation of the results obtained but on three occasions recently the Standard received notes of thanks. One man writes "Please take my advertisement re a bath tub for sale out of your paper, once was plenty, on Friday morning (the day the paper came out) the tub was sold, by Saturday night by actual count I had had 21 inquiries for the tub, and statistics show that by that time 17 children and 3 adults had bathed in the tub". . .

A lady from Mannville writes: "I put an ad in the Standard for a girl and inside a week I had one and had received a call from another girl. I want to thank you for the good results and will certainly know what to do next time". . .

A farmer writes: "Take my ad out of the Standard, a man came to buy this implement, travelling 9 miles out of his way, and was very angry when he learned that it was sold the week before."

Standard advertisements reach a potential buying public of 7500 people

Get Break On High Cost Of Living

VANCOUVER. — Prince George students are getting a break from high living cost.

A model school dormitory for outside students provides board and room for only $25 monthly.

British Columbia school trustees in annual convention recently were given details of the dormitory—the only one of its kind in the province.

Last year 36 pupils from all parts of northern British Columbia stayed in the dormitory, and this year there will be 50.

Trustee G. E. Styles of Prince George, said an H-shaped army officers' mess building had been converted into the dormitory. Original cost of the building was $35,000. Moving and remodelling cost of $17,000.

Actual cost of housing a student is $33 a month, but the school board pays $4 a pupil and an additional $4 is paid by the department of education.

REHABILITATION SITUATION OF VETERANS GOOD

EDMONTON. — General situation of Canada war veterans and their rehabilitation to civilian life is good—progress has been better than favorable with re-establishment of the fit practically completed, Hon. M. F. Gregg, V.C., Federal Minister of Veterans Affairs, said in Edmonton.

Mr. Gregg was in the city on his first official Dominion inspection tour of D.V.A. establishments since taking his present position.

The cicada, with its 17-year life span, is the longest-lived insect.

Many Homes For Princess' Royal Son

LONDON. — Princess Elizabeth's son can call two palaces, three castles and three mansions his "home". He will spend some time in each every year. The two palaces — Buckingham Palace in London and Holyrood in Edinburgh — are the traditional state residences of his grandfather, the King.

Windsor Castle is another national state residence, while Balmoral Castle on Deeside, Scotland, is the King's private property.

The third castle, Glamis, is the highland seat of the family of his grandmother, the Queen.

One mansion — Sandringham in Norfolk—like Balmoral, is the King's private home.

The other two mansions are the homes of the child's parents. The first is Clarence House, St. James', their official London residence, which will be ready complete with a nursery floor at the beginning of the year. The other is Windlesham Moor, their leased week-end home, with a 50-acre estate in Surrey, 25 miles from London.

All but the latter home, whose main attraction is a nine-hole golf course, have a story.

From childhood, the young prince will hear legends surrounding Holyrood House where Mary, Queen of Scots, lived for the greater part of her reign.

He will play hide-and-seek with the "ghosts" in Glamis Castle, like his grandmother and mother before him.

His birthplace, Buckingham Palace, has been the focal point of the United Kingdom in times of rejoicing for more than a century. Described as the ugliest palace in Europe, it has never been very popular with the Royal family.

Second home to which the new Prince will be introduced is the 11,000-acre Sandringham estate where Princess Elizabeth will take him to spend a traditional Christmas with the rest of the Royal family.

His first Easter will probably be spent at Windsor Castle where the court also goes in residence for the Ascot races in the summer. There, he will play in the famous corridor used by Royal princes and princesses for a hundred years.

Sometime during next summer and fall he will visit his three homes in Scotland.

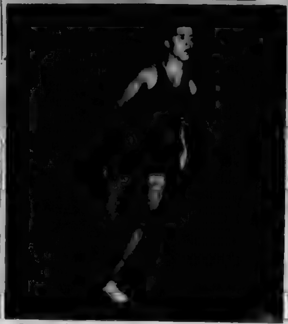
West's Prosperity Barometer Of Canada's Economic Position

WINNIPEG. — Increased revenue channel-led through income tax collection offices in Western Canada indicate that prosperous conditions exist and that Western farmers and producers were receiving high prices, Revenue Minister, Hon. J. J. McCann said.

Revenue collections in the west always were a good barometer of Canada's economic position he said. Today the barometer pointed to prosperity.

Dr. McCann, accompanied by two of his deputies David Sim and B. W. Scully, is on an inspection of the Revenue Department's western offices.

New Viscount Alexander Award Winner



George Lynch, Sports College member who has just been awarded the Viscount Alexander Trophy for being the outstanding junior athlete in Canada for 1948. The above picture shows Lynch well out in the lead in the mile event at the Canadian Legion indoor track carnival at Montreal last March. Lynch made a new Canadian Junior indoor record in this race.

George Lynch, 17-year-old track wizard who has just been awarded the Viscount Alexander Trophy as the outstanding junior athlete in Canada for 1948, is a "coach's dream" says his coach, Lloyd "Ace" Percival. According to Percival, Lynch's unfailing determination and willingness to follow training and coaching instruction to the exact letter is the reason why he has completely dominated his field since 1946 when he first began to run. His amazing record includes the winning of 30 city, provincial, national and international championships and the breaking of 15 records. His peak performance was his winning of the United States National Boys' Mile Championship at Cleveland in August of 1947, (in this race the Sports College Champion not only defeated the best in the United States, but took eleven seconds off the record. His record still stands), and his performances at the United States Indoor National Interscholastic Championships at Madison Square Gardens, when he won his section of the mile event against the best runners in the U.S. However, he capped all his outstanding performances last May at Varsity Stadium during the Toronto and District Interscholastic Track and Field Meet when he won the three mile race in the amazing time of 15.34, which took 34 seconds off the old record of 16.08, which he had set in 1947. This is the fastest time ever recorded in the world by an interscholastic runner.

Lynch is a member of the now famous "Sports College Track and Field Testing Group" and had never run before joining this group in March of 1946. This group, formed to demonstrate what young Canadians can do when using the latest training methods, consists of a fairly large group of teen-age athletes who have all won many championships and set many new records. Though given special training in this Sports College group all the members compete under the colours of their schools or clubs.

Lynch is 5'8", weighs 140 lbs and is a fourth form honour student at his collegiate. A crack athlete he is also a fine student. Though he concentrates on track, he is also good at other sports and holds the Royal Life Saving Certificate. His ambition is to become a coach himself some day. Already he has received several scholarship offers from prominent United States Universities but has yet to [illegible] accept.

Canada Has Less Mills; More Flour

OTTAWA—Canada has fewer flour mills than last year, but the capacity of the mills has increased.

The bureau of statistics reported that there are 174 wheat flour mills in Canada, seven less than last year. Total daily capacity of the mills is 107,084 barrels in 24 hours, 5,500 barrels greater than last year. This is the result of expansion in some of the plants.

Ontario mills total 78 against 83 in 1947. Mills in other provinces, with 1947 figures bracketed: Alberta, 31 (35); Saskatchewan, 29 (30); Manitoba, 26 (28); British Columbia, 5 (5).

IT'S A MAN'S WORLD: EVEN A BABY KNOWS THAT

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. — It's a man's world, girls — even a baby knows that.

Joyce MacInnes, past president of the Vancouver Island Teen Town Association and head of the Chemainus Teen Town Baby Sitting Club, says parents prefer teen-age boys as sitters because they do not "panic" when baby starts to howl.

Out of her crew of 24 sitters 12 are boys.

Ninety Boys And Girls Win Rewards For Junior Club Work

A VISIT to Niagara Falls, premium seats at the Royal Winter Fair's Horse Show, a tour of the Houses of Parliament, banquets and professional magicians, trips through farm machinery and meat packing plants—these were the rewards for application to junior club work won by 53 boys and 37 girls in mid-November.

These events climaxed for the rural young people the result of their work in rural clubs. There, under the guidance of agricultural representatives, Department officials and local farmer leaders, the teen-agers had become so proficient in at least one phase of agriculture that they were selected to compete for national honours.

Successful in local, regional and provincial elimination contests the 45 two-member provincial championship teams competed at Toronto in the annual national contests for boys' and girls' farm clubs. For these as for the sight-seeing and educational tours of Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Ottawa they were guests of the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls Club Work, a non-profit organization sponsored by Dominion and provincial governments, national railway systems, business firms and farm organizations.

Each team competed in one of eight projects, dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, poultry, seed grain, seed potatoes, foods and clothing. The contests were strenuous, whether they required the contestant to bake a batch of tea biscuits or to give proper placings to bacon carcasses. But during them and the entertainment which followed, the junior farmers kept their poise even though flash bulbs made them pop their eyes, microphones were thrust in front of them and reporters quizzed them on their hobbies and the size of the home farm.

Leading teams of these representatives of the 45,500 rural youth enrolled in club work under the Council's auspices were:

VERMILION SALE

The pure bred livestock sale held in Vermilion Dec 4th was rated as being quite successful. Bidding was keen from the large crowd and prices were reasonably good. Breeders should be encouraged from the high average prices obtained to bring in good stock again.

GOOD BOARS WANTED

Several farmers have asked me to locate pure bred Yorkshire boars for them. They seem to be scarce so anyone through with their boar could list him at my office. If you write in be sure to state the breed, age, weight and price.

HAY AND ALFALFA

A report just to hand shows that this crop district is second highest in Alberta for the number of milk cows. The figure shows also that there is only one-tenth of an acre of alfalfa per cow and for tame grasses it is only three-quarters of an acre. As the average milk records here are comparatively low it would appear that we are not feeding our milk cows enough alfalfa and brome grass to get good production.

SHOOTS RECORD 650-POUND BEAR — Believed to be one of the largest bears ever captured in central Ontario, this 650-pound Cinnamon was shot by Herbert Woods of Gravenhurst, Ont., about 10 miles from his home. Woods was out hunting deer when he saw the giant Cinnamon coming across a ravine. He was only a few yards away when the bear appeared on the ridge. When hit by a 30 slug the animal reared up on his hind legs, towering nine feet in the air. While the bear was looking around for his assailant, Woods drilled in another shot from close range. Bellowing in anger, the bruin headed for the hunter who put a third shot into its heart, dropping it at his feet. Woods is shown with the skin of the bear.—S.N.S. photo.

AT BOTTOM OF ST. LAWRENCE 14 MONTHS, MAY SAIL IN SPRING — Fourteen months after her collision with the Translake in the St. Lawrence three miles from Morrisburg, Ont., the freighter Milverton is being refloated. This head-on view shows the big hole in her bow now raised above the 40-foot water in which she sank. The tragic collision took the lives of twelve men and twelve others had a narrow escape. Owners expect to refit the freighter and have her back in commission by next spring. It is expected to take a week to float the vessel up the river for inspection.—S.N.S. photo.

BEATS NEW PRINCE BY FOUR MINUTES—New-born Janet Elizabeth Philp, who really had very little to do with it, finds herself in the English spotlight for a brief moment of glory because she chose to come into the world just four minutes ahead of the new heir to the British throne. Here she poses with her proud mama in an English nursing home in London, while the attending physician shows her a newspaper headline heralding the birth of the royal infant.—S.N.S. photo.

BERLIN—WHERE THE DEAD AID THE LIVING— This small neglected cemetery of St. Thomas in Berlin serves the living as well as the dead. It borders the major axis of the Tempelhof airfield most vital to the airlift operation. Fog lights and landing lights are in there on these huge poles keep the operation going in fog and at night. The reflected light falling on the tombstones at night, give an eerie effect to the scene. However no graves were desecrated during the installation despite Russian charges to that effect. Funerals, too, are being conducted as usual.—S.N.S. photo.

Everyone Can Help Relieve Austerity of British Citizens

SUPPORT UNITED EMERGENCY FUND FOR BRITAIN

A great deal of admirable work has been done by individuals, associations and families in Canada to relieve the austerity of the British citizen in a period of food shortages and other restrictions. Canadian citizens have responded generously to varied appeals, private and general. It is really surprising to learn the number of persons who regularly pack parcels for their British relatives or friends. Some Canadians maintain a regular schedule of shipments at considerable expense to themselves.

These genuine expressions of kindness and consideration, these evidences of recognition of the difficulties in which our British cousins find themselves through no fault of their own, are in every way commendable.

About a year ago a group of persons interested in philanthropy and who had given generously to agencies having for their objective the relief of the people of Europe generally, undertook a survey of the costs involved, accepted a position at the local tele- deal of money was spent ineffectually in the transportation, assembly and distribution of relief goods and parcels. This group thereupon moved to reduce this item of expense or to eliminate it altogether.

Through the co-operation of the British and Canadian governments it was found possible to cut the costs of delivery and to reduce competition for scarce items of general need in Britain.

United Emergency Fund for Britain (UEFB) has fortunately achieved its objective and it is now possible to add approximately one-third to the real value of a parcel at the same cost. The Fund is making a general appeal to Canadian people for the relief of the hard-pressed British people whose inadequacies and monotony of diet are matter of common knowledge.

The Fund's general campaign began on Nov. 16th and will last until Dec. 5th. The service will, however be a continuing one, as long as the need lasts.

Reduction in Gasoline Prices Announced

Reductions in posted tank wagon prices of gasoline, kerosene, tractor distillate and diesel fuels throughout Alberta, effective immediately, were announced today by Imperial Oil Ltd. Reductions are also being made throughout Saskatchewan and details will be announced in Regina, the officials said.

At Edmonton the reduction is 2.4 cents and at Calgary [illegible] cents per gallon. [illegible] other [illegible] prices include transportation cost from Calgary and Edmonton [illegible] and reductions vary accordingly.

Diversified Farming

WHILE FORTUNES HAVE BEEN MADE from the growing of wheat on the prairies, and many farmers who have not made fortunes have provided ample comfort and security for their families, the people of the West have always been aware of the uncertainties associated with the success of each year's wheat crop. The amount of rainfall, plant diseases, early frosts, insect pests and the trend of the market are all factors which each season determine the results of the farmers' work, and while much has been done in the way of controlling these hazards, the wheat crop is still not a certain source of income. However, many parts of the prairies are so exceptionally well suited to the growing of wheat that it has been planted in preference to all other crops and Western Canada has long been one of the world's foremost wheat-producing areas.

* * * * *

Many Awards For The West

In spite of this, agricultural experts and economists have frequently pointed out to Western farmers the need to undertake more mixed farming. The desirability of varying the use to which the land is put in order to make the best use of it, and to avoid impoverishing it, and also to ensure financial returns from sources other than wheat, should that crop fail, were among the reasons that diversified farming was advocated. A large number of farmers have followed this course with success. This was demonstrated at the Royal Winter Fair, held at Toronto in November, when Western exhibitors carried off many awards for cattle, dairy products and grains other than wheat. The Eastern provinces, where mixed farming has been a long-established practice, no longer won all the highest [illegible]

* * * * *

Are No Longer Vital Matters

Exhibitors from Manitoba won ten first and twenty-seven second prizes in livestock, while Alberta farmers took eight first prizes and twenty seven second prizes for butter. It was also shown that the Western provinces had expanded greatly in the production of rye, barley and oats. Ontario for many years the leading producer of rye planted 97,000 acres of that grain this year while in Saskatchewan 685,000 acres were sown. Alberta had 210,000 acres and Manitoba 60,000 acres, producing a harvest of nearly 20,000,000 bushels. As a result of the spread of mixed farming in the West, neither the success of the wheat crop nor the price of wheat are now considered to be such vital matters as they were in the past. The prairies will without doubt continue to produce a large part of the world's wheat supply, but it is interesting and encouraging to know that the prosperity of the farmers no longer depends on the success or failure of this one crop.

FROZEN FLAX MAY CAUSE DEATH OF CATTLE

SASKATOON. Frozen flax fed to cattle may bring about their death, authorities of the University of Saskatchewan said recently. They investigated [illegible] cattle and found they died after eating frozen flax. Frost apparently brought potential cyanide in flax to the point where it became dangerous as animal feed.

DUTCH FARMERS TO COME TO CANADA

MANY FINE HEREFORD CATTLE CHANGED HANDS AT RED DEER SALE

DESIGNED to give impetus to breeding of fine livestock in Central Alberta, a sale sponsored by the Central Alberta Hereford Breeders' Club at Red Deer recently inaugurated what is intended to be an annual event. Managed by Wilf J. Edgar of Innisfail, the sale was a marked success, more than 60 fine animals selling for an average of $360.00 to buyers from all parts of Alberta.

Twenty-five Hereford breeders of Central Alberta contributed animals to the first sale, many of them fine selections of females capable of improving the breeder stock of any Hereford herd. The top animals sold at good prices, a senior yearling heifer from E. C. and R. H. Stuart of Clive drawing the high bid of the day $780.00 and selling to M. B. Herbert of Dalhousie. M. B. and R. B. Herbert combined to buy four of the top priced animals, taking one from Wilf. Edgar, Innisfail, and another from Lougheed Brothers, Bowden, both senior heifers at $730.00 and a fourth, also from Edgar at $530.00. Alex Gardner of Penticton, B.C., bought the third Edgar heifer at $600.00.

John Wilson of Innisfail judged the show preceding the sale and awarded the Champion Bull ribbon to Brilliant Boss, a Domino bred two-year-old from Parsonage and Holmes, Innisfail. The Champion Female, a March heifer, 1948 from Tulloch Brothers of Bentley was bought by John Drever of Red Deer at $560.00, while the Senior Champion, with a newborn bull calf from George Calder, Innisfail sold at $300.00 to G. Owen Stringam, Duchess, Alberta.

In spite of a light overnight snow and rain, the Red Deer Sale attracted a large audience, and was held in a fine sale ring building on the Red Deer Fair grounds, capable of seating several hundred spectators and buyers.

Manitoba's Woman Reeve Didn't Seek Office Or Votes

WINNIPEG.—A woman who didn't campaign any office and who never asked for a vote is the only woman serving as reeve in Manitoba.

Mrs. M. E. Allen has been reeve of Eriksdale since January. She thinks women aren't active enough in municipal and political life. Feminine reeves should not be the novelty they are in Canada—there are only six in the Dominion.

Mrs. Allen is attending the annual convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities in Winnipeg. She said in an interview her four councillors—all men—don't resent serving with her.

"Actually, the councillors and the people of Eriksdale don't consider a woman reeve something out of the ordinary. They take it as a matter of course, but outsiders create a fuss."

Mrs. Allen is secretary of the local poultry pool, president of the Women's Association of Eriksdale Canadian Legion and a member of the Agricultural Society's board.

She's been a widow since 1933 and has four children, three sons and a daughter. Her family approves of having a mother who is a reeve, but they became accustomed to her participation in civic affairs over many years, she said.

Riel Battle Site Said Disappearing

REGINA. — Remains of trenches used by General Middleton's forces in quelling the northwestern Rebellion of 1885 are said in danger of disappearing.

The trenches were used in the battle of Batoche which ended the rebellion started by Louis Riel, who was convicted of treason and hanged there.

Walter Tucker, provincial Liberal leader, said in a recent letter to the Historic Sites and Monuments board at Ottawa that the farmer whose land contains the trench remains was prevented from plowing them up as a possible crop and this fall only by dry weather.

The trenches are located at one corner of the farm 50 miles down the South Saskatchewan River and northeast of Saskatoon. Mr. Tucker urged that the trench area — about one acre — be purchased.

Municipalities Against Daylight Saving Time

WINNIPEG. — Little doubt as to the Manitoba rural dweller's sentiments on daylight saving time was left when the Union of Manitoba Municipalities voted on a resolution calling for a stand against the system "insofar as all of rural Manitoba is concerned."

"Why bother voting on it? We know what we think of it!" an elderly delegate exclaimed as the president, Ray Mitchell, of Grandview, put the question to the delegates in the civic auditorium.

He was right. The vote for the motion was unanimous, the only recorded unanimous vote of the entire three-day session.

Former Vermilion Couple Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD ARMSTRONG HONORED AT OLDS

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Armstrong of Olds and formerly of Vermilion, were pleasantly surprised Sunday evening Nov. 28th, when members of the staff of Olds Agricultural school dropped in to extend congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Moore presided at the piano for a sing-song and Mr. F. Jorgenson entertained with several piano selections. An interesting "memory book" had been prepared and was read by Mrs. F. Parkinson. On behalf of the guests Mrs. C. Yauch presented Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong with a silver sandwich tray with glass insert. Mr. Armstrong appropriately thanked the guests on behalf of himself and Mrs. Armstrong. During the serving of a dainty lunch the guests of honor were asked to cut a two-tiered prettily decorated wedding cake, while those present sang "For They are Jolly Good Fellows", and expressed the wish that they would enjoy many more years of wedded happiness. The dining room table was centred with a lovely silver rose bowl and roses, the gift of their son Alfred who was home from Varsity for the week end. Other gifts of silver, greeting cards and bouquets of roses, carnations and mums, spoke of the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong are held by their friends and neighbors in Olds.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Armstrong was 'at home' to her friends, when she was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. Yauch, Mrs. Don McPherson and Mrs. Vern Calwell.

John Mackenzie of Drayton Valley spent Wednesday and Thursday in Vermilion.

The regular meeting of the Vermilion Teen-Agers was held Thursday evening at the home of Leona Maxwell. The executive was very pleased with the great success of the dance and draw and wish to thank all those who supported our organization in this effort.

Plans were discussed for a Xmas function.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Teresa Schmidt.

NOTE OF THANKS

The Teen-Agers wish to thank Mr. John Maxwell for his generous donation of a coffee table for our lucky draw. Our congratulations to Mrs. Lawrence Webb, the holder of the lucky ticket.

The Lloyd Harris Barber shop is now located on Main street in the former Duncan barber shop building. A new location but the same quick efficient and personalized service. Two barbers in attendance. 19xtf

A line from Tom Gould at Victoria states that it surely is nice to get the news of Vermilion and district via the Standard. He says that it is raining quite a bit right now but as soon as the rain stops roads are dry. Grass is nice and green and some roses are still blooming.

The management of the Columbia theatre have installed two new CO2 fire extinguishers in the theatre. This make seven extinguishers ready at a moment's notice in the theatre.

Briggs - Snelgrove Nuptials in Edmonton

Home of Mr and Mrs Fred Briggs in Edmonton was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Margaret Catherine, to Robert Stephen Snelgrove, son of Mrs. S. C. Snelgrove and the late Mr Snelgrove of Derwent.

Rev John R Gleeson performed the ceremony for which the home was decorated with ferns and mauve and yellow chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white moire taffeta gown fashioned with fitted bodice, cap sleeves and full skirt. She wore white mittens and a floor length veil of embroidered silk net which had been worn by her mother and grandmother. It was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Dorothy Jean Briggs was her sister's bridesmaid. She chose a yellow taffeta dress with fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and full skirt. With it she wore a chapel veil gathered to her head by a yellow braided headdress. She carried a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

William McLean of Islay was best man.

Miss Norma Smith played the wedding music. Alan Sweetnam sang "Always" during the signing of the register.

Toast to the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Gordon Moneely and to the bride's parents on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary by John D. McMillan.

The couple left for Banff to spend a short honeymoon before taking up residence on the bridegroom's farm near Derwent.

For travelling the bride wore a green dress with gold trim, brown and white plaid coat and brown velvet hat. Her corsage was an orchid.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. R. Snelgrove, Mr and Mrs. W. Dixon, Louis Hicks; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McLean and Tommy, Islay; Mr. and Mrs. James McMillan, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Nicol, Delvedere; Mrs. Guy Bacon, Haney, B.C.

WEDDING BELLS

CHESNEY—SIMONET

The marriage is announced of Ursula Patricia, daughter of Mrs. Julia Simonet and the late Mr Simonet of Vermilion, Alberta, to George Arthur Chesney, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Chesney on November 6th.

HILL—SKRENKOWICH

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the St. Columbus church, in Clandonald, on Monday, Nov 29th on the bride's 19th birthday when Kathleen Marie, daughter of Mr C. B. Skrenkowich and the late Mrs. Skrenkowich of Clandonald, became the bride of Mr Louis Hill, son of the late Mr and Mrs. Hill of Loyalist, Alberta. The Rev Father McPhee officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor-length gown of heavy white satin, fashioned with a lace neckline, a large flared skirt and lily point sleeves with dainty cuffs. She wore a fingertip bridal veil and a Queen of Scots headdress and carried a bouquet of white roses and orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a heart locket, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Annie and Frances Skrenkowich, sisters of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns of pink nylon net and blue sheer respectively, with chapel veils to match and their bouquets were of pink roses and white lilies.

The groom was supported by Mr. Pat Mulgrew and Mr Mike Skrenkowich, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony about 65 guests were received at the home of the bride's father.

The bride's table was laid in an ecru lace table cloth with white and pink streamers, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

During the afternoon toasts were proposed to the bridal couple by many friends and neighbors. Later that evening a dance was held at the St. Columbus hall in honor of the young couple and which was attended by a large circle of friends.

After a short honeymoon they will reside at the groom's farm north east of Clandonald in the Kikino district.

Ladies' Delegation Asks Rest Room Facilities

INTERESTING BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Instead of picking out portions of the Board of Trade proceedings the Standard is this week presenting the minutes of the meeting of last Wednesday. To fully appreciate the value and interest of these weekly gatherings of the citizens of Vermilion and district, the meetings should be attended.

The vice-president A. M. Watt was in the chair and there were 24 present. The number included a delegation of three ladies from rural districts.

In welcoming the ladies Mr. Watt stated that it was quite a compliment to the Board to have them attend the luncheon and bid them very welcome. He then introduced Mrs. Garnett of Wildmere, Mrs. Thompson of Chatsworth and Mrs. Sherwood of Bowtell. Tom Sherwood was welcomed, this being his first visit, and John Turangle, Vic Tillett and A. N. Garnett received the glad hand also.

The entertainment committee convener Mr. Stephens reported for his committee and his remarks were supplemented by Mr. Bentley as to the possibility of having Mr. Blackstock, Public Utilities commissioner of the province address a meeting sometime in February.

George Webb reported re Farmers' bonspiel. D. R. Mitchell re roads and the north hill in particular; Jack Korns reported on the very successful sale of purebred livestock held by the Vermilion Agricultural society the previous Saturday. The highest priced cow brought $660 with an average for the cattle of $330. Pigs brought a high of $170. Local farmers had a chance to buy good stock and took full advantage of the opportunity while other buyers came from distant points. Over 1100 people attended the sale.

REST ROOM DELEGATION

Mrs. Garnett of Wildmere, as the spokesman for the ladies' delegation present, was then called upon to address the meeting.

Mrs. Garnett stated that the ladies present represented the Bowtell Busy Bees, the Wildmere W.I., the Kokner Homemakers, the Ganton-Watson Red Cross auxiliary, the Claysmore Ladies Social Club, the King Edward W.A. and the Chatsworth Country club. She complimented the Board on the many ways they had been of help to the farmers in the past and stated that the delegation was now approaching them asking that some rest room facilities be provided in the town of Vermilion. She appealed for the active help and direction of the Board in this project. Mrs Garnett stated that the present toilets were a disgrace to the town which had far outgrown those provided. She appealed for a waiting room in addition to toilets and wash room facilities.

Mayor Morrison was asked the plans of the town in this connection and stated that while the council was quite cognizant of the need no definite plans had yet been formulated.

Ashley Cooper described the plan for a rest room and toilet facilities as stated by W. R. Cornish, M.L.A., at a recent meeting of the Board of Trade. These were to be on the 2nd floor of the government building and included men's and ladies' toilets, washroom, and a waiting room for women and children. This room would be some 15 feet by 9 feet. However plans for construction of these did not call for completion before spring.

After some discussion it was decided to ask Mr. Cornish if these facilities could be completed at an earlier date as the need here was a very urgent one. Appreciation was expressed by the ladies of the kind intentions of Mr. Cornish and the Alberta government.

The ladies of the delegation expressed their appreciation of the very kind welcome and hearing they had received and also of the fact that there appeared to be a town-wide desire to see that the necessary accommodation and facilities were provided at the earliest possible moment.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of "The King".

Canadian Club Arrange Speakers for Meetings

Professor Tweedie of the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, will address a meeting of the Canadian Club in Vermilion on Wednesday Jan. 12th.

On Feb. 9th an address to the Canadian Club will be given here by Miss Molly McGee, first woman to become a war correspondent.

Details of the meeting will appear in subsequent issues of the Standard.

Tigers Lose League Opener

LLOYDMINSTER TEAMS RING UP TWO WINS

Lloydminster teams triumphed in both of the Eastern Alberta Hockey League opening games Wednesday night. The Lloyd Meteors won at Vermilion 6 to 1 while Lloyd Huskies playing at home defeated Wainwright.

METEORS 6, TIGERS 1

Trotting out a young, fast and well conditioned team the Lloydminster Meteors defeated the local Tigers 6 to 1. Until half way through the final period the count was 2-1 showing that the game was close and exciting right up until the dying moments when the visitors ran in two counters. The Tigers have plenty of promising material and will show a mighty improvement with a few more practices.

A small crowd of under 400 fans attended.

During an exciting 3rd period Referee Frank Spencer of Lloydminster skated too close to the boards and was crowned by an over-enthusiastic spectator. After a brief exchange of fisticuffs the police were called and the hockey fan or one of his neighbors was escorted from the arena.

Sam Soldan scored Vermilion's lone tally assisted by Russ Bohush. Meteor goals were by Seibel from Mills, MacDonald. Dellward from Walkowsky, King.

Referees were Frank Spencer of Lloydminster and Russell Carroll of Vermilion.

Line-ups

Lloydminster Meteors: Fraser, King, Jeffery, Skitch, Spratt, Walkowsky, Dellward, E. King, Mills, MacDonald, Seibel, Fisher, Elcan.

Tigers: Taylor, Soldan, Payment, Manyluk, Christy, Les Williams, Heidebrecht, Mashell, Link, Swanson, Rowe, B. Williams, Moore, Bohush, Bushell.

Wainwright Here Wednesday, Dec. 22

TIGERS PLAY AT LLOYDMINSTER ON SATURDAY

The new Wainwright hockey team will show their wares here on Wednesday evening next Dec. 22nd when they clash with the local Tigers. The games starts at 8:30.

Saturday night this week the Tigers travel to Lloydminster where they meet the Huskies.

Hockey Attraction Boxing Day

On Boxing Day Dec. 27th at 3 p.m. the Lloydminster Huskies and Tigers will provide an afternoon hockey attraction when they meet in a regular league fixture.

Telegraph School Burns

Fire completely destroyed the Telegraph school at an early hour Wednesday morning. The school is in the Vermilion division and is located some 13 miles north of Clandonald or 33 miles north of Vermilion. The school was of frame construction with a full cement basement built some 24 years ago. The fire was discovered at 2.30 a.m. when the building was practically razed.

Eight children were attending the school which was in charge of a supervisor.

Legion To Aid United Emergency Fund For Britain

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion, at their last regular meeting, passed a motion to sponsor a campaign in aid of the United Emergency Fund for Britain. Elsewhere in this issue there appears an advertisement appealing to the public to support this Fund by making contributions through the local branch of the Legion. The members of the Legion feel that nearly everyone in Vermilion and district will wish to make a contribution to this fund in aid of our British cousins and ask that the public make their contribution either direct to this fund, or to the local branch of the Legion, who will forward the money received direct to the Fund headquarters through regular channels.

We call on you people of Vermilion and district to give generously to this fund. Contributions may be left with C. T. Heckbert any time prior to Jan. 10, 1949. No canvass of the town will be made by the Legion. We ask you to co-operate by coming forward with your donation voluntarily. Your money will be sent to the fund, together with a list of names of the contributors.

Christmas Chimes to be Broadcast from St. Saviour's Church

"I hear the bells at Christmas", the story of the Birth of Christ is one of the festivals commemorated to help all peoples in a troubled world. To bring a true atmosphere in Vermilion, the vestry of St. Saviour's church have arranged to broadcast a program for Christmas week to commence on Sunday evening Dec. 19th from 6.30 to 7.30 prior to their Carol service. Listen for the bells and chimes that evening as you are walking to your church.

"GREEN ACRES"

DISCOUNT ON BULLS

The Alberta Department of Agriculture has announced that orders can now be taken for pure bred bulls under the cattle improvement policy. The price to the farmer is only 75% of the cost and the freight is paid. Whenever you sell cattle with horns you pay into this fund, why not get something out of it?

THE GENTLE BULL

There is no such thing as a gentle bull. Watch them at all times. Many good bulls are sold on the market because they are hard to handle. It would be better to build a proper corral and save the bull. Plans are available at my office.

FARM RECORDS

Very few farmers keep records of business dealings. When the time comes around to make out income tax forms, records are a great help. Several firms and the government put out record books free of charge to farmers. See them at my office.

WINTER SCOURS

Several farmers have reported recently that their cattle have come down with winter scours. The whole herd gets affected with a bloody diarrhoea which lasts several days and causes a loss in weight. Weak animals may contract pneumonia. Good nursing is important: lots of straw, warm water, good [illegible] [illegible] no grain. If animals do not respond to good care then sulpha drugs and stimulants are necessary.

FEATHER PULLING

Two cases of [illegible] have been reported [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] hen has developed the habit of pecking at the others there is no hope of reforming her, so watch for the culprit and cut off her head before other hens develop the habit. This vice in poultry can cause great losses if not checked early.

Farmers Bonspiel Proves Successful Event

Judging by the enthusiasm and interest evident at the farmers bonspiel held last Saturday the number of curlers in this area should be due for a definite increase. 16 rinks entered the bonspiel which was exclusively for farmers. Of these 16, eight rinks took home prizes. Every rink played at least two games and everybody participating was highly enthusiastic over the good time provided. The one-day spiel was sponsored by the Vermilion Curling club with the business men of the town donating the prizes.

Bob Martin, Wildmere, Wins

Bob Martin skipped his Wildmere entry to four straight victories to capture the Grand Challenge, taking the final from the rink of V.S.A. students skipped by Norman Sax. This game was a close affair with the Martin rink trailing in the first half only to finally emerge the winners. The champs rink was Bob Martin skip, Albert Smith, John Baike, while Mrs. Bob Martin played lead rocks and made a very good job of it.

Personnel of the V.S.A. rink and their home towns: Norman Sax of Daysland, skip, Andrew Johnson of Mrswayne, Earl Naslund of Viking and Herb House of Arrowwood.

Third prize went to the Neis rink from east of town and 4th to Les Kreller and company from Claysmore to the west.

Secondary Winners

Ort Strome skipped the secondary winners and had Bill McIntyre tossing third rocks with P. McCambridge and McIntyre Jr. Strome won the final from the Auburndale quartet skipped by Dus Harle with Henning Haverslow, Ken Kennedy and Alf Green. Third place was won by the Hilda Cross rink with 4th going to Weise and company, another V.S.A. entry.

George Webb and Bill Sutherland handled the draw on behalf of the town curling club and George Webb, who is president of the club, presented the prizes to the winners at the conclusion of the one-day spiel just before midnight.

Many of those participating had never thrown a rock before but caught on remarkably fast and the standard of play was surprisingly high.

The 16 rinks entered were skipped by Carreuther, Weise, Larsen, Sax, Kreller, Harle, Richardson, Bushko, Eyben, Cross, Cooper, Neis, Strome, Martin, Stone, Cundal.

Prize Donors

The Vermilion Curling club wishes to thank the following business men who donated prizes for the bonspiel: Craig Bros., Stephens Ltd., Simonsen's Furniture, Northern Hardware, Vermilion Co-op, Wm. McLaughlin, Revelstoke Sawmill Co., Long's Drug, Geo. Webb & Son, Rowe & Spencer, J. D. Adam, S. C. Heckbert.

THE VENERABLE WALTER LEVERSEDGE—

(The Edmonton Bulletin)

In the death of Archdeacon Walter Leversedge at the age of 67, the Christian Church loses a valuable and respected minister and churchmen everywhere lose a devoted and kindly friend.

The ministry of Archdeacon Leversedge began in Alberta in 1906 when he arrived from England to do missionary work among the settlers.

But his long and active career, in the final judgment, is less important than the personality of the man himself.

The most outstanding fact about Walter Leversedge was that wherever he went and in whatever he undertook he was essentially beloved as a man and as a priest.

No man ever had a finer simplicity.

The essence of his character was kindliness.

The essence of his priesthood was an unquestioning faith.

He rendered a great and notable service to the Church. He rendered a magnificent service to humanity.

And whatever honors were deservedly heaped upon him, the warm humility of his nature was unchanged.

He was in the finest sense of the hackneyed term, a man of God. And God has taken him.

41 Cars of Cattle Shipped in November

Forty-one cars of cattle have been shipped by C.N.R. from Vermilion during the month of November, bearing out the recent provincial figures that this area is one of the leading stock raising districts in the province. Another estimated 10 cars were shipped out by motor truck owing to the shortage of railroad cattle cars.

ETHELWYN NEWS

Jack Grant Jr. has really put our district on the map. Last week this ambitious young farmer loaded a car load of Registered Thatcher seed wheat at Dewberry. Destination of the wheat was India.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Isley of Vermilion on the birth of a son.

Birthday greetings this week go to Mary Ann Grant, 5 years old Dec. 7.

The writer is quite sure that every one was shocked at the letter Uncle Hal read over the air recently. A mother had written in saying that her newsboy son had come home [illegible] delivering his papers [illegible] his hands and feet frozen. The boy had asked at two homes to be allowed to come in and warm himself but was refused because the family was eating supper. After hearing Uncle Hal's talk it is sincerely hoped that people will be more kind to these lads.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Father MacDonell, Dr. King, Harold Moyer, the Coopers of the Standard, the pall bearers, all our friends and neighbors, and those who so kindly provided cars, for the help and kind acts received during our bereavement in the loss of our husband and father, also for the many spiritual and floral offerings and cards of sympathy.

Mrs. Noonan and family.

Church to Set $2,400 Minimum

The United Church of Canada announced in Toronto Thursday it plans to establish a minimum salary of $2,400, and a free manse for each of its 2,178 ordained ministers within the next three years.

In Edmonton, Rev E. M. Birdsall, minister of Central United church, said this would mean a substantial increase in salary for many Alberta ministers. He said that at the end of 1947 there were 240 United Church ministers n Alberta, and their average annual salary was $1,677.

He said that while some congregations had taken cognizance of the increased cost of living and had raised their ministers salaries, this had not been the situation in all cases. In Alberta a manse is provided in most cases.

—Edmonton Journal.

ALLANDALE NOTES

By the time this appears in print let us hope the weather will be a little milder. Old Man Winter really came roaring at us with the [illegible] dropping to 40 below. Roads are passable yet as there hasn't been very much wind.

It's hard to realize Xmas is so near and we wonder what Christmas means to so many. Not long ago came over the radio, "Xmas cheer has gone up", beer had raised so much a pint, disgusting! Is it any wonder so many children grow up ignorant of the real meaning of Christmas. Many have the spirit for Christmas, but not the Christmas spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Armstrong and girls have moved to their new home at Island Hill, best of luck folks.

Mr Arthur Lord had a very successful sale and is retiring from farming. His farm has been bought and taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strome. We welcome this well known couple to Allandale district and wish them the very best.

Mr and Mrs. M. Larsen who have been with Mr. Lord for over 30 years, are staying at the farm of Mr. R. Jorgenson for the winter.

Mr. Jorgenson is visiting his old home in Sweden.

I did appreciate the comment from the Ethelwyn scribe, thank you.

Neighbors here have been very good in co-operating when turkey picking time comes along.

Wonder why there are so many car accidents, we all know the condition of roads at this time of year so go a little slower and save time for all concerned.

Thought for Today: "Unless there is within us that which is above us, we shall soon yield to that which is about us."

Salary of the Leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons is $10,000 a year, plus his Member's indemnity. Some foreigners find it hard to understand why the public here supports a leader to oppose the government in power.

Christmas Seal Returns Short of Objective

Christmas Seal returns for Edmonton and Northern Alberta on Dec. 11 totalled $29,030 towards an objective of $53,[illegible]. It is reported by John Scott, Chairman of the Kinsmen Club Xmas Seal committee.

The provincial total reported by C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta T.B. Association, has now reached $71,500. The provincial objective is $125,000. Mr. Dickey said that reminders are being mailed to all of those who have not yet responded, as it has been found that many people have every intention of sending a contribution, but in the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season are apt to put it off until reminded.

Contributions of any size are welcome, and are very much needed, in order to carry on the Association's T.B.-Prevention program, health education and rehabilitation. Contributions are allowable income tax deductions, and may be sent to Christmas Seal Headquarters, Heintzman Hall, Edmonton.

Chatsworth Chatter

Weather is much more like winter the last few days, with more snow and colder. Perhaps it will moderate somewhat before the Xmas holidays roll around.

The teacher, Miss Fulton, and the schoolchildren, are in full swing practising for the concert, which is to be held on Thursday evening Dec. 23.

Mr. Chas. Stewart, councillor for this division, called a meeting at the Ottawa school on Monday evening, Dec. 6th. A good crowd turned out to hear Mr. Stewarts' report on road work, snowplowing etc. and to join in discussions re plans for future improvements on both summer and winter roads.

Due to severe weather the Chatsworth Country Club meeting, which was to have been held at Mrs. M Tovell's on Dec. 9th, was postponed.

Miss Fulton had as her guest during the past week end, her sister from [illegible].

George Farkash is back to school this week after having undergone an operation for appendicitis recently.

Mrs. Matt Farkash and family are now settled in their new house.

Hector Cameron is home from Olds where he has been working at the agricultural college.

"Merry Christmas" will have a deeper meaning if your greeting carries a message of health. Use Xmas Seals on all holiday mail.

Wildmere W. I. Holds Annual Meeting

On Dec. 1st, 1948 the annual meeting of the Wildmere W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. John Wilson with 8 members and 3 visitors present. This marked the 2nd birthday for the Wildmere W.I. of affiliation with the Alberta Women's Institute. This year has been a very successful one and we have all come to realise the greatness and importance of such an acquaintance with a world-wide organization. There have been 12 meetings with an average attendance of 9 members. At each meeting a food parcel has been sent overseas to whoever the hostess wished and the postage paid from the funds, which was our own project for the year. The projects of the W.I. have all been very well subscribed to as well. There are 12 members and each one has the 'Home and Country'. At our first meeting of the year we entertained our husbands and families which was a decided success. A delegate was sent to the convention in Edmonton in March and one to the conference in Vermilion in July. We also took part in the Handicraft display at the Vermilion Conference.

Five dollars was donated each of the following: Red Cross, Canadian Appeal for Children, Local Library fund, Salvation Army, Cancer Fund, Canadian Institute for the Blind. $10 was given a burnt out family and [illegible] to the school teacher for Christmas treats for the children. There have been 5 fruit baskets for sick members and one silver engraved spoon for a new baby. We have ventured a correspondence with an overseas W.I. and received two letters from an Institute in England. There has been a shipment of old woollens for blankets sponsored by the Club and two delegates have been sent to Vermilion to confer with surrounding district club delegates re a rest room for Vermilion. Our president Mrs J. M. Wilson donated a stamp bearing the words Wildmere Women's Institute which is very useful. Each member instead of paying 25c for the local fund kept it and increased it during the year, the sum of [illegible] being realized from this. The roll calls were as follows: Contribution to Overseas Parcel; What did I get from the W.I.; Line from Shakespeare; An Improvement I made last year; My spring plans; Tribute to mother; Current events; Name of public school attended; A new medical discovery; What we have to be thankful for; How I invested my quarter; Exchange of Christmas gifts.

The topics given during the year were as follows: Tuberculosis — Mrs Otto Wessenburger; Canadian Industries -- Mrs J. C. Wallington; Color and Save — Mrs Guy Whitlock; Education - Mrs J. M. Wilson; Immigration: Mrs W. J. Garnett.

Now on the dawn of a new year may we all enjoy the comradeship and co-operation we have had in the past year which alone will help us to make a success along with this great world wide family of the W.I.s. In [illegible] live up to the W.I. creed and remember our motto "For Home and Country".

Spruce Partridge

Several reports of Spruce Partridge have been received at the Standard office during the past week. These birds seldom are seen outside of the timber line to the north and the foothills to the west. George Pearce noticed the birds around his farm some 12 miles south and Cyprian Bell caught one which was hanging around his farm yard and which appeared to be suffering from lack of food. He fed the bird and it has since picked up wonderfully in strength and energy. They are a very pretty bird, a cross between a prairie chicken and bush partridge in appearance, and quite tame. Just what circumstances has brought them out of their natural habitat is not known and the co-operation of everybody is asked by your game warden in the protection of this bird.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Searle family in their recent sorrow.

The Christmas tree for Bowtell will be held Thursday evening Dec. 21. It will be the same as last year and will take the form of an amateur.

The December meeting of the Busy Bees was held at the home of Mrs. Perkins with 14 present including four visitors, Mrs Gagnon, Mrs Gow, Mrs. L. and Mrs F Payne. It was decided to fill Xmas boxes Sunday at the home of Mrs. Bopp. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Searle.

Mr. and Mrs. Gow and family were Sunday visitors at the home of the writer.

The writer certainly enjoyed the luncheon of the Board of Trade last Wednesday. It is a grand thing when folks can get together in a sociable way and talk over the various problems of the community such as is done at these Board of Trade luncheons. The ladies were given to understand that through the thoughtfulness of Mr Cornish, M.L.A., rest room facilities will be established in the government building, former Brimacombe store. Everyone hopes that this will be done at once as the present toilets are just not adequate.

Quite a number are busy this week killing and plucking turkeys for market.

Don't forget to mail your Xmas cards etc. early for local delivery folks. The writer has received quite a number of greeting cards already. The first one was from Ken Riedale of Rochester, Alberta.

Elizabeth Warawa celebrated her 9th birthday on Dec 12th by giving a party for several of her playmates and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ronaghan plan to leave in the near future for a trip to the States.

Christmas Seal contributions are allowable income tax deductions.

If I remember right there wasn't one Magpette last year who didn't resolve to do her Christmas shopping early this year. We are just madly rushing around — force of habit no doubt.

Chris Ramsey must now be nicely settled down somewhere in Vancouver enjoying rainy weather instead of sub zero temperatures. This club is going to miss you Chris. Who will we send to "conventions" see what we mean?

We expect everyone to have the right Christmas spirit by Monday 20th for our Magpette party. We meet at Mary Girvan's apartment at 8 o'clock then journey to the south side home of Isst McCormick. Let's make it a real party.

Posters are going out this week for the [illegible] semi-formal in the Elks hall Dec. 27th. It's an annual dance everybody welcome and a good time assured.

Hall decorating at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon 27th.

New boxcars about 3,300 of them are rolling along Canadian rails this year according to The Financial Post. They are expected to relieve what has been a chronic boxcar shortage ever since the start of the war. Railroad men warn, however that there is likely to be a shortage in some areas again before the winter is over.

P. F. A. A. PAYMENTS

The Prairie Farmers' Assistance Act administration has dispersed $100,000,000 to western farmers in crop failure areas since the act was put into force in 1939. Of that total the prairie farmers supplied $35,000,000 in the form of one per cent deductions on the value of grain deliveries. The balance was supplied by the federal treasury. The bulk of the disbursements went to Saskatchewan farmers. —Budget

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "TALL OAK"

Even the casual reader of the newspapers these days must be familiar with the word 'blockade'. According to the dictionary it means to shut off a way of approach. A movement that is 'checked' may be resumed; if 'blockaded' it is effectually brought to an end, unless the obstacle can be removed.

It is a well known fact that the enemy will always make effective use of available roads in order to strike a swift, devastating blow. It means speed, and a saving of energy to be able to travel along a road, instead of dragging, and sweating over ploughed fields and boundary fences. So for safety a strategic road is blockaded to keep out the enemy.

You and I have our enemies — Spiritual foes, who, given the slightest opportunity will sweep along an unguarded road into our inner selves, to destroy our cherished ideals and tramp our very souls into the mire of sin. Our enemy always comes along the road we neglect to block.

How many Spiritual wrecks do you know, who once held the Citadel of their souls secure against our enemy Satan? Then there came a day when they became careless, they relaxed their watchfulness, and with shattering force the enemy of their soul swept in. To see them today—dead while they live—is a source of heartache and sorrow to every sincere Christian.

Outstanding Christians of history all realized the absolute necessity of Spiritual Blockading. All watched the avenues of their souls carefully. Jesus said, "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation . . ." St. Paul said, "Watch thou in all things".

It is true that it is more difficult to fight against the enemies of our souls, than it is to fight on earthly battlefields. This is so because, when we fight against sin, we are at war with the source of all other troubles. Although in our own strength we can do very little, yet in the power of God we can move from the defensive warfare to the offensive warfare, attacking the strongholds of sin. Oh, that men and women boys and girls — would become earnest fighters for God!

Are you keeping your heart with all diligence — have you blockaded the highway to your soul to keep out all evil? Your eternal destiny depends upon it!

The technique of effective blockading has to be learned, and to learn it a sacrifice of time and thought. The house of worship is the place. The Bible the instruction Book. God the Holy Spirit the Instructor, and Helper.

Let us put on the whole armor of God —Eph. 6:11-20. Let us fight the good fight. Watch and pray always. Let us BLOCKADE!

Province Spends Over $10,000,000 on Roads

More than $10,000,000 has been expended on Alberta highway improvements this year by the provincial public works department, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

Work has had to be suspended on some projects owing to certain funds allotted for the project having been exhausted. It is assumed that these projects will have priority when the 1949 program is launched.

The department has a number of steel highway bridges planned and these will be undertaken next year.

Now that estimates are in course of preparation for the next session of the legislature which opens Feb. 17 officials of the A.M.A. are hopeful of the appropriations being as fully as large or larger than in the last two years.

The amount provided for highways work this year was $13,500,000. With the buoyant condition of provincial funds, it is expected that the 1949 vote will be nearer the $15,000,000 mark.

Next year, tourist traffic is expected to reach new high levels, making it a 'must' to make substantial improvements to Alberta's road system, including more hard surfaced and all weather roads. Secondary and market roads also will call for a big program in the new year.

Former Vermilion Girl Married at Victoria

JUNE GREIG BECOMES BRIDE OF MARSHALL E. TREBLE

At a double ring ceremony by candlelight Saturday evening at the Metropolitan United church, Joyce June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Greig, 1380 Greatford Place Oak Bay, exchanged vows with Marshall E. Treble son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Treble of Huntsville, Ont., formerly of Toronto. Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse read the nuptial service in a setting of pink and white chrysanthemums in standard baskets.

The soloist during the signing of the register was Mr. D. Rogers who sang "Through the Years".

Entering the church with her father, the bride was lovely in white slipper satin, styled with net yoke, the lower edge ornamented with satin petals; lily point sleeves and full flared skirt finished with draped peplum and bustle. Her chapel veil of illusion net was held under a coronet of lily of the valley and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Mary Cadger maid of honor, was gowned in ice-green brocaded satin with matching headdress and long mitts and carried a round bouquet of mauve and peach spray chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Robinson and Miss Norma Greig, sister of the bride, wore identical frocks in mauve and peach taffeta respectively. Their headdresses and mitts matched their gowns and they carried round bouquets of Duckingham spray chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Eddie Haddad and ushers were Mr. Bob Lockyer and Mr. Bob Stirling.

The reception was held in the Century Room at Melody Lane, where Dr. W. W. Bell proposed the toast. The three-tiered cake centering the table was flanked by silver rose bowls of white [illegible].

Leaving for a Mainland honeymoon at Bridal Falls, the bride wore a forest green suit with brown topcoat and accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The couple will reside at the Alkan Mansions.

—Victoria Daily Colonist

Included among the guests at the wedding were a number of former Vermilion people: Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Whitby, Mr. and Mrs. E. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Jack English, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walling, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Beecroft, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson.

Islay District Locals

(Held over from last week)

Word of the passing of our dear friend and pastor Rev. Walter Leversedge was received with deep regret.

Mrs. L. Bowser, daughter Lila and Kenny Gunn motored to Edmonton over the week end. Fred Gould, Mrs. L. Giles and her daughter Doris, accompanied them.

Mrs. Nellie Coombe was a visitor at her mother's Friday last. Mrs. Gould will now be a shut-in for the winter so would appreciate hearing from some of her old friends and neighbors.

Marvin Gould was an overnight visitor at his auntie Nellie's home on Monday night.

A pleasant evening was spent recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bowser by the writer and household.

The crisp winter weather and the bright sunshine is very cheering even [illegible].

The late sunrise at this time of year is very pretty shining through the frosty trees making all look like a glittering picture. Sunsets also are beautiful to behold with points of flame reaching far into the winter's sky leaving a beautiful rosy after glow.

Coyotes are quite plentiful and at times come quite close to the buildings. We often see them racing over the snow with hounds in hot chase. I expect they are nearly always over taken by the dogs but I've never actually seen it happen so far.

The young folks are busy memorizing the lines for their Xmas play. If one asks a question one will nearly always get a quotation like "I don't see no reception"." It seems so short a time since last year's preparations yet spring summer and fall have gone and as I sit at my window I think of the words a poet has written:

O Maples though your gold be gone
All loveliness returns serene,
The sun in spring will lend you dun
A mantle new of shimmering sheen
A vernal veil of young and tender green.

The 1948 Xmas Seal sale opened on Nov. 15th. This is the 22nd Seal sale in Alberta.

McMullen-Wilson Nuptials at Mannville

MANNVILLE. — In the manse of Mannville United church, Rev. K. C. McLeod united in marriage Miss Mable Lilly Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Irene Wilson and the late Mr. R. Wilson of Mannville, to Mr. Gordon Andrew McMullen, son of Mr. W. McMullen and the late Mrs. McMullen of Edmonton.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, with a finger-tip veil of French illusion net caught to a Mary Queen of Scots headdress. Her only jewelry was a two-strand pearl necklace, gift from the groom, and she carried pink, white and yellow roses and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Eva Prill attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing pink sheer with a matching chapel veil caught to a halo coronet. Mrs. Thelma Yee of Leduc, only sister of the groom, wore blue net over taffeta with a chapel veil caught to a similar coronet. Each wore a corsage of rose carnations.

Attending the groom were Mr. W. J. McMullen of Dewberry, brother of the groom, and Mr. J. Wilson of Mannville.

A reception for 28 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Peterson of Minburn immediately following the ceremony where Mr. McLeod proposed the toast to the bride.

Laid in white, the bride's table was centred with a tiered cake flanked by pink and white candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilson chose a navy wool dress with matching accessories and a corsage of rose carnations.

In the evening a wedding dance was held in the Minburn hall.

For going away, the bride wore a brown gabardine suit with brown and wine accessories.

After a honeymoon in Edmonton the couple will take up residence in Leduc.

A line from Ernie Everitt who signs himself "Vermilion's Wandering Willie" was received by the Standard this week. Ernie recently moved from Edmonton to Victoria and lost no time looking up former Vermilion people in the B.C. capital including Mrs. Whitby, Dr. and Mrs. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Art Beecroft, Mr. and Mrs. H. Richardson (nee Doris Tatham), Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Tatham, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Atkinson, Jim Whitely and family, Ed Davies and son Donald and Norman Greig. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Selkirk are now living in Victoria having recently moved here from Nanaimo. He also saw Ben Calvert at Duncan, B.C.

Bowtell Bulletin

Tommy Rochfort and Allan Coutts are now working in a saw mill at Breton south west of Edmonton.

Hugh Rose bought quite a number of cattle in the Bowtell district last week from Woodruffs, Warawas, Perkins and Sherwoods.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were visitors Sunday at the Dodelly home.

On Sunday Dec. 5th Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood and Frances were guests for dinner at the Jones' home.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Norman family in their recent sorrow.

Everyone was sorry to hear of the death of Grandma Searle who passed away in her sleep Tuesday.

THE NEW CONTRACT
Canada will soon be making a new contract with Britain for the last year of the Wheat Agreement. Farmers have already suffered over a dollar a bushel loss for the past two years. Farmers should insist, therefore, that the Government obtain a price for the fourth year considerably higher than the present price of class 2 wheat, which today is $2.43 a bushel.

Tommy Forbes was noticed walking to work one cold morning last week bringing two goats for company. This would easily have rated the funniest thing seen during the week. The goats apparently struck up a friendship with Tommy on the way in from the farm.

Kitscoty Singers Enthrall Audience

A capacity crowd sat enthralled with the music of the Alberta Musical Festival winners of Kitscoty, when they sang Friday evening in First United church. A full length program of quartette, trio and solo work was presented in which the performers showed they were equally capable in the interpretation and presentation of the classical as well as the lighter types of music. Each of the performers, Misses Elaine Batty, Patsy Miller, Betty Gray and Sheila McCorry, showed a maturity of style and execution beyond their years. Their teacher and accompanist, Mrs. Harry Batty, has shown herself to be a musician who has a pronounced ability in the training of young singers, and is to be highly commended for the effort she is putting forth in the interests of better music.

Scouts Gather, Repair, Paint Hundreds of Toys and Dolls

TURN OVER TO THE SALVATION ARMY

For the past three weeks or more the members of the Vermilion Troop of Boy Scouts have been very busy gathering up broken, discarded and unwanted toys. They took the toys to their new Scout hall which immediately assumed the aspects of a toy factory, and there the boys have spent a great deal of their spare time, repairing, painting and even making toys and playthings for little boys and girls, who through no fault of their own, otherwise would receive nothing at Christmas time.

The toys were all arranged in a nice display on Wednesday and the Standard reporter examined them closely. To the eye it was a display of new toys. The paint was shiny and bright, the mechanical toys wound up and ran—and yes, there were some brand new playthings there, made entirely by some of the talented young scouts. For instance there was a wagon, made by a 12-year-old boy, and several other strongly constructed wooden articles, well made and attractive and built by the scouts even to the perfect circular wheels. The lights in the Scout hall have been on as early as 7:30 a.m. as the diligent lads worked untiringly to make toys for as many little people as they could before Christmas.

Tuesday evening the final touches were put on and the toys lined up for inspection which was made by Bill Pettigrew, the Elk representative on the Boy Scout committee. Mr. Pettigrew is also a former Scoutmaster. Points were given for the greatest effort shown, and quality of the work accomplished. The proud winners were Rex Beake and the members of his Eagle patrol.

The public inspected the fine display Wednesday afternoon and Wally Guy was on hand to take a picture of the boys and their handiwork. The toys were then turned over to Adj. Stewart and the Salvation Army and will find their way to little children where they will give the most pleasure and do the greatest good.

It was a noteworthy and praiseworthy effort for which the Scoutleaders and Scouts receive the thanks of the town.

True Christmas Spirit Prevails

CHURCHES CROWDED SUNDAY NIGHT AT SPECIAL SERVICES

Prevalence of the recognition of the deeper meaning of Christmas is distinctly noticeable this Yuletide. All churches report congregations which really overflowed the buildings on Sunday evening.

At the United church a pageant was presented "Unto Us is Born — A Saviour" with characters portrayed by the Young People's Society, music was provided by the choir, and the candle lighting ceremony was carried out by the C.G.I.T. and Explorer groups. The church was filled long before the service was due to start and despite the extra seating accommodation provided in every available place, many had to be turned away.

At St. Saviour's the experience was repeated. The service of the Nine Carols and Lessons was held. The lessons were read by representatives of various church organizations. Here again all available room was taken up by extra seats and the demand for space was greater than the accommodation.

Other churches reported similar experiences with extra large attendance.

Chimes broadcast from the Anglican church tower over a loudspeaker system installed by Elbrond & Gillies, rang out over the town Saturday and Sunday evenings, adding considerably to the Christmas atmosphere, with carols being broadcast during the week days by the Salvation Army.

During this week Christmas trees and concerts are occupying the attention of children and adults alike.

DEATH OF SIMON MAXWELL

Simon Maxwell, aged 78 years, a resident of the Vermilion district since 1916, passed away at the Peace River hospital on Sunday night Dec. 19th. Bible Society Thanks Vermilion People

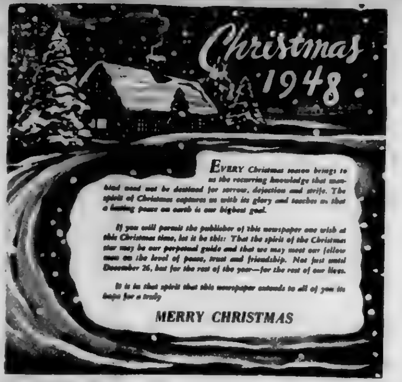
CANVASS REALIZES $261.44

The canvass conducted in Vermilion recently on behalf of the British and Foreign Bible society realized $261.44. This sum has been sent to Edmonton from whence it will be forwarded through Toronto to London to help this great world-wide Society in supplying the Scriptures which are so much in demand in the world of today. After careful study it has been concluded that the British and Foreign Bible Society's share in the world's needs calls for an immediate delivery of 40,000,000 copies of the Scriptures. This indicates the urgency of the Bible society's cause.

The Bible society sincerely appreciates the efficient manner in which the ministers arranged services on the visit of the District secretary Oct. 17, the work done by the canvassers and the contributions given by the citizens of Vermilion.



EVERY Christmas season brings to us the recurring knowledge that mankind need not be destined for sorrow, dejection and strife. The spirit of Christmas captures us with its glory and teaches us that a lasting peace on earth is our highest goal.

If you will permit the publisher of this newspaper one wish at this Christmas time, let it be this: That the spirit of the Christmas star may be our perpetual guide and that we may meet our fellow men on the level of peace, trust and friendship. Not just until December 26, but for the rest of the year—for the rest of our lives.

It is in that spirit that this newspaper extends to all of you its hope for a truly

Soldier Settlers to Get Mineral Rights

PROJECT OF ROBT. FAIR, M.P.

The Minister of Veterans Affairs announced in Ottawa on Tuesday last that the Government will now hand back their mineral rights to Soldier Settlers. The veterans concerned will be those with properties for which the Soldier Settlement Board specifically acquired the mineral rights with the title to the land. Transfer of these rights will be made in those cases where the Settler has discharged his indebtedness to the Board or will do so in the future. Settlers in the above-mentioned classes are asked to communicate with the nearest Veterans Land and Soldier Settlement Board offices in their district.

For more than two years our Federal member, Mr Robert Fair, has been urging the Government to take the action contained in the above announcement and we understand he is the first member to bring this question to the attention of the 'powers that be'.

Royal Purple Hostesses To 450 Children

On Friday afternoon last the ladies of the Royal Purple lodge were hostesses to some 450 children at a Xmas tree entertainment in the Elks hall. Santa Claus was very much in evidence and gave treats to the kiddies.

The carols sung by the Explorers club and high school Glee club were greatly enjoyed by all.

The Rev. T. W. Teape made a very competent master of ceremonies.

TIGERS SET BACK HUSKIES AT LLOYD. — SCORE 4 - 3

Turning in a greatly improved performance the Vermilion Tigers won their second start in the Eastern Alberta league when they set back the much fancied Huskies 4 goals to 3 right in the border town's own arena. Russ Bohush put the Tigers one up in the first period on Sundby's pass. In the second young Bill Williams scored a smart goal and Sam Soldan also tallied on an individual effort but Art Shortel kept the Huskies in the hunt when he scored while Soldan was resting in the cooler. Score at the end of the 2nd was thus 3-1. However the Huskies tied it up in the 3rd with Savoie and Munro getting their goals, the tieing counter being a very doubtful goal at best. A beautiful combination effort by Hugh Swanson and Alex Link of the Tiger Midget line resulted in Hugh denting the old hemp to clinch the game just a minute before the final bell. This display of high class hockey by the two kids had the Lloyd crowd on their feet acclaiming the play even though it spelled the defeat of their Huskies.

Lineups

TIGERS—Taylor, Soldan, Christie, Payment, Manyluk, Williams, Sundby, Bohush, Swanson, Link, Rowe, B. Williams, Heidebrecht and Maskell.

HUSKIES—[illegible], Shoquist, [illegible], Miller, Price, Savoie, Hill, Hastings, [illegible], Shortell, Duffield, Smith, [illegible] and Botterworth.

HUSKIES AND TIGERS MEET IN HOLIDAY ATTRACTION

A holiday hockey attraction has been planned for Monday afternoon Dec. 27th, Boxing Day, when the famed Lloydminster Huskies meet the Vermilion Tigers at the local arena. The game is billed for 2 p.m. and should attract a record holiday crowd. The Huskies are the last of the league teams to show their wares to the Vermilion fans and a sell-out crowd is expected to be in attendance that day.

The teams are rapidly rounding in to form and the standard of hockey played is going up by leaps and bounds. The league really shows promise now of developing into one of the top intermediate loops in the province.

"GREEN ACRES"

MERRY XMAS TO ALL

At this time of the year everyone joins in the Christmas festivals and the festivities which go along with them. If more of the good will of the holiday season was carried around the year we would be the better for it. I wish all readers of this column a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous Year in 1949.

REGISTERED SEED

It is not too soon to look up a supply of clean, pure seed for next spring. Supplies are plentiful this year and grain growers do not need to stop at getting enough for a seed plot. Why not seed all your clean land with field inspected wheat, oats or barley?

HYBRID VIGOR

It has long been recognized that crossing animals of two pure breeds results in offspring that grow faster and generally possess the good points of both sire and dam. Recent experiments in Montana indicate that continued crossing of the offspring has good results providing always that pure bred sires of excellent conformation are used. [illegible]

JUNIOR FARMERS

One of the greatest trials of a farmer is to see his sons drift away to the city. Unless an active ambitious boy is given some sideline to develop he is sure to lose interest in the drab life of chores and field work. Rabbits, mink, poultry, sheep, ponies, bees and fruit growing are only a few suggestions. Get the boy some good books on the hobby selected.

EARLY LAYERS

Once again the people who got early baby chicks have proved that it is profitable to have laying pullets full grown by November. Also it is best not to force the pullets but let them grow normally on the range before putting them in winter quarters.

SNOW UTILIZATION

At the recent Agricultural Service Board meeting of Minburn M.D. the matter of ridging snow in fields to be cropped next year was fully discussed. It was reported that a number of farmers were planning on using snow ridges to pile up snow in order to conserve moisture for next year's crop. The Board was unanimous in recommending the practice.

"Let's Chat Awhile"

By "TALL OAK"

Christmas is a time when practically all the civilized world celebrates the birth of the Saviour of Men, Jesus Christ.

Christmas. It should be something more than a holiday, something more than an occasion to swap presents, something more than an excuse to get drunk but this does not alter the fact that many will misuse this Christmas season and unfortunately they will not be any richer spiritually or materially after the Christmas of 1948 has passed into the mist of memory.

Those with an eye to see can read the signs — scuttling figures with prominent bulges underneath their coats and it is evident that a certain number of people are going to have plenty of "Christmas Spirit out of a bottle." This disturbs me greatly, for it seems to me to be a flagrant prostitution of the sanctity of the Christmas season.

What an ignominious way to commemorate the birth of the Prince of Peace! Oh that I could persuade all men to accept Christ, God's gift to the world as their Saviour; then the real spirit of Christmas would be in each heart. Gone would be dissatisfaction, discord, double dealing, distrust, misunderstandings and enmity. Gone would be the unreasonable attitude of men toward each other and instead there would be goodwill and peace.

High up in the Andes mountains of South America at a place called Uspallata Pass 12,796 feet above sea level stands a great bronze statue of Jesus Christ. His face is turned to the north so that He can look upon the people living on either side of that mountain range. His hand is lifted in blessing. The Andes separate Chile and Argentina. For many years these two nations had repeatedly quarrelled over their boundary line. Angry disputes, threats of war, frenzied spending of money for increased armaments kept each nation in a constant state of suspicion and suspense.

At last when hostilities were about to commence, both peoples agreed to ask Queen Victoria to decide who was right and who was wrong. The queen appointed several Englishmen to investigate the matter but while they were busy the war fever flared up again. Guns were rushed to the border. Battleships prepared to fight at sea. Bloodshed seemed inevitable when a Christian leader in the Argentine capital started a campaign for peace. Hearing of this a Christian man in Chile began to work for peace also. In the Name of the Prince of Peace both men called upon their respective countries to abstain from war.

By this time Queen Victoria had died but her son, King Edward VII gladly continued the work. A trusted official named Sir Samuel Holdich travelled along the mountain top carefully marking his map, listening to complaints from both sides, trying to be as fair as possible [illegible] parties [illegible] so that [illegible] was to be unmistakable [illegible]

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

THE MIRACLE OF BREAD

Bread, it is said, was invented by the Egyptians thousands of years ago, when they found that the flour made from two cereals—wheat and rye—would rise when yeast was added, thus making that remarkable food which dominates our whole life, a loaf of palatable appetizing bread. Only the dough made of wheat or rye flour possesses the ability to retain gases; this is due to certain properties of the proteins peculiar to these two grains. These properties are not possessed by either barley, millet, oats or corn. That is why wheat, because it is grown more extensively than rye is considered the King of all grains.

The baking of bread, it is thought, has had a greater influence on the progress of civilization than any other discovery. The ancient Egyptians, Jews, Greeks and Romans made bread the foundation of their administrative, religious and social laws. In both ancient and modern times good bread has been a source of satisfaction to the people, whereas poor bread has often been the cause of public unrest, revolts and even revolutions. The farmer, then, who produces high quality wheat that can be made into a good appetizing loaf of bread, is making a greater contribution towards the happiness, satisfaction and peace of mankind than he may be aware of.

275 Alberta Scholarships Available to Grade 12 Students

LIST IS NOW AVAILABLE

School principals and students now have a source of information pertaining to the various scholastic prizes, scholarships and bursaries made available each year in this province.

The Department of Education has just issued a booklet listing all these awards, together with the requirements. It is available to all principals and others interested in furthering the careers of students.

Including the Department of Education teacher training scholarships the list contains more than 275 various awards open to Alberta students. Some are available anywhere in the province, others are confined to certain districts or to the children of certain firms' employees. Still others are tenable at scholastic institutions outside Alberta—in Eastern Canada and the Western U.S.

For the purpose of this booklet, prizes are defined as awards of less than $100. A scholarship is worth at least $100 and a bursary is awarded on the basis of academic record plus financial need.

The new list gives the requirements for each award, and it may be obtained by requesting a copy from the Department of Education, Registrar's office, Edmonton.

Car Registrations At Record Total in Alberta

Motor car registrations in Alberta this year have reached an all time high, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association. Figures have just been issued by the provincial secretary's department.

The total at the end of November for the period since the fiscal year opened April 1 was 111,306. This shows one of the heaviest gains in recent years, the total at the end of November, 1947, being 101,523. Thus there was an actual increase of 9,783.

The open weather last fall which was particularly favorable for motoring had much to do with the increase in car licenses. Also, many persons took advantage of conditions to purchase new cars and these have been one of the major factors in the situation.

As the license year still has four months to go it is expected that the number will continue to show gains over the preceding year.

Departmental officials said it is expected that the new year will bring in fresh applications.

Branches of the Alberta Motor Association in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge have issued thousands of car and drivers' licenses this year providing a service that has been welcomed by motorists and is growing in popularity.

Wildmere Opens New Curling Rink

The hopes of years culminated on the evening of Dec. 8th when the proud members of the Wildmere Curling club officially opened their new enclosed curling rink; for a long time past the enthusiasts of the broom and stone in that district have been curling under the stars and braving the wintry blasts to enjoy their favorite game. Over the blazing stove on cold winter evenings dreams of a covered rink have continued to appear before the farmer-curlers and at last the great objective has been achieved.

With the temperature standing at about forty below two rinks from the Vermilion club journeyed to Wildmere to assist the new proprietors in their official opening; assembled on the ice and facing a huge 'Welcome' sign the the members of the two clubs sang O Canada with the accompaniment being played by John Wilson on his trustee accordion, following this President George Webb of the Vermilion club addressed the gathering, extending the best wishes of his club. Adam Smith, Wildmere Club President, then gave a well prepared address outlining some of the difficulties which had been experienced in the past and expressing feelings of cordial relations with other nearby clubs.

Mr. Smith described the first efforts at curling when wooden rocks made out of the well known Alberta mahogany built up in several layers, the whole being surmounted with a strip iron handle, were used exclusively and from there went on to tell about the gradual improvement both in equipment and skill, bringing up the interesting story to the present day on which the fine new rink opened the door to much future pleasure.

Mr. Smith's remarks follow:

"During the fall of 1939 a group of enterprising young men introduced curling to the Wildmere district using home-made wooden rocks on a sheet of ice some 80 feet in length. While this game did not provide all the skill and thrills of the regular game it afforded much pleasure to those who took part and great enthusiasm and rivalry continued for several winters. The Northern Hardware kindly donated a cup for annual competition which added much interest to the season's sport.

By 1942 however war time conditions had seriously depleted the number of players and interest in the club faded quite badly, but the old regulars stuck with the ship and after a few visits to the Vermilion club and a crack at the regular game new hopes were kindled to obtain regulation rocks. It required much financial strategy to arrange this but after two years a full set of rocks were acquired and real curling was adopted in earnest and with renewed vigor.

New difficulties arose however. Lack of experience in ice making and poor location nearly wrecked the club and last spring following a dismal season it was decided to build a new frame building on a higher location. The business men of Vermilion and local friends contributed very generously to our cause and we now have completed our new rink with waiting room and electric lights.

We now look forward to many years of successful curling and hope to arrange as many games as possible with rinks from outside points as circumstances warrant."

Carl Heckbert of the Vermilion club then officially opened the new rink cutting the cord across the ice with the only sharp edged tool available, a keen edged hatchet.

Following the official opening the Wildmere club iced two rinks against the frost-defying septette from Vermilion, resulting in a narrow margin victory for the hosts. The evening was brought to a close with a sumptuous repast served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wilson by the lady curlers. It was generally agreed by all who were privileged to attend that the new Wildmere Curling rink was well started on its career for the future.

Custom Maintained

In accordance with an old custom which some say began when the original St. Nicholas dropped a purse of gold down a fireplace and it accidentally landed in a stocking hung nearby, these youngsters hang their stockings with the greatest of care.

Huge Yule Log Fire Once Thought to Ward Off Evil

Centuries ago huge fires were built in the great baronial halls in England on Christmas eve and servants brought in a log that was to burn throughout the Christmas feasting. It was customary to save a brand from each year's fire to light the next one with. If the log was properly burned it was believed that the devil was powerless to do any mischief to the household.

One story has it that stockings were originally hung by fireplaces burning Yule logs in order to absorb the odor of the burning wood and thus give the wearer protection from evil.

Several Santas

There are several Santas, including Kris Kringle and St. Nick or Nicholas. The original St. Nick was a bishop who is said to have lived to take part in the historic Council of Nice. This is disputed by historians, but he certainly lived prior to the reign of Justinian, in whose time several churches in Constantinople were dedicated to St. Nicholas.

Sprinkled With Wine

Zemmians of Bosnia burn their Yule logs a day later than the rest of Europe. Just before sunrise the father drags the log into the home. As he enters the door he is doused with wine. The log itself is sprinkled with kernels of corn to assure the family a bountiful crop in summer.

Vermilion Stores To Enjoy 3-Day Holiday At Christmas

THREE-DAY HOLIDAY AT NEW YEAR'S ALSO

Vermilion stores will be closed for two days at Xmas, Saturday, and Monday, Dec. 25th and 27th.

Extra hours of shopping are offered on Thursday evening Dec. 23 when stores and business places will remain open until 9 p.m. They will close at 6 p.m. on Xmas eve.

Stores will be closed the Monday after New Year's also, making a 3-day holiday possible then, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Jan. 1, 2 and 3.

T.B. Scholarships for Medical Students

Fellowships and prizes totalling $600 annually are to be made available to University of Alberta medical students, out of Christmas Seal funds, it was announced.

A Fellowship of $500 will be offered annually to a recent graduate in Medicine, for the purpose of acquiring training in the field of tuberculosis. It is stipulated that this training be obtained in an Alberta tuberculosis hospital, either provincial or federal.

Two prizes, $75 and $25, are offered annually to 4th year Medical students for the two best essays on some phase of tuberculosis work. Winners of these prizes will be eligible for the major award, which will be decided by the Committee on Awards of the Faculty of Medicine, U. of A.

It was explained that the purpose of the award is to stimulate interest in tuberculosis among medical students, and also to find more doctors who would wish to work toward certification as specialists in the field. Mr. Read, president of Alberta Tuberculosis Association said: "We hope to make all our doctors more TB-conscious and TB-suspicious. The family doctor can make a tremendous contribution in tuberculosis control by being constantly on the look-out for signs of early disease."

We extend to everyone very best wishes for a Very Merry Christmas and a Bright and Happy New Year.

Mrs. Magistad was a recent visitor at the Walker home.

BASIC HERD EXEMPTION

The federal income tax branch announced last week that returns from the sale of "basic farm herds" would henceforth be exempted from income taxation. Hitherto when a livestock raiser sold his animals all the returns were subject to income taxation. Farm organizations have been urging that the original herds are part of a farmer's capital and their sale is a return of capital and should not be considered as annual income. —Budget.

Islay District Locals

Our shortest days of the year and snow is piled high on trees, shrubs and other objects. It's a lovely day at time of writing and above zero. But the trails are heavy which means those of us in the country on side roads must travel by team and sleigh.

Christmas is drawing near so most people are busy preparing to receive loved ones home or going home for Christmas.

Mrs. N. Coombe spent a pleasant evening recently at the home of her mother Mrs. W. Gould. Mrs. Gould has again made the cake for Xmas as she did last year. At that time all who partook of it declared it to be delicious. We are glad that Grandma Gould is enjoying fairly good health. She has many grandchildren, great grandchildren and one great great granddaughter whom she has never seen.

It was a privilege to see the Salvation Army tree in advance. It was so beautifully decorated. We certainly hope that we will be enabled to hear the Christmas concert which is being directed by the very able Adj. Chas. Stewart.

The Islay Christmas tree program is now being rehearsed in earnest by those taking part. There will be fun as well as the lovely Christmas carols and parts with a deeper meaning.

There is certainly a rush and bustle in the stores now and quite a nice assortment of gifts to choose from—and, soon, will another Xmas be over. We must not however, lose sight of the real meaning of Christmas and pause awhile and listen for,

"Hark the glad sound! The Saviour comes
The Saviour promised long:
Let every heart prepare a throne
And every voice a song.
He comes the prisoner to release,
In Satan's bondage held;
The gates of brass before him burst
The iron fetters yield.
He comes the broken heart to bind
The wounded soul to cure,
And with the treasures of His grace
To enrich the humble poor."

Christmas Seal Fund At Half-way Mark

The Christmas Seal fund is nearing the halfway mark, both for the Province of Alberta, and for Edmonton and Northern Alberta, according to C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Assoc.

A total of $19,850 has been contributed thus far in Edmonton and Northern Alberta, it is reported by the Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal committee, sponsor of the Seal Sale for this territory. The objective is $53,000 which leaves $33,150 still to be raised. Mr. Scott, chairman, said he had every hope that this objective would be achieved by Christmas.

The provincial total reported by Mr. Dickey is $54,500 towards an objective of $125,000. Mr. Dickey said that this was the minimum figure that would permit the Association to carry on its extensive program of chest X-rays, rehabilitation, health education, etc.

Tree Use Traced To Forest Legend

Legends dealing with the origin of the use of the Christmas tree go as far back as the Tenth century when George Jacob, the Arabian geographer, declared that all of the trees in the forest blossomed and bore fruit the night of our Lord's Nativity.

It is believed that Jacob's story might have led to the later custom of hanging apples and fruits on the evergreen tree, and, as is the habit in certain parts of Europe, of using a blossoming cherry sapling in the home as a Christmas tree.

One August Imgart introduced the Christmas tree to America 100 years ago in Wooster, Ohio, and, in so doing, preserved the tradition that had been handed down in Germany. In 1851, Rev. Henry C. Schwan, pastor of Zion Lutheran church in Cleveland, Ohio, put up the first Christmas tree in a church in this country, for which he and his parishioners were severely denounced by other congregations.

One of the most beautiful legends concerning the Christmas tree is the ancient tale dealing with the forester and his household, who had just gathered around the fireside on Christmas eve when they heard a timid knock on the door.

The forester opened the door to behold a little child shivering on the steps. Touched by the child's cold and apparent exhaustion, the forester took him in, and he was welcomed by the whole family and warmed and fed. Later, the forester's son, Hans, gave up his bed to the little child.

In the morning, the family was awakened by the singing of a choir of angels, and looking at their little guest saw him standing transfigured in their midst. They recognized him as the Christ child. As the Lord Jesus bade the family farewell, He broke off a branch from a fir tree, set it in the earth, and said, "Behold, I have gladly received your kind gifts, and this is my gift to you. Henceforth, this tree shall always bear its fruits at Christmas time and you shall always have abundance."

The first community Christmas tree was set up in Paris, France, in 1909, but was not popularly accepted throughout the world until the advent of electricity, when the lighting could be stabilized and proper effect given to its display.

Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who came to England in 1840 to wed the young Victoria, is credited with bringing the Christmas tree to the British Isles.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Dec. 22nd, 1932

No. 1 wheat was 20c per bushel.

Vermilion won the first two league games, against Vegreville and Innisfree. Frank Mead was playing goal in those days with Manson Barr and Jack Mackenzie 60-minute defence men and Clarence Barr, George Reasbeck and Pete Weber on one line and Jim White, Fred Munce and Hugh Craig on the second line.

Thousands in Canada are drawing relief with granaries and elevators filled to overflowing with wheat. The paradoxical situation is that there is want in the midst of plenty.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Dec. 20th, 1916

Wm. Steele left Wednesday for Almonte, Ont., where he will spend the next 3 months.

On Tuesday of last week His Honor Judge Taylor representing the Grand Lodge of Alberta, installed the officers of Vermilion Chapter R.A.M. for the ensuing year.

Pte. S. H. Cooper who enlisted with the 2nd contingent in November 1914, as a member of the 31st battalion, is visiting his brother Editor Cooper. After 14 months in the firing lines he had been returned to Canada suffering from severe shell shock.

The Columbia theatre was running the first episode of a serial called "The Iron Claw".

Jack Miner's Theory Proven Correct

Jack Miner always said that if the potato bugs are destroying your potatoes use paris green, because if you wait for God to send another bug to eat that bug you might have no potatoes. Jack Miner always felt that if there were a 1000 ducks in a county and a 1000 crows and if man shot 500 ducks for food then 500 crows, which live on duck eggs, should be shot to balance nature or if there are 1000 deer in a community and 500 timber wolves and man shoots deer for food then the wolves should be reduced to same proportion or else nature is unbalanced.

Thirty years ago Jack Miner, on lecture tours and writing in magazines, used to say the crows and other predators killed more birds than the hunters' guns because man had spent all his time shooting bird life that was good to eat and little or no attention was paid to the control of predators. Jack Miner's theory was proven in 1947 at the Delta Research Station at Delta, Man. Several duck nests were found in this Canadian breeding ground and the men in charge of the research station examined these nests from day to day. Of the nests watched, 21% were destroyed by crows, 11% by ground squirrel, and 9% by skunks. In other words 41% of them were wiped out before even the ducklings were hatched. The reader can estimate what percentage of the young would be devoured by snakes, turtle, hawks, owls, fish and other predators after they were hatched.

One is compelled to believe that Jack Miner's statement made 25 or 30 years ago was accurate and that, in truth, 75% of the duck eggs laid never produce mature birds to fly out of their Canadian breeding grounds.

Motor Accidents On increase in Alberta

Motor acidents in Alberta are on the increase according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

In the eight months ended Nov. 20, there were 4,538 of these accidents, compared with 3,965 in the similar period of last year or a gain of 573 this year, says a report by the provincial secretary's department.

Fatal motor accidents also have shown an alarming gain, 55 this year as against 38 in the period from April 1st to Nov. 30th of last year.

Number of persons killed in motor vehicle acidents in the 8 months' period was 59 or 13 more than at this time a year ago. Number of fatalities exceeds accidents owing to more than one death in some instances.

The alarming increase in accidents is ascribed in part to a greater number of cars on the highways. Also, many old cars with defective equipment habe been in operation.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association stress the need of safe driving during the Yuletide season. Many thousands of cars will be operating, causing traffic problems at some points and making it necessary for drivers to be doubly carefull to avoid crashes causing serious or fatal injuries and damage to property.

XMAS PROGRAM AT COLUMBIA

The Columbia theatre presents the outstanding feature "Song of the South" at continuous programs from 2:30 to midnight on Friday Dec. 24th and from 2:30 to midnight on Xmas Day also.

Ski Instructor Plans Classes in Vermilion

O. J. Martinson, former ski instructor at Jasper, Alberta, who has recently taken up residence in the Vermilion district, plans to commence classes in ski-ing during January, according to an announcement which will appear next week in the advertising columns of the Standard.

Mr. Martinson is a skilled instructor in the art. During the war he taught ski-ing and snow craft to Lord Lovatt's scouts and to the Eskimo force at Prince Albert, Sask. After the war he was at Jasper. He has had 30 years experience in ski-ing.

This provides a rare and admirable opportunity to learn the fine points of this thrilling sport so that real use could be made of the many fine ski hills around Vermilion.

MORRISON NEWS

Happy Christmas Everybody!

The weather has certainly taken on a bad mood for the holidays. Everyone hopes that the roads stay open for cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ronaghan have travelled to sunny California for the winter. Allan and Rena are leaving by bus on Saturday to join them for Xmas. They will visit at Stockton where Art's sister Mrs. Trumbo lives. Mrs. Trumbo lived in Islay in the early days.

Mrs. Gillies spent a few days in Edmonton visiting her son Bill and Lea. They are getting nicely settled in their new home.

The Bowser family motored to Edmonton to visit Ruby.

The writer spent last week in Vermilion visiting at the home of her daughter Jean.

[illegible]

Five ladies attended the meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Payne. It was nice seeing Mrs. Miller after such a long time. It was a cold day but the roads were good.

Everyone was busy last week getting their turkeys picked and off to market. Turkeys are a good price this year and any person buying one won't see much change back from a $10 bill!

Lloyd Gould attended the livestock show and sale at the V.S.A. and purchased a fine purebred Hereford heifer.

We hope that you have that new kitchen finished up Albert—you might get a surprise party one of these moonlight nights.

Alex Dupruit is away for the winter to Forestburg where he is working at the coal mines.

WOODVALE NEWS

This being the Christmas issue we will begin by wishing the Editor and Staff of the Standard and the readers of this column a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! May the Christmas spirit stay with you through the New Year.

We returned from our Calgary trip on the 8th and enjoyed every bit of it. One meets people from Vermilion and district everywhere—Bud Heidebrecht who is well and happy; the Pettinger family; Jim Proudfoot, his wife and little daughter Bonnie; Mrs. Barigley, her daughter Miriam and Vivian Taylor in Edmonton; daughter Kae, Mr. B. Pilkie Sr. in Calgary; Joan Ambler in Banff, where we spent a week end. Daughter and husband enjoyed the first ski-ing of the year there, but we followed the advice of our landlady who pronounced us too old for such dangerous sport. On a first trip to Banff there is enough to be seen anyway.

On our return we found that we had a new neighbor. Melvin Philips is helping his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Green. He comes from Lindbergh but used to live in the Basswood district where some of his old school friends no doubt will remember him.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rankin and Joan moved to Vermilion in November and when we met Mrs. Rankin, the family seemed to be quite happy in their new home and Bob already busy with odd jobs to keep him occupied.

On Dec. 3rd a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rankin of Edmonton and our community extends congratulations. Mrs. Cora Rankin left on the 4th to see her new grandchild and will stay for a couple of months with her son and daughter-in-law.

Mr. Harry Teasdale saw his parents off in Edmonton where they boarded a plane for England. This is their first trip by air. They are accompanied by their sister Mrs. Fairbanks who is returning to England after spending five months in Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale will visit their daughter in Darlington and see many of their other relatives and old friends.

The school meeting at Woodvale earlier this month was very well attended which must have been gratifying to our trustee Mr. D. McGrath who hoped that by having the annual meeting more or less in the centre of the district, more interest would be shown.

The card party sponsored by the A.F.U. in Woodvale school did not meet with so much success as only 6 people turned up. Better luck next time.

We hope that Clarence Lewis who was taken to the hospital suffering from flu, will soon be better again.

Otto Wolters is driving the Ganton school children to Union school in his new panel delivery truck.

The next Farm Forum meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Lysons on Jan. 3rd. We'll have to come and try out the new chesterfield and very easy chair that day, Betty!

On Jan. 5th the Red Cross will hold its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Otto Wolters.

Coming home from Vermilion one evening we called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyprian Bell and admired the Spruce Partridge there. It looked nice and sleek. It was however, not the only wild bird in the house. In September Mrs. Bell caught what looks like a Lapland Songspur. She had it in a cage first, but now it is completely at home, flying around the rooms, looking for tidbits on the floor and expecting to be fed at supper time. It has a very cheerful chirpy song, but is very jealous of the much larger Spruce Partridge, which it will attack whenever the partridge is let out of it's box. These make Mrs. Bell some very interesting pets and companions.

XMAS TREES FROM FAR NORTH

WINNIPEG. — Many United States buyers will get their Christmas trees from Santa's backyard this year. Permission to cut 2,000 trees near Mile 327, Hudson Bay Railway for export to the U.S. has been granted and arrangements have been made by the forestry branch to increase the cut if necessary. The first two carloads have already been shipped.

The Other Christmas

Christmas—a time of candle-light flickering on happy faces, a time of carols and good cheer, of brightly-wrapped gifts and tinselled trees.

And deep within us all is still another Christmas, the Christmas guiding our every day—a Christmas born for us of a tolerance and understanding that goes beyond words; born for us so that men may live in harmony, with purpose to their lives and benevolence in their hearts . . . This is the other Christmas, the spiritual Christmas.

"A HONEY OF A STORY"

(By Nellie M. Coombe, Islay)

In the midsummer of 1947 a swarm of bees arrived at the writer's home. After circling over the house and covering the walls and roof they disappeared into a small aperture 'neath the eaves at the south-east corner and took up their abode in a section of the wall of the bedroom.

The noise was alarming and one began to wonder just how they could be gotten rid of but no solution was found.

The summer passed and the honey bees were very busy every daylight hour gathering honey from flowers and blossoming shrubs. Winter came, and they survived, droning constantly, and on warm bright days they were more active. Then on towards spring numbers of bees were driven out to perish in the snow. No doubt this was done to allow more room for the recently hatched bees!

When spring arrived they ventured out very early swarming all over an early creeper on the rockery and alighting on the maple trees which were covered with sap.

Summer at last, and they were busy in earnest, early and late they worked. About midsummer the bees or at least part of them swarmed, two swarms a few days apart. These two were captured and placed in hives of a nearby by neighbor. Later another swarm left but still the wall seemed full of life.

The roof of the house needed repairing about this time, and the bees presented a real problem. Failing all other methods of extinction a decision was made to saw a hole in the outer wall at night, using the car lights to work by, and to employ torches to destroy the bees. This worked fairly well but the persons doing the job were stung several times.

As the boards were removed there appeared the combs—what a surprise! All neat and clean and sealed up was honey, really sparkling golden honey. It was sampled and found to be delicious and soon repacked in pans and crocks. The torches were applied to the bees while water was sprayed from a thistle sprayer to prevent fire from starting. At last the invaders were silenced and their golden store was extracted from the comb. There was a little over 84 pounds of honey to repay for all the noise and labor.

Friends and neighbors who have sampled the honey declared it to have a wonderful flavor—and it certainly tastes good on hot cakes these winter mornings.

Christmas Banquet by Loyal Edmontons

On Dec. 20th "A" Company of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment held their annual Christmas banquet. 31 officers and men sat down to a fine repast of turkey and plum pudding.

Lieut. L. M. Donnelly acted as the toastmaster. Following toasts to the King and the Regiment, speeches were made by officers of the Unit and invited guests.

Capt. E. H. Buckingham, OC, briefly reviewed the activities of the past few months. He asked the men to consider the Unit more as their club than as an armory. He stated also that recruits were needed to bring the unit up to strength and that there were many young men in the town and district who should be invited to come in.

Capt. Buckingham praised the men for the Guard of Honor put on by 'A' Co'y. for Field Marshall Viscount Alexander on his official visit to Vermilion on May 25th.

Mr. A. E. Kaiser in his remarks suggested that the Company should set up a cabin in the country which would serve as a rendezvous for tactical schemes, range practice and sports.

Capt. B. Ackerman, an officer of the Field Artillery Regiment, Lethbridge, brought greetings from the artillery. FO. Nelson represented the Vermilion Air Force Cadets and Lieut. Keith Chalmers, an officer of the Edmonton Regiment overseas, spoke briefly.

At the end of the program an enlarged photograph of Corporal George Webb was presented to this soldier. The picture was taken by Mr. Wilfred Stemple of Lloydminster when Corp. Webb was standing on guard at the cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

New Year's Eve Dance Will Be Gala Event

Once again the Vermilion Elks will provide the general public of town and country with the opportunity to welcome the New Year in at their annual dance on New Years' eve, Friday Dec. 31st.

Festivities will commence at 9:30 p.m. and dancing will continue until three in the morning. In spite of the much higher cost of favors and merchandise, hats and confetti, all these will be prvided by the hosts in unlimited quantities.

Peppy music is being arranged and everything points to a gala time at this New Year's frolic. The Elks expect to welcome you all in their big hall on Friday evening, Dec. 31st.

28-30x

The Stagettes extend sincere holiday greetings and a most prosperous New Year to folks of Vermilion and district and to wherever the Standard reaches.

Last minute reminders and checks opened the meeting. Posters are up reminding everyone of the Holly Frolic on the 27th. Keep that date open for dancing everybody.

The Cranbrook Club Stagette cook books are now in the hands of Stagettes everywhere—and the way to a man's heart is through his stomach!

What fun a Christmas party can be. We are sure everybody had at least three or four good laughs. A scream from the front door sent chills all through the house for a moment and who should appear but old St. Nick himself, where from no one knew. We think he flys (this year).

MANNVILLE COUPLE MARRIED 40 YEARS

MANNVILLE. — A family dinner marked the occasion of the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas, old timers of the district, at their farm home recently. Later in the evening friends and neighbors dropped in to congratulate the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas received many lovely gifts. Bridge and whist were played, with Mrs. R. Scott, E. A. Mercer, Mrs. L. Boe and B. Scott winning.

Mr. Thomas arrived in Edmonton from Liverpool, Eng., in 1904. After a year in clerical work he took out a homestead. Mrs. Thomas, the former Mary Scott, of Sunderland, came to Canada in 1907, to the home of her two brothers.

Mr. Thomas is a past president of the Mannville Old-Timers' Association. Until his retirement he was auditor for the Mannville hospital for 18 years. Mrs. Thomas is a past president of the Happy Centre W.I. and still attends meetings regularly.

The couple reside on the farm on which they homesteaded 44 years ago.

PUBLIC 'SOUR' ON SWEETS . . .
In the consumer-buying shuffle to stretch the diminishing dollar further, reports The Financial Post, some products are getting the go-by. Chocolates—the 90c to $1 a pound variety—and fancy bakery products—are 2 of the early casualties.

Sales and profit trend for many retail firms specializing in these 'sweet' lines is downward. Manufacturers and retailers are looking to Ottawa for help. Removal, or shading of the current high excise tax on chocolate products, could change the picture considerably. On a 90c box of chocolates, excise tax takes 13.77c and sales tax 3.67c.
